Rams On A Roll; Crush Huskies, Top Mountain Lions And Falcons

It was a good week on the basketball court for the Southern High boys' varsity, as the Rams recorded three straight victories, crushing visiting Northern on Friday, 71-42, handing host Tucker County a 62-55 defeat in a make-up game played Monday, and whipping Frankfort Tuesday night, 60-41, on the Falcons' floor.

The trio of wins improved the Rams' overall record to 10-4. Their Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference mark improved to 5-4 with the victories over Northern and Frankfort.

Eleven Rams scored in the easy win over the Huskies on Friday; however, only D.J. Ritchie reached double figures, hitting a game-high 27 points via eight field goals and hitting 90% (9-10) from the foul line.

The Rams wasted no time taking control of the contest, jumping out to a 19-7 advantage by the end of the first quarter, holding a commanding 43-17 lead at the break, and taking a 62-23 margin into the final period.

Other leading scorers for the Rams were Drew Miller and Kurt Gangler with seven points each. Alex Fike pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds.

Pacing the Huskies was Tyler Yutzy with 10 points, while Jordan Evans netted eight.

The loss dropped the Huskies to 3-9 overall and 1-6 in Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference games.

The Southern junior varsity made the evening a clean sweep for Ram fans, topping the Northern jayvees in the first game, 55-44. Reese Haskiell led the Rams in scoring with 21 points, and teammate Lucas Ritchie finished with 12. Trevon Jones paced the Huskies with 19 points.

The Huskies will play again this evening at Moorefield.

The Ram varsity had a more difficult time against the Mountain Lions of Tucker County on Monday, as they trailed by six points, 21-15, at the end of the first quarter. But they out-scored their hosts in the second stanza and took a 36-32 lead into the locker room at halftime.

The Lions won the third quarter, and were ahead by one, 47-46, going into the final period, but that's when the Rams moved back in front to stay, outgunning the Lions by a 16-8 margin to get the 7-point win.

Ritchie was again the scoring leader for Southern, as he netted a game-high 20 points. Wyatt McBee was right behind with 17, and Gangler just missed double figures with nine points.

Leading Tucker County in scoring was Tyler Snyder with 19 points. Ian Nichols finished with nine.

The junior varsity game was even more exciting, as a foul shot by Lucas Ritchie with just six seconds left in the game gave the Rams a 52-51 win.

Reese Haskiell led the jayvee Rams again, as he finished with 16 points. Teammate Derek Hinebaugh scored 10 points.

The Tucker junior varsity was led by J. Pifer, O. Evans, and H. Pennington with 13, 11, and 10 points, respectively.

McBee led the Rams' offensive attack against the Falcons of Frankfort on Tuesday, as he was effective particularly from 3-point range. All but two of his 17 shots were recorded from long range.

Kurt Gangler and Alex Fike also reached double figures with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

The outcome of the contest was never in doubt, as Southern bolted to a 19-2 lead by the end of the first period, led 34-16 at intermission, and held a commanding 53-28 advantage after three periods.

Brad Heltzel paced the Falcons' scoring with 13 points.

The junior varsity contest was much more exciting in terms of closeness in score, as the Ram jayvees won the game in overtime, 43-40. Matt Mayles led Southern offensively with 13 points. Gage Shaffer, Chase Detrick, and Nick Smith each recorded 11 points for Frankfort.

The freshman boys' teams also played, with Southern emerging with a 58-38 win to make it a clean sweep for Ram fans. Travis Newton hit a game-high 20 points for the Rams, while teammates Brian Reams and Logan Cvetnick each contributed eight. Tanner Oats scored 10 points to pace the Falcon freshmen.

All three of the Southern boys' teams will be back in action this Friday at home against Preston, with tip-off times being 4:30 (freshmen), 6 p.m. (junior varsity), and 7:30 (varsity).

RAMS SOAR PAST HUSKIES – Taking to the air in the photo above is Southern High School's D.J. Ritchie, who poured in 27 points last Friday evening on his home court to lead the Rams to a 71-42 thrashing of county rival Northern. The win gave the Rams a season sweep over the Huskies, as they defeated them at the Cove earlier this month. Also identifiable in the photo above are Northern's Tyler Yutzy (#21), Jordan Evans (#10), and Jeremy Bender (#14), and Ritchie's teammates Kurt Gangler (#3), Brian Wildman (#12), and Wyatt McBee (#5). Below, Northern's Yutzy, who led his team in scoring with 10 points, get interference from Southern's McBee during a field goal attempt. Others in the photo are SHS's Wildman (#12), Mikail Perrine (#43), and Gangler (#3), and Northern's Ryan Palmer (#31, partially hidden). Ram Freshmen Defeat Allegany

The freshman boys' basketball team of Southern High School upped its record to 8-6 last night by defeating host Allegany, 45-36. It was the fifth straight win for Coach Jon Hegeman's squad.

Brian Reams and Travis Newton led the scoring for the Rams with nine and eight points, respectively, while Dajuan Pendergast hit a game-high 14 points for the Campers, and Trevor Evix netted 10.

The loss evened the Campers' record at 6-6.

The Ram freshmen will play again this Friday at home in the first game of a tripleheader with the junior varsity and varsity squads against Preston. Tipoff for the freshman clash will be at 4:30.

Casselman Valley AYSO Schedules Last Registration

Casselman Valley American Youth Soccer Organization (AYSO) Region 861 will hold a final registration for the upcoming spring season at Grantsville Elementary School this Friday, Jan. 27, from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 28, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

All boys and girls born between Aug. 1, 1992, and July 31, 2007, are eligible to play. All games for U5 through U12 age divisions are played at the soccer complex in Grantsville. The U14 and U19 teams will travel for some of their games.

The registration fee is $35 per player for U5 to U14 and $45 per player for the U19/High School division. Registration fees include AYSO national dues, uniform, medical reimbursement plan, a mini-tournament, and a subscription to Soccer Now.

Players can pre-register online at www.eayso.org, register for Region 861, and bring the signed printout to registration. Forms will also be available on registration day.

No experience is necessary, and AYSO guarantees that all players will play at least one half of every game.

The organization's philosophy is based on "everyone plays, balanced teams, open registration, positive coaching, good sportsmanship, and player development."

Northern Takes Moorefield, After Losses To Southern and Mtn. Ridge

The Northern High School varsity girls' basketball team began its recent three-game stretch with losses to Garrett County rival Southern, 49-29, on Thursday and to Mountain Ridge, 55-45, on Monday, before earning its second win of the season over visiting Moorefield, 51-46.

Last Thursday's (Jan. 19) loss to Southern came after the Rams took a first quarter lead and refused to let the Huskies back in the game (see story), maintaining control through regulation. That game was played in Oakland. Northern had its bright spots, however, as Huskies Kirsten Rayner and Kiersten Butler tallied 11 and nine points, respectively.

Hosting the Miners of Mountain Ridge, the Huskies were outscored 21-2 during the third quarter and lost their 10 point halftime advantage (30-20).

The Huskies, who also held a lead, 11-9, after the first quarter, were led offensively by Allison Yommer's 15-point night. She also recorded three blocks. Huskies Rayner, 11 points, and Caroline Bergstrom, 10 points, joined Yommer to provide the majority of Northern's offense.

For the Miners, Sarah Raines scored a game-high 17 points, while Shae Winner added 15. Anna Broadwater added 11 points.

"We played a great first half, but couldn't handle their pressure in the second half," said Northern head coach Ron Opel.

"As soon as the lead evaporated we dug ourselves into a hole and spent the entire fourth quarter trying to climb back out of it."

Northern won the junior varsity game with Mountain Ridge, 46-39, as Natalie Johnson scored 14 points and Ashley Murphy added 13. Ashlyn Hormuth scored nine for the Miners.

While hosting Moorefield, it was Yommer who again came up big for the Huskies, scoring a game-high 20 points. Twelve of those points came from the free-throw line for Yommer (12-for-14). Northern continued to get itself to the line throughout the second half, going 14-for-22 as a team.

Yommer added a team-high 14 rebounds and six assists to her stat sheet, while teammate Rayner had a 15-point outing.

After Northern grabbed the lead in the first quarter, Moorefield wrestled it away in the second, and led 27-22 at the half. The Huskies then pressed in the third period, relying on tenacious defense and their free-throw shooting to pull within one, 33-32, at the end of the third.

The Yellow Jackets' Shannon Combs finished with 15 points and Shayna Vetter added 10.

Natalie Johnson had 16 rebounds and 14 points in Northern's 53-37 jayvee win. Emily Fratz scored 16 points for Northern, while Kelly Bedwell led the Jackets with 10 points.

Northern is set to host Bishop Walsh on Monday. That game will begin at 7:30 p.m., following the junior varsity game at 6 p.m.

HUSKIES EDGE MOOREFIELD – The Northern High girls' varsity basketball team claimed a victory, 51-46, over visiting Moorefield on Tuesday. The win, the Huskies' second of the season, came after a back-and-forth battle that began with Northern taking a quick first-quarter lead. In the photo above, Husky junior Kirsten Rayner (#3, center) pulls up for a short jumper. From left to right are Huskies Caroline Bergstrom (#23), Mandi Monahan (#34), and Allison Yommer (#22). Pictured below is junior Kayla Porter (#5, center) cutting through Moorefield defenders while looking to make an assist. Photos by John McEwen. Men's Basketball League Results Are Announced Teams sponsored by Taylor-Made, Fox's Pizza, and Automated Packaging were all victorious in Oakland Men's Basketball League action Sunday.

Jason Brenneman netted 22 points to lead Taylor-Made to a convincing 64-30 victory over Terra Alta VFW Post #578, while J.C. Whitehair scored 12 points to pace the VFW.

Bill Braithwaite finished with 17 points to pace Automated Packaging to a 74-46 drubbing of Hutton Auto. Joey DiSimone recorded 16 points for the losing team.

Games slated for this Sunday will pit Fox's Pizza against Hutton Auto in the 6 p.m. start, Taylor-Made vs. Automated Packaging at 7 p.m., and Terra Alta VFW tipping off against D&L/A.L.L. in the 8 p.m. clash.

Lakers Host Cecil College, Lose 62-53

The Garrett College women's basketball team suffered a loss last night (Jan. 25) to visiting Cecil College, 62-53.

Cecil's Shanice Smith scored a game-high 20 points in a game that began with a lopsided 21-0 deficit for the Lakers. Garrett College fought to shrink that margin, with JaQuita Cherry and Mariah Stem scoring 12 and 10 points, respectively. A comeback was not in the cards, however.

Cecil also received 15 points from Brianna Thomas and 14 points from Erica McQuaid.

The Lakers (6-15) are set to play on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at Anne Arundel. Tipoff is set for 5 p.m.

Pen Mar League To Hold Meeting

The Pen Mar West Virginia Semi-Pro Baseball League will hold its first meeting of the year on Saturday, Jan. 28. It will be held at the Ridgely Legion at 3 p.m. for coaches and league officials.

The Pen Mar League was founded in 1949 and comprises players of the high school level and above. The wooden-bat league was comprised of four teams last season: Tri-State Titans, Oakland Oaks, Romney Powerhouse, and Cumberland Orioles.

The league is now actively recruiting new teams and any players from the tri-state area. Those interested in further information may contact Gary Bennett, president, at 301-268-1563 or Matt Wright, Tri-State Titans' head coach, at 301-697-4903, or visit www.penmarwvbaseball.com.

Southern Drops Game To Allegany, But Remains No. 1 With Wins Over NHS, MR

Southern High's varsity girls' basketball team won two of its last three games this week and remains the Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference's top-ranked team.

The Rams earned bragging rights last Thursday over cross-county rival Northern, winning 49-29 in Oakland. That win was followed by a loss on the road to Allegany, 51-43, on Monday, and then a win at home against Mountain Ridge, 76-51, on Wednesday.

Against the Huskies, Lindsay Brady and Mandy Sweitzer combined to score 25 points for Southern. Brady finished with 13 points, while Sweitzer had 12. Brady made five baskets with three coming from beyond the 3-point line, while Sweitzer scored from the free-throw line, making 10-of-15 tries to go along with a 2-point basket and a team-leading nine rebounds. Alycia Horner netted eight points.

Northern was paced by Kirsten Rayner's 11 points, while teammate Kiersten Butler added nine.

The Rams led at each interval – 11-4, 23-14, and 39-20.

Southern, behind Holly Weissgerber's 18 points, won the junior varsity game 40-28. Ashley Murphy tallied eight points for Northern.

At Allegany, the Rams allowed the Campers to build a lead in the first quarter and ride it through the rest of the game.

Lindsie Linaburg led the way for Allegany with 12 points and 16 rebounds.

Alexa Sivic and Aimee Conley also had big games for the Campers, with Sivic getting 15 points, seven rebounds, and four assists, and Conley 14 points, nine rebounds, and four assists.

Allegany lost a 1-point game to Southern earlier this month.

The Campers also won the junior varsity game 32-29. Briana Benko had 12 points for Allegany and Alicia Roth had 10 for Southern.

SOUTHERN BLASTS MTN. RIDGE – Southern High School's top-ranked girls' varsity basketball team tallied its highest game score of the season, 76-51, while hosting Mountain Ridge on Wednesday night. The Rams shot an impressive 30-for-65 from the field, including 11-for-20 from 3-point territory. In the photo above, Ram junior Raeslee Weimer (#13, center left) elevates over her defender for two. Weimer, who has been out for a large portion of the season due to a broken wrist, had 12 points in the game. Also in the photo, from left, are Weimer's teammates Mandy Sweitzer (#10), Alycia Horner (#3), and Hannah Horne (#14). In the photo below, Ram junior Karisa Weissgerber (#22, left) fights her way through the Miners' defense. At right is Lindsay Brady (#23) looking to assist her teammate. Photos by John McEwen. Hosting Mountain Ridge, Southern received some sharp shooting from freshman Kambrie Bosley, who downed six 3-point shots on her way to 20 points in the matchup.

The Rams followed their worst offensive performance of the season – against Allegany – with their best in 16 games. The team shot an impressive 30-for-65 from the field against the Miners, including 11-for-20 from 3-point territory. Southern's 76 points marked its highest score of the season.

Rams Horner and Raeslee Weimer added 12 points each, while Brady had 11 and Sweitzer nine.

Sarah Raines scored 16 points, Carlie Lewis had 12, Shae Winner 11, and Anna Broadwater 10 for the Miners.

Southern led 12-6 after the first quarter, then scored 49 points over the next two quarters. It was 40-24 at halftime.

Bosley hit three of her 3-pointers for nine points in Southern's 28-point second quarter. Weimer had seven of her points in that period.

With the win, Southern rebounded from its loss to the Campers and strengthened its argument for best team in the conference. The Rams improved to 11-5 overall and 9-2 in AMAC play.

Mountain Ridge took the junior varsity game, 48-29, behind a 13-point night for Amie Blank. Katie Blank had 12 for the Miners.

Roth netted nine points for Southern.

Southern will hit the road on Monday and face the Golden Tornado of Keyser. That game is set to begin at 7:30 p.m., following the jayvee game which is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m.

Ram Girls Top Inter-Scholastic Bowling League

The Allegany County Inter-Scholastic Bowling League has the Southern High girls and Hampshire boys in first place of the actual division. In the league's adjusted division, the Hampshire girls and Allegany boys claim the top spots.

The actual division for the girls has the top four schools within ½ game of each other. Southern with a record of 7-1 is ½ game ahead of Mountain Ridge (6½-1½). The only match Southern High lost was to Hampshire (20-16) which holds third place with a record of 6-2.

Mountain Ridge has lost to Southern (26-10) and has tied with Fort Hill (18-18). Fort Hill with a record of 5½-2 ½, is currently in fourth place.

Rounding out the standings are Keyser (3½-3½), Frankfort (3½-5½), Calvary Christian (2-6), Bishop Walsh (1-5), and Allegany (0-8).

In the boys actual division, there is a close race for the top spot, with the Hampshire boys team (6½-1½) having a ½-game lead over Allegany and Mountain Ridge, which are tied for second place with matching records of 6-2.

Hampshire's recorded losses have resulted after ties with Frankfort, Southern, and Mountain Ridge.

Tied for third place with records of 5-3 are Fort Hill and Southern. Fourth place belongs to Frankfort (4½-4½). Rounding out the division are Keyser (2-5), Bishop Walsh (0-6), and Calvary Christian (0-8).

Leading the Hampshire boys' team is Dylan Pepper, who has rolled a 726 set with games of 22, 267, and 237. Two other 700 sets have been rolled by Fort Hill's Dylan Bean, who had a 724 (245-245-234), and Randy Cubbage of Allegany, who had a 715 (257-257-201).

The Allegany boys' team has taken over the adjusted division with its ½-game advantage over Southern. Allegany has not lost a match, but has recorded a ½-game loss after tying Keyser (18-18). Allegany's record sits at 7½-½.

Southern (7-1) lost its match to first place Allegany, 22-14. Mountain Ridge comes in third (4½-3½), followed by Hampshire (3½-4½), Keyser (3-4), Frankfort (3 ½-5 ½), Calvary Christian (3-5), Bishop Walsh (2-4), and Fort Hill (1-7).

Hampshire's girls have rolled to a 7-1 record for first place in the adjusted division. Keyser holds second place in that division with a record of 5-2. Calvary Christian and Mountain Ridge have identical records of 4½-3½, which is good for third place. Southern has rolled its way to a 4-4 record, followed by Fort Hill (3-5), Bishop Walsh (2-4), Allegany (2½-5½), and Frankfort (1½-7½).

Mariah Snyder of Mountain Ridge had a 563 set with games of 146, 201, and 216. Megan Sulsby of Fort Hill had a 202 game, while teammate Brianna Morris had a 194. Southern's Kristi Swearengen bowled a 219 game, and teammate Brooke Spiker tallied a 188.

Skid Continues For Lakers With Defeats By Harford And Cecil

The men's basketball team of Garrett College fell below the .500 mark this past week, as the Lakers dropped an 84-75 Maryland JUCO contest to visiting Harford CC on Saturday, and then fell to Cecil CC last night in another conference matchup, 79-75, also on the Lakers' floor.

The Lakers have now dropped five in a row, and the pair of defeats this week left Garrett with an overall record of 10-11.

In Saturday's game with Harford, the lead exchanged hands several times, with the visitors breaking a 37-37 tie with a 3-point bucket just before the halftime buzzer.

The Fighting Owls raced out to an 11-point advantage in the opening minutes of the second half, as the Lakers shooting went cold and they had trouble pulling down rebounds.

The Lakers could get no closer than seven points in the second half.

The top scorer for Garrett was Antonio Butler, who finished with 22 points and also had a pair of steals, while Matt Gibson recorded 19 points, five assists, and two steals. Also reaching double figures were Din Moore with 14 points and Armond Perez with 11.

Hitting a game-high 24 points was Harford's Dimitrious Jelen-Joy. Tyler Campbell scored 15 and grabbed 12 rebounds, while Carlos Brown netted 13 points and had six boards.

The Lakers finished with a 31-30 lead in field goals, and a 6-4 advantage in 3-point buckets. But the Owls made good on 20 of 32 free throws, while Garrett managed to connect on only seven of 18 attempts.

It was only the seventh win of the season for the Owls, who improved their overall record to 7-14.

The Lakers were in last night's contest with Cecil right up until the final minutes, but saw a 6-point lead

YOUNGSTER TEARS UP THE TRACK – Garrett County youth Randall Ervin, 9, recently attended a culminating awards banquet in Morgantown, W.Va., after he finished second overall in the 2011 Grand National Cross Country racing season. Ervin competed in the 7- to 9-year-old, 65cc class. He rode a Suzuki RM65. Through the season Ervin traveled to eight of the 13 scheduled races in his circuit, with some races held as far away as South Carolina, Indiana, and New York. The races consist of five to six mile tracks, which meander through rough terrain, rocky hills, lots of mud, and some motocross elements. Currently, Ervin is nationally ranked 50th in the youth class by GNCC. He plans to compete again next year in the 10- to 11-year-old class. The fourth-grade student is the son of Randy and Chrissy Ervin of Deer Park. He is sponsored by Moose Racing, Parts Unlimited, DGS Racing Suspension, and Morgantown Powersports. Those interested in more information about the GNCC may visit the web site www.gnccracing.com.

Northern Mat Team Competes In Two Events

The Northern Youth Wrestling Team competed in a pair of tournaments over the weekend, and garnered a number of top awards in the process.

One of the tourneys was the Rockwood (Pa.) Novice Tournament, and Northern team members who won individual championships in their respective age/weight divisions were Noah Phillips, age 9/10, 65 pounds, and Chance Richey, 7/8, 80 pounds.

Jacob Wilson was the runner-up in the 7/8, 65-pound division, while Cross Richey finished third in the 9/10, 85-pound division.

Fourth places were earned by Mitchell Wilburn, 7/8, 50, and Nathan Brenneman, 6/under, 55.

The other event was the annual Southern Mat Club Ram Tough Tournament, held Saturday at Southern High School in Oakland.

Nate Durst captured the title in the 11/12, 108-pound division, while runners-up were Shane Fink, 7/8, 55, and Jacob Byrnes, 5/6, 40.

Third places were won by Paul Zimmerman, 13/15, 112, and Jeremy Ashby, 11/12, 108. Logan Miller, 7/8, 55, Shane Bates, 5/6, 40, and Luke Lowery, 11/12, 126, all placed fourth.

disappear down the stretch.

After trailing by four at the half, 41-37, the Lakers built that 6-point advantage, 75-69, but Cecil's Brandon Bobb-Jones quickly equalized things with back-to-back 3-pointers, knotting the score at 75-75.

The Lakers missed their next shot, and a bucket by Seahawk Anthony Moe gave the visitors the lead for good. Garrett turned the ball over as the final seconds ticked away, and Cecil scored a lay-up at the buzzer to get the 4-point win.

The Lakers were led in scoring by Matt Gibson, who finished with 18 points and also dished out five assists. Guila Panzo netted 16 points, and Armond Perez had the best overall performance for Garrett, as he recorded 13 points, 11 rebounds, four assists, three steals, and two blocks.

The Seahawks were paced by Bobb-Jones with 21 points, Moe with 16, Donn Hill with 14, and Khaalis Coppock-Bey with 12.

The Lakers will try to get back into the win column this Saturday when they play at Takoma Park in a 2 p.m. start, and will they will be at Anne Arundel CC next Wednesday.

Delegate Emmett Burns Jr., D-Baltimore County, a minister and staunch opponent of the legislation.

The introduction of the Civil Marriage Protection Act marks the resurfacing of a divisive issue that polarized lawmakers and generated heated debate at the State House last year. Bill supporters have partnered with Marylanders for Marriage Equality, a wide-reaching coalition that includes labor voices, lobbyists and a range of faith leaders. Opponents are looking to religious groups such as Progressive Clergy and Laity in Action to pressure delegates who remain on the fence.

"We are targeting black delegates who came to our churches and said how much they loved us and then voted against us," said Burns, the organization's founder, who plans to hold rallies in Prince George's County. "They will be held accountable."

Other measures, he said, include delivering petitions and holding a "massive rally" in Annapolis on Jan. 30.

While last year's same-sex marriage bill was assigned only to the House Judiciary Committee, the bill this year will be jointly assigned to the Health and Government Operations Committee.

"I'm getting some people that are calling me to say they don't support it, and they're coming from churches, mainly the Catholic Church," said Delegate James W. Hubbard, D-Prince George's, a bill

Attracting Songbirds

Mix together equal portions of black oil sunflower, hulled sunflower hearts and safflower seed and pour into a tube feeder. Not only will cardinals flock to your feeders, but other songbirds like tufted titmice, chickadees, buntings, finches, sparrows and nuthatches will eat it too. It's an all-time favorite mix.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was noted 20th-century poet T.S. Eliot who made the following sage observation: "Some editors are failed writers, but so are most writers."

• When the now-classic television show "Gilligan's Island" first aired in 1964, critics were not impressed. The review published in the San Francisco Chronicle said, "It is difficult to believe that this show was written, directed and produced by adults. It marks a new low in the networks' estimation of public intelligence." The show went on to air for three seasons and spurred three TV movie sequels. • Believing that beards and long hair were too easy for enemies to grab, Alexander the Great ordered his soldiers to shave their faces and heads before going into battle.

• You hear a lot about the isolationism of Switzerland -- the country that's always neutral in any conflict -- but you might be surprised to learn how serious they are about it. The country's system of roads is mined in 2,000 places and can be demolished in the space of 10 minutes.

• Are you doing your share? If you've had a beer today, you've contributed to the approximately 90 million cans of the brew that are consumed by Americans every day.

• When the territory that later became the state of Alaska was purchased from Russia in 1867, the cost came out to about 2 cents per acre. •Ψ It's not clear why, but it seems that fine hair grows faster than coarse hair.

• On Feb. 3, 1780, in one of the most famous crimes of post-Revolution America, 20-year-old boarder Barnett Davenport commits a mass murder, killing a family of five at their home in rural Connecticut. Until then, crime was viewed as sinners losing their way. But Davenport's crime caused people to perceive criminals as evil and alien to the rest of society.

• On Feb. 2, 1812, Russians establish Fort Ross on the coast north of San Francisco as a source of growing food. The effort was not successful. American John Sutter bought Fort Ross in 1841 with an unsecured $30,000 note that he never paid.

• On Feb. 1, 1917, Germany returns to the policy of unrestricted submarine warfare in the Atlantic as it prepares to attack any and all ships. Two days later, the United States broke off diplomatic relations with Germany. Just hours after that, the American liner Housatonic was sunk by a German U-boat.

Q: I have a "Lion Hunter" cast-iron bank that I believe is quite old. I found it in a thrift shop several years ago and want to find out more about it and its possible value. -- Lynn, Sun Tan, Ariz.

A: The Lion Hunter bank was patented in 1911, designed by Charles A. Bailey of Cobalt, Conn., and manufactured by J and E Stevens Company, Cromwell, Conn. A coin is placed in front of the cocking device of the gun, when a lever is pressed, the hunter fires, the coin strikes a lion and falls into a receptacle below. If an original, this is quite a valuable bank ranging in value from a low of about $3,000 to a high of $35,000, depending on condition. Be aware that this bank has been reproduced and some of the reproductions have been aged to look old. One of the better references is the "Official Guide to Mechanical Banks" by Dan Morphy, published by House of Collectibles.

Q: I have an older fishing reel in its original box. It has a beautiful design. How I can determine its value? -- George, Albuquerque, N.M.

A: Many collectors have become hooked on fishing collectibles. The original interest was generated by old lures and some reels and rods. It later expanded to include advertising memorabilia and miscellaneous items. Recent prices include a 1931 catalog from the Shakespeare company, $150; a Heddon Lure, No. 100, $350; a Mitchell reel, model No. 70, $65; and a rare 1931 limited edition of "The Compleat Angler" by Arthur Rackham and Izaak Walton, $3,000. Q: I have a 1929 Majestic console radio in walnut. Although it has a few scratches, the radio works and it is original. I paid $450 for it at an antique shop several years ago, and wonder if it's worth more than I paid. -- Ken, Providence, R.I.

A: Your radio currently is valued in the $150 to $200 range. Majestic radios are fairly common and not as desirable with collectors as many of the more popular brands, such as Philco and Zenith.

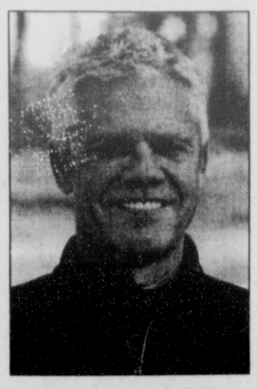
Named To Board Of Directors At Clear Mountain



Local resident Bill Weissgerber was recently elected to the board of directors of Clear Mtn. Bank, which was announced by president and CEO Brian F. Thomas.

Weissgerber brings an extensive background in real estate, marketing, and business management to the board. He is president and co-owner of Railey Realty, McHenry, where he has been recognized as Garrett County's top real estate producer in 18 of the last 19 years. During his career, Weissgerber has received national recognition for sales production and has been actively involved in real estate development and marketing. He also has prior experience serving on an advisory board for a regional bank, where he provided marketing and creative expertise.

"I am delighted to have Bill as a new member of our board of directors," said Thomas. "His knowledge, intellect, and community leadership will be an excellent addition to our company."

He is a graduate of Southern High School and Frostburg State University. He is also active in coaching junior varsity basketball and involved with many community activities within Garrett County.

Clear Mtn. Bank is a locally owned and managed community bank serving Garrett County and Preston and Monongalia (W.Va.) counties. The bank offers a comprehensive array of banking services. The company is considered a leader in providing electronic banking services, including electronic bill payment services and remote deposit.

Adorable Adoptables

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Chester Gaither will be in charge of morning worship this Sunday, Jan. 29, at 11 a.m.

The movie Fire Proof will be shown on Sunday, Feb. 12, during the 11 a.m. morning worship. The public is invited to attend.

SPAGHETTI DINNER

Hoyes Church is once again holding its spaghetti dinner on the fourth Friday of every month beginning tomorrow, Jan. 27, from 5 to 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend. In the event of school cancellation that day, the spaghetti dinner will be also be canceled.

TOWN NEWS

The next town municipal election will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 14, for the election of mayor and three council members. The last day to petition for office with clerk/treasurer Karen Benedict is Thursday, Feb. 2.

Anyone interested in viewing the flood plan maps may do so during regular business hours at the town hall: Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The next mayor and town council meeting will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 24, beginning at 7 p.m.

Wellness Center Slates "A New You" Workshop

The Wellness Center of Garrett County Memorial Hospital will offer a series called "A New You" beginning Tuesday, Jan. 31, at 6:30 p.m. at the Community Aquatic and Recreation Complex at Garrett College.

The workshop will be led by Shelley Argabrite, M.A., a native of Oakland. She returns to Oakland with 10 years of combined experience in the field of wellness. She has a master's degree in wellness management from Ball State University and is an experienced health educator.

"Take an evening for yourself," invited Argabrite. "We will work together exploring the best parts of you in the context of the seven dimensions of wellness."

The cost for the series is $25 per person. Those interested in more information or in registering may call 301-533-4178 or 301-533-4295.

"This workshop will address how to begin managing your life instead of reacting to it," she said. "A New You is for the energetic, action-oriented person who is ready to simplify life and learn proven techniques that will help maximize the quality of life and discuss how to have more time for the things that are truly important to you."

masterwork by a leading artist in the field," Kaddar said.

This year the dancers will perform a piece by renowned modern dancer Paul Taylor. Titled "Aureole," the dance is featuring a double cast of students who have been rehearsing under the direction of Maureen Mansfield Kaddar, former Paul Taylor dancer. This year marks the 50th anniversary of "Aureole," and one original performer of the piece, dancer Dan Wagoner, is to be a special guest at one of the performances next week.

Kaddar said that in working to make the dance program at WVU more inclusive, especially in the local community, this year he has invited a Morgantown dance studio, Kat and Co., to share the stage.

The program will also showcase a new collaboration between WVU and the Pittsburgh Ballet Theatre. Eight dancers from the PBT School will perform two pieces on the program. The show will feature works by student choreographers, Kaddar noted, and three faculty members will also perform.

Tickets and information are available by calling 304-293-7469.

Event Scheduled

Tom Peterson, opposite his real-life wife, JoAnn Peterson, as Melissa. Both Petersons are veteran actors, having performed in productions in West Virginia Public Theatre, as well as numerous community theater shows.

JoAnn is also a first-person portrayer of Molly Brown, Mary Todd Lincoln, and Jenny Lind, the latter for the West Virginia Humanities Council History Alive! program.

There are two choices for attending: dinner and show for $30 or dessert and show for $20. Dinner, catered by Rachel Rerek, is at 6:30 p.m., and the show starts at 7:30 p.m. Dessert will be served to everyone at intermission.

Dinner reservations must be made by Tuesday, Feb. 7, but dessert and show reservations will be taken until the show sells out. Reservations may be made by calling 304-329-6336.

Wards Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Walter "Duke" and Donna (Schmidt) Ward celebrated 50 years of marriage on Dec. 11, 2011, by spending the weekend at the historic, five-star rated Jefferson Hotel in Richmond, Va. They were accompanied by two of their grandchildren, 8-year-old Garrett and 5-year-old Abigail.

The Wards reside in LaPlata. They were married on Dec. 11, 1961, at Deep Creek Lake Baptist Church.

Donna is a 1959 graduate of Southern Garrett High School. Duke is a 1958 graduate of Anacostia High School in Washington, D.C. He retired from the U.S. Marine Band, "The President's Own," in 1984 after serving 26 years. He then spent several years in the real estate business in Charles County.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Four couples recently applied for their marriage licenses, according to Sondra R. Buckel, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court. One couple requested that their names not be published.

Shawn Patrick Hubbard, 29, and Kristen Beth Elutrio, 26, both of Baltimore.

David Michael Brannon, 23, and Tammy Marie Myers, 26, both of Reedsville, W.Va.

Richard Lloyd Hoover, 53, and Deanna Louise Titchenell, 44, both of Friendsville.

O'Malley's Same-Sex Marriage Bill To Provide More Religious Protections

by Tom McParland
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – Gov. Martin O'Malley touted increased religious protections as he promoted a new same-sex marriage bill Tuesday that supporters hope can overcome the objections raised last year.

Flanked by lawmakers, religious leaders, and union members, the governor repeatedly invoked the values of equal rights and religious freedom, which, he says, the legislation protects.

"Yesterday we submitted a marriage equality bill which balances equal protection of individual rights with the important protection of religious liberty and religious freedom," O'Malley said, at a press conference in front of Government House. O'Malley hosted same-sex couples at a breakfast before the announcement.

Supporters of same-sex marriage see more explicit language regarding religious exemptions as a key part of their 2012 campaign. Last year's bill said ministers and churches "may not be required to solemnize any marriage in violation of the right to free exercise of religion guaranteed by the First Amendment."

The new bill, SB 241, includes broader language that, among other guarantees, ensures that each religious entity "has exclusive control over its own theological doctrine, policy teachings, and beliefs regarding who may marry within that faith."

"We expanded the language to include provisions from other states that have passed marriage equality with religious exemptions, just to take away any ambiguity about whether or not religious exemption applied in certain circumstances," said Delegate Heather Mizeur, D-Montgomery, who is openly gay. "It's just a more wordy way of providing for religious exemption."

Opponents said the reworked provisions offer no protection to faith communities that oppose same-sex marriage.

"You can't protect the religious community from same-sex marriage," said

Experts know that such a whitewater course can't serve as both as public course and for World Championship races. ASCI is not the "nexus" for all it promised.

ASCI has already gone through two executive directors. The first director sold the idea of ASCI and got all the government funds. The second tried to "mend fences" from the fallout of his predecessor, promising concessions to local businesses, which never materialized.

Early on, ASCI did not have local experts train their guides, resulting in numerous injuries. They placed sharp rocks fresh out of the earth into the course that presented further danger. And I suspect the current $3 million debt service largely resulted from having to reconstruct the ponds to handle the powerful pumps necessary to get the water in.

The current director has since come in to run ASCI as its own self-sustaining operation, competing directly against local whitewater companies – including one of the county's own companies, whose business has dropped 40% due to ASCI's presence.

ASCI will never be self-sustaining. Given its location, not enough revenue can be generated to cover its costs of operations. No similar operation in the world has been successful unless it paralleled a river that could channel natural water into it. ASCI will only need more government money to operate for years to come.

We need to let it go. It can be "picked up down river." Garrett County has more important priorities.

There are plenty of other whitewater options in the region for those who want to go whitewater rafting. Friendsville has one private whitewater company, and another runs a satellite operation there.

Why not promote tourism via the private, proven businesses of Garrett County for those who want active, outdoor lifestyles?

Now is not the time to put good money after bad. Our urgent need is to attend to the education and welfare of our children and communities while we dig ourselves out of the current economic doldrums.

County taxpayers have done enough for ASCI.

Sincerely,
Fred Fox
Potomac

To the Editor:

In Detroit a 101-year-old lady was recently evicted from her home of 60 years because she was unable to pay her property taxes. Bureaucrats from HUD, who own the house, added that the house was unsafe and unsanitary. So, they "kicked her to the curb," along with her meager belongings. This is the second time they have done this.

We have spent billions of dollars so the New Pinkertons (U.S. military) can go around the world starting wars under the guise of "spreading democracy." In the process they slaughter innocent people, including many women and children, and torture so-called enemies while destroying countries and getting naïve young Americans killed while doing this dirty work.

On the home front, we get to see the Jerry Springer version of democracy in action, with candidates such as the philandering adulterer who was kicked out of office by his own party now running for president. Not to be outdone, another very rich candidate who has offshore accounts to hide his money and pays just 15% taxes is also running for president. One candidate didn't even know what the three branches of government are.

Here in G.C. we have had a multi-million-dollar makeover of the airport, a multi-million-dollar water course (sinking in debt), a new swimming pool and sports center at the college, and an expensive water tank atop Marsh Mountain, buried, of course. Yet, they couldn't keep the schools open for the little children. As bullies often do, they always pick on the weak and defenseless.

The School Bored (intentional) closes schools after meeting behind closed doors. Innovation and creative thinking are foreign words to them. The best improvement for G.C. school system would be to abolish the School Bored.

Zoning is being bandied about again as something needed. The only beneficiaries would be the very wealthy and sold-out politicians. Zoning is right up there with that other big government tool, eminent domain.

I call this "democracy in action."

To the Editor:

For the second time in little over a year, the county commissioners have started a process that would, for the first time ever, take control of the property rights of everyone in Garrett County. They say they must do this now to provide us protection from, I guess, ourselves.

Have you heard of anyone forcing their way onto private property to set up their windmills or drill gas wells?

Me either!

But Mr. Crawford, who is spearheading this power grab, says that without this ordinance we are defenseless from multi-national corporations who want to invade our county and exploit our wind and gas resources.

Folks, he hasn't been here long enough to know, but this county has not only survived but prospered from these "invasions" many times before. We've cut our timber for Westvaco, mined coal for Mettiki and many others, and believe it or not, created a whole new water source for Bausch & Lomb.

I wonder how many endangered species lived where Broadford Lake now exists? When you can make a living wage for 25 years, and have health insurance and a retirement plan, who cares!

Perhaps with the taxes from these new wind turbines and the jobs the gas industry provides, we could keep a few more of our schools open. Has anyone thought about that?

Don't be fooled by the rhetoric. This, in my opinion, is an act of desperation. Less than a year ago, a survey done by the planning commission resulted in over 70% of replies being against removing language from the county master plan that guarantees private property rights. This scheme ignores and bypasses those results.

You need to know that Mr. Crawford believes that with his and one other vote he can pass his ordinance no matter what the rest of us think. They know they have no mandate from us to do this, but the fact that they are in office gives them the power to throw 150 years of your rights out the window by the votes of two people!

This tells me that you don't have to look all the way to the White House to see someone who displays the kind of political arrogance that most citizens detest. We have created our own version of that man right here in Garrett County.

Jerry Plauger

To the Editor:

Neither children in elementary school nor their struggling lower- to middle-class parents caused the recession. Most people point the finger at the wealthy, government, Wall Street, the past or present president, or all of the above. We are in the worst recession since the Great Depression, and how we survive it will define us as a society. I am a councilman for the town of Friendsville trying to help, and I think I see economic trends that alarm me.

For the last two years, I witnessed Deep Creek Lake property owners try to take a large proportion of Friendsville's dam releases to fix their woes. The DCL State Park has suggested charging a Youghiogheny River running fee to Friendsville visitors to help prop up their cut budget and elaborate plans. And now Friendsville's elementary school is on the chopping block because of the state aid wealth formula aberration, which makes Garrett County the 5th wealthiest county in the state (LOL). This is caused by the DCL property values.

To top it all off, it looks like ASCI is asking the county commissioners for a $3 million bailout, and the Wisp Ski Resort bankruptcy is shorting the county property tax coffers for many hundreds of thousands of dollars, if not more.

From my perspective, Deep Creek Lake interests have many problems, and they're dragging Friendsville into their fix-it formula. I think it's all caused by the long drawn-out recession, and it looks to me like a free-for-all race to gobble up someone else's unwatched resources and infrastructures. Small Garrett County towns like Friendsville and the young families who live there did not cause the recession. So why are the state and county balancing their budgets on the backs of our local elderly, children, poor, and small-town economies?

The commissioners, delegate, and senator have a lot of very difficult decisions coming up. I wouldn't want to be in their shoes. But if I were in their shoes, I would certainly start by moth-balling ASCI until better economic times, and cancel the 2014 world championships to save the state $2 million that would likely would have spent in preparation for the event. Trade those savings into help for our schools, which are more important.

I for one will be watching very carefully, hoping to see leadership that supports the whole county, not bailing out failed Deep Creek Lake interests.

Thanks from Warm the Children 2011

Yet another successful Warm the Children campaign has come to a close. We had a record number of volunteers this year, and received nearly $40,000 from our many generous donors! We served 340 children and teens, helping to keep each one of them warm this winter. Special thanks to all the leaders of the program (see list), as well as to First United Bank & Trust, the Oakland and LaVale Wal-Mart Customer Services staff, namely Bobbie Swank, who did an outstanding job in training the cashiers, to the many cashiers who processed all the WTC purchases, and finally to Mack Stewart, founder of Warm the Children and our helpful consultant.. This collaborative effort between the Civic Club of Oakland and The Republican newspaper comes to fruition via the donations and help of so many volunteers. Thanks to all! See you in October!

Virginia Man Given Three Years On Third-Degree Burglary Charge

A Virginia man was sentenced to three years IN JAIL by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert in a recent Garrett County District Court hearing.

Philip Lee Ball, 49, Fairfax, was found guilty on a charge of third-degree burglary that was amended to fourth-degree burglary. He was sentenced to three years, with 18 months suspended, and placed on three years of supervised probation, to be monitored by the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation.

Ball was arrested by Maryland State Police in November after he reportedly broke into a locked home at which he was staying, damaged the door, and stole alcohol. He was not prosecuted on first-degree burglary, malicious destruction of property under $500, and theft less than $1,000 charges.

In other court news, Steven William Elsey, 19, was found guilty on a second-degree assault charge, for which he was sentenced to two years in jail, and a malicious destruction of property (MDOP) plus $500 charge, for which he was sentenced to 18 months, to run concurrently with the two years. He was given credit for 18 days served in the Garrett County Jail, and the rest of both sentences was suspended. He was also placed on three years of supervised probation. A $500 fine was imposed and suspended, and Elsey was ordered to pay $497.19 in restitution to Garrettland Inc.

He was reportedly involved in a domestic dispute at the Pinewoods apartments, Mtn. Lake Park, where several items were damaged, including the microwave, lights, and a door. Damage was also reportedly done to the victim's vehicle. He was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in October. Elsey was not prosecuted on two counts of MDOP under $500, MDOP plus $500, two counts of disorderly conduct, failure to obey a lawful order, and resisting arrest charges.

Geoffrey Allen Reams, 29, Bloomington, was found guilty on a disorderly conduct charge and sentenced to 60 days in the Garrett County Jail. He was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in August after being involved in a domestic dispute with an adult female at his home.

Christopher Josef Fredette, 23, Schwenksville, Pa., was found guilty on a possession of marijuana charge and sentenced to 60 days. He was given credit for one day served, and the remainder of the sentence was suspended. He was fined $500, with $200 suspended, and placed on 18 months of unsupervised probation. He was stopped on I-68 by Maryland State Police in July with three other people in the vehicle. Police recovered four smoking pipes, two jars of marijuana, and an amount of dimethoxyamphetamine. He was not prosecuted on a possession of paraphernalia charge.

Milton Dent Canan, 67, Accident, was found guilty on two counts of second-degree assault, reckless endangerment, and malicious destruction of property under $500 charges. He was found not guilty of disturbing the peace. He was sentenced to 60 days for each charge, with all but one day suspended, for which he was given credit for time served. He was also placed on two years of supervised probation. Canan was reportedly involved in a physical altercation with a neighbor on Rock Lodge Road in May. Maryland State Police were the arresting officers.

Shawn Cameron Bostick, 18, White Plains, was given a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict and Jonathan Gilbert Jackson, 18, Davonte James Garnett, 18, and DéQuan Elias Riley, 18, all of Washington, D.C., were each found guilty on a fourth-degree burglary charge that stemmed from an incident investigated by MSP in October. Each was sentenced to 60 days suspended and placed on 18 months of unsupervised probation. All four men were reportedly involved in a break-in that occurred at a Mountainside Drive, Deep Creek Lake, residence. They were not prosecuted on first-degree burglary, first degree conspiracy to commit burglary, and theft less than $100 charges.

Kody Ryan Lewis, 20, Frostburg, was given a PBJ verdict on a possession not marijuana charge that stemmed from an October traffic stop by MSP. He was sentenced to 60 days suspended and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He was also fined $500, of which half was suspended. Lewis was stopped on Altamont Road for a traffic violation, and while searching the vehicle MSP recovered a smoking pipe, a marijuana grinder, and a quantity of marijuana and psilocybin mushrooms. He was not prosecuted on possession of marijuana and possession of paraphernalia charges.

James Alan Hinebaugh Jr., 23, Oakland, was given a PBJ verdict on a possession of paraphernalia charge that stemmed from traffic stop by GC sheriff's deputies in September. He was fined $50 and placed on one day of unsupervised probation. Police reportedly found a pipe and marijuana in his vehicle. He was not prosecuted on a possession of marijuana charge.

Timothy Franklin Brooks Jr., 20, Keyser, W.Va., was not prosecuted on unlawful taking of a vehicle, theft $1,000 to $10,000, and theft under $100 charges that stemmed from an August incident investigated by MSP. He received a stet verdict on drinking and driving charges, which was previously reported.

Brian Lee Moats, 28, Oakland, and Lisa Moats, 28, Deer Park, were each found not guilty on a second-degree assault charge that stemmed from an October domestic dispute on Church Street investigated by GC sheriff's deputies.

supporter and member of the Health and Government Operations Committee and chair of the Public Health and Long-Term Care subcommittee.

"I listen to everybody, and I've been here 20 years. Those who really get wound up on these things are the ones who call. The people who support these things don't call," he said.

Opposition from constituents and religious communities was central to derailing the bill in the House last year.

"With every passing Sunday, where the preachers in some of the conservative districts were working really hard on this issue from the pulpit, we would see our vote count slip each Monday," Mizeur said.

With the bill expected to pass again in the Senate, supporters say the are looking for four or five new votes in the House, a goal complicated by the strong feelings surrounding the issue.

"Certain issues, you could have great marketing, you could have all these people stand behind it, but people have their own thoughts about it," said bill co-sponsor Delegate Shawn Z. Tarrant, D-Baltimore. "You're not going to be able to bring up any type of strategy that's going to swing them one way or the other."

The bill passed the Senate last year by a 25-21 margin, but stalled in the House when supporters could not garner the 71 votes they needed.

Co-sponsors of the House version of the bill balked as they moved toward a vote. Delegates Jill Carter, D-Baltimore, and Tiffany Alston, D-Prince George's, were notably absent for an important vote during a March Judiciary Committee hearing. Carter eventually voted in favor in committee, while Alston, who now faces unrelated theft and misconduct charges, voted against.

Fellow co-sponsor and committee member Delegate Sam Arora, D-Montgomery, who campaigned on behalf of, and received donations from, the gay and lesbian community, went back and forth late before voting for it in the Judiciary Committee.

Should the bill become law, it will likely go before voters in a referendum, which has historically meant a dead end for same-sex marriage legislation across the country.

According to a January poll by Gonzales Research & Marketing Strategies, 49 percent of Marylanders favor same-sex marriage, while 47 percent oppose it. Currently, the District of Columbia and six other states allow same-sex couples to marry.

GC United Way Seeking Children's Program Proposals

The United Way of Garrett County is currently seeking proposals for after-school and summer programs for those in need. The goal of the program is to build partnerships with local organizations to provide a safe environment, along with mentoring opportunities, for children who need a place to go after school and during the summer.

Application details for this request for proposal, or RFP, process are available by contacting the County United Way office at 301-722-2700 (toll free: 877-597-2700) or by e-mailing cuw@allconet.org.

Pre-proposal questions may be asked at the agency liaison meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 1 p.m. in the community room of the Allegany County Health Department. Final proposals are due Feb. 24.

The Garrett County United Way representatives identified programs to address after-school and summer programs as their main concern, a spokesperson said. Multiple partnerships and collaboration are key elements to every proposal, the spokesperson advised.

The United Way of Garrett County is currently funding a collaborative proposal for after-school and summer programs that provides comprehensive programming to at-risk students in grades 3 to 5. The partnering agencies include Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families (primary agency), Garrett County Community Action, Garrett County Health Department, University of Maryland/Garrett County Extension Service, Garrett College Adventure Sports Institute, Girl Scouts of the Nation's Capital, and Boy Scouts/Potomac Council.

Agencies seeking funding for their proposals will be required to work with at least one other agency.

"Throughout the many meetings, one topic always surfaced - the need for program collaboration," said Frank Shap, chairman of the Community Response Committee for Garrett County. "The County United Way cannot solve these problems alone, but we can serve as a catalyst in the process, advocate for common needs, and partner with others who may be in the best position to make a great impact on our community."

The move to greater community impact funding will take several years and will not change other funding choices, Shap said. Donors to the United Way may still specify that their dollars be designated to a particular agency or program.

"The move toward impact funding allows everyone in the community to identify a need, work together to solve the problem, and put the maximum amount of dollars toward the solution," Shap said.

The Community Impact Task Force of United Way reserves the right to negotiate the final proposal(s) for funding.

For more information about donating to the County United Way, persons may contact the office at the number noted above.

NHS ROTC WORKS WITH ACTUAL HUSKIES – Eleven students from the Northern High School ROTC "Husky Battalion" Corps of Cadets participated in a winter training operation with Husky Power Dogsledding, a company located in McHenry, early this month. According to Jack Riley, ROTC advisor, the highlight of the event was the opportunity for all cadets in groups of two to participate in a "run" with a team of dogs pulling a German crafted aluminum dry-land sled, commanded by Mike Herdering of the dogsledding company. Linda Herdering assisting in the instruction as well. The topics covered included the types of sleds used and why, the breeds of dogs used and why, and how to select which dog and how many for what location when making up a team. The students also learned about the Husky dogs and their lineage, as well as how to care for and train the animals. The cadets taking part in the three-hour training were Courtney Lowery, Jared Wiley, Caleb Lytle, Brady Benton, Thomas Harvey, Trevor Green, Jonathan Stemple, Aaron Wilson, Curtis Friend II, Josh Hertz, and Alexander Eckley. Kim Lowery also participated and took several photos of the day's events.

Disney Digital Books Available On Library Site

The Ruth Enlow Library has expanded its digital collection with the addition of Disney digital books through its membership in Maryland's Digital eLibrary Consortium.

This collection is available from the local library's web site at www.relib.net, and features over 600 Disney online books, which are browser based and can be enjoyed on a Windows or Mac computer. These books are not transferrable to eReader devices.

Disney titles offer interactive features to enhance the user experience, such as a "magic pen" that pronounces words with just one click, and the ability to look up word definitions. Familiar Disney characters such as Mickey Mouse, Winnie the Pooh, Disney Princesses, Hanna Montana, and others appear in the pages of these books.

To check out Disney books, users need a valid library card, computer, and Internet connection. The books can be accessed by following these steps:

1. Go to the library's web site at www.relib.net.

2. Scroll down the home page to the OverDrive icon and click it, which displays Maryland's Digital eLibrary Consortium (powered by OverDrive).

3. Scroll down the page to the Disney books icon on the left and click it, which displays the Disney collection.

4. Patrons can browse the collection without logging in. At checkout they will be prompted to enter the library (select Ruth Enlow Library from the drop-down list), a valid library card number (with no spaces), and PIN.

Titles automatically expire and are returned to the collection from the user's account at the end of the borrowing period.

This free service is provided to Ruth Enlow patrons by the Western Maryland Regional Library and is powered by OverDrive Inc., a global leader in digital media services.

Questions may be directed to the Oakland Reference Desk at 301-334-3996, ext. 100.

A listing of events and services at the Ruth Enlow Library is available at www.relib.net.

On Provost's List At Potomac State

Two local students were placed on the provost's list for the 2011 fall semester at Potomac State College of West Virginia University: James L. Beitzel, Accident, and Kathryn E. Schmelter, McHenry.

To be eligible for the provost's list, a student must earn a 3.7 to 4.0 grade point average while maintaining full-time student status.

According to provost Kerry Odell, there were 95 students on the list for the fall semester.

As the Snow Falls

On a freezing winter morning there's a possibility that we might awaken to snow softly falling and the weatherman calling for a deep accumulation. Cancellations abound; children cheer as their parents groan. Though some of us look forward to days like this, they are a source of inconvenience for many. Snowy weather can add to our stress, yet, when we are "snowed in" we have an opportunity for togeth erness that we otherwise wouldn't. We can enjoy the break from life's pace and give thanks to God for the beauty of His earth.

RESTLESSNESS

Why do we go through life with so much nervous energy, moving constantly, never satisfied, and endlessly restless? Some of this may just be the quiet desperation to keep moving towards our goals, in the misguided idea that if we stop moving we will fall backwards or even sink. And, it's not just our bodies that are restless; our minds can't seem to slow down either. If you doubt this try to sit still for an hour or two and do absolutely nothing, or to clear your mind of all thought for even a few seconds. It's almost impossible for most of us. Maybe this is somehow built into our very nature, for this restlessness seems to surface early in our lives. Children are almost always restless, and when they reach the age where they are mobile, they are off and running from morning until nightfall. But, this restlessness has its costs. Besides the endless expenditure of energy, we miss out on the pleasures of quiet contemplation. We should take some time each day to slow down and enjoy the moment, communing with God in the solitude of our quieted mind.

"Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls."

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
OF REAL PROPERTY AND
ANY IMPROVEMENTS THEREON
134 KNOLL CREST HEIGHTS DR.
OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Leslie A. Bittinger and Salena D. Bittinger dated February 28, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1291, Folio 524 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $232,000.00 and an original interest rate of 6.625% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on

FEBRUARY 8, 2012, AT 1:30 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with any buildings or improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, and any improvements thereon, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

The property will be sold subject to a prior mortgage, the amount to be announced at the time of sale, if made available to Substitute Trustees.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $23,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if ratification of the sale is denied by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Seller agrees to pay Sub. Trustees a fee of $395.00 for their review of and consent to any motion to substitute purchaser.

OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
306 SHADY ACRE LANE, OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Beverly A. Taylor and Lawton M. Taylor, dated November 30, 2006, and recorded in Liber 01275, Folio 0369 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $260,800.00, and an original interest rate of 7.500%, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on January 27, 2012, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $25,000.00 by certified funds only (no cash will be accepted) is required at the time of auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note, its assigns, or designees, shall pay interest on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, not otherwise divested by ratification of the sale, and whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the foreclosing lender or its designee. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys a fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten (10) days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorney's fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of foreclosure auction. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages, and any deficiency in the underlying secured debt. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

PUBLIC NOTICES

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT WATER MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION
Notice of Application Received for State Permit and Opportunity for Hearing

Issue Date: January 26, 2012, in The Republican.

The Water Management Administration is reviewing the application for the State Permit listed below. The application and related information are on file at the Administration; arrangements may be made for inspection and copying. Opportunity is afforded individuals to provide written comments, to request a public informational hearing or to be placed on an interested persons list for the listed application. Any further notices about actions on an application will be provided only by mail to those individuals on a mailing list of interested persons. Comments or requests for an informational hearing must be received in writing by the Administration on or before February 9, 2012. All inquiries and requests should include the permit application number; your name, address and telephone number; and should be addressed to John Grace, Chief, Source Protection and Appropriation Division, Water Management Administration, 1800 Washington Blvd., Baltimore, Maryland 21230. Telephone: 410-537-3590.

Garrett County

GA1988G001/03 – Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., 14689 Garrett Highway, Oakland, Maryland 21550, has applied to increase an existing appropriation of an annual average of 3,500 gallons of water per day (gpd) and 5,900 gpd during the month of maximum use to an annual average of 72,000 gpd and 122,000 gpd during the month of maximum use. Water is withdrawn from two wells (one production well and one back-up well), in the Greenbrier formation (Loyalhanna Limestone Member) for the McHenry water system. The project is located at the Willows Condominiums on the west side of Deep Creek Drive, on the east bank of Marsh Cove Run, McHenry, Garrett County, Maryland. The Administration is recommending an allocation of an annual average of 50,000 gpd and 122,000 gpd in the month of maximum use, based on the long-term water needs of the McHenry water system.

Impacts to the resource and nearby users were evaluated using data from an on-site aquifer test and geologic reports available to the Administration. Pumping during periods of maximum use may lower the water table less than eight feet at the production well. Drawdown in the water table would decrease as the distance from the production well increases. In making the evaluation, the withdrawal was modeled as being pumped continuously for 90 days at the maximum rate with no recharge to the aquifer. 1/26

PUBLIC NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, on January 9, 2012, adopted a Resolution for the amendment of its Charter.

The following is a fair summary of the amendments to the Charter, as provided for in Section 13(e) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, as amended.

CHARTER AMENDMENT RESOLUTION NO. 2012-1

A RESOLUTION OF THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL OF FRIENDSVILLE adopted pursuant to the authority of Section 13(e) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, to Amend the Charter of the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville as adopted on September 10, 2007, by the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, by amending, Article 1, Section 101 of the current Charter and adding Section 7-109, entitled "Sales of Real Property"; said amendments enabling the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville to sell certain parcels of real property, held in trust or by proprietary capacity, when said real property has been has been found, by a Resolution of the Town Council, to be no longer needed for any public purpose of the Town of Friendsville. Article I, Section 101, of the Charter of the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville shall be repealed in its entirety and re-enacted to include the following words "may dispose of or sell such property, whether held in trust or in the Town's proprietary capacity, when necessary for the benefit of said corporation, and all of the property and funds of every kind belonging to the said corporation are vested in the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville." Article 7, Section 109, is added, granting power and authority to the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville to sell, for good and valuable consideration, any real property titled to the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, whether held in trust or in the Town's proprietary capacity, when such real property is deemed by the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville by a duly adopted Resolution that the Town of Friendsville would be better served by the sale of certain property located within the Town, when the same is no longer needed for any public purpose or that the sale is in the best interests of the Town and/or its citizens due to financial considerations; and empowering the Mayor and Town Council to pass all such ordinances as may be necessary to fully effectuate the provisions of this Section.

A performance/payment bond in the full bid amount will be required of the successful contractor. For additional information about this project, visit the Garrett County Purchasing Department's web site at www.garrettcounty.org/Purchasing/CurrentBids.aspx.

A Pre-Bid Meeting will be held at 10:00 a.m. on Wednesday, February 1, 2012, in the Commissioners' Public Meeting Room located at 203 South Fourth Street, Room 209 in Oakland, Maryland.

Bid documents and specifications may be obtained in person from the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 203 South Fourth Street, Room 208, Oakland, Maryland 21550. The cost of the bid specifications and drawings is $25.00 per set and is nonrefundable. All out of town contractors must pre-pay for shipping and the cost of the plans. Inquiries may be made by calling 301-334-5003.

Sealed bids must be submitted to the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 203 South Fourth Street, Room 208, Oakland, Maryland 21550, on or before Thursday, February 16, 2012, at 1:30 p.m. (local time). Sealed bids will be publicly opened and read aloud in the Commissioners' Public Meeting Room at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 16, 2012. All bidders are required to submit three (3) copies of their bid documents at the time of submission. All bids submitted should be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be clearly marked "Deep Creek Trail Construction Project" on the outside of the envelope. Any bids received after the time due will not be considered for award and shall be retained as documentation for the bid file.

The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, to cancel this invitation to bid and to waive technicalities in any part deemed to be in the best interest of Garrett County.

GARRETT TRAILS BOARD ANNOUNCED – The 2012 Garrett Trails board of directors was announced last week. The members are Mike Dreisbach, owner Savage River Lodge, president; Mike Logsdon, Garrett College Adventuresports Institute, vice president and Mapping Awareness Committee chair; Steve Green, co-owner of High Mountain Sports, treasurer; Matt Taylor, Adventure Sports Center International executive director, secretary; Peggy Jamison, Oakland mayor and Garrett County commissioners' representative, assistant secretary; Rodney Glotfelty, health officer/Garrett County Health Department, Trail Maintenance Committee chair; Jay Moyer, GC Roads Department superintendent; Bob Nickel, Bill's Marine Service vice president and general manager; Barry Weinberg, Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association; Robin Jones Grantsville town clerk/treasurer; and Titus Beitzel, Pillar Innovations director of operations. Left to right are Taylor, Jones, Moyer, Jamison, Logsdon, Driesbach, Weinberg, Beitzel, Green, and Glotfelty. Not pictured is Nickel. Representing a variety of organizations, the Garrett Trails Advisory Committee members are Bill Atkinson, Maryland Department of Planning; Meg Ellis, GC Department of Economic Development; Bill DeVore, GC Department of Planning and Land Development; Patty Mash, retired Department of Natural Resources employee; Cindy Ecker, DNR; Wade Dorsey, Savage River State Forest manager; Barry Ritchie, State Highway Administration; Dave Ritchie, GC Roads Department; Dee Dee Ritchie, Garrett County Heritage Area manager; Scott Richardson, Adventuresports Institute; and Bob Stephens, GC Health Department. In 1999, the county commissioners requested the formation of a task force to create a county trails plan. "With the early efforts of the trails task force came the realization that a permanent organization was needed for the work of trail planning, development, and promotion," said Garrett Trails executive director Theresa MacLennan. In 2008 Garrett Trails was founded as a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. The group's mission is to develop a well-used network of "outstanding" quality trails that provide access to Garrett County's historic, municipal and environmental "treasurers," and that link to trails outside the county. In 2011, Garrett Trails finalized a study for a 150-mile comprehensive trail within the county. "Garrett Trails engages a committed volunteer board of 22 professionals in the development of trail plans and progress," MacLennan said. She added that the 2012 board of directors are working diligently to connect people to nature, enhance wellness opportunities, and create economic opportunities.

genuinely pretty winter landscape. There is a decent snow cover on the ground, and some of the branches in the woods have a coating. Especially pretty is the remaining maple, and there are some icicles. It is still a bit misty, but not totally foggy like yesterday was. It is certainly pretty enough to have a nice cross-country ski excursion.

Named To Dean's List At Charleston

Jennifer George, Oakland, was recently named to the fall 2011 dean's list at the University of Charleston. The dean's list recognizes full-time students who earn a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.

The University of Charleston is an independent, co-educational, residential college located in West Virginia, with approximately 1,400 students from 30 countries and 34 states. It ranks among the First Tier Regional Colleges in the South, according to U.S. News & World Report, and offers 22 undergraduate majors, three master's degrees, and a doctorate in pharmacy.

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I am pleased that the four final teams in the NFL playoffs are from "blue" states. Of course, the Feb. 5 Super Bowl will be held in Indianapolis, Ind., a "right-to-work" state, meaning anti-union. I wonder how the Super Bowl players feel about that, since they are union members, and that is important because the union is the best protection for them from policies that make it more likely that they will endure severe and permanent brain damage.

I remember as clearly as possible what was going on in my life and the world 21 years ago. Personally, I waited for Meredith. She was a little late and did not arrive on her due date. I did get lucky enough to see her before she was born, thanks to the miracle of ultrasound imaging. She looked exactly like I expected: exactly like her two older sisters.

I did not see Claire prenatally. But I did see Caitlin, because since she was late, Dr. Pope ordered an ultrasound test, just to make sure everything was all right. It was a somewhat blurry image, but she looked very similar to her older sister when she was a newborn.

And Meredith, still cozy inside me, looked the same. That was good news for me because all three were the most beautiful babies possible. But she was reluctant to come into the world. I think what dislodged her was that I visited my mother and slipped on the ice and snow-covered sidewalk. I did a split. Not a terribly comfortable activity for a nine-months-pregnant woman.

When it finally seemed that labor had started, we headed out to the hospital in a major winter storm, and I remember hearing on the car radio when we passed Arrowhead Market that the first Iraqi war – Desert Storm –had begun, and American air power was pounding Baghdad with scud missiles. It was enjoyable to be able to watch CNN on my hospital television, since we only got regular network channels at home.

It was the easiest labor I ever experienced, and finally, there she was. That is always the most wonderful moment for an expectant mother. That was Jan. 19, 1991, a Thursday.

I am once again waiting for Meredith. I heard a rumor that she would be home today for a brief pre-birthday visit. I do not know what time she may show up, but her fellow WVU sister Caitlin can't come with her.

It is now more than a decade since some people were saying endlessly that we were at the virtual brink of Iran having a nuclear weapon. But they are still at least one year or more away before they could put together such a weapon.

After I saw amazing pictures of the big snow storm that hit Washington state, I couldn't resist calling my Aunt Betty Hummel in Olympia, Wash. She said it is the worst she ever experienced out there. I am sure she saw equally bad conditions on our family farm. However, this is perhaps the second mildest winter I have seen since the mid-1950s. I cannot complain at all.

I was very excited about a social event here: a party celebrating Meredith's 21st birthday, which was held last Wednesday. Her birthday was actually Thursday (Jan. 19), but she had enough of a break in her class to swing over home Wednesday to celebrate her birthday with me, especially since she knew that I had her heart's desire as a geography major: a very nice globe.

I also had a painting of her with her first best friend, Kelsey Morrison, who used to live in the large Beachy house that during my childhood was inhabited by Jonah, Ferne, Cindy, and Sally. Then it was bought by Wendell and remodeled to the style of an old-fashioned home in Germany and Switzerland. The white plaster exterior is crisscrossed by dark beams. That is the same kind of house that I saw in Gladderfelden, Switzerland, when I visited our "Old World" hometown in 1976.

Cumberland had a really booming economy during World War II because of some important warfare industries that were located there – Kelly Tires, the Celanese synthetic fabric company that was important to the manufacture of parachutes, and a large ballistic factory that manufactured explosives for our bombs. Then, when the demands for those products went down, Cumberland, which was once called the Queen City, suffered a severe economic decline.

RED IN MORNING, SAILORS TAKE WARNING – If that ancient adage were completely accurate ("Red at night, sailors delight; red in morning, sailors take warning"), Tuesday's weather would've been much more severe, as this was the scene early that day, captured on a digital camera by Deb Swiger. But Tuesday's weather was actually quite fair on the Mountaintop, with perhaps one little shower of rain. The weather is going against most adages these days, continuing on with unusually warm temperatures and bringing next to no snow. While that makes for more ease in traveling and keeping warm, it is still an odd state of affairs for a population that is used to far more wintry conditions. The groundhog apparently did see his shadow this morning, predicting six more weeks of winter. So perhaps February will bring weather more characteristic of Garrett County at this time of the year.

Local Lawmakers' Bills Scheduled For Committee Review

General Assembly committee hearings are under way in Annapolis for legislation proposed by state lawmakers. Bills introduced by Del. Wendell Beitzel and Sen. George Edwards will be reviewed during the next several weeks.

The House Appropriations Committee will hold a public hearing for Beitzel's HB 121: "Dedicated Funds – Prohibition of Transfer – Chesapeake and Atlantic Coastal Bays 2010 Trust Fund and Bay Restoration Fund" on Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 1 p.m. in Room 120, House Office Building.

This bill would amend the Maryland State Constitution to prohibit the transfer of funds from the two major sources of revenue for bay cleanup efforts in the state.

"The Chesapeake By is a state treasure that needs to be protected, and the citizens of the state are paying to 'save the bay,'" Beitzel said. "Therefore, the dedicated funds entrusted to the state need to be restricted for their intended purpose."

Anyone wishing to testify on HB 121 must sign the witness register by 12:50 p.m. on the day of the hearing. Those who have written testimony are asked to submit 40 copies to the Appropriations Committee staff for distribution by 11 a.m. Persons interested in submitting testimony may contact Beitzel's office at 800-492-7122, ext. 3435, for assistance.

The delegate noted that Gov. Martin O'Malley's SB 240 would increase the "flush tax" from $30 to $60 for septic system users.

For those who are connected to municipal sewage treatment facilities, the fees will be based on the amount of water used. A $.90 fee is proposed to be placed for each 1,000 gallons for the first 2,000 gallons. Then an additional $1.25 would be charged for each 1,000 gallons thereafter. Under this scenario, Beitzel said, a family of four with an average daily water usage of 70 gallons per person (8,400 gallons/month) could see quadruple the flush tax fee from an original $30 per year to $180 per year.

Betizel noted that during the 2011 General Assembly session, O'Malley's budget transferred $290 million from the Bay Restoration Fund and the Chesapeake & Atlantic Coastal Bays 2010 Trust Fund into the state's general fund. The funds are to be replenished with general obligation bonds, which require additional interest costs and limit the amount of bond funds available for other state capital projects.

"If these funds were never raided, there would be no immediate need for a [flush fee]

Beitzel, Edwards Pursuing Natural Gas And Oil Leasing Legislation

Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R–Dist. 1A) and Sen. George C. Edwards (R–Dist. 1) announced yesterday they will offer legislation regarding the recordation of natural gas and oil leases during the 2012 Maryland General Assembly session in Annapolis.

"Based largely on discussions with local officials and concerned citizens, we believe that the current statutes regarding the recordation of leases for natural gas and oil should be addressed this session," Beitzel said.

One of the measures being pursued by the legislators from western Maryland, who represent almost exclusively the area in which the Marcellus shale formation is found, would require court clerks to file an intake sheet with natural gas and oil leases. Current law provides that a clerk cannot reject an otherwise completed lease based solely on the lack of an intake sheet.

"These sheets will be used by the folks in the land records department to properly index the properties leased by natural gas and oil companies," Edwards said. "With this important change in the law, people can more easily find these records."

Another bill being offered by Beitzel and Edwards would require the recordation of leases of oil and natural gas, and stipulate general information to be included within the leasing documents. Other states, including Ohio, already have similar provisions on the books, according to the local lawmakers.

"It has been reported to us that some individuals who have entered into these leases were caught off guard with some of the provisions found in the fine print that bind them indefinitely to the lease provisions," Beitzel noted. "Though legislation cannot be crafted to safeguard everyone from every provision, this measure will put into place some very important protections for landowners who enter into these leases."

Finally, the western Maryland legislators will be offering legislation that would require the registration of land agents.

With the deadline for introductions quickly approaching, all these proposed measures will be submitted soon and committee hearings will be scheduled, according to Beitzel and Edwards.

State Of The State A Prelude To Tough Legislative Session Ahead

by Dave Nyczepir
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – Gov. Martin O'Malley made his case for job creation and same-sex marriage Wednesday, promoting his most ambitious agenda to date in his sixth State of the State address.

O'Malley stressed his administration's goal of growing the middle class and family-owned businesses, labeling this year's budget a jobs budget.

To balance that budget, the governor has proposed $800 million in spending cuts and reductions this year, but his new job creation initiatives would require new taxes on everything from income to gas. Cuts alone won't do it this year, he said.

"In fact, to achieve balance over the last three years, we have relied almost entirely on cuts," O'Malley said. "But with 84 cents of every dollar we invest allocated to public education, public safety, and public health – and with one of the smallest state government workforces in the country – every passing year leaves fewer and fewer responsible options for budget cutting."

O'Malley got a lukewarm reception from Republican critics.

"It shows he is totally out of touch with Maryland families," Sen. David Brinkley, R-Frederick, said. "It was not so much a state of the state as a state of his policies and his politics."

One of O'Malley's proposed increases would cap income tax deductions and phase out certain exemptions for those he's dubbed Maryland's higher earners.

In addition, O'Malley believes he can double the flush tax yield by switching most households over to a consumption-based fee structure.

"Along these lines, my Republican predecessor called the 'flush tax' one of his most important accomplishments while in office." O'Malley said. "By allowing us to make green upgrades to wastewater treatment plants, we have greatly reduced the pollution flowing into our bay."

Man Sentenced To Two Years In Recent District Court Hearing

A West Virginia man was sentenced to two years in jail on a theft $1,000 to $10,000 charge and one year on a third-degree sex offense charge. Michael Joseph Miller, 25, Eglon, was found guilty by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert in recent District Court proceedings.

Miller was arrested in October by Garrett County sheriff's deputies after he reportedly stole three firearms from a Fingerboard Road, Oakland, residence at which he was living for approximately three months. All three guns were recovered. Miller was also reportedly involved in a sexual relationship with the 14-year-old female in the same home.

All but six months of each sentence was suspended, and Miller will be placed on three years of supervised probation, to be monitored by the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation, following his release from the Garrett County Jail. He was not prosecuted on sex abuse of a minor and second-degree assault charges.

In other court news, Grover Cleveland Sisler, 25, Oakland, was found guilty of telephone misuse charges and sentenced to 18 months. He was given credit for one day served. He was arrested in October by Garrett County sheriff's deputies after it was discovered that he had been making numerous obscene and "sexually explicit" phone calls to Arrowhead Market and Swallow Falls Store. He was not prosecuted on three additional counts of telephone misuse: repeat calls and three counts of telephone misuse: obscene charges.

Debra Ann Adams, 56, Friendsville, was found guilty on a fourth-degree burglary charge that stemmed from a November arrest by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. She was originally charged with first-degree burglary, which was amended to fourth-degree. Adams was sentenced to 60 days suspended and two years of supervised probation. She reportedly stole prescription medication from an elderly man for whom she was working under Tender Loving Home Care Inc. She was not prosecuted on theft less than $100 and possession not marijuana.

Jessica Warnick, 24, Grantsville, was found guilty on a fireworks possession without a permit charge that stemmed from a September incident investigated by GC sheriff's deputies. She was ordered to complete 40 hours of community service, and a $250 fine was suspended. Warnick reportedly used

Christmas Bird Count Numbers Are Announced

Fifteen local persons participated in the annual Christmas Bird Count on Dec. 17 and released this week the various statistics generated by their efforts.

Fourteen of the observers were divided into seven parties and logged a total of 66.5 hours of observation, plus 355 miles of travel in vehicles and on foot. Additionally, three parties spent 3.7 hours and traveled 24 miles in search of owls. One feeder observer, Kathy Vitek, contributed several hours to the count.

Field observers were Caroline and Neal Blizzard, Kevin Dodge, Courtney Englar, Aaron Graham, Nick Jennings, Mikey Lutmerding, Seth Metheny, Jeff Opel, Bill and Fran Pope, Jane Rittenhouse, Jeremy Sidebottom, and Connie Skipper (count compiler).

According to Skipper, the weather conditions, unlike those of most of the previous 27 years that the count was held, were generally favorable, with the temperature in the 20s and little wind on Dec. 17. There was no snow cover, and there was no ice cover on lakes and ponds, conditions that led to an increase in the number and species of waterfowl observed.

Garrett County's Liability Insurance Premium Decreases By 18 Percent

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners' annual liability insurance premium decreased by 18% between fiscal year 2010-2011 and fiscal year 2011-2012, county administrator Monty Pagenhardt announced on Tuesday.

The Local Government Insurance Trust (LGIT), the county's liability insurer, offers membership, longevity, and loss control credits toward the annual premium. The credits for FY 2011-12 accounted for $98,639 in savings to the county, according to Pagenhardt.

"The premium is allocated yearly to the county departments, and the credits were deducted from the department's portion of the annual insurance premium," he said in a press release.

LGIT also offered for the first time a $1 million limit for excess liability at no additional charge to entities with primary liability coverage, providing additional security for liability coverage.

"This saved the county an average of $8,000 on the annual insurance premium," Pagenhardt said. "Additionally, claims and losses for liability have been down for all county departments, which contributes to the decrease of the insurance premiums. County management and employees keep safety in mind, and this shows with the decline of claims and lowered premiums."

He noted that the county has not been advised by LGIT or other insurance agents of any major increased to the insurance premiums for FY 2012-13.

LGIT was founded by the Maryland Association of Counties and the Maryland Municipal League in answer to difficulties the towns, cities, and counties faced in securing affordable insurance in the 1980s.

LGIT is a nonprofit association authorized by state law, wholly owned and managed by its local government members. Its main purpose is to provide joint self-insurance programs or pools for towns, cities, and counties in Maryland. Because LGIT is a nonprofit organization, if income from fees and investments is more than is needed to pay for losses and expenses, the excess funds may be returned to the towns, cities, and counties that are members.

Garrett County has been LGIT member since 1987.

TECHNOMINDS PROVE BEST IN MARYLAND! – Broad Ford Elementary's First LEGO League Team, the Technominds, claimed the top prize in mechanical design last week after besting over 70 teams from across the state in the Maryland FLL Championship Tournament. The competition, for students ages 9 to 14, was held in the activities center of the University of Maryland, Baltimore County. The 10-player teams were asked to focus on team building, problem solving, creativity, and analytical thinking, while competing to solve an engineering challenge modeled after a real-world problem. The team's members are pictured above, from left, with their trophies. In the first row are: Peyton Missimer, Zach Rohrbaugh, Jessica Storck, Will Meagher, Katie Catulle, and Parker Meyer. In the second row are: Nick Ponceroff, Carter Bowers, Jordan Rohrbaugh, and Jamie Kight. Standing in the back are team coaches Angie Meyer, Kathy Meagher, and Jenny Neville.

Woman Charged After Taking Vehicle Without Permission

An Oakland woman was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies last Friday evening following a report of a possible theft of a motor vehicle that occurred at a Herrington Manor Road residence.

The 1997 Dodge truck was located and stopped on Herrington Manor Road/ Liberty Street, Oakland, in the area of Liberty Mews at approximately 10:30 p.m. Andrea Denay Grimm, 23, was identified as the driver. She was charged with unauthorized removal of property and transported to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

GCSO Make Two Recent Drinking, Driving Arrests

Garrett County sheriff's deputies made two recent drinking and driving arrests following traffic stops in the local area. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies received a report on Jan. 17 of a possible intoxicated driver traveling on Owens Lane, Bloomington. A traffic stop was conducted on Christie Lynn Feaster, 36, Swanton, who reportedly smelled of alcohol at the time of the stop. She was subsequently arrested and charged with driving under the influence, driving while impaired, and violating license restrictions. She was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

In a separate incident, deputies stopped a vehicle on Alder Street, Oakland, early last Friday morning for a moving violation. Upon contact with the driver, Kenyon Lynn Shaffer, 59, it was determined that he was intoxicated. Following field sobriety tests, Shaffer was arrested and charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and additional traffic violations. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail and later released pending trial.

Injuries Reported In Two-Vehicle Wreck Saturday

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a two-vehicle accident with injuries last Saturday evening in the area of Jeffery Lane and Garrett Highway.

Investigation revealed that Donald Ralph Cross III, 22, Oakland, had failed to yield the right of way and pulled into the path of a vehicle driven by Shirley Marie Sines, 85, Oakland. Cross was cited by deputies. Police reports note that Northern Rescue Squad transported the injured persons to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment. Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Company also responded to the 6:20 p.m. scene.

GCSO Seeking Info On Burglary On Sang Run Rd.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office is investigating a burglary that reportedly occurred at an Oakland Sang Run Road residence recently.

A suspect was observed entering the home at approximately noon on Saturday, Jan. 21. The suspect was confronted by a relative of the home owner who had seen him enter. Upon being confronted, the suspect fled the property on foot. He is described as a white male in his 40s, 5'8" to 5'10", medium build, balding on top with brown hair on the sides, wearing a navy blue hoodie jacket or sweatshirt.

The GCSO requests that those with information call 301-334-1911 or visit the web site at www.garrettcountycrimesolvers.org. Tipsters may remain anonymous.

MOST WANTED – Pictured are the current Most Wanted persons who are being sought by local law enforcement officials, as submitted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. From left are: Salliann Abes Gardea, 54, Oakland, arrest warrant/theft; Jason Dwayne Petrey, 39, Hagerstown, bench warrant/failure to appear; and Michael Lee Weidlich, 34, Swanton, arrest warrant/escape. Anyone with information on the whereabouts of any of these persons is asked to call 301-334-1911 or go online to garrettcountycrimesolvers.org and leave an anonymous tip.

Man Arrested On Possession, DUI, And DWI Charges

An Oakland man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on drinking and driving and CDS possession charges Wednesday afternoon.

Deputies stopped a 1998 Chevy truck operated by Larry Gay Wilson, 49, on Weber Road for an equipment violation. Further investigation revealed that alcohol was present in the vehicle. He was taken into custody after not completing field sobriety tests to the satisfaction of the deputies. He was also discovered to be in possession of a marijuana smoking pipe and a quantity of marijuana.

He was charged with driving under the influence, DUI per se, driving while impaired, possession with intent to distribute marijuana, possession of marijuana, possession of paraphernalia, and failure to equip vehicle with brake light. Wilson was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Among the 28 Oakland counts, only one had fewer blue jays seen (26), and only two previous counts ended with fewer American crows (581) and tufted titmice (45) observed.

According to Skipper, because there was 100% open water, 17 species of waterfowl were tallied, which boosted the species total. The species total of 63 was five above the average.

Of the 28 CBC counts, only two counts had higher numbers of buffleheads (81), and only three counts had higher numbers of Canada geese (1,229) and hooded mergansers (178). Ring-billed gulls have been seen on 11 out of 28 counts, and 50 were tallied this year. There were only three ruddy ducks seen this year, well below average.

"The most unusual species seen for this time of the year was an eastern towhee," Skipper said. "Mikey Lutmerding found two of them, one in McHenry and one in the Mt. Nebo Wildlife Management Area."

The Popes spotted the only tundra swans, green-winged teal, bald eagle, sharp-shinned hawk, and northern mockingbird. Lutmerding found the only northern pintail, great horned owl, cedar waxwing, eastern towhee, and field sparrow. The Blizzards found killdeer and Wilson's snipe at Herrington Manor Dam. Courtney Englar and Seth Metheny observed the lone ruffed grouse and pileated woodpecker. Skipper and Jeff Opel found the only brown-headed cowbirds.

Kevin Dodge introduced three young observers to the Christmas Bird Count.

"Hopefully, they will 'catch the birding bug' and volunteer in future counts," said Skipper.

The top 10 species in terms of numbers of birds counted were as follows: Canada goose, 1,229; American crow, 581; American coot, 534; mallard, 450; European starling, 232; dark-eyed junco, 228; black-capped chickadee, 207; hooded merganser, 178; bufflehead, 81; and ring-necked duck, 62.

Maryland Schools Test Evaluating Teachers On Student Performance

by Tim Ebner
Capital News Service

COLLEGE PARK – Maryland schools are moving closer to overhauling the way that they evaluate teachers, putting more emphasis on student performance and test scores. The new evaluation system is currently being tested in Baltimore City and six counties, and will be expanded to the rest of the state in June.

Supporters of the new system, including Gov. Martin O'Malley, said the change was necessary because Maryland did not have a statewide teacher evaluation system that took student performance into account.

Under the new system, half of a teacher's evaluation score will depend on student performance and the other half on professional development.

In the seven districts where the new evaluation models are being tested – Baltimore city and Baltimore, Charles, Kent, Prince George's, Queen Anne's, and St. Mary's counties – supporters said feedback from teachers has been positive.

But teachers' unions said close monitoring of the new program will be needed as it is expanded to other counties at the end of this school year. While each district can develop its own evaluation model, it must comply with a state law passed in 2010 that sparked a complete overhaul of the system.

Teacher evaluations are used to determine pay increases and promotions. Right now, the state rates teachers on the basis of principal observation, professional experience, and the quality of their course material.

As the changes take effect, continual review will be needed to ensure that each district develops a sound evaluation model, said Betty Weller, vice president of the Maryland State Education Association, the state's largest teachers union.

"I suspect that we are going to learn more things when all 24 districts are piloted," Weller said.

Weller also co-chairs the Maryland Council for Educator Effectiveness, a panel appointed by O'Malley to guide the development of a statewide evaluation system. Though the MCEE is scheduled to issue its final set of recommendations about the new system in June, Weller said she wants the council's oversight to continue indefinitely.

"My concern is that we don't call this a finished product this year, but that we continue to monitor and watch the new evaluation model for several years," she said.

While teachers have expressed concern over what a new evaluation system could mean for their careers, so far overall feedback has been positive, Weller said.

"When they (the teachers) hear that it's not supposed to be a 'gotcha,' I don't think 100 percent of them believe it's not a 'gotcha,' but they still feel a lot better about it," she said.

In Prince George's County, a pilot program to test a new evaluation system has been in place for the last six months. Approximately 120 teachers from schools across the county are being evaluated.

Prince George's County is using a model to assess teachers that combines student test scores with in-class observation by administrators. The county was well prepared for the change and is working closely with local teacher unions, said Bonita Coleman Potter, deputy superintendent for Prince George's County Public Schools.

"We are about two years ahead of the curve," Bonita said. "Many in the district see this as something that will increase the capacity of teachers," she said.

Coleman, who serves on the MCEE, said school districts face a challenge in evaluating different types of teachers. That includes those who co-teach in a single classroom, teach in subjects not covered by state assessment like art or music, or who teach younger students.

In 2010, the state won a competitive $250 million grant, known as Race to the Top, awarded to 11 states and the District of Columbia. Race to the Top funds are being used to revamp the Scheduling for the 2012-2013 school year will begin this month. On Thursday, Feb. 9, during advisory period, sophomores and juniors will receive a copy of their career-pathway packets. These will provide recommendations for next year, a course-selection sheet, and instructions for selecting classes through the online parent portal Power School. Southern High School encourages parents to assist students with course selections through Power School after they come home with their scheduling packets. This online option will be available between Thursday, Feb. 9, and Friday, Feb. 17. Individuals who have misplaced their login and password information may contact Southern High School's main office. Guidance counselors will be available for appointments during school on Tuesday, Feb. 14, from 9 a.m. until noon and on Thursday, Feb. 16, from 1 to 4 p.m. Counselors will also be available for after-school appointments until 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 15. Parents interested in meeting with a counselor for assistance are encouraged to call 301-334-1660 to schedule an appointment as soon as possible.

RAM Notes

REPORT CARDS SENT HOME

Report cards were sent home with students on Tuesday, Jan. 24. Second semester classes began on Wednesday, Jan. 18.

FRESH STRAWBERRIES FOR SALE

The Southern High FFA is currently taking orders for fresh strawberries from Florida. Those interested may contact any FFA member or Steve Kisner at 301-334-1580 or skisner@sh.ga.k12.md.us. The cost is set at $4 for 1 quart, $14 for 4 quarts, or $25 for 8 quarts. Orders are due by Tuesday, Feb. 28, and are scheduled to arrive the week of Monday, March 12.

NO EXTRA RIDERS TO BE PERMITTED

The buses listed below will not allow any extra riders. No bus passes will be issued to guest riders for any reason. The buses for which bus passes will not be issued are: #7, #21, #22, #23, #28, #31, #34, #36, #39, #45 (both runs), #60, #61, #72, #75 (Cranesville), and #79.

SECOND SEMESTER PARKING PERMITS

The deadline for submitting second semester parking applications for the front student lot has passed. New permits have been issued to those who have qualified. Drivers with expired black permits will need to obtain either the new purple pass for the front lot or a green pass for the lower lot in order to use the facilities. Students who continue to park in the front lot with an unauthorized permit will be in violation of school policy, issued a ticket, and may have their vehicle towed at their expense. All students parking on Southern High School property need to have a valid parking permit posted in their vehicles, effective immediately.

CIVILIAN MARKSMANSHIP PROGRAM SCHOLARSHIP

The Civilian Marksmanship Program is pleased to announce it has expanded the eligibility for its $1,000 annual college scholarship program to all graduating high school seniors who have participated in rifle or pistol marksmanship competitions. It Would be a Travesty...

There is no question that the announcement a few weeks ago that the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI), the not-for-profit entity that owns and operates the manmade whitewater course atop Marsh Mountain, has defaulted on $3 million of capital debt was discouraging. The timing of the announcement could not have been worse for Garrett County taxpayers and elected officials, as the county is facing another extremely difficult budget situation in fiscal year 2013. That includes, of course, the prospect of the board of education having to close three schools in order to meet its budget.

However, despite the $3 million default by ASCI, the survival of the whitewater facility is absolutely crucial to the long-term economy of Garrett County. The economic benefit of that $20 million investment is enormous, even though some with tunnel vision see nothing but $3 million in the red. Those so afflicted fail to acknowledge, accept, or believe in the proverbial "trickle-down effect" of such an attraction.

The whitewater course is one more feature of the county that makes it a destination point for persons literally from all over the country, let alone the nearby metropolitan areas of Baltimore, Washington, and Pittsburgh. This is the only such facility on top of a mountain in the nation. Everyone who comes to enjoy the course spends money in local hotels, restaurants, gas stations, convenience stores, grocery stores, and for various other forms of recreational activities that are available here. That inflow will be huge when the world canoe championships are hosted by ASCI in 2014. If one were able to tally the total income generated by a facility such as the whitewater course over, say, the next five years, it would put the $3 million in a different perspective.

It should also be noted that ASCI provides dozens of jobs to local residents.

The commissioners have been in discussions and meetings the past few weeks to determine how best to address the ASCI situation, and we were told that we can expect an announcement about it next week. It is sincerely hoped that they, too, do not suffer from tunnel vision and will be able to come up with a solution to save the whitewater course – a solution that will be the least fiscally painful as possible. Just letting it die would be a travesty.

To the Editor:

Hi! My name is Raegan Yutzy and I am a third grade student at Friendsville Elementary School. I recently attended the public forum and wanted to speak about saving my school, but the meeting ran so late, I didn't get a chance to give my speech. So, here it is:

Please save our school. It's the best school in the world, and we may have to get separated from our friends. The lunches are great. Mrs. Brenda and Mrs. Tammy make the best food in the world. The teachers, the subjects, the principal, and the books are all so fun. I don't want to get separated from my friend Kylie. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Raegan Yutzy

To the Editor:

Last week Mr. Pagenhardt wrote, "Mr. Doyle writes that the final decision to close a public school is under the authority of the board of county commissioners. This statement is wrong." For good measure he added, "time and time again [Mr. Doyle] fails to provide truthful information."

I am hurt. To be sure there are times I get a detail wrong. Truth seems more than a detail.

ASCI's whitewater river comes to mind. I listed amounts of taxpayer funding with incorrect sources and stand corrected. I got a detail wrong, but ASCI's bankruptcy proves my points were close enough for the quality of government work that saddles communities with corporate welfare projects like an artificial whitewater river, less than an hour from three of the finest whitewater rivers in the eastern United States. Further, ASCI's bankruptcy causes me to wonder if Mr. Pagenhardt and Mr. Hinebaugh played roles in getting ASCI's lead balloon into the air? If so, what were you people thinking?

I was thinking that the quality of public policy elected three new commissioners not long ago. Is Mr. Pagenhardt's letter a leading indicator of recent performance? As an attorney, I have some familiarity with the narrow legal technicalities local government uses which has filtered failure and marginal performance through for too many years.

Here is how community schools can be kept where leaders are competent, Mr. Pagenhardt: It doesn't get to closing community schools because competent leaders work actively with all agencies, including the school board, to keep ahead of problems; or because commissioners use their funding authority as leverage to negotiate changes in school board policy that preserves community schools. Obviously neither happened here. And many of us don't believe it needed to happen, Mr. Pagenhardt.

The truth, Mr. Pagenhardt, is competent leadership might have prevented closing local schools. However, I happily concede that the narrow, technical legal basis for your defense of marginal performance is accurate.

Less happily, one wonders what lead balloon shall fall out of the sky next?

Sincerely,
Thomas E. Doyle
Oakland

P.S. Taxpayers may want to call the commissioners with their opinions about hiding incompetence behind technical details.

To the Editor:

Our county administrator can "beat up" on Mr. Doyle for making technically incorrect statements in his letter, but there is no question in many citizens' minds, including mine, as to who got us into this financial situation in the first place. Furthermore, in my opinion, it will continue to get worse until the size and scope of our local bureaucracy is drastically cut, and it needs to be done soon!

Some of us tried many times to tell him and the previous boards of commissioners that the false prosperity wouldn't last. We were ignored. Millions upon millions of our tax dollars have passed from us into the black hole of their "worthy projects" that we really didn't need, and new departments created at the courthouse that would never have been considered necessary in years past.

If I had my way, the county administrator would be his own "risk assessor" and the three commissioners could take turns being the "recycling coordinator." Believe me, these job titles are just the tip of the iceberg when it comes to what we're dealing with after years of ever expanding local government. As I told them several years ago, "You're not running General Motors here. Get our financial house in order!"

Who was right about that!?

Meantime, this new board has, in my opinion, failed miserably at getting a handle on anything except trying to steal our private property rights!

Try to let this sink in, gentlemen: It's over.

We need officials who finally realize this fact and will give us back a local government that will fund education, plow and maintain the roads, and do very little of anything that interferes with our right to live on, build on, and try to make a little money off our property when the opportunity presents itself.

What does it take to get our so-called leaders to understand this?

To the Editor:

To the Garrett County Board of Education, please do not close Dennett Road, Kitzmiller, or Friendsville schools. I went to Center Street, Dennett Road, and then up to Southern High for seventh through 12th grade. If you close these schools, a lot of teachers will not have work.

Concerned,

To the Editor:

My name is Mary Keefer. I do not want Mountain Glade Adult Day Services to be closed. I found a lot of friends to be with. I went on a trip down to the lake and was able to ride a boat. I also went to the Festival of Trees for a Christmas outing. It was fun to be with my friends. If Mountain Glade is closed, I will be very upset about not being able to attend the center and be with my friends. I have fun going in there.

I would not know what to do if the center is closed. There are some of my friends that will have nowhere to go. I am going to miss my best friends: Sharon, Pam, Angie, and Grace. They work with me, help me, and they understand what goes on in my life.

If Mountain Glade is closed, I will be by myself during the day because my kids are grown up and have moved away.

Think about what you are doing to us by closing Mountain Glade. Please do not close Mountain Glade!

Thank you,
Mary Keefer

To the Editor:

Every week we read in The Republican and other newspapers of the tragedy that is a result of hurts, heartaches, and habits. We read of DUI convictions, drug arrests, and obituaries of persons who left this life too early because of suicides, drug overdoses, and violence. We read legal notices because of failed marriages, and fundraising to help families who need a safe environment.

We all know of persons who are hurting. Some are hurting from their past decisions. Others fight depression on a daily basis.

Several years ago I had the privilege to walk along side a young person courageously fighting drug addiction, yet from one person's recovery I knew that more needed to be done.

I was given a suggestion to research something called Celebrate Recovery. I learned that Celebrate Recovery is a Christ-centered program that gives people the resources and relationships to help recover from life's hurts, habits, and hang-ups. The purpose of CR is to fellowship and celebrate God's healing power in our lives through the Eight Recovery Principles found in the Beatitudes and Christ-Centered Twelve Steps.

After much research, prayer, and preparation, Celebrate Recovery is coming to our area. CR is a community program that is to be an addition to already established programs, and certainly not a replacement for those who struggle with addictions. However, people who struggle with the effects of depression, divorce, domestic violence, codependency, or just want to work on issues of life will also benefit.

Every Friday night, beginning February 10, CR will meet at Faith Evangelical Free Church in Mtn. Lake Park at 6:30. Snacks and child care will be available.

Come as you are.... It will change your life.

One step at a time...

We have been inundated over the past several months with an incredible amount of information regarding hydraulic fracturing. Let us take one step at a time and not necessarily in any particular order. Let us consider trucks.

I have been told and have read that to dispose of the fracturing liquid from one well it would take 600 trips from the wellhead to the disposal site – one way. Well, I thought, "That has to be a ridiculously high number. Who are they trying to fool?"

Being a person with a bit of mathematical knowledge, let me discover how correct they really are. Let us limit ourselves this time to only the constant of 600 trips, not the weight of the truck and its contents, nor what the contents actually are.

Here comes the math:

Input – 6 million gallons of fracturing liquid in one well with one fracture.

Retrieved – 50%, or 3 million gallons.

Capacity of the truck – 5,000 gallons.

Retrieved liquid divided by the capacity of the truck (which will equal the number of trips) – 3 million divided by 5,000 = 600.

How about that? What I read and what I have heard are true. They are correct. In addition, don't forget, they now have to return the truck 600 times back to the wellhead.

In conclusion, I must say that what I have written is mathematical fact – not emotion, nor my opinion regarding hydraulic fracturing.

To readers who wish for me to continue writing "One step at a time...," please let me or The Republican know. I'm in the book, and I don't do e-mail.

Respectfully,
Jim Zimmerman

To the Editor:

I am a local Garrett County resident, pay taxes, and am a voter. I am very concerned about the finances of the Garrett County commissioners' budget and the Garrett County Board of Education's budget.

The biggest percentage of the locals in the county cannot afford to go to Deep Creek Lake to do extra activities.

The Garrett County Board of Education needs $3 million from the commissioners to keep the schools open for the education of our children and grandchildren. These are well-maintained schools. Why close schools because people in the past did not make good financial decisions?

If the county commissioners do not fund the board of education to this capacity, our children will be cheated out of a good, secure education. They will be put in schools that will be over state capacity and be in over-crowded classrooms. This means more discipline problems and less instructional time. Overcrowded classrooms mean our test scores will go down. This also means losing good young teachers.

I really believe cuts could be made in other areas, starting at the top with pay cuts and unnecessary spending.

The county commissioners will be meeting next Tuesday, Feb. 7. At this meeting they will be making a decision about whether or not to pay ASCI out of debt for $3 million dollars. For anyone who doesn't know, ASCI is located at the Wisp at Deep Creek Lake.

I really believe this $3 million should be spent on our children's education!

People, please go to the meeting next Tuesday and voice your opinion on this matter. Once they decide to help ASC1, there will be no saving our children.

Remember, our future is in the hands of these children! Help save our schools!

Sincerely yours,
Gerald (Jerry) Wilson

To the Editor:

Would somebody please tell me what's the rush to drill for gas in Garrett County? This ants-in-your-pants approach could be just a little hasty. There's too much we don't know and it's not as if Mr. Natural is going anywhere. In fact, the asset is only appreciating.

I'd bet "$10,000" that our gas is headed for the World Market where the "big boys" trade our resources for profits. Can you imagine our exporting energy overseas? Getting to the gas is a lot of work. When you have to drill holes, pump undisclosed liquids under high pressure around an explosion, and then pump good drinking water down to flush out the gas, you should make something for all that effort.

But once all is done, where might this leave Garrett County? Are we risking our local environment for the sake of corporate profits? Will problems remain long after the "big boys" have pulled up stakes and gone? Who pays the dues for a case of the blues? What's the harm in letting others find just how well this thing pans out? We might learn from their "adventures" and not be the "fool who rushes in where wise men fear to tread."

To the Editor:

The Republican's January 26 editorial channeling Warren Buffet and, indirectly, Barack Obama paints a distorted picture of taxes.

First, you set forth the example of a worker receiving a $60,000 salary and paying $20,000 in taxes. That worker needs a new tax preparer! According to my $25 tax software, a theoretical worker with a $60,000 salary, no dependents, and only a standard deduction would owe $8,560 in taxes to the IRS, not $20,000. Most real people with dependents and other deductions from taxable income would pay less.

Indeed, almost half of the people in the U.S. pay no federal income taxes.

Second, you criticize Romney and Buffet's low rate on capital gains income. This income has already been subject to federal income taxes at the corporate level at a rate of 35%. Adding the corporate tax rate of 35% to these rich fellows' 15% personal rate means that the federal government is getting 50% of the money these men have created. Isn't that enough?

Finally, capital gains income is usually received years after an investment is made, meaning that the taxpayer is paying taxes on inflation rather than true profit.

To the Editor:

Mountain Glade Adult Day Services will soon be closing its doors because of lack of funds. This will be devastating to the employees and families who depend on their services. The adult day care center is a lifesaver for families with family members who can no longer manage independently. Participants benefit greatly from socializing with others and receiving needed care services. Caregivers benefit by getting a break from caregiving duties while knowing their loved ones are in good hands.

My family has benefited from their services with two different family members. My dad suffered from Alzheimer's disease and attended the day care center. The staff was wonderful to him, and he enjoyed being with them and the other participants. My mother-in-law attended the center briefly before she died at age 101. She enjoyed the local outings and other activities the staff provided.

It is sad that this wonderful program has to end. Adult day care offers a win-win situation for everyone in the family – not only the participant who attends the program, but also the family members who have the primary responsibility as caregivers. It is a way to keep families together longer. As life expectancy continues to rise, more and more of us may need this service, and it will be a shame when it is no longer available in our area.

To the Editor:

I am greatly disturbed at the recent attempt of some of our local elected officials to blatantly disregard the mandate for scientific research and data collection before Marcellus shale drilling is allowed in Maryland.

From time to time, when letters and reports in the newspaper insist that drilling is safe, I cringe. Do powerful politicians and industry forces not understand that we, the public, are much more knowledgeable than we were when we were first approached? Do they not understand that each time they tout drilling as safe and lucrative, we have become aware of serious health and financial problems that families in neighboring states have experienced from drilling? Do they not understand that even with their attempts to convince us that there are no problems with drilling, they cannot prevent our access to evidence of horrific devastation? Do they not understand that the more they minimize the need for protection from potential hazard, we become even more skeptical of their loud cries for immediate drilling?

For some of us, trust in what our elected officials say and do is giving way to suspicion. How can any panel member who is commissioned to work carefully and conscientiously to work for "best management practices" ignore the mission and denounce the very purpose for serving on the governor's appointed committee? I cringe.

To the Editor:

In your editorial of January 26, you used extremely faulty arithmetic to bash Mitt Romney. The notion of dividing his tax payment by his total income is a deliberately misleading trick to discredit a candidate, which relies on the important deception of keeping other essential information away from the readers.

This trick was perfected about 20 years ago, when the opposition party crowed that President George Bush Sr. earned a million dollars one year and only paid about $60K in taxes. The reality was that he got a $200,000 salary for being president, and wife Barbara Bush got $800,000 from a publisher for a book about the White House dog. She gave the entire $800K to a charitable foundation to teach children to read. But those who wanted to bash the president just ahead of the 1992 election ignored that minor detail.

Examination of Romney's tax return showed that he gave $7 M to charity, out of a $20 M total. A percentage that big may be unfamiliar to most of us, but it deserves to be taken into account in order to get an accurate picture of his taxes.

GENERAL ELECTION

The town of Friendsville will hold its general election for mayor and three council seats on Tuesday, Feb. 14, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the town hall.

SPECIAL MEETING POSTPONED

The Garrett County Board of Education has postponed the Feb. 7 special meeting for the presentation of Advisory Committee reports. The make-up date will be announced after the Feb. 14 monthly board meeting at Southern Middle School. The Friendsville Advisory Committee encourages as many people to attend as possible. The time will be announced. This is an encouraging turn of events to help keep the proposed GC elementary schools from closing.

Lt. Governor Anthony Brown recently announced that the O'Malley administration stands ready to work with Senator George Edwards and Delegate Wendell Beitzel on limiting the impact of a $3 million cut in education funding to the GC Board of Education. The proposal may pare down the cut to 5% rather than 12% in state aid which may provide over $1 million for the local system to work with, but that answer is more than likely to take several months.

Mayor Spencer R. Schlosnagle, as well as Charlotte Sebold of the Board of Ed, recently attended the PACE Reception in Annapolis to ask for help in keeping Friendsville, Dennett Road and Kitzmiller elementary schools from closing.

The births of two babies were announced this week, both girls.

A daughter, Sophie Grace, was born to Michael and Tara (Lucas) Friend, Oakland, on Jan. 18 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

A daughter, Raegan Reese Linton, was born to Bobbi Jo Una Dick, Oakland, and Theodore Wesley Linton, Grantsville, on Jan. 20 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

(Note: The second birth was announced last week, but contained a spelling error and therefore was reprinted correctly.)

FREE GARRETT COUNTY HEALTH FAIR SCHEDULED – The Steps for Better Health Committee will host the sixth annual Garrett County Health Fair on Saturday, April 14, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Wisp Resort. The purpose of the event is to increase health awareness through education and prevention in the community. Participants can receive free screenings, along with much health-oriented information. Local physicians and other health professionals will also speak on such health topics as osteoporosis, audiology, and sports medicine. Informational booths will be set up to help participants become aware of the many health-related programs, services, and providers available in Garrett County and surrounding areas. Steps Committee chairman Bob Stephens announced this week that Garrett College will sponsor and staff the "Family Fitness Room" during the health fair. Also free to participants, the room will include activities and games for all ages, as well as the opportunity to play Wii Fit, an interactive video game of fitness and fun. Pictured in the forefront, Stephens (right) expresses his appreciation to Eric Hallenbeck, head baseball coach, for Garrett College's sponsorship. STEPS Committee members, left to right, behind them are Jeannie Miller, Kristen Walker, Lori Gregory, Liz Goldsborough, Dorothy Andreas Tuel, Kathy Skipper, Kendra McLaughlin, and Rodney Glotfelty. Additional information about the fair is available by calling 301-533-4041 or 301-533-4178.

struction and repair projects that would create jobs, O'Malley intends to submit a bill repealing the sales tax exemption on a gallon of gasoline – phasing it out by 2 percent each year unless the price of gas spikes.

"It's going to be an extremely tough sell," said Senate President Thomas V. Mike Miller Jr., who has advised O'Malley to meet with delegations and various elected officials if he hopes to see the tax increased at all in these difficult times.

Aware that legislators are wary of governors transferring money from the Transportation Trust Fund in order to balance the budget, O'Malley said he would like to safeguard future investments in the fund.

"My understanding is the governor is very receptive to people wanting to protect those funds," said Donald Fry, a former state senator and president and CEO of the Greater Baltimore Committee. "There will be some sort of legally enforceable way to ensure the money in the transportation fund is used for transportation purposes."

Fry is also a member of the Blue Ribbon Commission on Maryland Transportation Funding, which recommended a state constitutional amendment, or "firewall," to keep those funds from being used for other purposes.

O'Malley is pursuing an equally aggressive social agenda, having presented his same-sex marriage bill at a Senate Judicial Proceedings committee hearing Tuesday. In his State of the State address, he argued that same-sex marriage could be balanced with religious interests.

"It is time to join with clergy, faith-based organizations, civil rights organizations, community leaders, and individuals across our state to pass a civil marriage law that protects religious freedom and civil marriage rights equally," O'Malley said.

Because of the scope of his agenda, O'Malley is certain to have plenty of fights on his hands this legislative session.

O'Malley's defense of the same-sex marriage bill is where the political comer is likely to receive national attention, said Todd Eberly, assistant professor of political science at St. Mary's College of Maryland.

"He needs a high-profile legislative session for his political resume," Eberly said.

O'Malley appeared ready to rise to the occasion.

"Asking our fellow citizens to do more will not be popular," O'Malley said. "But without anger, fear, or meanness, let's ask one another: How much less do we think would be good for our children's future?"

teacher evaluation system, recruit and retain qualified teachers, fix low performing schools, and prepare students for college and the workplace.

"People need to understand just how ambitious these timelines are, and how massive the undertaking is," Weller said.

The large financial incentive and aggressive timeline set by Race to the Top means that a new teacher evaluation model will likely face several changes and alterations in the upcoming years, said Mary Gable, assistant state superintendent for academic policy at the Maryland State Department of Education.

"At whatever point we are at with teacher and principal evaluations ... we know that this is a system that we will have to continue to review and continue to look at," she said.

Beginning in June, all local school districts will have approximately a year to develop and test their own model for evaluation on a small group of teachers. In July 2013, all teachers will be evaluated under the new model.

If a district does not create its own model, it will automatically adopt the state's framework. But that option is not necessarily a good fit for individual counties, Weller said.

"I tell them (district leaders) that you don't want to take the state model ... it is not going to focus on the specific needs of the district," she said.

Gable said she is confident that district and union leaders will work to develop their own evaluation models.

"This cannot happen without collaboration," she said. "We've come quite a distance in the last six months, and we'll continue to work collaboratively."

Plexiglas cube in the public library. He has no quality of life.

We have evolved beyond these kinds of exploitative displays. Punxsutawney should recognize that it's time to retire this silly and mean marketing event, and work to encourage visitors to come enjoy the town's charms for more than one day a year.

Yours truly,
Jennifer O'Connor

To the Editor:

In 1976 before moving to Maryland, I lived in Punxsutawney, Pa., one block from Phil, the world famous groundhog. He and his wife Phyllis had their own room at the library. I did a lot of school work at the library, so I visited the groundhogs almost every day. When I went there to make a drawing of the stuffed groundhog, he had mysteriously disappeared just before Groundhog Day.

On February 2 the windchill was 50 below. Some 35 people watched the master of ceremonies in his tuxedo with long tails and his top hat. Two girls were wrapped up in a blanket, jumping up and down to try to get warm. It did not work!

The newspaper was on our porch at 8 a.m., but it stated that Phil emerged at 7:29! The groundhog in the photo looked like the stuffed one missing from the library!

Why is it that 20 thousand people will now gather up on Gobblers Knob to see Phil? I would rather put my trust in what the Bible foretells than what a stuffed groundhog prognosticates! God is never wrong.

Yours for Garrett County,
Evangelist Dan Manka
Fairmont, W.Va.
(formerly of Maryland)

To the Editor:

I've been to Punxsutawney, and it's a pleasant little town filled with friendly people. It's hard to believe that the nice folks I met there still support a tradition that should have been scrapped a long time ago. Another Groundhog Day is upon us, and another stressed animal will be hauled out of a fake burrow and held up as if it's still 1912, not 2012.

Groundhogs avoid contact with people. They love to dig and spend most of their time underground. Even though groundhogs in their natural homes are now in hibernation, the "Phil" used in Punxsutawney's worn-out event is on display year-round in a lamented potential loss of private property rights. One was concerned about "throwing 150 years of your rights out the window." Unless I missed something, in 1862 the territory that was to become Garrett County was quite a bit different than that of 2012! For one thing, it was less populated.

He also asked whether anyone knows of wind or gas developers forcing their way onto your property to set up their wind turbines or gas wells. Well, if you do not own your mineral rights, you may not be able to block drilling on your property. What all this rhetoric boils down to is making money with your land.

I am not the least opposed to people making money, as long as the activity is lawful and confined to their property. However, conflicts arise when it impacts the rights of others. You cannot dump garbage, sewage, oil, or pesticides into a stream on your property, as it would affect people downstream. At one time, you could do it. But I doubt if most people would want to go back to that time.

We also regulate nuclear, gas, and coal power plants. Curiously, there are few regulations for industrial wind. These developments generally go far beyond typical property rights issues and involve landowners who enter into long-term leases. The effects are felt county-wide, affecting the environment and potentially public health and safety.

If people followed the "Golden Rule," there might not be a need for zoning. However, when money comes into play, doing the right thing becomes problematic. Adjacent property owners may have built or purchased homes on a small lot. As a result, they can be seriously impacted by activities next to their property. Furthermore, without some type of land-use policy, development becomes haphazard, resulting in conflicts and an inefficient use of the land base.

Although there are strong feelings on this issue, I am certain that there will be a land-use policy – or zoning – in Garrett County. The only question is when, and whether it will be imposed upon us by state government or by our own choice. Wouldn't it be better if we had a hand in the decision process?

I for one applaud the commissioners in their attempt at getting ahead of the curve.

Adorable Adoptables

ADOPT A SHELTER CAT, PLEASE – The Garrett Animal Shelter's resident feline, Suzie (above left), is dressed up to help raise awareness for Adopt-A-Shelter-Cat Month. Currently housed at the local facility are a very lovable light gray male tabby (above right), a female white feline (below left) who has been there for awhile, and a lonely, nice male black/white tuxedo whose cell mate was adopted weeks ago. "This all-cat feature is fitting since it is Adopt-A-Shelter-Cat Month, according to the ASPCA," said a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson. "Some things to think about: Cats don't need to be walked; they catch pesky mice; they don't bark; they eat less than a dog; and they can sit on your lap or a window sill and be happy. If you don't appreciate cats, adopt one then you will. With few dogs available, this a rare moment at our local shelter, since some are going to rescue, some were adopted last week, and one is being adopted tomorrow." For more information about these and other available pets, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the county-operated facility is open Monday through Friday. Photos courtesy of the GC Humane Society, a nonprofit volunteer organization.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

This is another night when we might get the rare chance to see the Northern Lights in Bittinger. I saw at least two good displays of them. Apparently our sun is experiencing some very solar flares.

It is the most difficult time for America – clinging to the former prominent power in the world. But as our president said, we are the leader of a widespread international alliance. We no longer have a single, clearly defined enemy. Our leadership and our military took down the "Enemy in Chief," and we did that by many individual Americans working as a team.

But our nation's task today is quite similar to the NFL championship games played last Sunday. We are confronted with opposition of similar power. And we can win by just steadily moving the ball in a forward direction and putting points on the board a few at a time, and preventing the other team from scoring repeatedly.

It is very hard to watch the resignation ceremony of Congresswoman Gabriel Giffords. She was an outstanding Congress member, able to bridge the deep and wide partisan divide of the American political system.

It is almost exactly a year after the dreadful event that blasted her life and her community. She suffered a crippling brain injury while she was performing her professional duty. Like me, she was doing her regular duties, secure in her life and professional identity. Probably like me, she was thinking that nothing could destroy what she worked so hard and long to build.

She was somewhat among the lucky, because several other persons from her community died under the fire of a single ammunition cartridge.

Again, like me, she hit an immovable obstacle to continue her career. Even if we can form the same ideas and thoughts as before, it is not always easy to speak out loudly so everyone can understand perfectly. I am sure she had the assumption that she could convey her ideas easily and fluently. But what was so easy before suddenly became very difficult and draining. Oral speech requires perfect coordination of many parts of the brain, and you can't simply will that away.

I doubt many readers of this column would feel comfortable delivering a statement on the floor of Congress, or delivering a lecture densely packed with facts, ideas, and emotional content.

Many of the low-skill jobs have pretty much disappeared in our society. We used to have gas station attendants. Even bank teller jobs do not require a bachelor's degree, but do require good math skills, recording keeping skills, and communication skills. That field is also shrinking though due to increasing usage of automated teller machines. Only some retail businesses need low-skill employees, and even those probably require good computer skills.

There are also not many sheer muscle-power jobs anymore, even in building trades. Things like brick layers and stone masons require at least decent training and perhaps apprenticeships. But most apprenticeships involve members of the family or other persons who have a personal relationship with the business owners.

Even janitor or maintenance jobs require a wide range of knowledge. Restaurant servers and similar hospitality jobs do not support a family or include benefits.

It is not our education system that has failed. We need serious, high-level discussion about what kind of jobs we can create and how someone can start businesses that require them. Our public education system is pretty successful in producing college-ready students, if they are willing to put their memory to work.

The jobs that require a college degree have not been hit as hard as the lower skill jobs. That is where our best bet is our community colleges. They can create two-year programs to prepare programs fitted to their local economy – like the building trades at GCC. Also, community colleges provide the opportunity to be prepared for a completing four-year degree at a lower costs. Freshman and many sophomore courses are similar for most degrees, and can be taken much less expensively at a community college. It is usually not until the junior and sophomore years that the courses become so specific to one's major.

Most really excellent jobs require a master's degree. Entrance teacher jobs do not always require one, but turning a math major into a math teacher requires post-graduate courses in education. A high-quality bachelor's degree holder can adapt to various kinds of jobs. That is a new fact of life in the 22nd Century. It is our social structure that needs change, more so than our education system.

We need public sector government workers, like road crews, law enforcement personnel, and people in various clerical jobs. We need administrators and various kinds of service providers. One of the largest sources of available jobs is in the health care sector.

I have to go to the health department's mental health office because of the perfectly normal depression that came after my life collapsed in 1994, quickly followed by my marriage also collapsing. And one of the symptoms of severe brain injury that is hardest to bear is extreme fatigue, enough that it is very hard to get motivated to do anything. Almost anyone would suffer from chronic anxiety when the rug they were standing on was suddenly jerked away. It is a little scary to live alone.

There is a law that requires a mental health patient who uses medication to see a psychiatrist every single month. During the winter months it is difficult to find a willing driver to take me to my worthless appointment. And if the weather turns bad, I can't go, so I will be without essential medication. It doesn't make any sense. I could do some care on the phone, but they couldn't bill Medicare for that.

There was one doctor who was willing to talk to me on the phone and give a necessary prescription without my having to go to her office.

Let's face it: anyone like me who suffers from chronic sinus and ear infections and plenty of strep throat knows that it is perfectly easy to diagnose these problems, and all respond to antibiotics. But it makes me simply heartsick to run to the doctor when there is no question about what the problem is, and I drain the limited Medicare funds available to me. It just doesn't make any sense. If I suffer unexplainable new symptoms, I am willing to go to the doctor to address those.

It is not surprising that my left leg suffers extreme pain after my Achilles tendon was cut. And it doesn't respond to over-the-counter pain medications like Tylenol or ibuprofen or Aleve. I have no interest in taking more than the bare minimum of real pain pills.

Once by mistake a doctor gave me a prescription for oxycodone, which is very addictive. I just threw the bottle

Forestry Group Celebrates 50 Years In Area

Members of the Appalachian Professional Foresters Association met on Jan. 5 at Cornish Manor, Oakland, to celebrate their 50th anniversary as an organization.

Originally meeting at Cornish Manor in 1962, attending foresters at that time were engaged in timber management, recreation, and conservation activities of the tri-state area. The group was created to keep the public and legislators informed of developments in the local conservation field; to support legislation presented in the best interest of conservation policy; to exchange ideas, information, and experiences between foresters in all fields of endeavors; and to promote the profession of forestry.

At that meeting in 1962, Ernest Ogden of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company was elected president; Arthur Morrill, Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, vice president; Joseph Mechem, Maryland Forests and Parks, secretary-treasurer; and R. Thomas Thayer Jr., Garrett National Bank and former district forester with Maryland Forests and Parks, publicity and program chairman.

At the recent meeting, Bernie Zlomek, retired, Maryland DNR – Forest Service was elected president; Steve Resh, director of forestry programs at Allegany College of Maryland was elected vice president; and Paul Eriksson, forester with the city of Cumberland, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Other foresters attending were Steven Bouch, Potomac Edison; John Denning, Potomac-Garrett State Forest; Phillip Kisner, Wood Products Inc.; Larry Maxim, Maryland DNR Western Region Watersheds; Ernie Metz, Maryland Forest Service; Matthew Davis, Allegheny Wood Products; Nathan Thompson, Allegheny Wood Products; Bob Webster, Maryland Forest Service; Rusty Leonard, Wood Products Inc.; John Forman, Wood Products Inc.; and Melissa Stevens, Maryland DNR Western Region Watersheds.

The Appalachian Professional Foresters Association meets twice each year. The summer meeting will be held on the first Thursday in June, tentatively scheduled at the Elk Lick Gun Club. Foresters wishing to join the association may contact Paul Eriksson at 301-759-6607, or periksson@allconet.org.

Zumba Classes To Be Held At Grantsville Ctr.

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division will offer two Zumba® courses at the Grantsville Senior Center. They are "Zumba® Fitness" and "Zumba® Toning."

Zumba Fitness will be held on Thursdays, Feb. 23 through April 5from 6 to 7 p.m.

Suitable for all ages, Zumba Fitness has been referred to as the "exercise in disguise," which fuses Latin rhythms with simple movements. The routines feature interval training sessions where fast and slow rhythms and resistance training are combined to tone and sculpt the body while burning fat.

Zumba Toning will be held Tuesdays, Feb. 21 to Apr. 24, from 6 to 7 p.m.

"The Zumba Toning class takes the original dance/fitness class to an entirely different level," said a college spokesperson.

Zumba Toning is a muscle-shaping system that uses lightweight toning sticks, such as a set of maracas. This workout focuses on coordination, muscular strength, and reshaping the body.

"This program is designed to offer a safe and very effective total body toning workout," the spokesperson said.

The class is available to everyone; no previous dance or Zumba experience is required. A participant could use 3 pound or less weights instead of toning sticks.

The instructor for both courses will be Rita Thomas, a certified Zumba instructor since April 2010.

"I love teaching Zumba classes," Thomas said. "The reason is simple: Every class feels like a party."

She also said that one need not know how to dance in order to enjoy the class. Thomas recommends that students bring a bottle of water and a towel and eat a light snack ½ hour prior to the start of class.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for these courses, persons may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

SWANTON

DINNER

An all-you-can-eat buckwheat cake, pancake, and sausage dinner will be served at the Swanton Community Center on Saturday, Feb. 11, beginning at 4 p.m. The public is welcome to attend.

DEATH

The community was saddened by the death of Freda Teets. Her funeral was conducted on Saturday, Jan. 28, at Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church.

Freda's own family visiting from out of town were Crystal, Joshua, Megan, and Matthew Teets, Mechanicsville, Va., Addy, Kit Norman, and sons Wade and Gus, Powder Springs, Ga., Holly and Craig Berry, Harrisonburg, Va., and Joni Wilson, Cumberland. They were all in town for the Saturday funeral and returned to their homes the following day.

Visitors of Mary June Harvey were her grandchildren, Mike, Ellisa, Emily and Michaela Woodbrey, Shepherdstown, W.Va., and Ellida Bernard and family, Warrenton, Va. They all attended Freda's funeral before returning to their homes.

BIRTHDAYS

Those celebrating birthdays this week are Debbie Bolyard on Feb. 8 and Chuck Ward on Feb. 10.

PERSONAL

Betty Friend returned home Sunday after spending a couple of weeks in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, with a broken hip.

Barnard Issues Warning About CO Poisoning

Maryland Fire Marshal William E. Barnard encourages Marylanders to be mindful of the dangers of carbon monoxide. Carbon monoxide (CO) is a colorless, tasteless, odorless, and potentially toxic gas that is produced by the incomplete combustion of liquid fuels, solid fuels, or natural gas.

Barnard says homeowners should consider purchasing a carbon monoxide alarm if they live in a house that has liquid-fueled space heaters, an attached garage, gas appliances, oil heat, or a wood stove or fireplace. The best place to locate the alarm is in the hallway just outside the sleeping areas of one's home.

Barnard says that people can help decrease their chances of being poisoned by carbon monoxide by doing the following:

•Never let a vehicle idle in the garage.

•Never use a gas range, oven, or clothes dryer for heating.

•Schedule preventive maintenance inspections for fuel-fired appliances.

•Make sure chimneys and flues are inspected and cleaned each year and remain in good condition.

• Never run a generator inside or near an entrance (door, window, vent, etc.) to one's home.

Carbon monoxide poisoning can cause symptoms similar to the flu, such as headache, nausea, fatigue, dizziness, and irritability. High concentrations of CO can cause vomiting, loss of consciousness, and even death.

"Everyone needs to assume responsibility and take the initiative to protect themselves and their families from the potentially lethal affects caused by carbon monoxide poisoning," Barnard said.

Investors Can Learn Much From Super Bowl Teams

It's Super Bowl time again. And whether you're a sports fan or not, you can probably learn something from the Super Bowl teams that you can apply to other endeavors — such as investing.

What might these lessons be? Take a look:

• Pick players carefully. Super Bowl teams don't usually get there out of luck; they've made it in part because they have carefully chosen their players. And to potentially achieve success as an investor, you, too, need carefully chosen "players" — investments that are chosen for your individual situation.

• Choose a diversified mix of players. Not only do Super Bowl teams have good players, but they have good ones at many different positions — and these players tend to play well together. As an investor, you should own a variety of investments with different capabilities — such as stocks for growth and bonds for income — and your various investments should complement, rather than duplicate, one another. Strive to build a diversified portfolio containing investments appro- priate for your situation, such as stocks, bonds, government securities, certificates of deposit (CDs) and other vehicles. Diversifying your holdings may help reduce the effects of market volatility. (Keep in mind, though, that diversification, by itself, can't guarantee a profit or protect against loss.)

• Follow a "game plan." Super Bowl teams are skilled at creating game plans designed to maximize their own strengths and exploit their opponents' weaknesses. When you invest, you also can benefit from a game plan — a strategy to help you work toward your goals. This strategy may incorporate several elements, such as taking full advantage of your Individual Retirement Account (IRA) and your 401(k) or other sponsored retirement plan, pursuing new investment opportunities as they arise and reviewing your portfolio regularly to make sure it's still appropriate for your needs.

• Stay dedicated to your goals. Virtually all Super Bowl teams have had to overcome obstacles, such as injuries, bad weather and a tough schedule. But through persistence and a constant devotion to their ultimate goal, they persevere. As an investor, you'll face some challenges, too, such as political and economic turmoil that can upset the financial markets. But if you own a diversified mix of quality investments and follow a long-term strategy that's tailored to your objectives, time horizon and risk tolerance, you can keep moving forward, despite the "bumps in the road" that all investors face.

• Get good coaching. Super Bowl teams typically are well-coached, with disciplined head coaches and innovative offensive and defensive coordinators. When you're trying to achieve many financial goals — such as a comfortable retirement, control over your investment taxes and a legacy to leave to your family — you, too, can benefit from strong "coaching." As your "head coach," you might choose a financial professional — someone who can help you identify your goals and recommend an appropriate investment strategy to help you work toward them. And your financial professional can coordinate activities with your other "coaches," such as your tax and legal advisors.

Unless you're a professional football player, you won't ever experience what it's like to play in the Super Bowl. However, achieving your financial goals can be a fairly big event in your life — and to help work toward that point, you can take a few tips from the teams that have made it to the Big Game.

Garrett County Board of Realtors, Inc.

"IF YOU ARE PLANNING ON SELLING YOUR PROPERTY AND DON'T KNOW IF YOU HAVE MINERAL RIGHTS, FIND OUT NOW!"

A hot topic in Garrett County lately is the Marcellus shale formation and the possibility of drilling for natural gas within Garrett County. For more information on Marcellus shale see http://www.mgs.md.gov/geo/marcellus.html, and specifically in Garrett County, http://marcellusshale.garrettcounty.org. With this in mind, an important piece of legislation was passed October 2010 that provides land owners with a means to reclaim the mineral interests associated with their property, even if those mineral interests were conveyed out or leased many years ago.

When one owns real property, commonly we think that ownership relates to the surface of the property and any improvements thereon. However, unless otherwise divested, or "severed," an owner of real property also owns the subsurface or mineral interests as well. These interests can be very valuable if the minerals, such as the natural gas found in the Marcellus shale formation, are able to be extracted by a mining or drilling company.

Unfortunately, because many mineral severances occurred so long ago, as early as the mid 1800s – even before Garrett County was founded (1872) – it can be nearly impossible to determine conclusively whether a surface owner owns his/her mineral interests. While one might look for this information in his/her deed, whether or not the deed refers to any exceptions of mineral rights is not necessarily dispositive, as those rights may have been conveyed out years ago but not carried forward in each successive deed.

Because of this problem, and also likely because of the expectation that litigation regarding mineral interests will increase in correspondence with their value, Maryland, along with several other states, has codified the "Dormant Mineral Interest Act" (specifically, Section 15-1201 et Seq. of Title 15 in the Maryland Code).

The term "dormant" under the act means that the mineral interest was "unused for a period of 20 years," and further, that no "notice of the mineral interest" was recorded during the 20-year period.

"Use" of a mineral interest under the act is defined as either:

(1) "Active mineral operations on or below the surface of the real property or other property utilized or pooled with the real property, including production, geophysical exploration, exploratory or developmental drilling, mining, exploitation, and development of minerals"; or

(2) "Recordation of an instrument that creates, reserves, or otherwise evidences a claim to, or the continued existence of, the mineral interest, including an instrument that transfers, leases, or divides the interest"; or

(3) "Recordation of a judgment or decree that makes a specific reference to the mineral interest."

The act permits surface owners, on or after October 1, 2011, to file an action with the circuit court in the county where the property is located to terminate a dormant mineral interest. The rationale behind the 1-year period until an action may be filed was designed to permit mineral interest owners time to identify and record notices of the interests as stated above so as to preclude actions against their interests.

This action must be in the nature of a quiet title action (pursuant to section 14-108 of the Real Property Article).

In the instance where a surface owner knows that the mineral interest associated with his/her surface property has been severed, but does not know who owns those mineral interests, a procedure is available whereby a court appointed trustee for the unknown or missing owner will hold the mineral interest in trust for a period of five years. If, during the five-year period and upon publication, the unknown or missing owner does not come forward to claim his/her mineral interest, the court may, upon petition, order to terminate the trust and convey title of the severed mineral interest to the surface owner.

Especially in light of the abundance of minerals below the surface of Garrett County, and also because of the complex nature and legal ramifications relating to mineral interests, both surface owners and mineral interest owners would be wise to engage experienced legal counsel with regard to these important, and potentially very valuable, interests.

Nutrient Mgmt. Reports Due To MDA March 1

The Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA) has announced changes to its nutrient management reporting form that will reduce paperwork for animal operations and help MDA document agricultural conservation practices in use on Maryland farms.

The reporting forms were mailed in mid-December to approximately 5,500 Maryland farmers who are regulated under Maryland's Nutrient Management Program. These farmers are required to follow nutrient management plans on their farms and submit Annual Implementation Reports (AIRs) to MDA by March 1 describing how they utilized nutrients in the previous calendar year.

New this year, animal operations operating under a Confined Animal Feeding Operation (CAFO) permit from the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) will need to submit only one AIR-MDE/CAFO reporting form. The new combined form is four pages and streamlines the reporting process for the nearly 500 animal operations that are required to report their nutrient management activities to both MDA and MDE.

For crop operations and all other animal operations, the reporting form will look the same as last year's, with the addition of several new questions on fertilizer timing and application methods.

"This information is critical to the Chesapeake Bay cleanup effort. New questions about fertilizer timing and application methods will allow MDA to document best management practices being used by farmers that benefit water quality," said Agriculture Secretary Buddy Hance. "This will help us present a more accurate picture of agriculture's role in protecting water quality as we move forward with Phase II of Maryland's Watershed Implementation Plan (WIP) to restore the Chesapeake Bay."

For a second year, farmers will be able to submit their AIRs either electronically or through a paper-based reporting system. Farmers are strongly encouraged to file their reports electronically. This enables MDA to streamline its tracking and data collection while providing accurate, verifiable data to the Chesapeake Bay Program Office for use in reporting implementation to its Bay Model. Last year, 228 farmers submitted AIRs to MDA electronically, a 10-fold increase over 2010.

Farmers can access the electronic reporting form by visiting www.mda.state.md.us and clicking on Annual Implementation Report Form under "Hot Topics." The electronic form appears in the next window with options to print the form, or complete it online.

For more information, farmers are urged to contact their regional nutrient management office or call the Nutrient Management Program at 410-841-5959.

New Rules Offer Opportunities For Starting Farmers

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) recently announced a new rule that expands loan opportunities for beginning and socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers, while also establishing the new Land Contract Guarantee Program.

The rule provides additional flexibility allowing FSA loan officers to consider all prior farming experience, including on-the-job training and formal education, when determining eligibility for FSA for farm operating and ownership loans.

It also expands a previous pilot program, the Land Contract Guarantee Program, from six states to all 50 states. This program is designed to encourage farmers and ranchers to sell their property to beginning and socially disadvantaged (SDA) farmers and ranchers through the use of seller financing.

According to a spokesperson, USDA continues to find ways to improve services for farmers and ranchers by streamlining processes, accelerating delivery, and using innovative solutions to meet 21st century agricultural challenges. These improvements demonstrate FSA's commitment to helping the next generation of America's farmers and ranchers participate in the nation's agricultural economy. The new flexibility also enlarges the pool of potential farmland buyers, which is important to young, beginning, and socially disadvantaged farmers.

The changes in eligibility announced will increase access for farmers and ranchers to FSA loans and credit assistance. The new rule enables landowners to sell their farmland to the next generation on a contract for deed with a 90-percent guarantee against losses to the seller. Alternatively, the agency can provide a guarantee of three years' amortized loan installments, plus payment of real estate taxes and hazard insurance premiums for the same three-year period.

More information on the new Land Contract Guarantee Program and the other changes are available at local FSA offices nationwide. Information about Farm Loan programs and FSA loan qualifications can be found at www.fsa.usda.gov.

AMERICAN SPIRITUAL ENSEMBLE TO PERFORM AT WVU – The American Spiritual Ensemble, which preserves black history and culture through song and features West Virginia University voice professor Hope Koehler, will present a concert Monday, Feb. 6, at the Creative Arts Center, Morgantown. The program, which is sponsored by the WVU School of Music, College of Creative Arts, and the Center for Black Culture and Research at WVU, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Lyell B. Clay Concert Theatre. This group was founded by Everett McCorvey in 1995. The ensemble will play a major role in the soon-to-be released PBS documentary recounting the history of the art form. This program follows the ensemble as they enchant audiences during their tour of the Deep South and further expand their mission of performing the Negro Spiritual during their 10th tour of Spain. The program will include songs such as "Jacob's Ladder," "Oh, What a Beautiful City," "Go Down, Moses," "I Wanna Be Ready," "Ride On, King Jesus," "Make Them Hear You" (from the musical Ragtime), "Bring Him Home" (from Les Misérables), "Over the Rainbow" (from The Wizard of Oz), "Circle of Life" (from The Lion King), and more. Tickets are $20 for the general public, $18 for WVU employees and senior citizens, and $15 for students and children. The group rate (10 or more) is also $15. Tickets are available at the WVU School of Music office at the CAC, Room 416A, or by calling 304-293-4532. For more information, persons may go to the American Spiritual Ensemble web site at www.americanspiritualensemble.com.

CHRISTOPHEL MANAGES EVENTS FOR AMERICAN GIRL – Local business owner Jennifer Christophel recently produced and directed a special event for the American Girl Company at its Tyson's Corner store near Washington, D.C., over a weekend last month as part of the debut of the new 2012 American Girl doll of the year, McKenna, who is a gymnast. Christophel presented a gymnastics team from Cumberland Gymnastics and Cheer to perform as part of the event. This was her second time to be involved in a debut event, as she produced and directed a similar event in September in honor of the new 2011 historical dolls, Marie Grace and Cecil. For that event, she took some of her students from the Dancing Classrooms Western Maryland Youth Dance Company to demonstrate ballroom dancing, shown above. Christophel owns the Balanced Body Studio in McHenry and Cumberland, and is the founder and director of Dancing Classrooms Western Maryland. Shown above are the gymnasts who performed last month. In the front is Aurice Jesse, and kneeling behind her is Kaitlyn Zembower. Standing in the first row, from left, are Leah Boggs and Sierra Campbell. In back, same order, are Hannah Krumpach, Michala Conroy, Annie Ziegler, Alyssa Mullery, Coach Autumn Grove, Abby Beeman, Kayla Grose, Savana Jenkins, and Christophel.

Writers' Guild To Meet Wednesday

The Wednesday Writers' Guild will meet on Feb. 8 from 6:45 to 9 p.m. in the Oakland Town Hall meeting room.

The group members meet the second Wednesday of each month to critique each others' poems, short stories, and works-in-progress.

Anyone interested in writing or having writing critiqued is welcome. Writers should bring six to eight copies of any writing to be critiqued.

For this month's meeting, writers are asked to bring a work written by another author that they wish they had written.

For more information, persons may e-mail Tom Pessini at tpessini@qcol.net.

Local Students To Take Part In 33rd WVU Honor Band

The West Virginia University School of Music will host its 33rd annual Invitational High School Honor Band event at the Creative Arts Center during the weekend of Feb. 9-11. Student musicians from high schools in West Virginia and several surrounding states will participate, including music students from Garrett County.

The selected students are first recommended by their high school band directors and chosen on the basis of their abilities and accomplishments. The students will audition Thursday evening for placement into one of three bands, and rehearse for two days before presenting the annual Honor Bands Concert on Saturday, Feb. 11, at 2 p.m.

Students chosen to attend from Southern High School are Samantha Bessey, Alex McEwen, and Jaxon Schwab. Selected students from Northern High are Elizabeth Green, Cari Zbel, Kimberly Hawkins, Kylie Mauricci, Sydney Holtschneider, Brandon Glotfelty, and Garrett Yoder.

Special guest conductors for this year's event will include Col. Michael Colburn, director of the United States Marine Band, Washington, D.C.; Dr. Jay Jacobs, conductor of University Bands at McNeese State University, La. (and a WVU graduate); and Roger Walker, band director at Frankfort High School and concert band conductor at WVU's Potomac State College (also a WVU graduate).

The special guests will be the United States Army Herald Trumpets, Washington, D.C., which includes WVU graduate Dean Miller, as well as Dr. Neal Corwell (husband of Mtn. Lake Park native Kathryn Sincell-Corwell). The U.S. Army Herald Trumpets is the official fanfare ensemble for the president of the United States.

The group will give a 45-minute master class on Friday, Feb. 10, at 11 a.m. at the Creative Arts Center. The presentation to the honor band students will feature musical selections by the ensemble, as well as historical information and video coverage of the group. The master class is free and open to the public.

For more information, persons may visit the web site at music.wvu.edu/honor_band.

Jazz Ensembles Of WVU To Perform Feb. 7

West Virginia University jazz musicians will perform in concert on Tuesday, Feb. 7, in the Gladys G. Davis Theatre of the Creative Arts Center, Morgantown, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Conducted by Paul Scea, music professor and director of jazz studies, along with students Pin Xuan Cheng, Gregory Thurman, and Wes Hager, the concert will feature five different student ensembles, ranging in size from a duo to an 18-piece "big band."

The groups will play in styles ranging from Brazilian pop to hard bop, a spokesperson said. The concert will also feature six student arrangements.

For tickets and information, persons should contact the CAC box office at 304-293-7469.

Bills Scheduled

increase," Beitzel said.

Edwards' SB 205: "Garrett County – Correctional Officers' Bill of Rights" will be heard by the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee on Wednesday, Feb. 8, at 1 p.m. in the Senate Building.

This bill would add Garrett County to specified provisions of law relating to the Cecil County and St. Mary's County Correctional Officers' Bill of Rights. The amendment would provide local correctional officers with certain rights pertaining to employment, investigation, and discipline.

Garrett County is included in the Law Enforcement Officers' Bill of Rights, but not the Correctional Officers' Bill of Rights.

The House Environmental Matters Committee will hold a hearing for Beitzel's HB 143: "Garrett County – Salary Study Commission – Membership" on Thursday, Feb. 9, at 1 p.m. in Room 250, House Office Building.

This proposed legislation would allow the county to alter the membership of the Salary Study Commission by substituting a member of the League of Women Voters of Garrett County with a member of the Garrett County Mayors Association. The reason for the change is that the local League of Women Voters no longer exists.

The Senate Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee will hear Edwards' SB 255: "Garrett County – Alcoholic Beverages – Follow-up Criminal History Records Checks" on Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 1 p.m. in the Senate Building. The House Economic Matters Committee will hold a hearing for Beitzel's companion bill, HB 142, on Monday, Feb. 27, at 1 p.m. in Room 230, House Office Building.

These bills would amend Article 2B 10-103(b), allowing the Garrett County Board of License Commissioners/Liquor Control Board to receive updates from the Criminal Justice Information System Central Repository on criminal history record checks of licensees after the initial check was conducted during the application process.

CULTURAL COOKING – Partners After School @ Oakland are participating in an After School Enrichment Program on cultural cooking. Karen Wood and Philip McIntee, who both work in 4-H Youth Development for the University of Maryland Extension, periodically visit the program site to help the students learn about other countries, including cooking a dish popular in each country. So far students have helped cook and sample Japanese fried rice, German pancakes, and Ilapingachos from Ecuador. The students pictured above were taking a break from preparing fried bananas from Uganda. Lessons on Australia and North America are next on the agenda. "I am impressed with how open these students are with trying new foods and trying new things as a whole," said Wood. "They have done an outstanding job." Pictured from left to right in front are Garrett Lloyd, Dakota Bosse, and Patrick Lee. In the second row, same order, are Nick Schrier, Alicia Friend, Kaylee Hall, Blake DeWitt, James Michaels (coordinator), and McIntee (AmeriCorps). Back row: Kayla Harris, Katie Shreve, Cecil Smith, Brent Bemiller, Michael Clapper, and Wood. Elementary school students in the program are also participating in the lessons. For information about Partners After School @ Oakland, persons may call the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111.

McDowell To Speak At Next Society Meeting

LIZ McDOWELL

The Western Mountains Chapter of the Maryland Native Plant Society will hold its regular meeting at the Appalachian Laboratory in Frostburg on Tuesday, Feb. 21, at 7 pm. The guest speaker will be Liz McDowell, local native plant enthusiast. McDowell's presentation, titled "Going Native In Your Backyard," will begin immediately following a brief business meeting. The public is welcome to attend.

According to McDowell, switching to native plants and using conservation landscaping techniques is crucial to the long-term health of the environment.

"As habitat is lost and exotic species invade the most wild and rural areas of our region, gardeners can play a key role in maintaining regional biodiversity," she said. "Many native alternatives to the exotic invasive plants commonly used for landscaping in our region will be highlighted."

She added that the presentation will help participants discover the connection between native plants, wildlife, and people.

McDowell has over 30 years of experience in education and the environment. She earned a master of science degree in wildlife management at the Appalachian Laboratory at Frostburg State University in 1983. Her varied career has included being a park naturalist and resource biologist for the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, an environmental specialist for the Maryland Department of the Environment, a science teacher at Northern Garrett High School, and owner-operator of a native plant nursery.

She currently coordinates the Western Mountains Chapter of the Maryland Native Plant Society, serves on the boards of the Allegheny Highlands Conservancy and Savage River Watershed Association, and assists with the Frostburg State University Arboretum Task Force. In her spare time, she and her husband Ron Boyer manage a demonstration wildlife habitat garden at their private Elk Ridge Native Plant Preserve.

The Appalachian Lab is located in Frostburg along Braddock Road just off Interstate 68, Exit 33.

The Maryland Native Plant Society uses education, research, and community service to increase awareness and appreciation of native plants and their habitats, leading to their conservation and restoration. Membership is open to all who are interested in Maryland's native plants and their habitats. Preserving Maryland's natural heritage, increasing knowledge about native plants, and helping to further the society's mission are its goals. MNPS sponsors monthly meetings, workshops, field trips, and an annual fall conference. More information can be found online at www.mdflora.org.

The Western Mountains Chapter has formed to expand the efforts of MNPS on the Allegheny Plateau and Ridge and Valley physiographic provinces of the central Appalachians. Residents of western Maryland, nearby Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, and anyone else interested in learning more about and conserving the native plants of this region, are invited to join. For more information, persons may contact Liz McDowell at 301-895-3686 or via e-mail at lmcdnativeplants@hughes.net.

6th District Hopeful To Speak At Dem. Club Meeting Today

Ron Little, a Gaithersburg attorney, will be the guest speaker at the Democratic Club's meeting tonight (Thursday, Feb. 2) at the Oakland Town Hall at 7 p.m. Little plans to run for the U.S. congressional 6th District seat in the coming election.

Light refreshments will be served. All interested Democrats are invited to attend.

Rams Slip At Keyser, Take Win Over NHS

The second-ranked Southern High School girls' basketball team suffered a loss, 43-38, at the hands of third-ranked Keyser on Monday, but rebounded in Accident, taking a win over intra-county rival Northern High School in Wednesday night's 66-39 battle.

Keyser's Carly Grady proved problematic for the Rams in Monday's game, as she scored 19 points, hitting six field goals and converting seven of her eight free-throw shots. The Golden Tornado's Elizabeth Yaider added six points and eight rebounds, and Meghan Anderson added five points and seven rebounds.

For Southern, Mandy Sweitzer had nine points, while Alycia Horner and Raeslee Weimer both added eight points.

Keyser led 20-12 at halftime and went 13-for-20 from the foul line in the second half.

Keyser also won the jayvee game, 41-28, with Erica White scoring 15 points. Faith Tichnell and Crystal Tobery both netted eight points for Southern.

In Accident, the Rams made short work of Northern, with Hannah Horne scoring 21 points and freshman Kambrie Bosley 14. Bosley also accounted for four of Southern's eight 3-pointers.

Horne hit seven field goals and made seven of her eight free-throw attempts. She scored 13 of her points in the first half, which ended with the Rams holding a 27-17 lead.

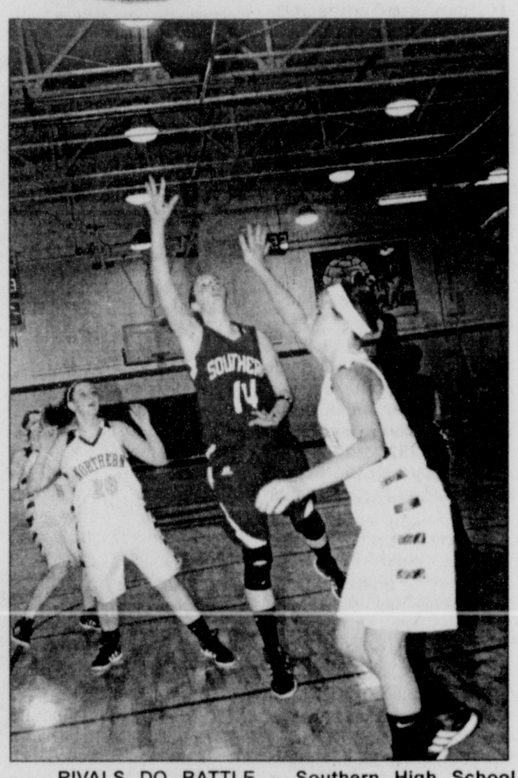
Southern outpaced the Huskies through the third period, scoring 19 points to their eight and taking a 46-25 advantage.

Raeslee Weimer added 11 points and hit three shots from 3-point territory.

Allison Yommer had 15 points and 10 rebounds for Northern. Kiersten Butler had nine points and Kirsten Rayner nine rebounds.

The Huskies took the junior varsity win, 45-28. Rhiannon Dodge had 15 points for Northern, and Alicia Roth had 16 points for the Rams.

Southern (12-6, 10-3 AMAC) will play host to Frankfort on Monday, before heading to Fort Hill on Wednesday. Both games are scheduled for 7:30 p.m., following the jayvee matchups at 6 p.m.



RIVALS DO BATTLE – Southern High School claimed a victory, 66-39, in Accident over its cross-county rival Northern High on Wednesday night. In the photo above, Ram Hannah Horne (#14, center) puts up a floater while being guarded by Northern junior Allison Yommer (#22, right). Both players were their respective teams' high scorers in the game, with Horne netting 21 points and Yommer tallying 15. Northern Topples Bishop Walsh, Falls To Southern Boosted by a 20-point effort from junior forward Allison Yommer, the Northern High School girls' basketball team bested Bishop Walsh, 51-42, on Monday. That win was followed, however, by last night's loss, 66-39, to the Huskies' Garrett County rival, Southern High (see other story for details on that game).

While hosting Bishop Walsh, Northern's Yommer pulled down 12 rebounds to complement her top-scorer game status. Husky Caroline Bergstrom, a junior forward, scored 10 points and grabbed eight rebounds, while senior guard Kiersten Butler added 12 points and five steals.

The Huskies hit their first three shots on their way to a quick 13-2 lead.

Northern took a 1-point lead into the final quarter and kept Bishop Walsh at bay, switching defensive schemes constantly to keep the Spartans guessing.

The Huskies did not commit a foul in the second half until the final minutes, and committed only two in that entire stretch.

Bishop Walsh was led by Beth Dalton, who posted 18 points.

In the jayvee game, Northern pulled out a 36-35 win, led by 12 points from Natalie Johnson. Ally Simpson scored 13 points for Bishop Walsh.

The Huskies (3-14, 1-12 AMAC) are set to host Hampshire High on Monday. That game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m., following the junior varsity game at 6 p.m.

Busy Northern Boys Defeated Thrice Before Edging Tornados

It has been a busy week on the basketball court for the Northern High School varsity boys, who played four opponents in six days and recorded a 1-3 record in that run.

The Huskies were crushed by host Moorefield last Thursday, 87-44, fell hard to visiting Bishop Walsh on Friday, 69-39, continued their skid on Saturday with a 66-42 defeat by visiting Hampshire, and then finally got back into the win column Tuesday night by edging Keyser, 48-46, also at the Cove.

The Huskies are currently 4-12 overall and 2-9 in Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference games.

The domination by Moorefield last Thursday was led by the Yellow Jackets' outstanding 3-point shooting, as they drained 11 of 17 shots from long range.

The Huskies were never in the contest after the first few moments of action, and trailed 26-11 after one quarter and were down 41-19 at intermission. The home team continued to pour it on in the third stanza and took an overwhelming 67-29 advantage into the final period.

The win was the 12th in 13 starts for the Yellow Jackets.

Adam Snyder and Garrett Keller led the winners' scoring effort with 19 and 18 points, respectively. Zach Laughlin recorded 10 points and eight assists, while Lance Taylor had eight points and eight rebounds.

Jordan Evans and Sydni Frazier netted nine and eight points, respectively, to pace the Huskies.

The Huskies also struggled early against the BW Spartans the following evening and were down 21-10 at the end of the first quarter and behind 42-19 at the half. They were out-scored in the third stanza by a 16-6 margin, giving the Spartans a 58-25 lead going into the fourth period.

Pat Jones, Joe Hedges, and Greg Hendershot led the 11-5 Spartans in scoring with respective point totals of 15, 14, and 12. Trey Jessie also reached double figures with 10 points.

Tyler Yutzy netted a game-high 18 points for the Huskies, while teammate Pat Sines gave a balanced effort with six points, five steals, and five assists.

Southern Boys Fall To 10-5 With 74-66 Defeat By Knights

The Southern varsity boys fell behind early against the visiting Knights of Preston High last Friday and stayed there until the final buzzer, as the Rams dropped their fifth game in 15 starts this season by a 74-66 margin.

For fans who enjoy 3-point shooting, this was a game designed just for them, as the Rams and Knights combined for 31 long-range buckets out of the total of 47 field goals for the game.

Jimmy Galusky of Preston accounted for six of those 3-pointers and finished with a game-high 29 points, while teammate Cody Adams netted all five of his field goals from 3-point land and finished with 17 points.

Southern's D.J. Ritchie hit three 3-pointers and led his team in scoring with 21 points. He also grabbed a team-high eight rebounds.

Ram Wyatt McBee matched Galusky's effort from beyond the arc, from which he also drained six 3-pointers and finished with 20 points, while Kurt Gangler recorded 17 points.

The Rams trailed by four, 19-15, at the end of the first quarter, were down 39-28 at intermission, and were on the short end of a 52-43 score going into the final period.

Also reaching double figures for the Knights were Mitchell Koch with 13 points and Wesley Scott with 11.

Southern had an excellent night at the foul line, converting 11 of 13 attempts.

The Southern junior varsity team continued its winning ways by topping the Preston jayvees, 46-39, behind the scoring efforts of Lucas Ritchie and Reese Haskiell with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

The Southern freshmen boys also played Friday and handed the Knight freshmen a 31-22 defeat. Logan Cvetnick scored 11 points to lead the Rams.

The Southern junior varsity and varsity will be back in Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference action again Friday when they host Allegany. Tip-off times for the respective games will be 6 and 7:30 p.m.

The Rams will entertain Mountain Ridge next Tuesday, with the same start times.

Garrett College Earns Win At Anne Arundel

The women's basketball team of Garrett College earned a win, 69-51, at Anne Arundel on Tuesday. The Lakers built an early lead in the game thanks, in part, to the lights out shooting of the team's high-scorer (19 points), sophomore point guard Rachel Waibogha.

Garrett was absolutely dominant through the first half, taking a 42-17 lead into the break. The Lakers used that cushion to roll through the second half and claim their seventh victory of the season.

Garrett received 13 points from freshman guard Lindsay Miller and 12 points from Mariah Stem, who is also a freshman.

The Lakers will host Howard on Saturday at 3 p.m., before heading to Potomac State for a 5 p.m. game on Saturday.

Ram Matmen Top Martinsburg, Williamsport; Tie Musselman

Despite having to award three forfeits to Williamsport, the Southern Rams wrestled what their head coach Dave Taylor described as "their best match of the season" on Saturday to defeat the home-standing Wildcats, 42-36.

The Rams also defeated Martinsburg, 45-34, and tied with Musselman, 37-37, last Wednesday evening at home; however, Musselman was awarded the team victory because of criteria. (Musselman recorded more pin victories.)

The results left the Rams with a 9-3 record in dual meets.

Earning pins for the Rams in the win over Martinsburg were Scott Cooper in the 160-pound division, and Coty Rasel at 182 pounds.

Mikey Skipper won by decision in the 132-pound clash.

The rest of Southern's team points came by way of forfeits awarded to Austin Shaffer (106), Garrett Beachy (113), Josh King (120), and Cooper McCauley (126).

Getting pins for Martinsburg were Brandon Streets (145), Alex Arahamin (170), Logan Jenkins (195), and Joey Fernandez (220).

In the match against Musselman, those winning via pins for the Rams were King at 120 pounds, Tanner Massey in the 138-pound division, and Rasel at 182 pounds.

Shaffer (106) won by major decision, Skipper (132) won on points, and getting forfeits were Peter Masga (220) and Kevin Miller (285).

The Applemen gained pins from Todd Williams (113), Kody Kernan (126), Zach McGee (132), Cody Spinks (152), and Derek Estep (195).

The Rams went up against the 13-7 Wildcats of Williamsport on Saturday missing a number of starters, but held on to get the team victory.

"We were without five starters from earlier in the season (Murphy, Miller, Masga, Bennett and Rinker)," said Coach Taylor, "but these kids really stepped it up and got the job done. I was not very confident going into the match today, but the kids pulled it off. I told them on Friday that I predicted they would wrestle their best match of the season, and they did."

Earning pins for the Rams were Beachy, who wrestled at 106 pounds, Dakota Pritt in the 138-pound bout, Massey at 145 pounds, Skipper at 152, Cooper at 170 pounds, and Will Foulke in the 195-pound clash.

Austin Shaffer, who switched divisions with Beachy, gained a decision victory in the 113-pound bout, while Rasel also won by decision at 182 pounds.

The Wildcats got pins from Bryan Davis (120), George Ardinger (132), and Zach Shoemaker (160).

Those were the only points earned on the mats, as all the rest were gleaned via the three forfeits.

The Rams will be back in action this evening at Northern and will conclude their regular season at home against Hyndman this Saturday. Action will begin tonight at 6 p.m. at the Cove, and Saturday's match at SHS will get under way at 2 p.m.

The regional duals will be held next Wednesday.

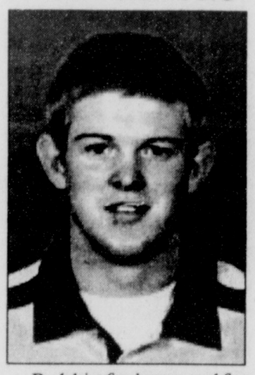
Scheffel Records Two More Wins For Mountaineers



Redshirt freshman and former Southern High wrestling standout George "Brutus" Scheffel recorded two more personal victories over the weekend as a member of the West Virginia University wrestling team, as the Mountaineers recorded a 28-12 team victory over visiting Lock Haven on Friday and then edged a talented Rutgers team on Sunday, 21-18. Rutgers came to Morgantown with a 12-4 record.

Wrestling in the 149-pound division, Scheffel recorded a convincing 15-4 decision over William Randt of Lock Haven.

"Weight loss has been a problem for me lately," Scheffel told an MSNsports reporter following Friday's match. "I took a different approach with things after weigh-ins, and it allowed me to be a little quicker on the mat. It felt good to get a win since I haven't been wrestling well lately."

In a tough, physical match against Anthony Perrotti of Rutgers on Sunday, Scheffel scored a late takedown that gave him a 6-4 victory.

"Usually when a match gets as physical as that one did, I tend to get more physical," Scheffel said afterward. "I kept my composure, though. I wrestled as tough as I could between the whistles, and I just tried to give my team a boost."

Scheffel's win was followed by a 2-1 victory by freshman Dominic Prezzia in the 157-pound bout.

"The efforts we got out of Brutus and Dominic were very critical to our team's success today," said WVU head coach Craig Turnbull. "They recognized how important their role was going to be this afternoon."

Scheffel upped his personal record to 17-11 with the wins against Lock Haven and Rutgers.

The pair of team victories gave the Mountaineers an overall record of 6-3. They will return to the Coliseum this Saturday evening for an Eastern Wrestling League matchup against rival Pitt, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Garrett County residents were encouraged via a telephone call from Coach Turnbull this past week to attend Saturday's match against Pitt, particularly to show support for Scheffel, who is one of only a few four-time Maryland state high school champions. Ticket information for the match can be obtained online at www.MSNsportsnet.com, or by calling 1-800-WVU-GAME.

Southern Mat Club Participates In Two Tourneys

Members of the Southern Mat Club competed in a pair of tournaments over the weekend, wrestling in the Meyersdale (Pa.) Area Youth Tournament on Saturday and in the Tri-County Tournament in Petersburg, W.Va., on Sunday.

In the Meyersdale event, the following SMC members captured individual titles for their respective age and weight divisions: Erik Fike, age 11/12, 110 pounds; Jimmy Schwab, 11/12, 100; Nathan Tasker, 11/12, 70; and Aiden Schwab, 7/8, 50.

Earning runner-up trophies for the club were George Zimmerman, 11/12, 85, and Joey McComas, 9/10, 60.

The following finished with third places: Jake Sweitzer, 9/10, 65; Ezra Cottrell, 7/8, heavyweight; Kadin Guy, 7/8, 75; and Jeremiah Mellinger, 7/8, 45.

Other SMC participants were Jace Guy, Zach Evans, and Matthew Mayhew.

Jake Sweitzer captured two first places in Sunday's tournament in Petersburg, in the 9/10, 65-pound division, and in the 11/12, 65 division. Other first-place finishers were Aiden Schwab and Jimmy Schwab.

Trevor King, 7/8, 70, Hunter Wakefield, 7/8, 85, and Joey McComas all finished in second place.

SMC members placing third were Jett Miller, 5/6, 80; Michael Moon, 9/10, 70; and Zach Evans, 11/12, 65. Evans also took a fourth place in the 9/10, 60-pound division.

Other club participants were Hunter Sanders, Aerik LeBon, and Tanner Dropplemman.

Omitted from tournament results in last week's article was a second place win by Jace Guy (9/10, 85) in the Ram Tough tourney held Jan. 21 in Oakland.

Southern Rollers Bested By A Perfect Game

Facing Southern High School in Allegany County Inter-Scholastic Bowling League play, Frankfort's Ryan Mackay rolled a perfect 300 game in a match held at Par-Matt Lanes. The senior bowler had a 187 in his first game, then rolled the 300 game in his second, before finishing with a 178 for a 665 set. His play helped to defeat the Rams by a final score of 20-16. It marked the third perfect game rolled in the ACIBL, and was the first by a male bowler.

Amanda Greene, who bowled for Hampshire High from 2006 to 2009, was the first in the league to roll a perfect 300. She first accomplished the feat on Jan. 29, 2007, before finishing with an 803 set. On the exact same date two years later, Greene rolled her second perfect game and broke her own high-set record with an 805. She is now bowling on scholarship at Lindenwood University (Mo.).

Mountain Ridge's boys' and girls' teams are currently in first place in the actual divisions, with the girls (8.5-1.5) a half game in front of Southern (7-2). With a record of 8-2, the Mountain Ridge boys are one game ahead of Fort Hill.

In the girls' adjusted division, Keyser currently holds the top spot at 8-2 overall, with Hampshire close behind at 9-3.

Allegany (9.5-1.5) has a slim lead over Southern (7.5-1.5) in the boys' adjusted division.

Hampshire's girls are holding on to third place (actual division) at (9-3), followed by Fort Hill (7.5-4.5), Keyser (5.5-4.5), Frankfort (5.5-5.5), Calvary Christian (2-8), Bishop Walsh (1-6), and Allegany (0-11).

It is still a close race in the boys' actual divsion standings with Hampshire in third (8.5-3.5). Allegany is only a half game behind at 7-4, with Southern next in line (5-4). Rounding out the division are Frankfort (5.5-5.5), Keyser (2-8), Bishop Walsh (1-6), and Calvary Christian (0-10).

The adjusted division has both the boys' and girls' teams of Mountain Ridge sitting at third place with identical records of 5.5-4.5.

Calvary Christian's girls' team is in fourth place (4.5-5.5), while Southern (4-5), Fort Hill (4.5-7.5), Allegany (4-7), Frankfort (3.5-7.5), and Bishop Walsh (2-5) complete the division standings.

The boys' team from Keyser has rolled its way to a 5-5 record and is ahead of Frankfort (5-6), Calvary Christian (4-6), Fort Hill (4-8), Hampshire (3.5-8.5), and Bishop Walsh (2-5).

The top five finishers in the champion dogs entered were: Roger Hanning/Jimbo, J.R. Hinkle/Brandy, Craig Miller/Seven, Raymond Tissue/Tank, and Justin Bowman and Galen Beckman/Brutus.

Bowling Team Slates Spaghetti Dinner In MLP

The Southern High School bowling team will hold a spaghetti dinner this Saturday, Feb. 4, from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad hall in Mtn. Lake Park. Raffles and a silent auction will be held during the dinner.

The cost is $7 for adults and $4 for children age 12 and younger. Persons may dine in, carry out a meal, or have a meal delivered.

Deliveries will be made between 10:30 a.m. and noon. Carry-outs will also be available during delivery times. For deliveries, persons are asked to call 240-321-5509 or 240-321-4317.

"Xtreme" Cheer Teams Fare Well At Competition

The Western Maryland Xtreme Cheer and Toxic Twist Crew from Jessica's Creations in Oakland traveled to Richmond last month for the American Cheer & Dance Competition. The team won a number of awards at the contest. See photo.

According to Coach Jessica Crosco, one of the members of the team injured her ankle performing her solo, and without her the team was not going to be able to perform. Hip-hop student Jake Taylor, Oakland, offered to take her spot and had less than two hours to learn the routine.

"The team worked so hard and performed a great routine," Crosco said. "And they placed first and even achieved high-point champions status. These girls and Jake came together as a team. They had one goal and all of them were determined to reach it."

The youth hip-hop team with a military theme also won first place and was the highest scoring team champion. Other first place hip-hop team winners included the Junior Toxic Twist team and Senior Toxic Twist. The senior group also won a choreography award.

The junior team was awarded a showmanship award, and Coach Kim Crosco danced at the awards and won the Best Dancer Award.

The youth cheer team placed second, only a few points from first, the Croscos said. The trio cheer team won first place, and the "tiny" team came in second.

The local group also competed with soloists and pairs. Regina Crosco won first place in the hip-hop division and was the Highest Point Solo Champion. She was also named the Best Hip-hop Dancer. Lindsay Thomas won Best Lyrical Dancer, first place in the solo division.

Emily Helms won first place in the mini-cheer division, and Madison Crosco placed second. Angel Folk won first place in the senior solo division.

Kailee Brandon placed second in the youth cheer division, and Kyla Slaubaugh and Delaney Green both placed first in their hip-hop solo divisions.

Lindsay Thomas and Regina Crosco performed together and won first place in the lyrical duet contest. Mikala Spiker and Olivia Crosco won first place in the hip-hop duet category.

Each champion received a T-shirt, trophies, and plaques. High-point champs each received a pin and a large trophy.

These girls and boys have also received a bid to a national competition, Crosco noted. The athletes traveled to Upper Marlboro over the weekend to take part in the Maryland Cup State Championships. The results will be published.

In addition to the Croscos, the teams' coaches are Shasta Spiker, Helena Slaubaugh, and Melita Friend.

Men's Basketball League Results Are Announced

Play in the Oakland Men's Basketball League on Sunday resulted in victories for the teams sponsored by Fox's Pizza, Taylor-Made, and D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction.

Mike Browning scored a game-high 29 points and J.J. Bolyard netted 21 to pace Fox's to an 84-49 thrashing of Hutton Auto. Mike Fazenbaker led Hutton Auto with 16 points.

Taylor-Made earned a 67-58 victory over Automated Packaging, with Jason Brenneman and Mike Harvey leading the winners in scoring with 18 and 15 points, respectively. Jason Shank hit a game-high 21 for Automated Packaging.

Bo Davis paced D&L/A.L.L. to a 55-53 edging of Terra Alta VFW, as he finished with 14 points. Shaun Shaffer led the VFW offensive effort with 17 points.

Games slated for this Sunday will pit Terra Alta VFW against Automated Packaging in the 6 p.m. clash, D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction against Hutton Auto at 7 p.m., and Taylor-Made vs. Fox's Pizza in the 8 p.m. tipoff.

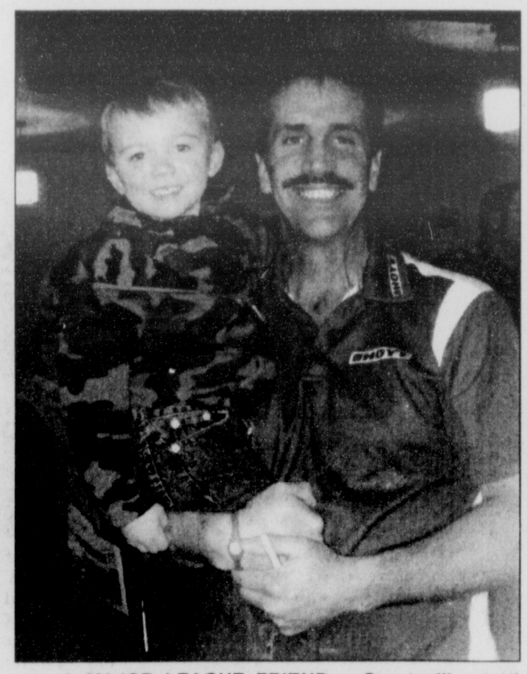
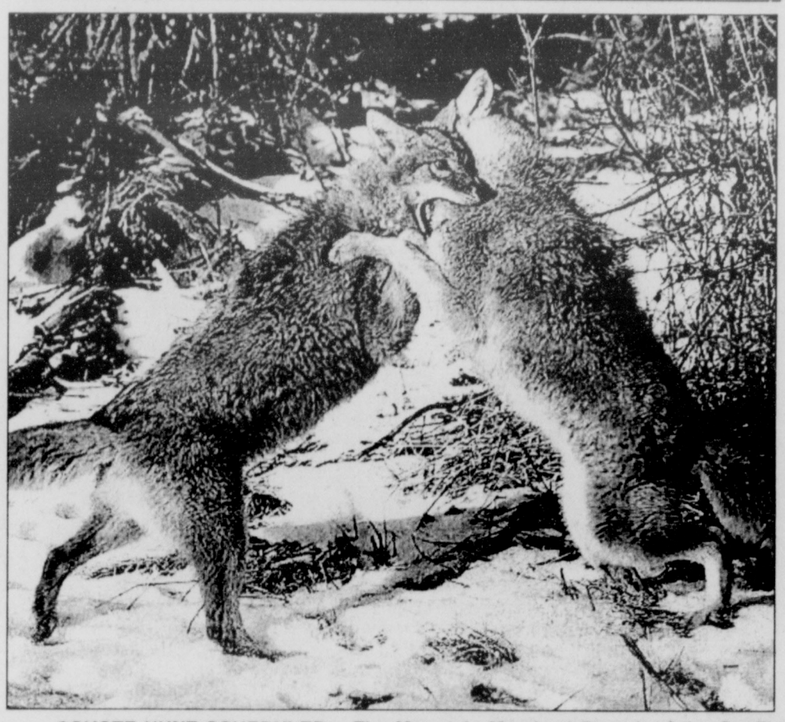
SOUTHERN AIR RIFLE TEAM SETS ITS SIGHTS – The Southern High JROTC air rifle team recently competed in a shoulder-to-shoulder match with the Preston High JROTC, which is currently ranked as the number one air rifle team in West Virginia and third within the region. Though the match's highest scores went to Preston Knights Cody Nestor (260 out of 300 points) and Andrew Cummings (253), Southern's Patrick Kight, Cassi Hughes, and Kyle Hackett performed well, scoring 199, 194, and 146, respectively. This match was the Rams' first shoulder-to-shoulder event. They will next compete on Tuesday, Feb. 7, in what is called a "postal" match. "The match is called a 'postal' because the completed targets are mailed to the hosting organization for scoring," explained Ram coach Lt. Col. (retired) Ralph Sheaffer. From left in the photo above are Southern cadets Kight, Hackett, and Hughes.



A MAJOR LEAGUE FRIEND – Grantsville youth Devon Opel recently got to meet major league baseball player Sid Bream, formerly of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was the guest speaker at a sportsman's dinner hosted by Grace Brethren Church in Meyersdale, Pa. Opel is the son of David and Brandi Opel.



COYOTE HUNT SCHEDULED – The Mountain Maryland Branch of the Quality Deer Management Association will sponsor the second annual "Coyote in the Hills" competition. All registered hunters will have the opportunity to compete for a cash prize of $50 paid out for every coyote harvested between the hunt dates of February 15 and March 15. The maximum payout set forth by the branch is $2,000. Should the maximum amount be reached prior to March 15, the hunt will end on that date. The following locations will be check-in stations during the coyote hunt: Backbone Mountain Sport Shop, D&B Sports Shop, Sang Run Sports Shop, Swanton Grocery, and the Bassin' Box Sports Shop. Each of these stores has registration forms. More information can be obtained by contacting Carl Lee, event coordinator, at 301-387-4010 or via e-mail at cglee@comcast.net.

Air Rifle Training Now Available To SHS Army JROTC Cadets

Students in the Army JROTC Leadership Academy of Southern High School now have a chance to learn and participate in the sport known as air rifle, as a result of the program receiving approval to have the marksmanship program from the Garrett County Board of Education and representatives from the Army's Cadet Command Fourth Brigade.

"The air rifles are provided to the program from the Army's Cadet Command," said Lt. Col. (ret.) Ralph Sheaffer, the senior Army instructor at Southern. "We will be using the Crossman model, and with each air rifle costing several hundred dollars, it's a large investment that was made possible by the show of support and growth for the JRTC program at SHS from the BOE and Army Cadet Command."

Students will practice the sporter class, one of the two types of air rifle marksmanship, which is easier and less expensive than the precision class. The "Three Position Air Rifle Marksmanship" commonly known as 3P Air Rifle Shooting has competitors shooting at targets on a 10-meter range from the prone, standing, and kneeling positions.

Within the Army JROTC curriculum, the marksmanship program comes under Unit 7 Marksmanship. One requirement of the unit is that prior to cadets using the air rifles, they will have to go through 10 lessons in a safety training book and pass a test with a score of 100%.

"One unique aspect of the air rifle program is that the competitions the cadets do are integrated into the program," said Sheaffer. "Cadets have an opportunity to compete in local and national level civilian marksmanship programs. One of these programs is the annual national Civilian Marksmanship Program postal competition. It is this specific competition that allows JROTC cadets to be rated nationally in the sporter class air rifle event."

Recognizing that cadets possess many different talents, JROTC provides opportunities for them to experience success. Another JROTC competition available is the Leadership and Academic Bowl challenge.

"The annual event challenges cadets made up of a six-person team against other cadets from some 1,300 other schools from around the nation in a "Jeopardy"-style competition," said Sheaffer.

"The questions were tough, both in length and the style in which they were presented – SAT-style format," said the leadership team's captain, junior Darren Large. "The team had to work together, and I feel that was one of the keys to their success."

6-7 and evened their AMAC mark at 4-4.

Yutzy again led the Huskies in scoring, finishing with 15 points, while Sines contributed eight points.

The outcome of Tuesday's game against Keyser was determined with just five seconds left on the clock, which is when Husky Beck Sherrard hit a layup to give his team its margin of victory.

The Huskies fell behind in the first quarter, 11-6, rallied to take a slim 18-17 lead by the end of the first half, and were down 35-32 after three quarters.

The Huskies trailed in field goals by one, but hit five 3-pointers, while the Tornados did not have any long-range buckets. That made the difference in the final score, as Keyser also had an 8-7 lead in converted free throws.

Sines emerged as the scoring leader for the Huskies, as he finished with 15 points, and also recorded seven steals. Evans netted 10 points, while Yutzy recorded eight points, seven steals, and five assists.

Brandon Clay paced the Golden Tornados (5-9 overall, 4-8 AMAC), and Tyler Hoban also reached double figures with 11 points.

The Northern junior varsity was edged in the first game, 53-49. Trevon Jones again led the Huskies' scoring with 16 points, and Tyler Hamilton hit 20 to lead the Keyser jayvees.

The Huskies are scheduled to be back in action this evening at Fort Hill, play at Mountain Ridge on Friday, and travel to Salisbury next Thursday.

Lakers End Losing Skid By Topping Takoma Park, But Then Fall Again

The men's basketball team of Garrett College finally got back into the win column on Saturday, as the Lakers topped host Takoma Park, 60-53, in a Maryland JUCO contest.

But the one-win "streak" was stopped at one last night by host Pioneers of Anne Arundel CC, who handed the Lakers a convincing defeat in another JUCO matchup.

The split left the Lakers with an overall record of 11-12 and a conference mark of 5-10.

Armond Perez gave a double-double performance for the Lakers in the win over Takoma Park, recording 18 points and 11 rebounds, while Din Moore was effective from 3-point range. He hit four long-range goals and finished with 14 points to go with three steals. Antonio Butler added 12 points, and Matt Gibson chipped in with six points and six assists.

It was two of Moore's 3-point buckets late in the game that essentially sealed the win for Garrett, even though the Lakers had a 31-23 advantage at intermission.

Pacing the home team offensively was Elvin Jackson with a game-high 20 points, and Marcellus Watson was close behind with 18 points.

No details of last night's loss to Anne Arundel were received by press time this morning.

The Lakers will host Howard CC in a 5 p.m. game this Saturday, are slated to play at Potomac State College in Keyser on Monday, and wrap up their regular season at Montgomery-Germantown next Wednesday.

BITTINGER

away and never even took one. I remember I regretted that when the pain got unbearable.

How about this statistic? We have come on to a shortage of nurses (a 1 million nurse shortage). Anyone who seriously wants to choose a career that will surely lead to a good job should become a nurse. They are such an important part of medical care.

It was largely because of the devoted, loving care of one very special ICU nurse that I got through that bad time – Linda Walker. There were other excellent nurses in that ICU. But somehow, Linda had a special connection with me. She seemed almost reluctant to go home when her shift was over because she wanted to be there with me.

It is amazing how a visit to the ER increases spending of health care, and often-times people get sick with even minor illnesses during the weekend, or anytime their regular doctor is not available. Certainly, an extremely high fever in an infant is a reason to take it to the ER. And one with an extremely painful earache needs an antibiotic as soon as possible.

Most of my visits to the ER were the result of serious injuries, like a loose horse kicking my lower leg while I rode Joey. It bruised the bone, and I can't describe how painful it was. I dropped the reins and screamed loudly the whole way to my home, and Joey did his job, walking fast, but steadily, and delivered me to my front door.

I have to assume they must have given me liquid morphine. Wow, it was effective beyond belief. But it also put me in a definitely altered state. As I lay on the back seat of the car, I felt like I was floating in deep, dark blue water. That is fine for a real bad injury, but not something you want to use regularly.

I think I had an IV drip of morphine in the ICU when my brain blew up. It did not cause as extreme an effect. I was in pretty bad pain, but I was also in a drug-induced coma. I was still quite aware of what was going on around me. I also had many strange and compelling dreams.

Now close to 60 percent of Americans believe that our economy is improving and better days are soon to come.

During my somewhat long life, I have been acquainted with quite a few politically conservative people. With some, I have had very positive relationships.

I was also sadly acquainted with some serious bigots. I am not terribly fond of them. Some were extremely wealthy, and their conservative beliefs were based on their own self-interest. I can understand that, but I don't really approve of it, especially when I worked for them and performed some valuable functions at the highest level of excellence.

I also had some decent relationships with some religious right individuals. I assume their – to me – odd point of view is based on their interpretation of scriptures. But I think they miss some important facts of Christ's teaching. They seem to prefer to find some sins in other kinds of people, which is clearly a violation of the teachings of God and Christ.

Of course, they persist in denying that evolution might connect with the Genesis creation story. Many quite devoted Christians can reconcile the two versions of how the Earth was formed. Plus, evolution does not deny any role of God in the creation.

Some people think that every word in the Bible must be literally true. It is impossible that a whale could swallow a human being. Their throat is far too narrow. So there is no way that the tale of Jonah and the whale can be literally true. Nor is it possible that Noah would have collected a breeding pair of every single species in the world and put them on even a large boat, far smaller than any we have in modern times. Not even that massive cruise ship that ran aground off Italy's coast could hold all the species in the world. I can accept some miracles like the virgin birth. But many things in the Old Testament I cannot accept as literal truth.

Pastor Randy will conduct a Bible study class about Genesis. It will be on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church educational building. Anyone is welcome to participate. Maybe it is a starting point to being able to have a "live and let live" approach to the different viewpoints about religion that prevail in the Bittinger area, and really in Garrett County and all of America.

One great Christmas gift I received from my Aunt Helen Englar was a kit to plant and grow inside in a pot some paper white flowers, similar to daffodils. They grow enough so that we can see the buds form, and not too long in the future will burst open and become flowers in mid-winter, probably in just a matter of days now. That is simply magical, and a big lift to the spirits of anyone suffering from winter fatigue.

Today is Groundhog Day. They drag that poor sleeping groundhog out. I'm sure he would not wake up this time of year, crawl out and look around the world outside his den.

I never could stand to use an alarm clock. That is a bad way to wake up. I can tell myself what time I need to get up, and I gradually wake up and wait for daylight to return. Of course, when I sometimes had to get up at, say, 3:30 a.m., I used an alarm. But that was an extreme situation, when I had no reasonable amount of time to gradually become fully awake.

Since we were several hours away from horse shows, when I had to prepare for a show day it involved several hours riding in a large van. I had to drive on a fairly congested highway within a few hours of New York City. But even harder was the journey back home when it started to get dark after a very long day of hard, physical labor. There were still 50 miles to go.

I certainly would not choose to wake up at 3 a.m., but my dog Jackson moved around to the other side of my bed, and when I was half awake and half asleep, I thought my husband was back where he was supposed to be. Of course, that is ridiculous.

That time of night is a low point of our normal body rhythm, when our conscious mind is the least active, and you are as close to a state of death as you can be. I do not fully understand our body rhythms, but it is not something we control. And when they hit the low point, all your carefully constructed defenses simply disappear, and you feel dreadful and so alone.

Keep It Local

Buying bird seed doesn't have to be an adventure. Many local grocery and hardware stores keep plenty on hand. A basic seed mix works because it has a little bit of everything. Pure black oil sunflower works well too, because most birds love it.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was 20th-century American critic John Leonard who made the following sage observation: "To be capable of embarrassment is the beginning of moral consciousness. Honor grows from qualms."

• You've probably never heard of the Spanish village of Lijar, located in the south of that country. This village, though, was involved in a nearly 100-year war that lasted well into the 20th century. It seems that in 1883, Alfonso XII, the king of Spain, made a state visit to Paris and received a less-than-royal welcome. Led by mayor Don Miguel Garcia Saez, the citizens of Lijar, after hearing that their monarch had been insulted and possible accosted by mobs, declared war on France. Though there were no casualties -- not even any gunfire -- the war lasted until 1981. That was when the town council ruled that it would end hostilities with France thanks to the warm welcome King Juan Carlos of Spain received in France in 1976. • The town of Adamant, Vermont, was once named Sodom. The townspeople voted to change the name in 1905.

• The first portable computer was made available to the public in 1975. In this instance, however, "portable" was used as a relative term; the IBM 5100 weighed 55 pounds.

• In 2008, a study was conducted in the United Kingdom to determine what, if any, effect the consumption of tomatoes had on the human body's reaction to sun exposure. The university students enrolled in the study who consumed the equivalent of about five tomatoes per day were 33 percent less likely to get sunburned than those who ate no tomatoes.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 7, 1812, the most violent of a series of earthquakes near Missouri causes a so-called fluvial tsunami in the Mississippi River, making the river run backward for several hours. The strongest of the aftershocks, an 8.8-magnitude, caused church bells to ring in Boston, more than a thousand miles away.

• On Feb. 8, 1924, the first execution by lethal gas in American history is carried out in Carson City, Nev. The executed man was Tong Lee, a member of a Chinese gang who was convicted of murdering a rival gang member.

• On Feb. 11, 1937, after a six-week sit-down strike by General Motors autoworkers in Flint, Mich., GM president Alfred P. Sloan signs the first union contract in the history of the American auto industry. Today, the UAW has more than 390,000 active members and more than a 600,000 retired members.

• On Feb. 6, 1952, King George VI of Great Britain and Northern Ireland dies in his sleep at the royal estate at Sandringham. Princess Elizabeth, the oldest of the king's two daughters and next in line to succeed him, was crowned Queen Elizabeth II on June 2, 1953, at age 27.

• On Feb. 10, 1962, Francis Gary Powers, an American who was shot down over the Soviet Union while flying a CIA spy plane in 1960, is released by the Soviets in exchange for the U.S. release of a Russian spy. On May 1, 1960, Powers' U-2 had been shot down by a Soviet missile. Although Powers was supposed to engage the plane's self-destruct system (and commit suicide with poison furnished by the CIA), he and much of the plane were captured.

• On Feb. 9, 1971, pitcher Leroy "Satchel" Paige becomes the first Negro League veteran to be nominated for the Baseball Hall of Fame. He was inducted in August of that year. Joe DiMaggio once called Paige "the best and fastest pitcher I've ever faced."

• On Feb. 12, 1988, two Soviet warships bump two U.S. navy vessels in waters claimed by the Soviet Union. The incident between the ships took place in the Black Sea within the 12-mile territorial limit claimed by the Soviet Union.

Collecting

Q: I have a stamp collection that I am interested in selling. I understand that unless a stamp is rare or unique, it is not worth much more than face value. Do cancelled stamps have any retail value, and will I get a better deal with a small, local trader versus a larger commercial dealer? -- Curt, via email

A: I will partially answer your question by sharing a personal experience. My mother was a stamp collector, and when she died several years ago I inherited three of her albums. She specialized in U.S. commemoratives and first-day issues. After showing her collection to several dealers, it was determined that her stamps were not worth much more than face value.

As with most collectibles, there are always exceptions to the rule. In mother's albums were several Civil War cancellations, and they were somewhat valuable. To make a long story short, I am using most of her stamps for personal postage since they are not likely to increase in value.

My advice is to get some of the better price guides and carefully examine your collection. I realize this is time-consuming, but an educated consumer is better prepared to make decisions. An Internet site I have found helpful is www.theswedishtiger.com/ID.html. You also can order price guides from this company.

Q: I have a wire recorder that was originally made for the military. We have taken it to the "Antique Roadshow," and they had no idea of how much it is worth. Can you help me? -- Anita, Albuquerque, N.M.

A: Wire recorders were once an example of cutting-edge technology, and many of the early models were made by two companies, Webster and Silvertone. The early recording devices were, indeed, used by the military during the mid-1940s. Wire recorders are not very collectible, and most sell in the $45 to $100 range.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

FOUNDATION SUPPORTS GC – David Cooper, president of the Tucker Community Foundation, left, recently met with Alexander Tuel, director of education and teacher preparation at Garrett College, to discuss the Project Learning Tree® grant awarded to GC by the foundation. With these funds, Tuel will develop free workshops in environmental literacy for educators. See story.

Environmental Grant To Educate Educators Obtained By Garrett

Garrett College recently received a grant to enhance the environmental literacy of current and future educators in Garrett County. According to Alexander Tuel, GC's director of education & teacher preparation, the grant will provide pre-service teachers, current teachers, and home-school educators with free Project Learning Tree® training and resources to incorporate environmental learning into all classrooms.

The grant was made available to Garrett College through the Tucker Community Foundation, a grant-making organization serving eight counties in northcentral West Virginia and Garrett County in Maryland.

Tuel spoke about the importance of this grant for educators in Maryland.

"In 2011, Maryland became the first state to pass regulations that require all high school students be 'environmentally literate' in order to graduate from high school. This was a huge step forward for environmental education," he said, adding that this regulation underscores the importance of environmental literacy among children of all ages.

"As a result of this standard, Maryland students will be able to take advantage of a multi-disciplinary approach to learning that incorporates environmental issues into core subject areas," he said.

Tuel further described the Project Learning Tree® program and how Garrett College plans to implement its programs for educator professional development.

"Project Learning Tree®, the American Forest Foundation's award-winning environmental education program, shows participants how they can bring environmental learning into classrooms, thus linking the environmental literacy standard to their respective subject areas," he said.

Using forests as a window on the world, Project Learning Tree® provides educators with environmental education curriculum resources that can be integrated into lesson plans for all grades and subject areas, Tuel explained.

"The approach outlined by Project Learning Tree® teaches students how to think about complex environmental issues, and helps them acquire the skills they need to make sound choices about the environment," he said.

Developed in 1976, Project Learning Tree's 50-state network includes more than 500,000 trained educators using Project Learning Tree materials that cover the total environment.

"Although this program has been around for over 40 years, it is very new to the area," said Tuel. "Garrett College will offer professional development opportunities in both the spring and also summer of 2012 for teachers, education students, and home-school educators to learn the Project Learning Tree® curriculum, which aligns with not only national standards but also state standards.

"Upon completion of these professional development workshops, participants will receive a curriculum guide. Garrett College is taking a turnkey approach in which the college will also provide each participant many of the supplies needed to complete the lesson plans in the curriculum guide, thus making it very easy for educators to incorporate the program into their classroom," Tuel said.

In addition, the school of each educator who is trained in Project Learning Tree® can then receive the designation of Green School and apply for community service learning grants at the national level. These grants are obtained through a competitive process and are available in order to "green" a local community in which students, teachers, and community members work together on a student-led environmental project.

The schedule for the workshops on environmental education is currently being developed and will be announced when it is finalized, according to Tuel. For further information on this project or to request notification of scheduling, persons may contact Tuel by e-mail at alexander.tuel@garrettcollege.edu or call 301-387-3028.

by Peggy Santamaria

"What did you do during the winter break?"

That's a question that could be heard in the hallways and lounge areas around Garrett College as students headed back to class last week to begin the spring semester. Some adventure sports students could give a rather impressive response to that inquiry, because during the winter break they were learning to save lives in the wilderness.

The Wilderness First Responder (WFR) course, which addresses trauma and medical emergencies out in the field, was offered during GC's intersession in January. The intense nine-day, 80-hour course is required for those seeking a degree in the GC Adventure Sports Program.

Through the classes students are taught methods of handling a variety of emergencies that may arise in a remote area. The course meets all U.S. Department of Transportation National Standards for First Responders, with additional protocols for extended-care situations. The training includes classroom presentations as well as hands-on practice outdoors.

This training is provided for adventure sports students by professional trainers from Stonehearth Outdoor Learning Opportunities (SOLO), based in Conway, N.H. Over the last 40 years, SOLO has set the standard for wilderness medical practices and for developing programs and courses to provide medical care in remote areas.

Two SOLO trainers were at Garrett College for this year's training: Dr. Brad Bennett and Karl Schmidt, WEMT. Schmidt, a former Outward Bound adventure leader, is now a full-time SOLO instructor. Dr. Bennett, PhD and a captain in the U.S. Navy (ret.), is a member of the Committee on Tactical Combat Casualty Care and a SOLO wilderness medicine instructor, plus he is the medical unit leader of Virginia Tidewater Search & Rescue, and secretary of the Wilderness Medical Society.

"This type of training is different from that given most emergency medical personnel," Dr. Bennett explained. "Most EMT training involves use of equipment and an ambulance. In a wilderness these are usually not available and typically beyond the 'Golden Hour' of care, or at least one hour away from the trail head."

And since hikers and climbers don't usually find EMS care along mountainous trails, they need to know about alternative treatments that will safely support and manage the patient until more complete medical care is reached.

Among the issues addressed by the instructors were medioco-legal concerns, blood-borne pathogens, and infectious diseases. Students were also instructed in the patient assessment system, which trains students in the procedures to assess and determine a patient's condition.

Other sessions provided instruction in responding to traumatic situations, as well as medical emergencies. Environmental issues, such as hypothermia and heat injuries, were covered in great detail. Outside the classroom environment, simulations and labs provided practice in both rescue and wilderness leadership skills.

The 24 adventure sports students typically spent the first part of the day in a classroom on the McHenry campus learning what they might expect in an emergency situation, that is, an injury in a remote area and how they might proceed. During the afternoons the class participants could be seen in small clusters outside the college buildings conducting emergency scenarios. In these groups there would be a class member designated as the victim, while the others assessed the patient's condition and recommended treatments.

Finally, on the eighth day of training the students and instructors headed into the wooded Fork Run area off Shingle Camp and Oakland Sang Run roads. There on a cold, bleak day the simulations of responding to emergency situations could take on a sense of reality.

"At the beginning of the course, we were given so much information that I felt overwhelmed," said student Bre McGreevy, "but as time went on, I couldn't believe how much I learned. I feel much better equipped now that I have this training."

More information about Garrett's Adventure Sports Program and its courses can be found online at www.garrettcollege.edu/academics/asi or by calling 301-387-3330.

Crawford Lecture Series To Resume; Schedule Released

With the spring semester now under way at Garrett College, the schedule for the second half of the Joan Crawford Lecture Series has been announced by the college. Named in honor of the late Joan Crawford, a long-time member of the GC faculty (pictured), this sequence of presentations will be offered to the public free of charge. The schedule is as follows:

•February 15 – "How to Effectively Manage Your Health Care," presented by Dr. James Damato, GC Room 224, noon.

•February 21 – "Doctors Without Borders," presented by Dr. David Tuel, GC auditorium, 7 p.m.

•February 22 – "Black History Monologues," Terry Kasekamp, coordinator, GC auditorium, noon (snow date February 29).

•April 18 – "Nepal," presented by Jim Allen, GC Room 224, noon.

For more information on this series of lectures, persons may contact Beth Luers at 301-387-3020 or via e-mail at beth.luers@garrettcollege.edu.

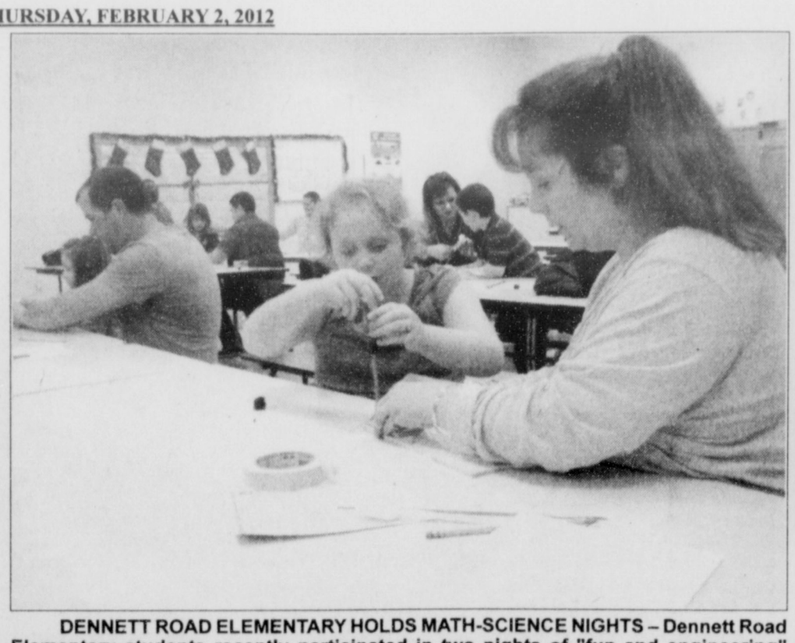
GARRETT COUNTY BREAKFAST CUP WINS – Cody Wilt, a cook at Hickory Environmental Center, and LuAnn Klink, a cook at Route 40 Elementary School, recently represented Garrett County at the Maryland School Nutrition Association convention in Ocean City. The pair received first place for their original recipe, Garrett County Breakfast Cup, in the Farm To Tray cooking contest. The contest was part of a program to encourage the use of locally grown produce in preparing school meals. Left to right are Wilt and Klink.



DENNETT ROAD ELEMENTARY HOLDS MATH-SCIENCE NIGHTS – Dennett Road Elementary students recently participated in two nights of "fun and engineering" at the school's Math-Science Nights. For the event, students and families worked in collaboration using math and science skills to create mousetrap catapults and rubber band fan cars. Dennett Road Elementary has a math-science night scheduled for grades 3 through 5 this evening. Math-science nights are also planned for Feb. 9 and 23. In the above photo, from left, are participants Emilia and Kristiann Germain, while in the bottom photo is young Hunter Sanders (center) with Jeff McDaniel (at right).

CDL Training Classes Slated At Driving Institute

Garrett College is accepting applications for the next series of courses geared toward training individuals to obtain a Class A commercial driver's license (CDL). Training will be held at the Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute near Grantsville.

The weekday training will begin on Monday, Feb. 20, and the weekend session will start on Saturday, Feb. 18. The weekday option will be offered in a 7.5 week timeframe, Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The weekend option has a duration of 15 weekends, thus, Saturdays and Sundays, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This program offers a professional truck driving curriculum for the purpose of qualifying students for entry level positions as drivers in over-the-road or local driving vehicles.

The short-term training is an intense, fast-paced program, according to MTDI director Terry Beachy. While attending this 30-day, 210 hours of training, students will receive instruction in the following: pre-trip inspection, various skills in the yard, and over-the-road instruction, along with a basic overview of map reading and log books.

At the completion of training, the student will be taken to demonstrate at his/her local Motor Vehicle Administration office to obtain a Class A license. No prior education or experience with trucks is required.

For more information or to register for this training, persons are asked to contact Beachy at 301-895-4700 or terrry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Fruit, Vegetable Conference Set For February 10

The Mountain Top Fruit and Vegetable Conference originally scheduled for Jan. 21 has been rescheduled for Friday, Feb. 10, at Garrett College.

The conference will feature 12 presentations, including topics such as soil management for vegetables, marketing in the digital age, blackberry variety trial, and low tunnel production.

For a complete schedule, persons may visit the Extension web page at www.garrett.umd.edu/Agnr/index.cfm.

To register or obtain more information, persons may contact the Garrett County office of the University of Maryland Extension at 301-334-6960.

MILITARY SUPPORT LIVES ON – Although Bloomington Elementary School is now closed, a tradition of involvement with local military service members lives on, according to Military Family Support Group member Cathy Menker. At the school, Emily Hughes' fourth and fifth grade classes were visited by "Mr. Frog the Science Guy," who told them nature stories and taught them about orienteering and the world around them. Mr. Frog was really Steven Hughes, Emily's husband. Steven joined the Army in the fall of 2010, and the students became pen pals with SPC Hughes and a "battle buddy." Throughout the soldiers' time in basic training and advanced individualized training, the students wrote back and forth, learning about military life and strengthening their writing skills. "They also developed a great deal of respect for those who serve our country," Menker said. Mr. Frog and Emily are now stationed overseas in Korea. "Because of the generous support of the Bloomington parents and community, Bloomington School was able to make a donation to the Military Family Support Group," Menker said. "With the military being of such high interest, Mrs. Hughes' classes were very happy to be part of the support by donating to [our] very important organization. The gift was used to help mail Christmas boxes to military personnel serving overseas in time for Christmas." Left to right are Menker, former Bloomington Elementary School principal Connie Uphold, and Emily Hughes.

Clear Mtn. Bank Hosting February After Hours Event

Clear Mountain Bank will host the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce's February Business After Hours event on Wednesday, Feb. 8, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the bank's new location in Oakland. A tour of the new facility will also be offered.

The cost is $6 for members who pay in advance and $10 for non-members and members paying at the door. Those attending are asked to e-mail charlotte@garrettchamber.com or call 301-387-6171 no later than Feb. 7.

"Enjoy delicious food and drink as you mingle with fellow chamber members and chamber staff at our monthly networking event," said a chamber spokesperson. "It is a great opportunity to meet new members and generate new contacts." Those who bring business cards may enter to win prizes from Clear Mtn.

Locally owned and managed since 1891, Clear Mtn. Bank is an independent community bank serving Garrett County and Monongalia and Preston counties in West Virginia.

V-Day Dinner Set By Cub Scouts At Oakland Fire Hall

A Valentine's Day spaghetti dinner will be held on Friday, Feb. 10, from 4:30 to 8 p.m. at the Oakland fire hall to support local Cub Scouts. Adult meals are $6, and children ages 2 to 12 eat for $3. Take-outs will also be available.

SHS STUDENT ASSISTS LEGISLATORS – Elizabeth Sines, a student at Southern Garrett High School, recently served as a page in the Maryland House of Delegates during the 2012 General Assembly session in Annapolis. She was one of a select number of high school seniors chosen to represent their respective counties. The program enables the students to experience the legislative process "up close and personal." Sines is the daughter of John and Crystal Sines of Oakland. Left to right are Sines and Del. Wendell Beitzel.

Local Girls Vying For Titles In Miss University City Scholarship Pageant

KAYLA LOWDERMILK

LAKYN BARNARD

ABBY HOPKINS

OLIVIA GAITHER

The 2012 preliminary event for the Miss University City Scholarship Pageant is scheduled for this Saturday, Feb. 4, at Mountain Ridge High School in Frostburg. Tickets will be available at the door, which opens at 6:45 p.m.

Young girls ages 9 to 12 will compete for the titles of Miss University City's Pre-Teen, Miss Appalachia's Pre-Teen, and Miss Francis Scott Key's Pre-Teen. Among those competing for those titles is local resident Kayla Lowdermilk.

Kayla is the daughter of Joyce (Thomas) Lowdermilk and Rickey Lowdermilk. She is currently a fifth grade student at Yough Glades Elementary School. She will perform an inspirational vocal as her talent.

Young women ages 13 to 17 will compete for the titles of Miss University City's Outstanding Teen and Miss Appalachia's Outstanding Teen. Among those competing are locals Abby Hopkins and Lakyn Barnard. The winners will advance to Miss Maryland's Outstanding Teen Pageant, slated for June 17–24 in Hagerstown.

Abby, a student at Southern Garrett High School, is the daughter of Dolly Virts and Steve Hopkins. She will perform a ballet en pointe for her talent.

Lakyn, also a student at Southern Garrett High School, is the daughter of Andrea Barnard. She will preform a lyrical dance as her talent.

Young women ages 17 to 24 will compete for the titles of Miss University City and Miss Appalachia. The winners will advance to the Miss Maryland Pageant, also slated for June 17–24 in Hagerstown.

Those contestants include Olivia Gaither, who attends Southern Garrett High School. She is the daughter of Doug and Renate Gaither, and will sing a pop vocal for her talent.

In Loving Memory of

Harold R. Swauger

7/26/48 – 2/4/11

It's been a year since God called you home.
he saw you had an extra giving heart
Right from the very start.
Although you were in pain you didn't complain
You always said not to worry about me, I'll be okay.
Oh how I cried and felt so alone the night you left us.
You always said God was our father and some day
He would call us back home.
I didn't understand at first why He took such a wonderful man as you.
But I am not to question the work of God.
I finally realized He loved you so much He said
You were not to suffer any longer, that your work on Earth was done.
God gave us 42½ wonderful years together as husband and wife.
And our love grew stronger with each passing year.
I was blessed with a very loving and devoted husband
And a wonderful and caring father to our three children and five grandchildren who love and miss you very much.
God gained a very special angel when He took you home to be with Him.
I know you are watching over our family as you always did and waiting for me with your special smile.
My memories of you will be in my heart until the day God reunites us again.

Love you always,
Linda

Weather History

Feb. 3, 1988 - Arctic air continued to invade the central United States. The temperature at Midland, Texas plunged from a record high of 80 degrees to 37 degrees in just three hours. Morning lows in the higher elevations of Wyoming were as cold as 38 degrees below zero.

Feb. 4, 1887 - San Francisco experienced its greatest snowstorm of record. Nearly four inches of snow was reported in downtown San Francisco, and the western hills of the city received seven inches. Excited crowds went on a snowball-throwing rampage.

4-H Club News

OAK HILL
by Bailey Brewer, reporter

The regular meeting of the Oak Hill 4-H Club was held on Jan. 26 at the Accident fire hall. First were pledges, officers' reports, and roll call. For roll call, members were asked to name their favorite thing to do. They did so in a public speaking game called "Spark."

Bailey Brewer and Logan Mason reported on the SuGO LEGO Robotics training meeting they attended on Jan. 2.

Club record reports were due that evening and were checked by Jackie Fratz, leader, before the members left.

The Hershey Park field trip is scheduled for July 22 and 23. Club members must sign up by March 1.

Skyler Fratz gave a demonstration on guns and gun safety. Collin Fratz gave a demonstration on crossbows and safety.

Morgan Rush gave a report on 4-H Wisp Day.

Members were notified of the Livestock Snow Tubing Night on Feb. 23 from 5 to 9 p.m. Livestock paying members can attend for free, and non-members can go and pay for tubing ($9) and pizza and drink ($6.50). Members should contact Jackie before Feb. 15 if interested.

The group then discussed possible fundraisers for the club to raise enough money for the summer trip. Jackie and Tammy Grove will look into the possibility of selling pies or hoagies.

Members were informed of a new 4-H rabbit club, which will help members learn more about raising and showing rabbits. Members can join this new club and still remain in the Oak Hill club. Members should contact Wanda Guard for more details.

Carly and Derek Rodeheaver provided the snack for the club, and the meeting was adjourned.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, March 22, at the Accident fire hall.

GRANTSVILLE
by Cheyenne Bagley, reporter

The Grantsville 4-H Club met at Grantsville Elementary School for its monthly meeting on Jan. 9.

President Megan Wilhelm brought the meeting to order. Pledges were led by Brooke Colmer and Tommy Yantz. The roll call was answered by 22 members, and two new members were welcomed: Danyel Schmidt and Garrett Schmidt.

Record books and enrollment forms were collected. Club members made suggestions about fundraisers, trips, and community activities for the coming year. Members will vote on these ideas at the next meeting.

New leaders and officers were elected. The new leaders are Crystal DeBerry, Sarah Wilt, and Marcie Durst. The new officers are president Brooke Colmer, vice president Tyler Lytle, secretary Russell Fazenbaker, treasurer Cameron Newman, and reporter Cheyenne Bagley.

Russell Fazenbaker did a demonstration on fishing.

Refreshments were provided by Emily Durst and Heather Wilhelm.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, Feb. 6, at the Grantsville Elementary School at 7 p.m.

Homemade Soup Fundraiser Slated At Senior Center

A homemade soup fundraiser will be held at the Mary Browning Senior Center, 104 E. Center Street, Oakland, this Friday, Feb. 3. Bunkhouse chili, turkey dumpling soup, red pepper corn chowder, and potato soup will be sold.

Carry-outs will be available from 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. The cost for one bowl of soup with a roll or piece of cornbread is $3.50 per person. Soup will also be available for $6 a quart, and rolls/cornbread will be sold for $2 for ½ dozen.

Persons may also dine in at the center between 4 and 7 p.m. The cost for this "all-you-can-eat" event is $7 per person.

A limited lunch delivery will also be available for a small delivery charge ($1 minimum).

A center spokesperson said advance orders are strongly encouraged. One may do so by calling 301-334-9431, ext. 135 or 137.

Proceeds benefit Garrett County Meals on Wheels, which serves vulnerable elderly residents throughout the county.

LITTLE RED HATS were recently knitted by the members of the Sew Crafty Ladies, colleagues, friends, and family for babies born during Heart Healthy Month. Joanna Guy, Miss Queen State 2012 and Southern High School graduate, and her sister titleholder Hannah Brewer, Miss Queen State's Outstanding Teen 2012, are educating the public on prevention techniques and heart awareness by involving members of the community in their latest project. The red hats were delivered to Children's Miracle Network Hospital. Joanna and Hannah provided notes to accompany each hat.

On Dean's List

Nicholas A. Perry of Oakland, a senior linguistics major, has been named to the deans' list for the fall 2011 semester at the State University of New York, Oswego campus.

To be included on the list, students must have a semester grade average of 3.30 to 3.79.

Lutheran Church Offering Classes

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church will offer a two-session midweek course of study titled "Liturgy and Life." Led by Pastor Paul Blank, the sessions will consist of discussions on the meaning, logic, and significance of the liturgy on the lives of Christians.

The classes will be held Wednesdays, Feb. 8 and 15, at 7 p.m. at the church office, 21339 Garrett Highway, above Subway (entrance on the rear side of the building). All are welcome. For more information, persons may contact Rev. Blank at 301-387-8026.

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church is a mission congregation of the West Virginia/Western Maryland Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). Worship services are held Sundays at 9:30 a.m. at Garrett Eight Cinemas, Deep Creek Lake. More information can be found online at http://www.shepherdofthehillslutheran.org.

Completing God's Work

God has given each of us abilities and talents, tools with which to build up His Kingdom on earth. "We have different gifts, according to the grace given us." (Romans 12:6) What an honor that our Heavenly Father has placed us upon the earth to serve Him with the gifts we have been given—let us use them! One excellent way to serve God is through your house of worship. There, you can discover your talents, and by serving with your strengths you can do your part to complete God's work.

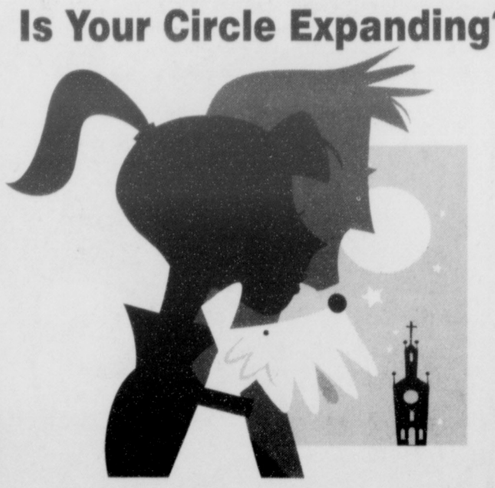
Is Your Circle Expanding?



We are born selfish and must be taught to share with and care about our brothers and sisters. As we get a little older and are sent off to school, we are taught to get along with those outside of our immediate family. Eventually this expanding circle grows to extend beyond the narrow confines of our tribes and nations. We come to realize that all men and women are brothers and sisters, the human family is indeed one big, dysfunctional family. But, surely the family circle should be expanded beyond the borders of humanity. Almost anyone who has ever owned a dog soon realizes that "ownership" is less apt a description of the relationship than membership in the family. Dogs and cats, and indeed all animals should be considered part of our expanding familial circle, not just because we share a significant portion of DNA with them, but because they can suffer and feel pain and pleasure just like us. Kindness and wisdom both counsel the same sage advice: "The godly care for their animals, but the wicked are always cruel." (Proverbs 12:10) By manifesting that loving kindness towards all of God's creatures which is the essence of true religion, we are perhaps most like God.

"The LORD is good to all; He has compassion on all He has made."

Psalm 145:9

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED REAL ESTATE
Improved by premises known as
607 L Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550

By virtue of the power and authority contained in a Deed of Trust from Patricia Hornbeck Anderson aka Patricia L .Anderson and Leonard Roy Anderson aka Leonard R. Anderson, dated June 5, 2009, and recorded in Liber 1443 at folio 81 among the Land Records of GARRETT COUNTY, Maryland, upon default and request for sale, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will offer for sale at public auction 203 S. 4th Street, Room 209, Oakland, Maryland, on February 17, 2012, at 2:00 p.m.

all that property described in said Deed of Trust as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN TRACT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND AND PREMISES SITUATE, LYING AND BEING IN ELECTION DISTRICT NO. 16 OF GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, LYING ALONG THE EASTERN MARGIN OF L STREET, TOWN OF MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, AND BEING PART OF TOWN LOT NO. 1248 THAT RUNS ALONG THE NORTHWESTERN MARGIN OF GLADE DRIVE

The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, easements, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the subject property, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit in the form of cashier's or certified check, or in such other form as the Substitute Trustees may determine, at their sole discretion, for $17,000.00 at the time of sale. If the noteholder and/or servicer is the successful bidder, the deposit requirement is waived. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid within fifteen (15) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for GARRETT COUNTY, Maryland. Interest is to be paid on the unpaid purchase price at the rate of 8% per annum from date of sale to the date the funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees, if the property is purchased by an entity other than the noteholder and/or servicer. If payment of the balance does not occur within fifteen days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event settlement is delayed for any reason. Taxes, ground rent, water rent, and all other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale, and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Condominium fees and/or homeowners association dues, if any, shall be assumed by the purchaser from the date of sale. The purchaser shall be responsible for the payment of the ground rent escrow, if required. The purchaser is responsible for any amount in excess of $250.00 for outstanding water bills, if any, incurred prior to the date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, and all settlement charges shall be borne by the purchaser. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the deposit to the purchaser. Upon refund of the deposit, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustees. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the property immediately after the sale.

The above-described property (the "Property") being all the same property which was conveyed by the Grantor by the Mortgage dated and recorded as aforesaid.

TERMS OF SALE: The Property is being sold and will be conveyed free and clear of the lien of the above-referenced Mortgage and all subordinate liens and encumbrances. The Property is being sold and will be conveyed "As Is, Where Is", without recourse, together with and subject to all applicable conditions, restrictions, covenants, limitations, rights of way, streets, alleys, reservations, easements, and appurtenances of record and subject also to all environmental conditions affecting the Property, if any. The undersigned Assignee makes no warranties or representations, express or implied, with respect to any matters concerning the Property, included but not limited to, condition of the Property, matters of survey or title, tenancies or parties in possession, zoning compliance, housing or other governmental or regulatory violations, etc.

A deposit of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) (the "Deposit") will be required at the time of sale in cash or by certified check or other form of payment acceptable to the undersigned Assignee in the said Assignee's sole discretion; the balance to be paid upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland; except that no deposit shall be required of the holder of the note secured by the Mortgage (or any controlled affiliate of the holder; collectively hereinafter the "Holder") where the Holder bids on the Property at the sale and payment of the purchase price by the Holder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Mortgage. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of Court ratification, and at the rate of twenty percent (20%) per annum from the date of Court ratification to the date of settlement. No interest shall accrue on the Deposit. If the successful bidder (the "Purchaser") fails to make settlement within fifteen (15) days following the date of Court ratification, time being of the essence thereto, the entire Deposit may, at the option of the undersigned Assignee, be forfeited and retained as liquidated damages and notice of said forfeiture shall be provided to the Purchaser by the Assignee. If the Deposit is not forfeited as liquidated damages, but is instead retained by the Assignee in escrow pending resale of the Property, the Property may be resold by the Assignee at the risk and expense of the defaulting Purchaser, and the Deposit thereafter shall be applied as required to any subsequently realized loss of the Assignee by virtue of the default by the said Purchaser and the required resale of the Property including any expenses incidental thereto. All taxes, water, and other public charges and assessments shall be pro-rated on and as of the date of said sale and shall be assumed thereafter by the Purchaser. Following the date of sale, all risk of loss to the Property shall be assumed by the Purchaser. The Purchaser shall pay the cost of all recordation taxes, transfer taxes (including but not limited to that agricultural land transfer tax imposed by Maryland Tax Property Code §13-302; which said tax may be applicable to the sale and transfer of the Property), document preparation and other costs of settlement. Any and all rents due and payable after the date of sale (but excluding any rents due and payable through the date of sale) from leases of all or any portion of the Property will be received and held by the Assignee as an accommodation only for the benefit of purchaser pending closing with all of said rents to be credited to purchaser at closing without interest thereon or deduction therefrom. Notwithstanding the immediately preceding sentence, nothing therein contained shall be construed to oblige the Assignee affirmatively to collect said rents. As an express condition of sale, the Purchaser shall be required to execute at the time of sale a Assignee's Auction Contract for Sale of Real Property in that form which shall be available for inspection on the date of sale or which may be inspected in advance upon request to the undersigned Assignee or on-line at http://www.schlosslaw.com/docs/wade.contract.pdf. The Purchaser shall be entitled to physical possession of the Property only after settlement; however, the Assignee assumes no responsibility to place the Purchaser in such possession of the Property. The undersigned specifically reserves the right to reject any bids submitted. The Assignee reserves the right at the sale to vary, modify, alter or qualify any of the foregoing terms or conditions of sale.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, on January 9, 2012, adopted a Resolution for the amendment of its Charter.

The following is a fair summary of the amendments to the Charter, as provided for in Section 13(e) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, as amended.

CHARTER AMENDMENT RESOLUTION NO. 2012-1

A RESOLUTION OF THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL OF FRIENDSVILLE adopted pursuant to the authority of Section 13(e) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, to Amend the Charter of the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville as adopted on September 10, 2007, by the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, by amending, Article 1, Section 101 of the current Charter and adding Section 7-109, entitled "Sales of Real Property"; said amendments enabling the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville to sell certain parcels of real property, held in trust or by proprietary capacity, when said real property has been has been found, by a Resolution of the Town Council, to be no longer needed for any public purpose of the Town of Friendsville. Article I, Section 101, of the Charter of the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville shall be repealed in its entirety and re-enacted to include the following words "may dispose of or sell such property, whether held in trust or in the Town's proprietary capacity, when necessary for the benefit of said corporation, and all of the property and funds of every kind belonging to the said corporation are vested in the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville." Article 7, Section 109, is added, granting power and authority to the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville to sell, for good and valuable consideration, any real property titled to the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, whether held in trust or in the Town's proprietary capacity, when such real property is deemed by the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville by a duly adopted Resolution that the Town of Friendsville would be better served by the sale of certain property located within the Town, when the same is no longer needed for any public purpose or that the sale is in the best interests of the Town and/or its citizens due to financial considerations; and empowering the Mayor and Town Council to pass all such ordinances as may be necessary to fully effectuate the provisions of this Section.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT
NOTICE TO CREDITORS
NOTICE TO UNKNOWN HEIRS
Estate No. 11895

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ESTATE OF KATHRYN JEAN DONHAM

Notice is given that Randy L. Donham, 835 E. High Street, Oakland, MD 21550, was on January 24, 2012, appointed personal representative of the estate of Kathryn Jean Donham, who died on January 4, 2012, with a will.

Further information can be obtained by reviewing the estate file in the office of the Register of Wills or by contacting the personal representative or the attorney.

All persons having any objection to the appointment (or to the probate of the decedent's will) shall file their objections with the Register of Wills on or before the 24th day of July 2012.

Any person having a claim against the decedent must present the claim to the undersigned personal representative or file it with the Register of Wills with a copy to the undersigned on or before the earlier of the following dates:

(1) Six months from the date of the decedent's death, except if the decedent died before October 1, 1992, nine months from the date of the decedent's death; or

(2) Two months after the personal representative mails or otherwise delivers to the creditor a copy of this published notice or other written notice, notifying the creditor that the claim will be barred unless the creditor presents the claims within two months from the mailing or other delivery of the notice. Any claim not presented or filed within that time, or any extension provided by law, is unenforceable thereafter. Claim forms may be obtained from the Register of Wills.

A PROPER FAREWELL – The life of Rev. John A. Grant was remembered and celebrated Tuesday in a final farewell, involving hundreds of mourners. Grant, a well-known historian and Episcopal priest, died Friday at the age of 88. A veteran of World War II and a graduate of West Virginia University, Grant came to be one of the most articulate and well-informed historians of the local area, serving as editor of the Glades Star, the journal of local history published by the Garrett County Historical Society, for 19 years. Grant was also an active member of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department, the American Legion, the Oakland Masonic Lodge 192 AF&AM, the Scottish Rite, Ali Ghan Shrine in Cumberland, and clan chief of the Ali Ghan Pipes and Drums. In the funeral procession Tuesday, more representatives of organizations touched by Grant were present, and are visible above. The Deer Park firefighters followed the casket on Oakland's "Old Number 1," which is now housed in the county's new Transportation Museum (the yellow building on the right of the street), in which Grant was involved. He was a charter member of the Garrett Highlands Pipes and Drums, with whom he played the bagpipe for over 30 years. That group preceded the fire truck, as shown. St. Matthew's Episcopal Church is at center, where the reverend served as rector for many years. He was also vicar of St. John's in Deer Park and Our Father's House at Altamont. As was noted at the ceremony, Grant lived a full and active life, giving freely of himself and his abilities. Photo by John McEwen.

GC Lawmakers Will Not Submit Union Bargaining Bills

Sen. George Edwards and Del. Wendell Beitzel will not pursue a legislative request by the Board of Garrett County Commissioners that would mandate collective bargaining for Garrett County Roads Department employees currently represented by the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, Council 67, Local 1834.

By a vote of 2 to 1, the commissioners asked the local lawmakers during a meeting on Dec. 20, 2011, to submit bills in the current Maryland General Assembly session that would allow for collective bargaining.

The county has informally recognized the union and conducted collective bargaining on a voluntary basis since the 1970s. Commissioners Jim Raley and Bob Gatto indicated during the December meeting that mandated collective bargaining would offer the roads workers some protection and job security, regardless of who held county or state offices.

Commissioner Gregan Crawford opposed the collective bargaining issue.

Raley acknowledged during the December meeting that a local resolution would need to be written that talked about some of the "nitty gritty" details between the union and the county, including such issues as membership requirements and strikes.

Edwards and Beitzel informed the commissioners in a letter dated Jan. 30 that they would not introduce the proposed legislation.

"During the Dec. 20, 2011, meeting when this request was first made, the delegation was informed by Chairman

Commissioners Issue Statement On Board Of Education Funding Issue

The Garrett County commissioners issued a statement during their public session on Tuesday concerning the local Board of Education's fiscal year 2013 funding woes. About 50 local residents turned out to hear the announcement.

Commission board chair Jim Raley prefaced the statement reading by noting that he and the other two commissioners have attended all the BOE public hearings regarding the possible closures of Dennett Road, Friendsville, and Kitzmiller elementary schools.

"It is important to understand that while the state of Maryland has cut funding to education in Garrett County due to the wealth factor formula and the declining student population, the county has increased funding in excess of requirements known as the maintenance of effort by $860,000," Commissioner Gregan Crawford read from the statement. "In fiscal year 2012, the Board of Education funding level was reduced by the state by $1.5 million, while Garrett County increased funding by $1.7 million, which is equivalent to all new tax revenue due the county."

The commissioners noted that they recognize the serious financial situation that the BOE faces and that closing schools requires complex decisions that will have long-term implications on communities.

"The commissioners also recognize and emphasize that the issue and actions regarding school budgets, closure of schools, and the overall decisions about our school system rest in the elected members of the Board of Education," Crawford read. "Any action on the part of the board of commissioners as the funding sources is not intended to usurp their difficult decisions."

The statement notes that Garrett County government has also experienced a financial shortfall and that there are numerous challenges to securing funding for public services for residents, property owners, and visitors.

"Initial estimates reveal that the county real estate values have declined for FY 2012 and likely will result in a loss of $1.4 million in revenues to the county," Crawford read. "Therefore, we are willing and open to increase county government's financial appropriation to the Garrett County public school system, but are unable to provide a solid figure at this time, due to several variables."

In the mean time, he indicated, the commissioners will do the following:

• Encourage the BOE to review retirement incentives in order to encourage retirements that will allow for the reduction of staff numbers without eliminating the jobs of new employees.

BOE To Hold Its Monthly Meeting At Southern Middle

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting at Southern Middle School on Tuesday, Feb. 14, beginning at 4 p.m.

Following public comment at 4 p.m., the board will meet in closed session until 6 p.m. At that time, public agenda items will involve information on the revised timeline projections for school closures and the Student Education Planning Guide revisions. Action is planned to be taken on the school system's retirement incentive opportunity.

The First LEGO League and the 2011 Christmas card designer will be recognized at 6:30 p.m.

At 7 p.m., the board will again hear public comment. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Land Management Session Postponed

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners will postpone and reschedule their land use management work session that was announced and planned for Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 1:30 p.m.

Because of legislative requirements and additional time for staff to conduct research, the session will need to be rescheduled at a date and time to be determined, county administrator Monty Pagenhardt noted.

Beitzel, Edwards Introduce Bills Of Local Importance

Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R–Dist. 1A) announced this week that he has filed several bills in the Maryland General Assembly that directly affect Garrett and Allegany counties.

House Bill 660, a bill that would cap the losses of state funding for education incurred by local governments, has been assigned to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Beitzel said this bill is important in light of the 11.8 percent proposed cut included in Gov. Martin O'Malley's FY 2013 budget for Garrett County schools. A similar bill, Senate Bill 586, was filed by Sen. George C. Edwards (R–Dist. 1).

"The children of Garrett County deserve quality education," Beitzel said. "These cuts proposed by the governor severely hamper the BOE's ability to adequately

CitizenShale Praises Sen. Edwards' Proposed Natural Gas Impact Fund

A local organization active in efforts to reform natural gas leasing in Maryland praised Sen. George Edwards this week for his proposal of a "Natural Gas Impact Fund," which the state could use to pay for environmental issues associated with gas exploration and drilling.

The bill Edwards introduced, SB 768, would direct state agencies charged with regulating gas-drilling to make allocations from the impact fund for remediation in Garrett and Allegany counties "not attributable to a specific company at a specific site."

Funding would come from a 2.5 percent severance tax, or production tax, on gas at the well-head, once a well is connected to a pipeline.

"We are encouraged not only by the efforts of Del. [Wendell] Beitzel and Sen. Edwards to secure much-needed protections for those who lease land for shale gas development, but it is also very gratifying to see the senator recognize our environment's importance," said CitizenShale acting director Natalie Atherton.

The 2.5 percent state tax would augment another 5.5 percent county production tax already in place in Garrett (and being proposed for Allegany) County. Atherton said the total 8 percent tax would put Maryland's rate "in the middle of the pack" nationally, and roughly equal to that of West Virginia. Pennsylvania lawmakers continue to grapple with impact fees, but the gas industry has avoided all severance taxes, according to Atherton.

Maryland law also gives state regulators the authority to impose impact fees for costs and risks associated with drilling, such as damage to roads and the need for additional enforcement. State agencies are in the process of developing those fees; announcements are expected

Public Hearings Slated For Local Lawmakers' Bills

Public hearings have been scheduled in Annapolis for several bills introduced by local lawmakers during the Maryland General Assembly session.

The Senate Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee reviewed Sen. George Edwards' SB 331 today. This bill would allow local jurisdictions to "opt out" of the state requirement that sprinkler systems be installed in manufactured homes.

The Senate Budget and Taxation Committee will hold a hearing on Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 1 p.m. for Edwards' SB 332. This proposed legislation would exempt the state's Family Security Trust Fund from a requirement that specified interest accrue to the General Fund.

Del. Wendell Beitzel's HB 402 will be reviewed by the House Environmental Matters Committee on Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 1 p.m. This bill would require a court order that terminates a dormant mineral interest to identify specified information, and require a clerk of the court who issued the order to record it in the land records.

That committee will also hold a hearing for Beitzel's HB 403 on Thursday, Feb. 16, at 1 p.m. This bill would prohibit a clerk of court from recording an instrument that affects a specified real prop-

Senator Edwards Receives Thomas Kennedy Award

The Maryland House of Delegates yesterday bestowed one of its highest honors, the Thomas Kennedy Award, on Sen. George C. Edwards for his many years of dedicated service to the people of Maryland.

"It really is a great honor to receive the Thomas Kennedy Award, which is presented to a former member of the House of Delegates for personal courage and dedication to the principles of liberty and freedom," Edwards said.

Edwards began his career in public service with his election to the town council of Grantsville in 1972. He also served as Garrett County commissioner from 1974 to 1987.

He was elected to the House of Delegates in 1983 and was minority leader of the House from 2003 to 2006. In 2006, he was elected to the

GC Officials Still Reviewing ASCI Issue, Stress County Will Not Take On Its Debt

The Garrett County commissioners announced this week that they are still reviewing the Adventure Sports International Center (ASCI) debt issue. They met in executive session last month with the ASCI board members to discuss the legal implications of the not-for-profit organization's decision to default on $3 million of capital debt.

"We are continuing to work on this matter," Commissioner Jim Raley told a group of about 50 residents who attended the public meeting on Tuesday morning. "We will be meeting with legal counsel to continue a dialogue and a discussion with this matter."

Located on Marsh Mountain, ASCI facilities include a self-contained man-made whitewater course and 550 acres in the Fork Run Recreational Area. ASCI became operational in 2006 through public (federal/state/county) and private sector funds amounting to about $24 million. During the construction phase, however, the organization borrowed millions of dollars from Susquehanna and First United banks to address unanticipated costs.

The ASCI board discussed the issue with the commissioners in January and presented them with a resolution.

"The offer by ASCI, as reflected in the resolution, included an offer to convey all of ASCI's facilities, assets, and operations to the county," Raley read from a prepared statement. "The county has taken this matter under advisement, and the transfer of proprietary ownership would not be considered or undertaken if the existing debt obligations remained."

Raley stressed, however,

RAM TAKES SECOND PLACE IN NATIONAL ESSAY CONTEST – Southern High sophomore Rachael Huxford was recently named second place winner in the national division of the InvestWrite essay contest. As one of only three winners selected from among numerous student entries from across the nation, Huxford will receive a new laptop, as well as a pizza party for her class. The contest, which is sponsored by the Securities Industry Financial Markets Association Foundation, is a companion piece for students competing in the Stock Market Game academic competition. Lisa Bender, an economics teacher at SHS, uses the essay contest as a summative assessment for all of her students who have studied the securities industry. "Last year," said Bender, "we had the top InvestWrite essay in the state, with Brandi Lathbury winning that honor. This year we have a national winner. It's really great to see students raise their investment IQ with this writing contest, and having winners at the state and national level is exciting for our school." Huxford will be recognized by the Maryland General Assembly on Wednesday, Feb. 15, and will receive her new computer at a ceremony in Timonium, May 30, sponsored by the Maryland Council for Economic Education. Pictured above, from left, are Brooks Elliot (SHS assistant principal), Huxford, and Bender.

TIME FOR SOME ICE ART – The fifth annual Winter Fest will take place in downtown Oakland Feb. 17-19. Bill Sandusky and his ice carving company, Frozen Assets, will arrive in town next week to begin the artistic work, that of creating a wide array of ice sculptures to be displayed throughout town, and lit at night for as long as they remain frozen. A great number of activities and events are slated for Saturday, Feb. 18, downtown, such as wine tasting, snowman building, s'mores making, and, if the weather allows, snowmobile races. More activities will take place Sunday, which will end with Sandusky's carving of his own tribute to the festival. There is a "toddler photo" contest that will begin next week at Marvin's (see separate story) as well, with the winners to be announced Saturday. Sandusky and his staff will carve ice for audiences to watch. There will be ice-bowling and sliding, and kids can sit on a giant throne of ice. For a complete schedule of events, persons may go to www.oaklandwinterfest.com. There will be "something for everyone" at this celebration of winter. Photo (at last year's event) by John McEwen.

March 2 Is Last Day To File For Oakland Election

The town of Oakland recently announced that Monday, Feb. 27, at 4 p.m. will be the final date for filing for office in the town's municipal election, set for March 12. Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Terms expire for Mayor Peggy Jamison and council members Elmar "Butch" Redinger, John "Jack" Rickman, and Sherwin Teagarden. Other council members currently serving are Harvey "Jay" Moyer, Jack Riley, and Ryan Wolf.

Two Charged With Possession By GC Sheriff's Deputies

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested two drivers on CDS possession charges this past weekend. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to Denny's parking lot Sunday evening on an arrest warrant charging Jordan Lee Hanlin with the unlawful taking of a motor vehicle, second-degree assault, and unauthorized removal of property. He was additionally charged with driving without a license, possession other than marijuana, and possession of paraphernalia. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail, where he is being held on $7,000 bond.

In a separate incident, deputies stopped a 2005 Pontiac Grand Am early Monday morning at the intersection of Church Lane and Oakland Drive for not having rear tag lights and expired tags. Driver Autumn Diane Dumire, 24, Colorado Springs, Colo., was additionally charged with possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana paraphernalia. She was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

FIRST UNITED PRESENTS CHECK TO UNITED WAY – First United Bank and Trust recently presented an additional check for $500 to the United Way of Garrett County from proceeds of piggy banks sold during a promotion this past summer. All proceeds were donated to United Way to benefit the citizens of Garrett County with human service needs, plus school and summer programs. Presenting the check to Mary Beth Pirolozzi, executive director for United Way (center) are Robin Murray (left) and Phi Rodeheaver (right) of First United Bank and Trust. The bank is a major corporate partner with United Way, sponsoring an annual golf tournament for United Way of Garrett County, as well as supporting employee contributions through payroll deductions. This year's United Way campaign goal is $110,000, with $80,000 raised so far, according to Pirolozzi. "Critical services and programs depend on support from businesses and individuals," she said. "It is the 'Power of the Dollar' per pay that can really make a difference and serve so many. Your money stays in your community and is tax-deductible. Support your local United Way by sending a donation to United Way of Garrett County, P.O. Box 394, Oakland, MD 21550.

Community Input Sought For Health Improvement Plan

Garrett County officials are currently working to update the Local Health Improvement Plan (LHIP) that was adopted in 2008 after a 18-month process involving more than 100 community members. As with the former process, referred to as the MAPP (Mobilizing for Action through Planning and Partnerships) process, the success of the current planning efforts will be dependent on community involvement, according to a spokesperson.

The Garrett County Health Planning Council is taking the lead with the LHIP, with staffing and direction provided by the Garrett County Health Department and Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Council members and additional community members are already working on the project, but are seeking broader community participation.

Currently, the Health Planning Council has been divided into five workgroups that are meeting to review, update, and revise the previous health improvement plan. These workgroups and their upcoming meetings are as follows:

Fragile Systems Workgroup. The goal of this group is to strengthen and support those components of the public health system that are fragile because of funding, workforce capacity, demographic shifts, and other issues. Fragile systems currently being considered include home health services, workforce development, prescription services, emergency medical services, and dental health services. The next scheduled meeting of this workgroup is Tuesday, Feb. 21, at 1:30 p.m. at the Garrett County Health Department Conference Room.

Vulnerable Populations Workgroup. The goal of this group is to achieve and maintain optimal health and independence for vulnerable populations. Those populations currently being considered include the aging, disabled, economically disadvantaged, and mentally ill. The next scheduled meeting of this workgroup is Friday, Feb. 10, at 8 a.m. at Mountain Laurel Medical Center.

Healthy Lifestyles. This group's goal is to empower, educate, and motivate Garrett County residents to lead a healthful lifestyle and prevent harmful behaviors. Lifestyle issues currently being considered include healthful eating; physical activity; alcohol, tobacco and other drug prevention; and the prevention of domestic violence. The next scheduled meeting of this workgroup is Thursday, Feb. 16, at 8:30 a.m. at the Garrett County Health Department Conference Room.

Environmental Health. This workgroup will be working to ensure healthful living and working conditions for Garrett County residents by protecting and increasing natural and built resources as the population grows. Environmental Health issues currently being considered are safe homes; growth and development; and preservation, protection, and conservation. The next scheduled meeting of this workgroup is Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 8:30 a.m. at the Garrett County Health Department Conference Room.

Data Review. The newly formed Data Review Workgroup is tasked with reviewing objectives from the list of state health improvement objectives that are not addressed through the existing workgroups. This includes data about immunization, infectious diseases, healthy babies, and healthy families. The next scheduled meeting of this workgroup is Thursday, Feb. 16, at 1 p.m., at a location yet to be determined. Persons may contact Kendra McLaughlin at 301-334-7730 for the location.

The current efforts to update the Garrett County Health Improvement Plan are supported by the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) which has launched a State Health Improvement Process (SHIP) to define health priorities within the state. Thirty-nine health objectives have been identified, and each county is to prioritize those objectives for its county's health improvement plan. Of the SHIP objectives, Garrett County is comparable to or better than the state average in 31 of the 39 objectives, according to a health department spokesperson.

Inversely, Garrett County ranks worse than the state average in the following eight objectives: Youth tobacco use, heart disease mortality, adult seasonal flu vaccine rate, adult tobacco use, child/adolescent obesity, adults without health insurance, adult overweight/obesity, and life expectancy.

These health objectives will be incorporated into the Garrett County plan, the spokesperson said.

To find out more about the state or local planning process or to participate in the process, persons may visit the Garrett County Health Improvement Plan web site at www.garretthealth.org/ship.html; attend the next scheduled meeting of any of the workgroups, or the next session of the Health Planning Council, which will meet Thursday, Feb. 23, at 8 a.m. in the Conference Room of the Garrett County Health Department; or contact McLaughlin at the number noted above.

PARTNERS PARTICIPATE IN CIVIL RIGHTS ACTIVITIES – Partners After School participants in Accident and Grantsville recently gathered together at Accident Elementary School to hear the story of one woman's fight to ensure equal rights for all Americans. Joan C. Browning shared her journey as a nonviolent supporter of civil rights with the gathering of students, beginning with her 1961 Freedom Ride in Georgia to challenge the state segregation laws through her opportunity to meet Oprah Winfrey and President Barack Obama on the 50th anniversary of the Freedom Ride movement. To better understand the culture of segregation in the South during the early 1960s, students were arbitrarily divided into two different "races" and led through a series of everyday activities to underscore the challenges people faced in a segregated society. "Normal occurrences such as drinking from a water fountain, choosing a place to sit, and even finding a restroom were surprisingly complicated by these new segregation rules at the after-school," said a spokesperson. Upon hearing stories relating to equal rights from Browning and after-school staff members, participants were encouraged to share their thoughts and experiences about past and current challenges to equal treatment for all people, and brainstormed on nonviolent ways they could stand up for the rights of others when they witness injustice. As a 19-year-old college student, Browning participated in a Freedom Ride on the Central Georgia Railroad, where she and other participants challenged the recently overturned state segregation laws. She and her companions were arrested and incarcerated for their involvement, but continued to challenge segregation laws upon their release. Browning's visit was sponsored by the Governor's Office on Service and Volunteerism and hosted by Garrett County AmeriCorps. Her tour also included presentations at Garrett College and Terra Alta East Preston School. Tyler Schlossnagle, Partners After School @ Accident participant shown above, researches civil rights information with Browning (left) and Sandy Miller, AmeriCorps supervisor.

Annual St. Jude Math-A-Thon Begins At Broad Ford Elementary

The annual St. Jude Math-A-Thon® event began this week at Broad Ford Elementary. The Oakland community can sponsor students participating in the Math-A-Thon by pledging an amount-per-problem or a one-time donation.

Nickelodeon Stars host in Math-A-Thon videos to encourage students to participate in this program, which helps raise funds for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, the premier center for the research and treatment of childhood cancer and other deadly diseases.

"St. Jude is the leader in the fight against catastrophic childhood diseases such as leukemia, brain tumors, and sickle cell disease," said principal Dawna Ashby, coordinator of the event. "Through events like this Math-A-Thon, Oakland will be supporting the St. Jude mission of finding cures and saving children across the country and around the world."

A tradition for more than 30 years, Math-A-Thon is a supplemental math education program for grades K–8 that raises funds for the research and treatment of childhood diseases at St. Jude. Through programs like Math-A-Thon, the idea of St. Jude founder Danny Thomas to raise funds for the hospital through community-based events is able to continue.

Participating students receive a Funbook that is filled with math problems and puzzles, and they ask family and friends for pledges based on an amount-per-problem or a one-time donation. After students complete their Funbooks, they collect the pledges and donations from their sponsors. All proceeds are sent to St. Jude.

Broad Ford's Math-A-Thon event is sponsored by the math teachers at the school. Last year, students raised over $5,500 during Math-A-Thon. A total of over $43,000 has been raised by Broad Ford students throughout all the years of the school's participation.

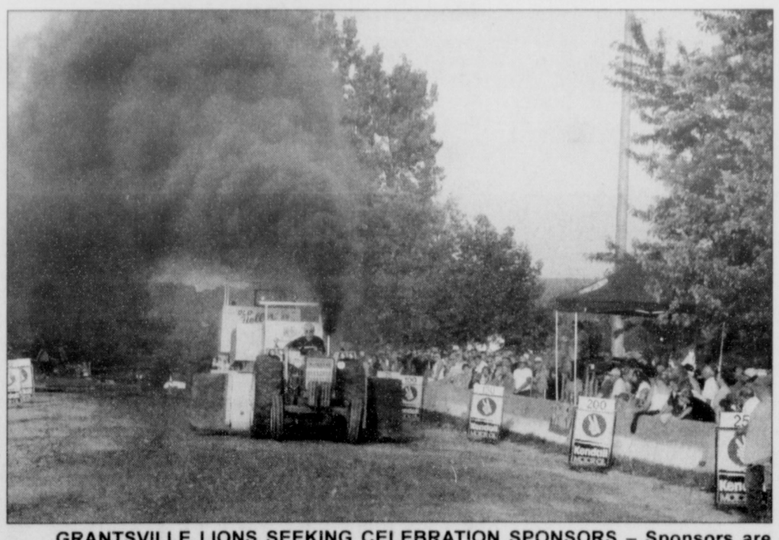
Planning Begun For G'Ville Days; Sponsors Needed



GRANTSVILLE LIONS SEEKING CELEBRATION SPONSORS – Sponsors are currently being sought for the 35th annual Grantsville Days celebration, slated for June 22–24. Coordinated by the Grantsville Lions Club, activities will include live entertainment, a parade, and garden tractor, truck, and farm tractor (pictured) pulling contests. See story.

Planning is well under way for the 35th annual Grantsville Days celebration, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 22, 23, and 24, according to event chairman/ Lions Club secretary Gerry Beachy. He noted that sponsors are needed for several of this year's events, including entertainment, fireworks, and the garden tractor, farm tractor, and truck pulling contests.

Coordinated by the Grantsville Lions Club, donations can be sent to Grantsville Lions Club, P.O. Box 450, Grantsville, MD 21536. Pledges are also now being accepted at gbeachy@verizon.net or by U.S. mail, with donations needed by June 1.

Because of support from local businesses, all the events are free. Brochures and posters will soon be printed, listing the names of all sponsors and the schedule of events.

Persons interested in becoming a sponsor are asked to contact Beachy at the above address or by calling 301-895-5387.

Groups booked for entertainment this year include Solid Gold, the Davisson Brothers, and the Fabulous Hubcaps.

Solid Gold is a well-known doo-wop band from Cumberland that is scheduled to perform on Saturday afternoon.

The Davisson Brothers are from Clarksburg, W.Va. A sampling of their music can be found at www.davissonbrothersband.com. Included on the site is "Here Come the Mountaineers," the band's hit song that is played at West Virginia University football games.

The Davisson Brothers will perform during Grantsville Days on Saturday evening before the fireworks.

The Fabulous Hubcaps will perform once again on Sunday afternoon More information about the group is available at www.thehubcaps.com.

"The group performed last year at Grantsville Days, with a huge crowd in attendance," Beachy noted.

Performing on Friday night and during the day on Saturday and Sunday will be local DJ Jimmy Beitzel.

"The town of Grantsville has been working on getting a grant for a new stage to be installed before Grantsville Days, making the entertainment even better than last year's 34th annual event," Beachy said.

Again this year, there will be local, nonprofit food booths, and craft, novelty, and display booths.

"Booth applications will soon be sent out to the groups having booths last year," Beachy said.

Booth applications may be requested by sending an e-mail to gbeachy@verizon.net or by calling 301-895-5387.

Fireworks donation letters have been sent out for the Friday and Saturday night displays, according to Beachy.

There will also be a garden tractor pulling contest on Saturday morning, followed by a farm tractor contest later in the day. A truck pulling contest will again be held on Sunday afternoon.

The Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department will coordinate the parade again this year. There will be trophies and cash prizes for winning parade entries. The parade will be held again this year on Friday night, before all the activities at the Grantsville Park, including the fireworks display.

"Watch the news for the final schedule of events to be published in early June and on the Grantsville Days web site," Beachy said.

He noted that the Grantsville Lions Club has coordinated Grantsville Days for many years.

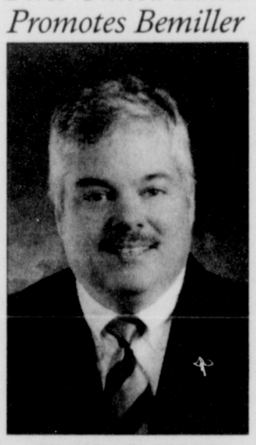
"All the money raised by the Lions is given back to the community in the form of eye exams and glasses to the needy," he said. "Money is also given to research facilities to work on cures for blindness. The club provides scholarships for Northern High School graduates and supports research for the cure for diabetes, a major cause of blindness."

Membership in the Grantsville Lions Club is by invitation. Persons who would like information about joining the club can request a brochure by e-mail or pick one up at various Grantsville businesses.

"A new web site is being developed where you will be able to see more of what the Lions are doing in the Grantsville community," Beachy added.

For more information, persons may contact him at 301-895-5387 or gbeachy@verizon.net.

First United Bank Promotes Bemiller



TRACY BEMILLER

William B. Grant, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of First United Bank & Trust, has announced the promotion of Tracy Bemiller to senior vice president and senior lending officer.

"We are very excited to have Tracy in his new role as senior vice president and senior lending officer here at First United," Grant said. "He brings a wealth of experience in serving community oriented businesses and underwriting credit."

Bemiller has over 22 years of banking experience. Starting his financial career in 1989, he has held the positions of branch manager, cluster manager, business banker, commercial lender, and regional credit officer.

He is a graduate of Mount St. Mary's University in Emmitsburg, where he obtained his bachelor of science degree in business. Bemiller then went on to receive master of business administration and master of finance degrees from Loyola University in Maryland.

He resides in Mountain Lake Park with his wife Casey. They have four children: Erica, Brent, Todd, and Tristen.

Bemiller serves as the president of the Oakland Rotary Club. His interests include camping, baseball, football, history, and travel.

Here's a Suggestion...

It has been several weeks now since Sue Waggoner, acting superintendent of schools, announced a proposal to close three elementary schools in the county as part of a plan to address the board's budget deficit – time enough to consider the proposal and its various ramifications, and now write some opinions in response.

While some citizens allege mismanagement of school funds and top-heavy administration, there is little evidence to support such claims. The real crux of the problem is the continuing decline in the number of students in the county. State funding is provided on a per capita basis and, like it or not, a state "wealth" formula – a formula that needs to be revised, but that topic has been addressed in previous editorials. The loss of a single student means a loss of several thousand dollars for education.

Most of the schools in our county were built to accommodate more students than we now have enrolled in those schools. Thus, our school buildings are under utilized, but still must be heated, maintained, etc. To continue to operate the same number of schools at, say, only 60-70% of capacity – as many are right now – would indeed become a mismanagement of funds. So the closure of some of our schools, as painful as it may be, is both necessary and justifiable.

However, it is impossible and unfeeling to totally ignore the potentially devastating effect that school closures have on some of our smaller communities. In towns such as Kitzmiller and Friendsville, the community school is literally the heart of the town, and even though the survival of our towns is not the responsibility of the board of education, the decision to close a community school is no less painful.

Much of the school budget is funded with county money, which is under the control of the county commissioners, so they are in a tough spot. Yes, the board of education and not the board of commissioners has the ultimate authority to close schools, but the commissioners control how much county money is awarded to the board of education.

Of the three schools in question, the most logical and least painful closure would be Dennett Road Elementary. The school building is, and has been for a couple decades, in need of millions of dollars of renovation. Secondly, the "uprooting" of the children and staff there would take a minimal toll, as the two primary schools which would absorb the students are located less than a mile away, meaning the bus ride for these kids would be no longer than it is now.

So here is a suggestion for the board of education to consider: Close Dennett Road (saving an estimated $1.2 million), and keep both Kitzmiller and Friendsville open, at least for another couple years. Transfer some Swanton area children currently enrolled at Broad Ford School to Kitzmiller to bolster that population and avoid overcrowding at Broad Ford. (Their travel distance to school would not change much.) Consider redrawing the lines for Friendsville School so that incoming pre-K or K students would attend Friendsville instead of Accident, again, not much change in distance. It is recognized that any upheaval of students is somewhat traumatic and undesirable, yet at least some upheaval is inevitable, and this plan would minimize that for the majority of students.

By not closing Kitzmiller and Friendsville, the board of education would still need to find about $950,000, the amount that would be realized from their closures. That's where our local and state elected officials will have to step in. Senator Edwards and Delegate Beitzel have some pending legislation that, if passed, would help with that.

Again, this is a difficult situation for board of education personnel, the commissioners, students, and parents, but it appears that, in spite of it all, our educators are doing all they can under these complicated circumstances to keep the top-notch education of our kids at the very top of the priority list.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

In view of the proposed school closings, I would like to ask that our government officials please have compassion in regard to our children. I am a mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. I live in Friendsville and my children and grandchildren attended Friendsville Elementary, and now my great-grandchildren attend the elementary school.

We are a generational community. We take pride in our children, our schools, and in our whole community. We are a close-knit, stable community – small, some would say, but we honor and appreciate the small – the children especially. They are being taught by great teachers, who instill in them knowledge and great dreams. I know that young men and women with great dreams are powerful. They have a vision. Why take this from them?

Please invest in them the opportunity to go to school in the town they are growing up in.

Kind regards,
Darlene M. Coddington

To the Editor:

I'm writing to bring up a problem in our area that I think is getting a bit out of hand – speeding. I can't go from my house to work without being passed on a double-lined road, or seeing a speed limit sign that is spray-painted over.

Case in point: If the person who struck my 2-year-old, 40-pound dog early last month had been driving at the speed limit of 30 mph, it probably would not have shattered the fender into several pieces and ripped the inner wheel entirely off. Nor would that car have been able to speed off and get out of sight before my wife or I even knew what happened.

In the driver's defense, the nearest speed limit sign had been spray-painted. Apparently a vandalized road sign is the county's way of allowing drivers to behave like Dale Earnhardt for a few moments. This, I wasn't aware of.

Please understand that by no means am I placing blame. I understand that my dog should not have been in the road. She is my responsibility. But the fact is, laws are being broken, and as a result, we are all at risk.

I am young (early 20s). I had a car with a loud exhaust at one time. I thought it was pretty cool. I don't recall, however, believing that the roads were my personal race track. I also wasn't ever under the impression that my spoiler was there to let people know that laws did not apply to me.

I realize everyone has somewhere to be. Everyone is on the run, 24/7. But how about trying this, if even just for one day: Leave your house a bit earlier. That way you can actually drive the speed limit, and still arrive at your destination on time. You might even have time to actually stop and at least check on that dog you hit on your way... rather than leaving her in the road.

To the Editor:

This letter addresses the issue of collective bargaining for Garrett Country Roads Department employees written by Robert A. McIntire that was published on December 22, 2011.

The writer is correct, the county commissioners did vote for their employees to have the legal right to form a union. But the state delegation is having issues with people who want the freedom to form a union.

What puzzles the writer is clear to me – public employees have had their rights stripped away, their right to negotiating for wages, health care, and pensions. But in a country that was founded on freedom, the right of representation by an organization that the workers select seems to go against the principles that our forefathers built our country on.

State governments that are attacking our unions are where the richest people have a vested interest. The last thing they want is someone watching the hen house.

The writer speaks of the union members forming a potent voting bloc that could be a deciding factor in an election. Let me try to educate Mr. McIntire. AFSCME only supports working families' issues in Garrett County. For years we have supported both Democrats and Republicans, we support a living wage, we support the right to sit at the negotiating table and come up with an agreement both sides can live with. (Remember, Mr. McIntire, anyone can say No at the table.)

When AFSCME Local 1834 Garrett County roads employees give their support to a candidate it's because we think that person will be good for the county and fair to the employees. Mr. McIntire, I think that we should not suggest that any candidate would make promises before the election, which implies they're all dishonest.

The candidates you wrote about don't pay back with great health care and other expenses. Maybe you are referring to the employees' pension plan.

It sounds as if you are saying that county management is incompetent. Management has the right to discipline employees, but the employee should have a fair opportunity to appeal management's decision and the right to representation.

The union consists of our families and friends, who contribute to our community. How can we deny them representation?

Remember, a sweat shop should be a place to work out, not work in.

To the Editor:

The issue of county-wide zoning is a misdirection used as a distraction to hide political ineptitude and mischief in other more important areas like school closings, economic development, etc. Remember "the bears issue" that George Edwards used the same way while promoting the unpopular four-lane highway known as Continental One? Some of us saw through that and managed to squash "the Superhighway" (temporarily, at least).

The last time county-wide zoning was proposed, I spearheaded the effort to squash it and succeeded (temporarily, of course). As long as it remains an option, you can count on it being rolled out from time to time.

I propose that a voter referendum be put on the ballot for the people's decision. Wording of said referendum should be made through public meetings by the citizens of G.C.

Further, I propose a series of debates on this issue and hereby challenge any and all comers – any time, any place that is convenient for public attendance.

I also request that Del. Beitzel and Sen. Edwards take immediate steps to get this issue on the ballot.

Recently, Republican governor Chris Christie of New Jersey proposed a voter referendum (on a different issue) saying, "Let the people decide, and let's be governed by the people on this issue."

I say Hear! Hear! Here! Here!

To the Editor:

One step at a time...

Last week we showed that to take the contaminated liquid involved in the hydraulic fracturing of one well with one fracture from the wellhead to the disposal site, 600 trips may be required, and then 600 more trips required to return to the wellhead. Let us now refer to the emissions from the trucks.

I know that carbon monoxide (CO), carbon dioxide (CO_2), and sulfur dioxide (SO_2) are only a few of the chemicals emitted into the air from gas and diesel motors. The size of the motor, the manner by which it is driven, and the weight of the vehicle are only a few of the factors which reflect the amount of the emissions from the vehicle.

Let us only consider SO_2 and water (H_2O). The forms of H_2O that I am referring to are rain, mist, snow, and any other vapor in the air which falls eventually to the Earth, as does SO_2. As H_2O and SO_2 mix, acid is formed.

Here comes the math:

$H_2O + SO_2 = H_2SO_3$, or sulfurous acid.

As the SO_2 picks up additional oxygen in the atmosphere as it falls, then sulfur trioxide (SO_3) is formed. Now we have SO_3 and H_2O forming sulfuric acid (H_2SO_4), which is more caustic than sulfurous acid.

Acid is a corrosive agent and, as we know, can dull the finish on our cars and may adversely affect vegetation and cause health issues, such as respiratory ailments. Many cities and other areas have pollution indexes which at times caution people to stay indoors, especially if they have respiratory ailments or are very young.

In conclusion, the information that I have given here is factual, not emotional, and does not reflect my personal opinions concerning hydraulic fracturing.

Respectfully,
Jim Zimmerman

To the Editor:

On last week's front page of The Republican is a beautiful picture taken and submitted by Mrs. Deb Swiger, and although Oakland received only a little rain shower, it was still a rain shower. Therefore, the adage "Red sky at night, sailor's delight; red sky in the morning, sailors take warning" is true. It doesn't say how much rain will be received (or whatever foul weather). Not only is it an adage, but Jesus refers to it in Matthew 16. Thus, it's biblical, and what's biblical is true and should be believed, especially by Christians.

I question Joan Sussman's statement in "Notes from Bittinger" that it is "impossible for a whale to swallow a human being," and "impossible that Noah could have collected a breeding pair of every single species in the world and put them in a large boat." How can she believe in the virgin birth of Jesus and not these things? They are all biblical, so they are all accurate. Nothing is impossible with God. A Christian must accept the whole Bible and what it says. One can't accept one part and not another.

That's what is wrong with our nation these days, partially. Prayer has been removed from schools, and one can't put up anything that pertains to Jesus on one's porch, door, or window if renting a government-subsidized apartment. One can't talk about gay marriages being wrong, the Ten Commandments are being removed from government buildings, and so on.

I often wonder why U.S. presidents and other elected officials take an oath of office using a Bible, and why our money still has "In God We Trust" on it. A country founded on Christianity is losing the foundation it was built upon.

erty lease dealing in natural gas and oil unless the instrument is accompanied by a complete intake sheet.

The House Economic Matters Committee will review Beitzel's HB 222 and HB 223 on Monday, Feb. 27, 1 p.m. These bills were requested by the Garrett County Board of License Commissioners/Liquor Control Board. HB 222 would give the board the authority to revoke a license because of nudity or sexual displays at the licensed premise, as outlined in Article 2B § 10-405(j) (2).

HB 223 would would allow qualifying nonprofit holders of a Class C special beer, wine, or liquor license to purchase beer or wine from a wholesaler or retailer on the days permitted by their approved alcoholic beverage license issued by the board.

The Senate Budget and Taxation Committee will hold a hearing for Edwards' SB 333 on Wednesday, Feb. 22, at 1 p.m. This bill would give the Garrett County commissioners the authority to set the hotel rental tax rate limit at 6 percent. The current rate is 5 percent.

Raley that various issues must be worked out to address some of the questions and concerns raised by Del. Beitzel and that information would be forthcoming," the local lawmakers wrote in their letter. "However, after repeated attempts we did not receive the requested information. Some of the information generated was classified by Chairman Raley as privileged information protected by the attorney-client privilege.

"Due in part to these unanswered concerns, the members of the delegation did not reach a consensus regarding this matter. Therefore, we, the undersigned members of the Garrett County Delegation, have decided not to pursue the collective bargaining request. We will keep you informed of progress on pending legislation and very much look forward to working with you during this legislative session," Edwards and Beitzel concluded.

Cumberland Man Sentenced To 10 Years In Prison

A 24-year-old Cumberland man pleaded guilty this week in Garrett County Circuit Court to first degree burglary. Judge Gary Leasure sentenced Brent Kevin Myers to 10 years in the Division of Correction and then suspended five years of the sentence.

Myers and two other people were charged in connection with burglaries that occurred last year in Garrett County. One of Myers' co-defendents – Theresa Ann Turner, 56, Swanton, – also pleaded guilty in Circuit Court this week to first degree burglary as well as attempted first degree burglary. Related charges were dismissed upon her plea.

Judge Leasure ordered that a presentence investigation report be completed prior to sentencing, revoked Turner's bond, and remanded her to jail pending sentencing.

She was arrest and charged by investigators with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office last July for a series of burglaries at a Swanton-area residence. The homeowners reported entry into their home twice in early June. On both occasions, various items of personal property were stolen.

A security system later captured an image of Turner as she attempted to enter the home again in July, the state's attorney noted. Investigators obtained a search warrant for Turner's residence and located property stolen during the June burglaries. Turner admitted to officers her role in the three events and named a person who had been with her each time a burglary was committed in June.

Heather Renee Sager, 19, Cumberland, accompanied her the first time. Sager appeared in court last month, pleaded guilty, and is serving a sentence in the Garrett County Jail.

Myers had accompanied Turner to the home during the second burglary. Once he serves his sentence he will be on probation.

In other court proceedings this week, Jesse Alan Klink II, 18, Meyersdale, Pa., was sentenced to two years in the Division of Correction for a first degree burglary. All but one month of the sentence was suspended, and Klink will serve the balance in the Garrett County Jail.

He will then be on probation, with conditions that include payment of restitution and court costs.

Klink and four others, three of whom are juveniles, were charged by Maryland State Police with breaking into a vacation home in the Friendsville area, causing extensive damage to the building, and stealing numerous items from the residence and from various areas of the property, including outbuildings. Over 100 items of property were recovered, and varied from tools, clothing, fishing and hunting gear to four-wheelers, lawn mowers, and small farm tractors.

Pennsylvania State Police were contacted by a relative of Klink to check whether guns Klink had given to the relative were stolen. Although they were not listed in any database as stolen, they all showed as being purchased by the same individual in Pennsylvania. When contacted, that man advised the guns remained his property and they should be in his residence in Friendsville. The crimes were discovered when he traveled to the area to check the property.

Contact with Klink led to

Schlosnagle Seeks Another Term As Friendsville Mayor

Spencer R. Schlosnagle, the mayor of Friendsville, has announced his intention to seek another term as the community's chief executive. Elected in the mid-1980s at the age of 21, Schlosnagle is the youngest mayor ever elected in the state of Maryland.

During his career, Schlosnagle has served on numerous boards and committees. He is a member of the Grace Lutheran Church. The mayor has also served on the local boards of the American Red Cross and the American Heart Association, the Democratic Central Committee of Garrett County, and the Friendsville Town Council.

Several years ago he was inducted into the Maryland Municipal Leagues Hall of Fame for his more than 20 years of service as an elected municipal official.

He currently serves as an advisory member on the Garrett County Development Corporation. He serves as Garrett County's municipal representative on the Tri-County Council of Western Maryland Inc., and he is president of the board of directors of the Garrett County Municipalities Inc.

The mayor also serves as district vice president on the board of directors for the Maryland Municipal League representing Garrett and Allegany counties.

Schlosnagle's noted that during his tenure as mayor, numerous projects have been accomplished for the town. The mayor cited cooperation of the town council, local citizens, and various organizations, as well as county and state agencies, as a major component in achieving several of his many goals.

"The local water and waste water treatment plants, which were once owned and operated by the town, were improved and upgraded with over $1 million worth of state and federal grant monies," Schlosnagle said. "This accomplishment would not have been possible without local letters of support and a local lobbying campaign, which I hand delivered to Annapolis and Washington in support of our community."

Garrett County Public Utilities, which owns and operates the town's facilities, has been working with this administration to make additional improvements, the mayor noted.

"Our current project that will soon be under way is the Maple Street Sewer Line Extension Project and is being funded through federal and state grants," he said.

The mayor noted that over the years, various state and federal grants have facilitated the development and construction of the Friendsville Head Start Center and the Friendsville Community/Senior Center. He was quick to add that a number of local senior citizens actually traveled to Annapolis to lobby legislators for support of the grant funding.

"We have one of the most beautiful community parks in the tri-state area, which was purchased and developed through Program Open Space funding along with the Governor's Parks and Playgrounds Grant Program," Schlosnagle said. "Over the years countless hours of volunteer labor have made us proud of what we have today. This past summer we had our basketball court resurfaced, along with new backboards and hoops installed. We also added new picnic tables to

WILLIAM E. HESEN

William Eugene Hesen, 82, a retired regional manager for the Coca-Cola Company, died Wednesday, Feb. 8, 2012, from complications of lung cancer at his home in McHenry, surrounded by his family.

Mr. Hesen graduated from Oakland High School and attended Potomac State College. He was a member of St. Peter the Apostle Church in Oakland. As a past president and 38-year member of the Rotary Club, he was instrumental in starting the tradition of handing out treats to children as part of the annual Christmas parade in Oakland as well as providing the Santa sleigh. In 1967, Bill was one of the founding committee members of the Autumn Glory Festival that has continued in Oakland for the last 44 years.

As the last surviving member of the Hesen family residing in Garrett County, he was preceded in death by his father, Alexander G. Hesen, former mayor of Oakland; his mother, Florence Carney Hesen; and two brothers, James A. and Robert J. Hesen.

Employed by The Republican newspaper for a short time after college, Mr. Hesen was hired by the Coca-Cola Company, first as a bookkeeper and later becoming the manager of the Oakland Bottling Plant. He worked for the company for 38 years, attaining the position of regional manager for the Oakland, Cumberland, Winchester (Va.), and Romney and Fairmont (W.Va.) plants.

During his tenure as plant manager, it was important to him that the beverage of choice in Garrett County was Coca-Cola. It was also under his guidance that both Northern and Southern high schools received sports scoreboards for indoor and outdoor events.

After retiring from Coca-Cola, he oversaw the bottling of water for the Appalachian Spring Water Company in Mtn. Lake Park. Over the past few years, Mr. Hesen enjoyed working part time as an insurance inspector as well as a rental inspector for Long & Foster Realtors, McHenry.

He is survived by his wife of 56 years, the former Norma Quinet; one daughter, Michelle Chappell and son-in-law Chip Chappell; one son, William E. Hesen II and daughter-in-law Holly McIntire Hesen; five grandchildren, Natelie and Jayson Chappell, and Garrett, Carrie, and Elizabeth Hesen; and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Hesen donated his body to science.

A memorial mass and reception will be held at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland, on Saturday, Feb. 18, at 11 a.m.

Interment will be held privately.

Expressions of sympathy maybe directed to Hospice of Garrett County, the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, or a charity of choice.

February Deemed Children's Dental Health Month By GCHD

by Diane Lee, Garrett County Health Department

The Garrett County Health Department reminds parents that February is Children's Dental Health Month. Dental decay is the most common chronic disease found in children – five times more common than asthma. Each year, more than 51 million school hours are lost because of dental-related problems.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, over 40% of 5-year-olds in the United States have cavities in their baby teeth. Baby teeth are important because they are the foundation for healthy adult teeth. Poor oral health in children can lead to low self-esteem, as well as problems with speaking, eating, and concentrating.

Good oral hygiene starts early. Pregnant women who have untreated dental decay can have poor pregnancy outcomes. Studies have shown that untreated dental decay during pregnancy can lead to premature birth. Good dental health habits in parents will lead to good dental health habits in their children.

Maryland has three times the national average of untreated tooth decay. More than half of children in kindergarten and third grade in Maryland have untreated decay in their baby teeth. A child should see a dentist when his/her first tooth appears or by his/her first birthday.

The first dental visit is important for identifying possible problems and provides a good opportunity for parents to learn more about promoting good oral hygiene for their child. A dentist or a dental hygienist can instruct parents on proper brushing techniques, tooth-heath diets, the use of fluoride, and habits that can influence a child's teeth.

Those with questions about children's dental health should call the Garrett County Health Department's Dental Care Center at 301-334-7660 or 301-895-3111 for more information.

MDS Announces Modifications To Fertilizer Rules

The Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA) this week announced temporary changes related to spring fertilizer application provisions in the 2011/2012 Winter Cover Crop Program.

As a result of the unusually warm winter weather, farmers planting small grain crops, such as wheat and barley, for harvest in the Commodity Cover Crop portion of the program will be allowed this year only to apply commercial fertilizer beginning Feb. 15, rather than March 1 as originally stipulated.

The restriction on the application of animal manures or other organic sources of nutrients to crop acres has not been changed, and manure cannot be applied until March 1, in accordance with Nutrient Management regulations.

Commercial fertilizer may be applied to program cover crop acres that will be harvested at rates of no more than 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre. MDA advises that the commercial fertilizer applied include a denitrification inhibitor to reduce the risk of nitrogen loss.

"The unusually warm winter weather this year has allowed these crops to continue to grow, exhausting available crop nutrients," said MDA Secretary Earl "Buddy"Hance. "MDA, in collaboration with University of Maryland, College of Agriculture and Natural Resources scientists, is concerned that these crops will suffer production losses if not provided more crop nutrients. Science and crop conditions indicate these cover crops have absorbed the nutrients left in the soil last fall and farmers now must provide additional nutrients to keep them growing."

MDA officials also noted that farmers with small grain acres not enrolled in the Cover Crop Program may receive an early spring application of fertilizer at "green up."

University of Maryland small grain researchers have been monitoring temperature conditions at locations across the state, and have advised that these crops are now at a critical stage of growth, requiring additional fertilizer to realize normal yield potential.

Effective immediately, MDA advises an application of 40 pounds of nitrogen fertilizer, amended with a denitrification inhibitor, for this first spring application to reduce the risk of nitrogen loss. Farmers should continue to consult their nutrient management plans. Manure application is restricted until March 1 on non-program cropland, as well, in accordance with Nutrient Management regulations.

For additional information on Cover Crop Program provisions, persons may contact MDA's Maryland Agricultural Cost Share Program Office in Annapolis at 410-841-5864, or the local soil conservation district.

Any farmer or nutrient applicator with questions about winter application of fertilizers should contact a regional MDA nutrient management specialist. A regional contact list is available online at www.mda.state.md.us/resource_conservation/nutrient_management/nm_regional_offices.pdf.

News from Preston, Tucker, Grant and Mineral Counties.

'12 Scholarships Offered By Tucker Comm. Foundation

The Tucker Community Foundation (TCF), Parsons, is now accepting applications for the 2012 scholarship cycle. Students from Barbour, Grant, Mineral, Preston, Pocahontas, Randolph, and Tucker counties and Garrett County (Md.) are encouraged to apply for a scholarship regardless of their field of study. More than $52,000 will be awarded, with awards ranging from $500 to $4,000.

Applications are available at the foundation office located on the second floor of the Tucker County Board of Education Annex Building, through area high school guidance counselors, and online at www.tuckerfoundation.net. Completed applications must be postmarked by April 6. The general application is for high school seniors and college students, and the non-traditional application is for those returning to school after an absence. The Gary Wilson Application is for kindergarten through 12th grade students following a Christian-based curriculum. Student attending technical school are also eligible for scholarship awards.

In addition to income from the Kep & Alice Smith Trust and other unrestricted income, the TCF manages 25 endowed scholarship funds that provide a perpetual source of funding for area students. The distribution criteria can also be reviewed online.

A $500 White Grass Culinary Scholarship is also available this year, and the Ryan Gosa Memorial Pass-Through Scholarship for a Tucker County student majoring in English literature, journalism, or music will be awarded for a second year.

More information is available at 304-478-2930.

LENTEN SERVICES

Lenten services will begin for the Mtn. Top Ministerial Association on Wednesday, Feb. 22, at St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House. Evening services will be held every Wednesday that follows until Easter.

THANK-YOU

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Aurora, extends thanks to those who participated in the Sunday Souper Bowl dinner. Over $400 was raised to be divided equally between Union Ambulance Service and the Community Lutheran Partners for the sharing of needs.

SPECIAL MENTION
by Jean Winters

As the writer of Aurora News, I have tried to write information about events and people with whom you work and live, so that we have the information out on what is taking place in the community and what happens to the people who live here. It would be nice to have more folks mentioned, but I can't know everything that is happening. Those with news or information about current or former residents are asked to please call me at 304-735-5763, so that it can be turned into a news item. It also helps the local publishers by having something to fill their pages and would be a bridge to those we used to know.

TERRA ALTA

"Book It" Pizza Program reports have been turned in for the month of January. The count was down somewhat with the students being busy with different projects in science and social studies fairs, as well as other class activities. A total of 47 book reports were given, with Sherry Field's kindergarten class taking top honors again this month with the most students responding.

Several new periodicals have been added to the racks for circulation. Harvey Galinn has donated Motor Trend, Popular Mechanics, and Popular Science. Others are Weekly, Saturday Evening Post, Glamour, The Week, and Entertainment.

Killing Lincoln by Billo O'Reilly was donated by Judy and Larry Hall in memory of Karen Dalton. Trent Comer, Doug and Pat Auvil, Brian Schoolcraft, Helen Brandon, Cindee Cramer, and Lawrence Sypolt have also donated reading material.

The Summer Reading Program "Dream Big, Read" will be offered to students kindergarten through eighth grade. There will also be an adult reading program offered. Both will begin in June and run for six weeks. More details will be provided at a later date.

NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

The National Day of Prayer will be recognized with a service at the town hall on Thursday, May 3, at noon.

Thank You

United Way Of GC Seeking Support For Campaign Goal

Officials from the United Way of Garrett County announced that as of last week, this year's campaign has raised almost $80,000, but the non-profit organization is still in need of $31,000 to reach its annual goal. The yearly campaign will come to a close at the end of this month.

This year, United Way has aimed to highlight the "Power of a Dollar," and how important it can be in financially difficult times. According to campaign co-chairs Robin Murray and Nicole Christian, the needs of the community are very great; people who have never had to ask for services are now finding themselves in a time of crisis.

Christian said she knows firsthand how big a difference United Way can make in the lives of community members.

"United Way touched me personally when my mom got sick, and I have been a huge supporter ever since," she said. "You never know when you are going to need one of the programs funded through United Way."

The following are some facts about the United Way of Garrett County:

- Ninety-nine cents of every dollar donated stays in the community.
- One out of three people in Garrett County receives services through United Way's partners.
- One out of eight students in this area is touched by after-school and mentoring programs.
- 100% of all gifts to United Way are tax deductible.

United Way of Garrett County asks for the community's continued support to meet the critical needs of people in the area. Contributions may be mailed to United Way of Garrett County, P.O. Box 394, Oakland, MD 21550.

For additional information, persons may contact the United Way office at 301-722-2700 or toll free 1-877-597-2700.

Adorable Adoptables

CANINES HOUSED AT THE GARRETT COUNTY ANIMAL SHELTER this week, left to right, include a medium size hound mix named Maybelle, a male corgi mix that likes to bark, a male black Lab that was picked up along Cranesville Road as a stray, and two dachshund mixes (below). "Their owner had too many dogs, so he brought these two in," said a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson about the dachshund mixes. "They are a little shy. The longhaired brown one is a male, and the black/brown one is a female. We would like them to be adopted together; they are not very big so they won't take up a lot of space. All of last week's cats are still available, and three dogs went to rescue via HART. With the cold weather returning, please provide adequate shelter for all your outside pets. Old dogs, puppies, and shorthaired dogs shouldn't be kept outside. Please bring them indoors, at least into the basement or into a warm spot in your garage when it is really cold outside." For more information, persons may call the animal shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the county-operated facility is open Monday through Friday. ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Air Force Airman 1st Class Nicholas J. Valentine recently graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

The airman completed an intensive, eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness, and basic warfare principles and skills.

Airmen who complete basic training earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Valentine is the son of Gary and Tracy Valentine, Glenwood Ridge Road, Accident.

Jana Brown To Give Presentation On Hearing Loss

Dr. Jana Brown, local audiologist, is scheduled to give a talk concerning hearing loss and balance disorders. The presentation will take place on Saturday, April 14, at the Wisp Resort as part of the upcoming Garrett County Health Fair.

Brown will address the causes of hearing loss and balance disorders along with proper diagnosis and treatment methods. She will also discuss the importance and the benefits of early diagnosis and treatment.

"Associated medical conditions, such as diabetes and Alzheimer's and their association to hearing and balance disorders, will be examined," stated Brown, "as will ways to prevent both hearing and balance loss."

The Health Fair, which is free to participants, will offer screenings, speakers, health oriented informational booths, and a family fitness room. Those interested in additional information may call 301-533-4041 or 301-533-4178.

ROTARY DONATES TO HOSPITAL FOUNDATION – The Oakland Rotary Club presented a donation to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation during a recent club meeting. The funds came from the sale of Rotary french fries during various local events. During the meeting, foundation volunteer Elaine McDonald gave a talk on philanthropy, noting that whether from the very rich, like the Rockefellers and Carnegies, or from the less wealthy, like the members of local service clubs, all contributions are fundamental to the work of various services, such as Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Donations to the hospital foundation can go in three directions: endowment, scholarships for professional development of hospital personnel, and specific purchases such as sophisticated mammography detection machines or even chairs to physically support persons going through extensive radiation testing. Pictured, left to right, are McDonald, Oakland Rotary Club president-elect Bill Cheesman, and GCMH Foundation executive director Kathy Greaser. Chessman pledged to duplicate the Rotary contribution again next year during his presidency.

The Arts

SHORT BROTHERS TO PERFORM DURING WINTER FEST – The Short Brothers (Luke and Gregg) will perform as part of the fifth annual Winter Fest next weekend, with the duo's concert to be held on Saturday, Feb. 18, from 1 to 3 in front of M&T Bank in downtown Oakland. Their show is being sponsored by the Inn at Deep Creek. The weekend of events will begin Friday, Feb. 17, with a progressive dinner event. Major attractions for this year will be the "Giant Ice Throne," sponsored by Clear Mountain Bank; the Ice Bowling Alley (with frozen cantaloupes donated by Browning's Foodland), sponsored by Electronic Diagnostic Center; and a Kiddie Slide, sponsored by LAOC Coal. The activities will continue into Sunday as well. See separate stories and pictures in today's issue.

WVU Honor Band Weekend To Feature U.S. Herald Trumpets, Two Concerts

West Virginia University is hosting its 33rd annual Invitational High School Honor Bands event at the Creative Arts Center this weekend, beginning this evening with auditions of participating students, who will vie for spots in three different bands.

The weekend will also include a concert by the WVU Wind Symphony tomorrow evening, Feb. 10, which will feature United States Army Herald Trumpets, the official fanfare ensemble for the president of the United States.

Approximately 350 student musicians from high schools in West Virginia and several surrounding states will participate, including 10 from Garrett County (Northern students Elizabeth Green, Cari Zbel, Kimberly Hawkins, Kylie Mauricci, Sydney Holtschneider, Brandon Glotfelty, and Garrett Yoder, and Southern students Samantha Bessey, Jaxon Schwab, and Alex McEwen.) The students are recommended by their high school band directors and selected on the basis of their ability and accomplishments.

The WVU Wind Symphony, the university premier concert band, will present a free concert tomorrow evening titled "Bold and Brassy." It will be held in the Lyell B. Clay Concert Theatre of the Creative Arts Center, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This is a free concert.

The conductor is John Hendricks III, director of bands at WVU, with Dearl J. Drury, assistant director of bands and director of the WVU Marching Band. Special guest conductors will be Col. Michael Colburn, conductor of "The President's Own" United States Marine Band of Washington, D.C.; Jay Jacobs, associate director of bands at McNeese State University and also a WVU alumnus; and Roger Walker, band director at Frankfort High School in West Virginia and concert band conductor at Potomac State College, and also a WVU alumnus.

These guest conductors are also taking part in the honor band event, and will be conducting that culminating concert on Saturday, Feb. 11, at 3:30 p.m., also in the Clay theatre. This, too, is a free concert.

The Wind Symphony program on Friday night will open with Festive Overture by Dimitri Shostakovich, one of the best-known concert openers in the classical repertoire, a spokesperson said, featuring the U.S. Army Herald Trumpets; "Ride" by Samuel Hazo, a fast-paced work that was composed after Hazo took a high-speed car ride through country roads surrounding Indiana, Pa.; Variations on "America" by Charles Ives, a stylistic and harmonic variation on the well-known song; "Semper Fidelis" by John Philip Sousa, the official Sousa march of the United States Marine Corps; "Olympic Fanfare and Theme" by film composer John Williams, the piece he wrote for the 1984 Summer Olympic Games, again featuring the United States Army Trumpets; and several more pieces by composers such as Francis McBeth and Eric Whitacre.

The U.S. Army Herald Trumpets, founded in 1959, is patterned after traditional British fanfare trumpet ensembles and was formed to add splendor to official military ceremonies, the spokesperson said. A performing element of the United States Army Band "Pershing's Own" in Washington, D.C., the ensemble has performed for countless events of national and international significance and has been featured with orchestras from around the world.

Col. Colburn is the 27th director of "The President's Own" United States Marine Band. During his 24 years with the group, Colburn has served as principal euphonium, assistant director, and since July 2004, the director, leading the Marine band in its third century. As director, Colburn is music adviser to the White House.

No tickets are required for this free concert.

The Honor Bands event is hosted by Hendricks and Drury. This year more than 100 schools are participating.

"Much of the success of our honor bands is a result of the outstanding guest conductors who bring their talents to Morgantown each year," Hendricks said.

For more information about any of the honor bands or concert events, persons may contact the WVU Band Office at 304-293-4381.

Reservations Still Being Accepted For Love Letters

Reservations are still being taken for Love Letters, a Valentine Dessert/Dinner Theater, to be held at Preston Community Arts Center, 123 S. Price Street, Kingwood, W.Va., on Friday, Feb. 10. The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m., with the show slated for 7:30 p.m.

There are two choices for attending: dinner and show for $30 person or dessert and show for $20 per person. Dessert will be served at intermission to everyone.

For information about reservations, persons may call 304-329-6336.

An art gallery will be open prior to the show and during intermission to enable patrons to purchase special valentine gifts made by local artists.

Winter Fest To Include Toddler Photo Contest

The fifth annual Winter Fest in downtown Oakland, which features ice sculpting throughout the town and other events, will once again include the Snowflake Toddler Photo Contest. Winter Fest is set for Feb. 17 to 19.

Persons may bring photographs of toddlers age 2 to 4 years to Marvin's, located at the corner of Second and Alder streets, up until the day of judging (Feb. 18). Photos should be no smaller than 4"x6" nor larger than 8"x10".

The photos will be put on display at Marvin's next week, and people may vote for their favorite shots with one quarter per vote. The proceeds will go to the town's Main Street program. The voting will continue until noon on Saturday, Feb. 18.

The photographs earning the most votes will be declared the winners (one girl and one boy) on that Saturday at 2 p.m. The two winners will each receive gift cards compliments of First United Bank, Painted Cupboard, Jan Florist, and Marvin's.

The Oakland Main Street Program and the Greater Oakland Business Association are hosting Winter Fest. The event will feature ice sculptures on display throughout the four-block area along Alder, Second, and Liberty streets, as well as several activities and events.

Northern High To Host Annual Talent Show

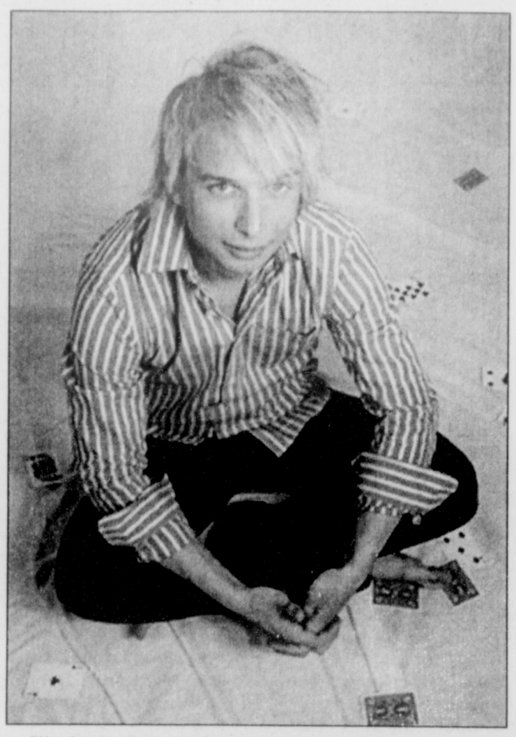
The annual Northern Garrett High School Talent Show will be held on Thursday, Feb. 16, at 7 p.m. in the school's cafetorium. The show's host will be Duane Salisbury, director of bands.

Acts will include several styles of solo and small ensemble music performances, dance numbers, and a special performance by the school's stage band club.

This event is open to the public. Admission is $5 per person; children younger than 5 years of age will be admitted free.

There will be concessions and beverages for sale. All proceeds will benefit the Northern Garrett High School Band program.

FSU To Present Illusionist Etienne



Illusionist Leon Etienne will come to Frostburg State University on Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 8 p.m. in the Lane University Center Manicur Assembly Hall. The event is free and open to the public.

"Etienne brings to the stage a spectacular theatrical magic production and takes his audience on a journey filled with dramatic illusions, personality, and state-of-the-art theatrical effects," a spokesperson said. "Etienne performs classic magic solutions and uses rock-show lighting and music elements to captivate his audience. He interacts with his audience and has individuals participate in many of his illusions."

He has been practicing the performance art since the age of 12. He has been performing for more than a decade around the world. He has won several awards, including Central New York Magician of the Year, and Stage Magic Champion from the Magicians' Alliance of Eastern States.

For more information, persons may contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at 301-687-4411 or visit Etienne's web site at www.leonetienne.com/theshow.html.

FSU is committed to making all of its programs, services and activities accessible to persons with disabilities. To request accommodations through the ADA Compliance Office, persons should call 301-687-4102 or use a voice relay operator at 1-800-735-2258.

GCAC Exhibiting Art By Garrett County Students

Middle and high school students from across Garrett County were recently invited to submit their artwork for a special exhibit now on display at the Gallery Shop in downtown Oakland. Sponsored by Garrett County Arts Council, the exhibit was open to any student in the county and will be on display until March 2.

"We look forward to this exhibit each year," said Karen Reckner, executive director of GCAC. "We want to foster the creativity of our young people and support the work our art teachers are doing with their students."

Entries were received from students of teachers Cindy Ringler and Melissa Pyle, Southern High School; James Paxton, Northern High School; Jennifer Wampler, Southern Middle School; and Frances Kenna, Northern Middle School.

A variety of styles and mediums are part of the show, Reckner said. Students have created pieces including watercolor paintings, charcoal drawings, colored pencil drawings, and mixed media collage.

The entries will be judged by a panel of professional artists, and prizes will be awarded at both the middle school and high school level.

Following this special display, an exhibit of artwork from the county elementary students will be featured in the Gallery Shop's backroom exhibit area. The exhibits are open for public viewing during normal business hours Monday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Gallery Shop is located at 206 E. Alder Street in Oakland and may be reached by calling 301-334-6580.

BOYS' BASKETBALL TO HOLD DOVE CENTER DRIVE

The Southern High School boys' basketball teams will be conducting a canned food and paper product drive to benefit the Dove Center on Wednesday, Feb. 15, during their home games against Keyser. Those interested are invited by the boys' basketball program to drop off items in the gym lobby during the game. Individuals with questions may contact Roberta Cvetnick at 301-616-0084.

CHILD FIND ANNOUNCEMENT

State and federal laws require that the Garrett County Board of Education provide free and appropriate educational programs for all children with disabilities living in Garrett County. Services which may be provided by the BOE are evaluation and direct services in speech and language therapy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, developmental skills for preschoolers, and academic help for children of school age. These services are provided through the special education programs to all students who qualify. Those who know individuals with a disability (age 21 and under) who do not receive educational program assistance may contact: Jennifer Kotulak, Supervisor of Special Education, Garrett County Board of Education, 40 South Second Street, Oakland, MD 21550; 301-334-7655.

Scheduling for the 2012-2013 school year will begin this month. On Thursday, Feb. 9, during advisory period, sophomores and juniors will receive a copy of their career-pathway packets. These will provide recommendations for next year, a course-selection sheet, and instructions for selecting classes through the online parent portal Power School. Southern High School encourages parents to assist students with course selections through Power School after they come home with their scheduling packets. This online option will be available between Thursday, Feb. 9, and Friday, Feb. 17. Individuals who have misplaced their login and password information may contact Southern High School's main office. Guidance counselors will be available for appointments during school on Tuesday, Feb. 14, from 9 a.m. until noon and on Thursday, Feb. 16, from 1 to 4 p.m. Counselors will also be available for after-school appointments until 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 15. Parents interested in meeting with a counselor for assistance are encouraged to call 301-334-1660 to schedule an appointment as soon as possible.

FRESH STRAWBERRIES FOR SALE

The Southern High FFA is currently taking orders for fresh strawberries from Florida. Those interested may contact any FFA member or Steve Kisner at 301-334-1580 or skisner@sh.ga.k12.md.us. The cost is set at $4 for 1 quart, $14 for 4 quarts, or $25 for 8 quarts. Orders are due by Tuesday, Feb. 28, and are scheduled to arrive the week of Monday, March 12.

NO EXTRA RIDERS TO BE PERMITTED

The buses listed below will not allow any extra riders. No bus passes will be issued to guest riders for any reason. The buses for which bus passes will not be issued are: #7, #21, #22, #23, #28, #31, #34, #36, #39, #45 (both runs), #60, #61, #72, #75 (Cranesville), and #79.

SECOND SEMESTER PARKING PERMITS

The deadline for submitting second semester parking applications for the front student lot has passed. New permits have been issued to those who have qualified. Drivers with expired black permits will need to obtain either the new purple pass for the front lot or a green pass for the lower lot in order to use the facilities. Students who continue to park in the front lot with an unauthorized permit will be in violation of school policy, issued a ticket, and may have their vehicle towed at their expense. All students parking on Southern High School property need to have a valid parking permit posted in their vehicles, effective immediately.

WINTER HOMECOMING

The annual winter homecoming dance will be held on Saturday, Feb. 18, from 8 until 11 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Advance tickets will be sold in the school store beginning today. The cost is set at $8 per person. Tickets at the door will cost $10 per person. All guests not enrolled at Southern High must be signed up with Ms. Zumpano and approved by the administration no later than Wednesday, Feb. 15. This homecoming dance will be a formal event; all students must dress appropriately. No middle school age students may attend. Student council is sponsoring winter homecoming and will donate $1 from each paid admission to Landon's Library.

SPIRIT WEEK

Winter homecoming spirit days are scheduled from Feb. 13 through 17. Monday will be "ugly shirt" day, Tuesday will be "dress like a nerd" day, Wednesday will be "show Southern pride" day (wear school colors), Thursday will be "opposite" day, and Friday will be "dress from another decade" day. A doughnut breakfast will be given to the first-period class that displays the most participation throughout the week.

Ask The Everyday Scientist

WINTER HUMIDITY
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. When the humidity is low, I have to turn the thermostat up in order to stay comfortable. What causes that?

A. It all has to do with water molecules moving around and carrying heat.

The mechanism known as "sweating" uses up a little body water, but mainly it carries away heat from deep inside your body. When you're exercising vigorously, your muscles generate a lot of heat, and more water is needed to carry that heat away – so much water that it forms beads and drips off your skin. We call that sweating.

It may not be obvious, but everybody sweats all the time, even when they're sitting still. Water is delivered by your bloodstream, exits through pores in your skin, and then evaporates into the air. At the same time, water molecules in the air land on your skin and stay there.

When a water molecule from the air lands on your skin and stops, it give up energy. In order for a water molecule to fly away into the air, it must have extra energy, which it could only get by taking energy away from your skin. In this way, the departing water molecules make your skin cooler, and those arriving make your skin warmer. When everything is in equilibrium, hardly any water and hardly any net heat leaves.

The Humidity is a measure of how much water vapor there is in the air. If you're in a place where the humidity is low, there are relatively fewer water molecules in the air. More molecules leave your skin than arrive, and the net result is that some heat is carried away, and you feel cooler. Lower the humidity enough and you feel downright chilly, because of the rapid pace at which heat is being carried away.

It works in the opposite direction, too. in the summertime, the old saying "It's not the heat, it's the humidity" conveys the idea that the body can't get rid of heat fast enough because so many extra water molecules are arriving, each bringing heat which goes into the skin. Regions of low humidity don't feel nearly so hot. Out in Arizona and Nevada, where it may hit 110°F in the daytime, it gets very cold out in the desert at night. That's because infrared (heat) radiation easily escapes without water molecules to absorb and retain it – the "greenhouse" effect.

If your house feels cold, one thing you can do is turn up the thermostat. A second option is to put on another layer of clothing. The cloth material isn't any warmer, but it keeps the water vapor from leaving your skin, and thus you lose less heat and feel warmer.

Another good idea is to add a humidifier to your furnace. These devices put a very large number of very small droplets of water into an air stream, and as the droplets evaporate, the water vapor content of the air increases – that's higher humidity. The cost of a humidifier is usually offset by the fuel savings achieved when the indoor temperature can be a little lower while you're still comfortable.

Ritchie Paces Rams To Big Wins Over Campers, Miners

Behind a 30-point, 16-rebound performance by D.J. Ritchie, the #5 ranked Rams whipped #4 Allegany in Oakland last Friday, 74-52, and then handed Mountain Ridge a 50-47 defeat on Tuesday, also in Oakland.

The pair of wins upped the Rams' overall record to 12-5 and their Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference mark to 7-4.

The Rams wasted no time taking control of Friday's game against the slightly favored Campers of Allegany, as they spurted to a 22-10 lead by the end of the first period. The Campers narrowed the gap to 36-27 by halftime, and the Rams took a 58-47 advantage into the fourth quarter. In that final stanza, Southern's stingy defensive performance held the visitors to a total of five points for the entire quarter.

Also reaching double figures for the Rams besides Ritchie were Kurt Gangler and Wyatt McBee, each with 18 points. All 18 of McBee's points were recorded from long-range, as he made 6 of 9 attempts, and Ritchie was a perfect 9-for-9 at the charity stripe.

Tylor Jessie scored 18 points to lead the Campers (12-6), while Trenton Elrich hit 10.

The Southern junior varsity got 16 points and eight rebounds from Derek Hinebaugh and went on to record a 36-33 overtime victory over the Alco jayvees in the first game. The victory upped the Ram jayvees' record to 15-1.

Down by as many as eight points, the Rams rallied in the closing minutes of regulation, with a basket by Matt Mayles knotted the score at 29 and sending the game into overtime. Hinebaugh scored five of his points in the extra period, and Lucas Ritchie hit two free throws with nine seconds remaining to give the Rams' a two-point lead. Kevin Harris blocked the Campers final shot to preserve the win.

Ritchie finished with nine points and four assists. Colton Sivic led Alco with 10 points.

D.J. Ritchie was also the leading scorer and rebounder for the varsity Rams in their close win over Mountain Ridge on Monday, when he finished with 19 points and a dozen rebounds.

McBee was again effective from 3-point range, as he drained three long shots and finished with 15 points, while Gangler contributed 13 points, six assists, and four steals.

The score was knotted at 9-9 at the end of the first period. The Rams then outscored their visitors in the second stanza to take a 22-14 lead into the locker room at intermission. The Miners narrowed Southern's lead to 37-32 by the end of the third, and the Rams had to hang on in the final minutes to secure the win.

Leading the Miners (9-10, 6-7) offensively were Dan Strietbeck and Montana Bradley with 18 and 17 points, respectively.

The Southern jayvees also won a low-scoring contest, topping the Miner junior varsity 27-20. Lucas Ritchie hit 10 points, all in the final quarter, to pace Southern (16-1), and Jake Hafer had a game-high 12 points for Mountain Ridge.

The Ram jayvees will get an opportunity this Friday to avenge their only loss of the season when they meet Fort Hill.

The Southern freshmen (10-7) made it a clean sweep for Ram fans by defeating the freshman Miners, 58-50, in the first of the three games. Clay Todd scored 17 points to lead Southern, Travis Newton netted 13, and Josh Adams and Brian Reams each added 10 points. Logan Cvetnick chipped in with eight points.

Rashawn Johnson scored over half of his team's points with a game-high 30 for the Mountain Ridge freshman, and Brady Folk scored 11.

The Southern freshman squad dropped a 57-41 game to host Allegany on Saturday. Todd and Newton led the Rams' scoring with 14 and 10 points, respectively, while Blake Milburn and Trevor Evix each scored 14 for Alco.

The Rams were slated to play at Hampshire last evening, but that contest had to be postponed because of weather conditions.

The Southern varsity and junior varsity are scheduled to host Fort Hill this Friday, entertain Tucker County next Tuesday, and face Keyser next Wednesday, also in Oakland.

RAMS RAM CAMPERS, MINERS – The Southern High boys' varsity posted a pair of big Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference victories this past week, rolling over visiting Allegany, 74-52, on Friday and then handing the Mountain Ridge Miners a 50-47 defeat on Tuesday, also in Oakland. These action photos by John McEwen were taken at Tuesday's contest. Above, Southern's junior forward Alex Fike goes up for an easy two points. Awaiting a possible rebound is teammate D.J. Ritchie (#20). Ritchie led the scoring and rebounding in this game as well as in the contest against Allegany, in which he recorded a season-high 30 points and 16 rebounds. He finished with a team-high 19 points and 12 rebounds against Mountain Ridge. Below, Ram Mikail Perrine fires a bounce pass into the lane past a Miner defender. Rams Plan To Hold Canned Food Drive

The Southern High School boys' basketball team will be conducting a canned food/paper product drive on Wednesday, Feb. 15, during its home game against Keyser.

This drive is being organized to benefit the Dove Center. Those interested in supporting this charitable effort may bring their items to the game. The organizers invite anyone with questions to contact Roberta Cvetnick at 301-616-0084.

Southern High Boy And Girl Bowlers Aiming For First

Though the Mountain Ridge boys' and girls' bowling teams currently hold first place in their respective actual divisions of Allegany County Inter-Scholastic Bowling League play, both the boys' and girls' Southern High bowling teams find themselves in the hunt for the top spot. The Southern girls' team is just a half game back in second place of its division, while the boys hold third place and are two games back.

The Ram girls' record currently sits at 10-2, following their recent wins over Keyser, Calvary Christian, and Allegany.

In the boys' actual division, the Southern team (8-4) holds third-place, ahead of Hampshire (8.5-4.5), Allegany (8-5), Frankfort (7.5-5.5), Bishop Walsh (2-8), Keyser (2-10), and Calvary Christian (0-13). In second place is Fort Hill with a record of 10-4.

Some high games rolled by Rams include Zack Riggleman's 209 and Kristie Swearenger's 198 (547 set).

The adjusted division currently has the Keyser girls' team and the Allegany boys' team in the top spots. The Southern boys are in second place of that division, while the Ram girls are in fifth place.

Rams Ground Falcons, Prepare For Away Games

The Southern High School girls' basketball team earned a win, 56-51, over fourth-ranked Frankfort on Monday night in Oakland. The win was to be followed by a road game against Fort Hill on Wednesday; however, that game has been rescheduled for 6 p.m. on Feb. 21 (varsity only).

In Monday's game, Frankfort initially held the momentum, effectively shut down Southern's offensive schemes, and allowed the Rams just eight points through the first quarter.

Southern increased its production slightly in the second period, scoring 11, but Frankfort ended the half with a 10-point advantage, 29-19.

The Rams left the locker room newly determined in the second half and ended the third quarter within striking distance, 39-37.

The Rams' persistence paid off in the final quarter, which saw the home team outplay its opponent and end regulation with a five-point advantage.

Southern's Hannah Horne lead the Rams' offense with 17 points, while teammate Alycia Horner accounted for 15 points.

Frankfort's Saydi Whiteman had a game-high 27 points.

Southern also claimed the junior varsity win, 52-42, behind Alicia Roth's 28 points scored. The Falcons received 21 points from Ashley Noah.

With the win, Southern will take a 13-6 record through the final stretch of its regular season. The Rams will hit the road to face Bishop Walsh on Wednesday, followed by a game at Tucker (W.Va.) on Thursday, and then their season finale at Fort Hill on the following Tuesday. The games against Bishop Walsh and Tucker are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

RAMS HANDLE THE PRESSURE – Much like Ram freshman Kambrie Bosley (#4) – pictured above leaping through traffic, focused on the task at hand – the Southern High School girls' basketball team remained collected, though it trailed Frankfort High through three quarters, and roared from behind for a 56-51 victory on Monday night in Oakland. Also pictured above, center left, is Ram Mandy Sweitzer (#10), who gave her team a solid seven points. Pictured below, Southern's game-high scorer Hannah Horne (#14) bolts past her defender on the way to the basket. Horne tallied 17 points total. Photos by John McEwen. SHAFFER FORD SUPPORTS RAMS – Shaffer Ford Sales, Oakland, recently made a major donation to the Southern Garrett High School Athletic Association, an organization that supports all sports programs at Southern High School. Above, SGHS athletic director Matt Redinger accepts a check for $5,440 from Kathy Shaffer, owner of Shaffer Ford Sales. The funds were raised through the company's Drive One 4UR School program, which consisted of a $20 donation by Shaffer Ford for every potential customer who test drove a Ford. Various other fundraisers were held in conjunction with the program, such as the sale of barbecued chicken, baked goods, hot dogs, and beverages, plus a dunking booth, car wash, and inflatable bounce attractions. There was also music provided by Travis Minnick and autographs signed by local New York Mets Major League baseball player and SGHS alum Tobi Stoner. Another Drive One 4UR School event is scheduled for May 19.

Pen-Mar League Meeting Slated

The Pen-Mar-W.Va. Baseball League will hold its second meeting this Sunday, Feb. 12, at the Ridgeley (W.Va.) Legion at 5 p.m. The meeting will be for coaches and league officials.

The Pen-Mar League, founded in 1949, consists of high school players and those of all ages above high school; however, 85% of the league is made up of former and existing college players. The wooden-bat, semi-pro league had four teams last season; the Tri-State Titans, Oakland Oaks, Romney Powerhouse and Cumberland Orioles.

The league is now recruiting new teams and players from the tri-state area. For information, persons are asked to contact league president Gary Bennett at 301-268-1563 or Tri-State Titans head coach Matt Wright at 301-697-4903, or go online to www.penmarwvbaseball.com.

Despite receiving a double-double performance from Allison Yommer, the Northern High School girls' basketball team recorded a loss, 66-40, while playing host to Hampshire Monday evening. The Huskies then suffered a defeat, 62-48, visiting Preston High (W.Va.). Further information on that game was not received.

Hampshire's Hannah Carl sank five 3-pointers and recorded a game-high 25 points in her team's victory over the Huskies.

Carl helped the Trojans pull away from Northern, hitting nine baskets from the field and hitting 2-of-3 from the foul line. Two of her 3-pointers came in the first half. She finished the second half with three more.

"They killed us on the glass," explained Ron Opel, Northern head coach. "They got a lot of second chance points.

"Carl was on all night. It didn't matter what we did to her, she still managed to score."

Yommer earned her double-double after scoring 19 points and snagging 11 rebounds. She made five baskets, including a shot from 3-point territory, and was perfect in eight trips to the free-throw line.

Husky Kirsten Rayner scored nine points and teammate Kiersten Butler had seven points.

Hampshire's Alexis Nickelson had 11 points, Sierrah Bloomquist had eight points, and Autumn Chaney had seven points.

Northern won the junior varsity game, 29-25, as Natalie Johnson had a double-double with 10 points and 15 boards. Emi Corbin scored 11 for Hampshire.

Northern (3-16) will play three away games to finish its regular season. The Huskies will play Monday at Mountain Ridge, Wednesday at Fort Hill, and Thursday at Moorefield. Tip-off for all three events is set for 7:30 p.m.

Oakland Hoops League Results Are Announced

Teams sponsored by Automated Packaging, Hutton Auto, and Fox's Pizza were all victorious in Oakland Men's Basketball League games played Sunday.

Ted Kitzmiller and Jason Shank scored 20 and 19 points, respectively, to lead Automated Packaging to a 60-55 win over Terra Alta VFW Post 578. Shaun Myers scored 17 to lead the VFW.

Mike Browning scored 19 and Doug Copeland recorded 15 points to lead Fox's to a 63-45 win over Taylor-Made. Mike Harvey scored 21 points for Taylor-Made.

Games slated for this Sunday, Feb. 12, will pit Taylor-Made against D&L/A.L.L. in the 6 p.m. contest, Terra Alta VFW vs. Hutton Auto at 7 p.m., and Fox's facing Automated Packaging in the 8 p.m. tip-off.

Northern Boys Hammered By Fort Hill And Mountain Ridge

What has turned into somewhat of a long season for the Northern High School boys' varsity got a bit longer this past week, as the Huskies were dominated in two contests, falling to host Fort Hill last Thursday, 86-46, and getting hammered by Mountain Ridge in Frostburg on Tuesday, 82-55.

The Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference defeats dropped the Huskies to 4-14 overall and 2-11 in conference games.

Fort Hill, currently ranked in the #1 spot in the area with a 14-3 record, jumped out to a 27-10 advantage by the end of the first quarter last Thursday, led 42-24 at the half, and took a commanding 69-33 lead into the final period.

Jarrett Wolfe had a double-double for the Sentinels, recording a game-high 20 points and pulling down 11 rebounds. Kammari Powell and Garrett D'Atri also reached double figures in scoring with 16 and 13 points, respectively.

The Huskies were paced by Tyler Yutzy and Jordan Evans, who netted 12 and 10 points, respectively. Jeremy Bender chipped in with nine points.

The Northern junior varsity team fell in the preliminary contest, 59-29. Trevon Jones paced the Huskies with 11 points, while Cody Dolly recorded 14 and Dalton Gaus hit 10 to lead the Sentinel jayvees.

The contest against Mountain Ridge followed a similar path, as the Huskies fell behind 20-8 by the end of the first stanza, were down 40-20 at the break, and trailed 64-41 at the end of the third period.

With five 3-point buckets, Tyler Whitaker scored a game-high 22 points to pace the Miners in scoring, Montana Bradley netted 14 points, Daniel Strietbeck scored 13, and Aaron Raines rounded out a balanced team scoring effort with 12 points.

Yutzy again led Northern's offensive effort with 18 points, and Patrick Sines, who converted 9 of 12 free throws, was close behind with 16 points.

The Northern jayvees were topped in the first game, 36-24. Brett Oates scored 10 to lead Northern, while Josh Halbritter scored 11 to pace the Miners.

The NHS junior varsity and varsity squads will try to get back on a winning track this evening when they travel to Salisbury. They will travel to Hampshire on Friday and entertain Frankfort next Tuesday.

Porter Named To All-Area Second Team

Kayla Porter, a Northern High School volleyball standout, was recently named to the 2011 Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference's all-area second-team. Porter, who earned the honor following her junior season, is an outside hitter who has contributed to the varsity squad since joining the Husky lineup.

"She worked very hard from the beginning and played a significant amount of time her freshman year," stated Laura Wilburn, NHS volleyball coach.

As a starter her sophomore year, Porter was an all-court player both offensively and defensively. She scored 89 points and provided many digs, aces, and kills for her team. She was named Most Outstanding Player following her second season at an NHS athletic awards banquet.

KAYLA PORTER

As a junior, Porter was made a captain and earned the Most Valuable Player award. She served 221 times and held team-high stats in all serving categories – 138 in-plays, 123 points, 57 aces, and an 88 percent serving efficiency rating.

Porter also posted the highest team stats in hits, with 198 total attempts, 101 in-plays, and 56 kills. She also led the Huskies with 129 digs, four assists, and seven blocks.

According to her coach, Porter gave two stand-out performances in 2011. The first was in a match against Keyser, in which Porter tallied 11 points and 13 digs, and the second was her quadruple-double performance against Bishop Walsh. In that game Porter finished with 23 points, 12 aces, 10 kills, and 22 digs.

Ram Grapplers Wrap Up With Wins Over Huskies And Hornets

The wrestling team of Southern High School wrapped up its regular season this past week with a pair of victories, a convincing 53-15 win at Northern last Thursday and a 48-27 defeat of visiting Hyndman Saturday afternoon.

The wins gave the Rams an overall dual meet record of 11-3 for the season.

Recording the only pin for Coach Dave Taylor's squad against the Huskies of Northern was Scott Cooper in the 170-pound division.

Garrett Beachy gained a technical fall in the 106-pound class, while the following won by decision: Austin Shaffer at 120 pounds, Tanner Massey at 138, Dakota Pritt at 145, and Mikey Skipper at 152.

Rams awarded forfeits were Josh King (113), Steve Collins (160), Coty Rasel (182), and Will Foulke (195).

Gavin Murphy won by default in the 126-pound clash.

Earning team points for the Huskies were Zach Myers, who won via a pin in the 220-pound bout, Brandon Minnich, who recorded a major decision in the 132-pound division, and Justin Durst, who was declared winner by forfeit in the 285-pound division.

Garnering pins for the Rams in the meet against Hyndman were Shaffer (106), Beachy (113), Murphy (126), and Austin Sines in the 132-pound clash.

The pin by Shaffer gave him his 30th win in 33 starts this season.

Winning by decision for the Rams were Murphy (126) and Mikey Skipper (152).

Forfeits were awarded to Pritt (138), Collins (160), Cooper (170), and Rasel (182).

Chris Gibbner (120) and Cody Gibbner (145) both won via pinfalls for the Hornets.

As a team, the Rams tied for fourth place with Catoctin in the West Region, but Catoctin qualified for the region duals by criteria. This is the first year since 2002 that Southern has not qualified for the regional duals.

The Rams' next competition is the Bi-County Tournament, which will be hosted by Northern on Saturday, Feb. 18.

SMC PLACES THIRD AT REGIONALS – The Southern Mat Club captured numerous individual trophies and placed third as a team in the Maryland Wrestling Assocation for Youth regional tournament, and also fared well in the Maryland State Wrestling Association regionals this past weekend. Among the individual winners in one or both events are those SMC members pictured above. (See story for details.) From left, first row, are Anthony Smith, Quentin VanGorder, Aiden Schwab, and Joey McComas. In the second row, same order, are Kadin Guy, Nathan Tasker, Jimmy Schwab, Jace Guy and Zach Evans. Other winners not present for the photo were Devin Hamrick, Erik Fike, George Zimmerman, and Reid Schenk. All qualified for the upcoming state tournament.

Northern Youth Wrestlers Vie In Regional Event

Members of the Northern Youth Wrestling Team competed in the Region I state qualifier this past weekend in Hagerstown.

Members who captured individual titles in their respective age and weight divisions were: Nate Durst, 12 and under, 108 pounds; Luke Lowery, 12 and under, 122; Jamison Warnick, 8 and under, 65; and Shane Fink, 8 and under, 55.

Chance Ritchey was the runner-up in the 8 and under, 75-pound division; placing third were Paul Zimmerman, 14 and under, 108, and Luke Artice, 12 and under, 101 pounds; and finishing in fourth place were Cross Ritchey, 10 and under, 85, and Jacob Wilson, 8 and under, 65. Also participating from the Northern team was Jacob Byrnes, 6 and under, 40.

SMC Wrestlers Advance To Two State Tourneys

The Southern Mat Club participated in the Maryland State Wrestling Association (MSWA) regional qualifier at Boonsboro High School on Saturday. Wrestlers who finished among the top three in the event advance to the MSWA state tournament, which will be held Feb. 18 and 19 at the Carroll County Agricultural Center.

All of the SMC members who participated in the Saturday event qualified for the state tourney.

Earning individual championships were Joey McComas, age 10 and under, 60 pounds, and Reid Schenk, 8 and under, 60 pounds.

SMC members placing second were Nathan Tasker, 12 and under, 70 pounds; Jake Sweitzer, 10 and under, 65 pounds; and Anthony Smith, 8 and under, 48 pounds.

Third places were recorded by Erik Fike, 12 and under, 108; Jimmy Schwab, 12 and under, 101; and Aiden Schwab, 8 and under, 52.

SMC grapplers participated in the Maryland Wrestling Association for Youth (MDWAY) regional qualifier, held Sunday at St. James School near Hagerstown. Wrestlers who finished in the top four may advance to the MDWAY state tournament, which will be held Feb. 26 at the University of Maryland Baltimore County.

As a team, the SMC finished third.

Earning first places were Devan Hamrick, 14 and under, 85 pounds; Kadin Guy, 8 and under, 75; Reid Schenk; and Aiden Schwab.

Taking runner-up honors were Erik Fike; Nathan Tasker; Jace Guy, 10 and under, 85; Jake Sweitzer; Joey McComas; and Quentin VanGorder, 8 and under, 50.

DNR Releases 2011-12 Deer Harvest Numbers

Maryland deer hunters harvested 98,029 deer during the 2011-2012 bow, muzzleloader, and firearm seasons combined. This figure is similar to last year's harvest total of 98,663 deer. The antlered harvest increased 3 percent to 34,416 this year, while the antlerless harvest declined 3 percent to 63,613 deer. The harvest totals include 2,657 sika deer; a 4 percent decrease from last year's total for this species.

"Deer harvest results this year were the fourth highest on record and similar to last year's," said Brian Eyler, DNR deer project leader.

"All data indicate that we have a healthy and abundant deer herd in most areas. Hunters are becoming very aware that putting venison on the table provides an excellent source of healthful and sustainable food, while contributing to the overall management of these species."

In Garrett, Allegany, and western Washington counties (known as Region A to DNR's deer management team), hunters reported taking 10,358 deer this year, a number up 11 percent from 2010-11. This region's antlered harvest increased 8 percent to 5,827, and the antlerless harvest increased 16 percent to 4,531.

The reported harvest in the remainder of the state (Region B) declined 2 percent to 87,671 deer this year, while the antlered harvest increased 2 percent to 28,589 deer, and the antlerless harvest decreased 4 percent to 59,082 deer.

Frederick County once again led Maryland in harvest totals with 8,378 deer, followed by Baltimore County with 6,804, and Washington County with 6,753.

According to the DNR, Sunday deer hunting continues to help deer management in Maryland. The Junior Deer Hunt, traditionally held on a Saturday, also included the following Sunday in 20 of 23 counties for the first time this year. Sunday hunting accounted for a total of 6,278 deer, 6 percent of the 2011-12 harvest.

Lakers Return To Win Column By Topping Howard, Potomac St.

After a string of tough losses, the Garrett College men's basketball team recorded a couple victories this past week, topping visiting Howard CC on Saturday, 75-67, and edging host Potomac State College on Monday, 67-65, in Keyser.

The Lakers were scheduled to play at Montgomery-Germantown last night, but no results of that contest were received by press time this morning.

The victories over Howard and PSC improved the Lakers' overall record to 13-12.

The win over Howard on Saturday was somewhat bittersweet, as the game was the final to be played in Garrett's original gymnasium. The team will move into a new arena in the Community Athletic and Recreation Complex next season.

It was a particularly poignant evening for GC head coach Dennis Gibson, who was a player for the Lakers in the first game played in the current gym back in 1972.

Halftime: Garrett 40-28.

Three-point goals - Howard 2 (Peters, Bellamy), Garrett 5 (Moore 3, Butler, Gibson). Total fouls - Howard 29, Garrett 20. Fouled out - Olugbile, Panzo.

As with the final game last night, Garrett also won that first game.

The Lakers played well in the first half, building a 19-point lead before letting Howard come back to tie the score in the second half.

After holding a 40-28 advantage at intermission, the Lakers allowed their visitors to chip away at their lead, and a 3-pointer by James Peters knotted the score with about three minutes to play.

Matt Gibson, who finished with 13 points and three steals, hit a 3-point bucket to put the Lakers ahead for good.

Din Moore led Garrett's scoring with 14 points, and Guila Panzo gave a well-rounded performance with 12 points, 10 rebounds, five blocks, and three steals.

Aaron Bellamy led Howard with 11 points, while Peters, Michael Oyefusi, and Nicholas Jones each netted 9 points.

The Lakers trailed in baskets by a 25-22 margin, but finished with a 5-2 lead in 3-point buckets and made good on 26 of 39 free throws, while Howard hit 15 of 26.

Carlton Johnson 2 1-4 5, Micah Parker 5 0-0 12, Jaron Farrell 6 3-3 15, Mike Hatfield 4 0-2 8, Darren Graham 6 2-5 17, Jerel Wright 1 0-0 2, Eric Palmer 3 0-0 6. Totals 27 6-14 65.

Halftime: Potomac State 36-31.

Three-point goals - Garrett 4 (Perez, Moore 3), Pot. State 5 (Parker 2, Graham 3). Total fouls - Garrett 12, Pot. State 21. Fouled out - Peyton Hartman (Pot. State).

The loss dropped Howard to 10-12 overall and 6-9 in JUCO games.

"It was great to go out of this facility with a win," said Coach Gibson. "They kept the pressure on us the whole time, but we did not rush our shots down the stretch and defensively forced them to foul."

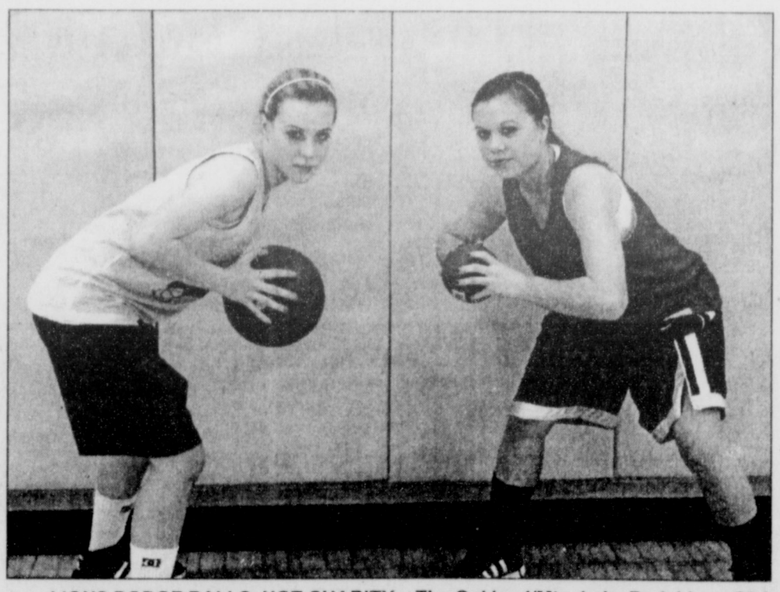
Monday's game against Potomac State was close throughout, with the lead changing sides several times in the first half and the Catamounts holding a 36-31 advantage at halftime.

The Lakers came back after the break and went on a run to take an arm's length lead before PSC rallied to close the gap again. Once again, the GC defense rose to the occasion and made enough stops in the final moments to preserve the 2-point win.

Moore and Armond Perez led the Lakers' scoring with 15 and 14 points, respectively, Antonio Butler was right behind with 13, and Isaac Akwara finished with 10 points.

Scoring leaders for Potomac State (13-8) were Darren Graham with 17, Jaron Farrell with 15, and Micah Parker with 12.

The Lakers are slated to enter the first round of the Maryland JUCO Tournament next Tuesday against an opponent and at a location yet to be announced. Games following the first round will all be played at Frederick CC.



LIONS DODGE BALLS, NOT CHARITY – The Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club will host a charity dodgeball tournament – the Dodgeball Donnybrook – at the Oakland Community Center. The tourney will be divided into two divisions. The 21 years and older division will be held on Saturday, March 3, while the division for participants under the age of 21 is scheduled for Saturday, March 10. Both events will run from noon to 8 p.m. There is an entry fee of $120 per 6-person, coed team (teams must have both male and female members). All teams that enter before Friday, Feb. 17, will receive complimentary team T-shirts with their team name and logo. Concessions will be provided on both tournament dates. Registration packets may be picked up at Comfort In Action, located in downtown Oakland, or printed from the Dodgeball Donnybrook page on Facebook. All completed forms are to be returned to Comfort In Action. Teams may register from now until the day of the tournament, but there is a strict limit of 24 teams per event. Those interested in further information may e-mail dodgeballdonnybrook@gmail.com or call Ryan Wolf at 240-321-0593.

Garrett Suffers Road Loss At Potomac State

The women's basketball team of Garrett College had few answers for the work Potomac State's Ashely Hines was doing on Monday evening in Keyser. Hines accounted for 32 points, 20 rebounds, four assists, and five steals, as the Lakers fell 78-59.

Garrett kept things close in the first half, trailing just 38-33 at halftime.

Potomac State went on a run to start the second half and was able to sustain its advantage through the final buzzer.

Halftime: Pot. State 38-33.

Three-point goals - Garrett 4 (Miller 2, Stem, Woods), Pot. State 3 (St. Van, Steele 2). Total fouls - Garrett 18, Pot. State 15. Fouled out - none.

Rachel Waibogha led the Lakers with 16 points.

Alexis Steele had 13 points for Potomac State, while teammates Brandie Robertson scored 12, and Ali St. Van added eight points and six assists.

Garrett now holds a record of 7-17 and will next play in the Maryland JUCO Tournament at Frederick Community College on Tuesday.

Porter Named

She also served flawlessly – 33 times without a single service error.

While Northern High only played 16 matches throughout the regular season, the majority of Maryland teams played in tournaments and additional games beyond the state's minimum number allowed. When one compares Porter's statistical output on a per-match basis to players from across Maryland, she is among the top.

In all, Porter is a three-sport athlete, playing volleyball, basketball, and softball. She joined the varsity softball team as a sophomore and the varsity girls' basketball team as a junior. She has received the Minds in Motion award for maintaining a 3.25 or better grade point average for three years running. She currently boasts a 3.42 grade point average.

Issue Statement

• Encourage the BOE to collaborate with the county to identify areas where overlapping services and practices may be consolidated and/or reduced in order to mitigate costs related to maintenance of effort.

• Encourage the BOE to continue to engage the public, central office staff, instructional staff, and administrative personnel for input in ways to enhance and maximize operations, as well as consider all options and proposals that can generate savings.

• Provide and direct additional funding, within affordability parameters, thus allowing the BOE the opportunity to look at a long-range vision of school needs based on projected enrollments and community interests as contained in the reports to be presented by the school communities.

• Support legislation (SB 586/HB 660) proposed by Sen. George Edwards and Del. Wendell Beitzel to cap the loss of state funding to any school district to a 5.5 percent limit.

Raley asked for the public's help in getting SB 586/HB 660 passed in the Maryland General Assembly.

"We need to inundate the legislative folks with calls, comments, e-mails on that bill," Raley said. "We need to give that bill some momentum."

He said county officials began promoting the proposed legislation last week during the annual PACE reception in Annapolis.

"We met with three of what I would consider to be the biggest advocacy groups out there who can help get this bill passed," Raley said.

He indicated, however, that the proposed legislation may only offer the BOE a short-term solution.

"It may only last for another year," Raley said. "But what we're hoping to do is to bridge this thing with the Board of Ed, give the Board of Ed more time to focus on this with the school communities/committees."

He noted that the BOE does not project as big a state funding loss next year.

"We are very concerned, and we're willing to work together with the school board and you guys (the public) on long-term solutions," Commissioner Bob Gatto said.

Crawford also asked for the public's assistance.

"It is a fluid situation," he said about finding funding. "We just ask for your patience and your indulgence. It's a very trying time for all of us, and please don't ever hesitate to contact us if you have questions, if you need details."

The commissioners' complete written public statement and details about SB 586/HB 660 are available online at garrettcounty.org.

fund K–12 education in the county, which is evidenced by recent proposals to close three more public schools. Senator Edwards and I will fight, as we did last year, to continue quality education for western Maryland's children."

Beitzel also filed bills regarding the leases of natural gas and oil. HB 403 would require the inclusion of an intake sheet for natural gas and oil leases when the leases are recorded by the clerk of the court. Edwards has filed similar legislation, SB 773.

The delegate explained that current law does not require the inclusion of an intake sheet, and stipulates that a clerk can accept a lease without such a sheet.

"Upon passage of this legislation, the intake sheet can be used to better index these natural gas and oil leases," Beitzel said.

Other measures dealing with natural gas and oil include HB 732/ SB 773, which would require natural gas and oil leases to contain certain uniform language. Each also provides for the recordation of leases.

In addition, HB 744/SB 770 would require leasing agents, known as "landmen," be registered with the Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation in order to do business in the state of Maryland. Similar measures were presented to the Texas legislature, Beitzel noted.

Finally, Beitzel and Edwards have, once again, introduced legislation dealing with wind turbines in Garrett County. HB 747/ SB 767 would give the Garrett County commissioners the authority to set certain requirements regarding setbacks and decommissioning of wind turbines.

The western Maryland legislators also have introduced legislation to repeal the exception currently allowing wind turbine companies to be exempted from seeking a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity before constructing wind turbines.

Anyone who would like to know more about these bills can access the information and the hearing schedule on the Maryland General Assembly's web site at http://mlis.state.md.us.

Persons may also contact Beitzel's office at 1-800-492-7122, ext. 3435, or Edwards' office at 1-800-492-7122, ext. 3565.

BACKYARD BUFFERS CREATE LANDSCAPES THAT MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Sediments and nutrients wash out of our backyards every time it rains. A streamside forest buffer can create habitat for wildlife, reduce peak winter temperatures, and reduce the amount of sediment, fertilizer, and toxic materials that enter our waterways.

The Backyard Buffer program has helped Maryland homeowners with streams near their property build "a landscape that will make a difference." This program has been a joint effort in recent years between the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Forest Service and the Potomac Watershed Partnership to improve land that borders a stream or other waterway.

If you have a drainage ditch, stream, creek, or river flowing through your property or live adjacent to such a waterway, you could qualify for a free Buffer-in-a-Bag. Qualified homeowners will receive one Buffer-in-a-Bag, enough for approximately a 50-foot section of an unprotected waterway on or adjacent to their property. Each bag will include 20-30 bare-root seedling trees and shrubs of native species. The trees and shrub seedlings for Allegany and Garrett County for 2012 are hazelnut, pin oak, silky dogwood, white oak, and white pine.

The deadline to reserve your very own Buffer-in-a-Bag is March 30, but quantities are limited and reservations will be taken on a first-come, first-served basis. Seedling packets will be available for pickup in mid-April, and those who have reserved packets will be contacted with the pickup date, time and location.

To learn more about Backyard Buffers and how you can receive your free Buffer-in-a-Bag, persons are urged to go online to http://dnr.maryland.gov/forests/pdfs/byb_program.pdf or contact Ernie Metz at 301-334-3296 or emetz@dnr.state.md.us.

Petersheim Earns Doctorate Of Physical Therapy

Dr. Joshua Petersheim recently graduated from West Virginia University with a doctorate in physical therapy. Dr. Petersheim accepted a position with Advantage Physical Therapy & Sports Performance, and he is currently employed at the company's clinic at Weyers Cave, Va., which is near his residence in Harrisonburg, Va.

Formal education began at Swan Meadow School, Oakland, in 1988. Upon receiving a Certificate of Completion of Studies from Swan Meadow School in 1996, he began working to attain a high school diploma from Christian Liberty Academy, Chicago, Ill. This home-school feat was achieved in 2000.

After a four-year recess from educational programs, Petersheim enrolled at Garrett College, McHenry, where he graduated summa cum laude in 2006 with an associate in arts degree in math and science. He graduated summa cum laude from WVU in 2008, with a bachelor of science degree in exercise physiology. He was also honored to receive the Basic Life Science Award for maintaining a 4.0 GPA in the core science classes of the DPT program.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petersheim of Wes White Road, Oakland.

No gas wells have yet been permitted in Maryland as the state completes a review process (which Atherton said is recognized nationally as the country's most thorough) in the search for what Gov. Martin O'Malley has called the "gold standard" in regulation.

Edwards is one of five local representatives appointed by O'Malley to a special commission studying the potential effects of gas-drilling using the controversial technique known as hydraulic fracturing. Contamination of water wells and aquifers in several states has been reportedly linked to "fracking."

In his executive order creating the commission last year, O'Malley identified passing a state severance tax as his top priority.

In a related development, Beitzel and Edwards announced identical measures to pursue gas leasing reforms that CitizenShale had called for late last year, Atherton said. The language of the three bills was released this week.

"Sen. Edwards and Del. Beitzel are taking large steps forward to create uniformity and transparency that will help protect our county's residents," said CitizenShsale board president Eric Robison.

Robison noted that while CitizenShale would have preferred the bills apply not only to prospective leases but that a full registry of all leases signed in the past also be created, he said he felt confident that other laws to be introduced in this session's General Assembly would achieve the desired goal.

Robison said the group would also prefer to have a higher state severance tax rate than Edwards proposed.

"The 2.5 percent may not be enough to address all of the problems," Robison said. "But it's an excellent starting point for further discussion."

that the assumption that the county will appropriate the amount of $3 million toward the debt is unfounded and is not being considered.

"The county believes that ASCI is an asset to Garrett County and is part of the overall and comprehensive tourism objective that will enhance and grow the Garrett County economy for many years," Raley read from the commissioners' statement.

He noted that ASCI had been paying on its debt until September 2010. The commissioner indicated that part of the reason for the payment stoppage involved Wisp Resort, which is now in Chapter 11.

"Some of it was probably the complexity of the relationship that they (ASCI board members) have with a fee that was collected from the Wisp in the amount of $180,000 per year," Raley said. "And once that fee was not able to be collected, it caused some problems for ASCI to be able to meet its financial obligations to the debt service."

County administrator Monty Pagenhardt noted that ASCI is sustainable and shows a profit, except for the capital debt.

"Operationally, they're (ASCI) barely making it, annually," explained ASCI board member Nancy Railey. "They've really stream-lined and cut down their expenses to be able to carry themselves operationally on an annual basis. There's no banking of money or anything like that going on."

She indicated, however, that the venture is still young and there are benefits to its carrying on and moving forward.

ASCI was selected last April to host the International Canoe Federation's World Championship Canoe and Kayak Slalom Races in 2014.

"This is an ongoing dialogue," Commissioner Raley said about the issue. "It's not over; it's not done. But we need some time to sort this out to see if there is some amicable solution."

He reiterated, however, that the county was not going to take on a $3 million debt.

The commissioners' next scheduled public meeting is Tuesday, Feb. 21, at noon at the courthouse.

Boot Camp For Bookkeepers To Be Held At NOC

SARAH WILT

A course titled Bookkeeper Boot Camp has been scheduled by Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at the Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville. Taught by local business owner Sarah Wilt, the course will run from 6 to 9:15 p.m., Wednesdays, March 7 through 28.

During the four sessions of the boot camp, participants will be instructed about the basic skills needed to develop and operate a solid bookkeeping system.

Course topics will include record keeping systems, balance sheets, income and cash flow statements, purchasing and sales cycles, inventory, capital assets and loans, reconciling bank statements, and budgets. Materials and book are included.

"This offering is designed for those who may want to brush up on their skills or get a quick, yet thorough, introduction to best practices," said Terry Beachy, NOC coordinator.

For additional information, persons may contact Beachy at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Those wishing to register may contact the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

Senate of Maryland, where he has served since. Edwards is a member of the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee.

"I have found over the years that in anything you do and particularly in elected office, it is important to be yourself, be honest, and that in democracy sometimes you have to compromise as long as you do not compromise your principles," Edwards said. "If you do these, you will accomplish much."

The senator said from the first public office he held, he discovered that he felt a sense of satisfaction in assisting and representing the constituents in his district and has dedicated his time in office to fulfilling that need.

"I have always told people that if I could be of any assistance to them just pick up the phone and call me," Edwards said. "I'm proud to serve the people of Garrett, Allegany, and now Washington counties. For me, that's what government should always be about – helping people."

The Thomas Kenney Award was established in 1995 by the Speaker's Society of the House. Kennedy was an Irish immigrant elected to the House of Delegates in 1817, serving Hagerstown. At that time, the Maryland Constitution provided that only Christians could serve in a Maryland body. Kennedy fought to change that law to allow Jews to serve in elected office.

Because of his perseverance, Kennedy was defeated for re-election in 1823. But he was re-elected in 1825 and managed to get a change in the law passed in 1826.

Del. Kennedy was also instrumental in establishing the Hagerstown Mail and served as its editor.

He also served in the Maryland Senate from 1826 to 1831, but returned to the House in the next election. He died in 1832.

"It is doubly rewarding that Thomas Kennedy was from western Maryland and did a lot for western Maryland and the whole state," Edwards said.

our park, all of this being paid for through various park grants.

"Despite our relatively small size, the fact that our town has received these numerous grant monies should be a source of pride and accomplishment for all the citizens of Friendsville," the mayor continued. "We are building hope and prosperity in our town, and as your mayor I promise to continue what we have begun."

The town is also working with the Department of Natural Resources on tree beautification projects. Each year the mayor appoints a committee to oversee these projects. This past year the town has received the DNR PLANT Green Level Award as well as being designated a Tree City USA Community.

"The tree committee just recently applied for a grant for $1,500, which will help in our beautification projects," the mayor said.

Schlosnagle noted that community pride is evident every day, and it reaches a high point during the annual "Clean Up, Paint Up Week" that is sponsored by the mayor and town council each spring.

"Conscientious of both environmental and public health concerns, the town contracts with a scrap metal recycler, to collect old appliances and recyclable metal items at no cost to the local residents," Schlosnagle said.

He said during the holidays the town "really sparkles," with the support of the Friendsville Community Watch members and the Friendsville Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department.

The mayor noted that Community Watch has prepared bows in the last few years in honor and remembrance of individuals in the Friendsville community. The bows are displayed on the town Christmas tree in the parklet, where they can enjoyed by residents and visitors.

"Due to the recent budget cuts, the town was limited on funds, but our local volunteer fire department and auxiliary came forward to help to pay for lighting of the Christmas decorations," the mayor said. "Our local churches graciously donated several hundred dollars to give our children a very nice Christmas treat."

He added that he is very proud of the organizations that support the community, such as Woodmen of the World, which sponsors the annual 9/11 Honor and Remembrance event at the Friendsville Community Park; the Friendsville Lions Club, which sponsors the annual Fiddle and Banjo Contest every July; Community Watch, which works throughout the year on various activities for the youth of the community; and the Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department, which recently celebrated 100 years of service to the community, along with the dedicated rescue squad members, who also give "tirelessly" to their community.

"There are many volunteers who give countless hours working to sponsor the annual Friendsville Days celebration," the mayor said. "This is a homecoming celebration for the citizens and visitors of our town and community. I support these organizations that are working for the betterment of our town; we should all take great pride and commend them for giving back to our community."

With the support of Gov. Martin O'Malley, Friendsville was recently awarded a grant for $88,500 to build a pedestrian bridge over Bear Creek.

"This project, which is under construction, will soon become a reality," Schlosnagle said. "These funds are a valuable resource for Friendsville and will assist our town with the much-needed bridge. We could not have done this without the many citizens in our community who wrote letters as well as the staff at the Head Start center and our seniors who gave their support for the project."

Most recently, Scholsnagle's administration received word of the possible closure of Friendsville Elementary School.

"This would be devastating to the citizens of our town and community," the mayor said. "The building is in good shape, and the children receive high test scores. Part of this is because our teachers really care about the job they are doing. When we received word of this [possible closure], the community rallied around the cause and came together."

The superintendent of schools recently appointed a Friendsville Advisory Group to review the closure issue.

"This group along with hundreds of caring individuals have been sending letters, making phone calls, and attending meetings on behalf of the students of our elementary school," Schlosnagle said. "The advisory group, which I chair, is working with the school board members, the county commissioners, and our senator and delegate, who are working very hard for us in Annapolis.

"The president of the board of education and myself even met recently with Lt. Gov. Anthony Brown's staff in Annapolis," he continued. "This week I will be traveling to Annapolis and lobbying on behalf of the town, as well as meeting with Gov. O'Malley and Lt. Gov. Brown. This proposed school closing, as well as several others throughout the county, has really brought the pride of all of our citizens in our towns and other communities together for this just cause to put education first for our young people."

The mayor concluded his campaign announcement by stating: "This administration from the very beginning has worked to build, strengthen and unify our community. Although we are dealing with difficult times and budget cuts, we as a community are strong. Neighbors watch out for one another, which makes us proud to live in a small town such as ours. My motto from day one has been 'the friendliest little town in Maryland: Friendsville, Maryland.' My desire is to follow through with my goals for the betterment of Friendsville."

McHenry Resident Sentenced To 10 Years For Assault

A 22-year-old McHenry man pleaded guilty to second degree assault and theft in Garrett County Circuit Court last week. For the assault charge, Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Justin Lee Shoemaker to 10 years in the Division of Correction and suspended five of those years.

He was sentenced to one year, to run concurrently, for the theft charge. After Shoemaker is released from prison, he will be on probation, with conditions that include having no contact with the victim and paying restitution.

He was arrested and charged by Maryland State Police in September when a former girlfriend contacted the state police. Initial investigation led to Shoemaker being charged with rape, assault, theft, and destruction of property. The remaining charges were dismissed upon his plea.

In an unrelated case, Robert Vincent Vanderbilt IV, 20, Oakland, pleaded guilty to theft. Sherbin then sentenced him to one year in the Garrett County Jail, suspended the sentence, and placed him on probation.

Conditions of probation include having no contact with the victim and making restitution of $2,626, jointly with other co-defendants.

Vanderbilt was charged by Garrett County sheriff's officers after a local couple reported the theft of jewelry from their residence. Investigation led to police charging six persons, two of them juveniles, with playing various roles in stealing the jewelry and pawning it for cash, the state's attorney noted.

In other court proceedings, John Henry Harrison,Jr., 24, Berlin, pleaded guilty to possession of psilocybin mushrooms. Related charges were dismissed upon his plea.

Sherbin sentenced Harrison to six months in the Garrett County Jail, suspended the sentence, and placed him on probation. He was assessed $925 in fines and costs, and ordered to forfeit $1,800 that he possessed at the time of his arrest.

Harrison was arrested and charged in July by Maryland State Police. His vehicle, at the time being driven by a female friend, was stopped for traffic violations along I-68. The vehicle was scanned by a drug-detection dog and was then searched when the dog alerted. Two bags of psilocybin mushrooms were found in a compartment in the rear of the vehicle, and Harrison admitted to officers the drugs were his, the state's attorney said.

In other recent court proceedings, charges against Edward Scott Moats, 27, Oakland, were placed on the stet (inactive) docket by the state's attorney. Moats was charged last April with theft and conspiracy to commit theft from an Accident-Bittinger Road residence.

In an unrelated case, two second degree assault charges against Gregory Sines, Oakland, were placed on the stet docket by the state's attorney. The charges stem from two incidents that occurred last June and September. Conditions of the ruling include Sines having no contact with the victim.

Man Driving On Susp. License Arrested Tuesday

A West Virginia man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on Tuesday following a traffic stop on Oak Street, Oakland.

Dennis Wayne Beckman, 53, Mt. Storm, was found to be driving on a suspended out-of-state license. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Deadline For 2011 Recycling Reports Is Friday, March 16

It is now time for local businesses to report their annual recycling efforts for 2011 to the Garrett County Department of Solid Waste and Recycling, recycling coordinator Kim Madigan announced this week.

All materials being recycled within the county or outside of the county and state are eligible and count toward the county's MRA (Maryland Recycling Act) rate.

The 2011 recycling report forms are being mailed out now, with completed reports due back on Friday, March 16.

"If you are not on the mailing list, please contact the office or download a form at www.garrettcounty.org," Madigan said.

The Maryland Recycling Act states that each of Maryland's jurisdictions develop and implement recycling programs and report the amount and types of materials recycled annually. Populations with fewer than 150,000 are required to recycle 15 percent of their waste. Garrett County's rate usually far exceeds the state requirement.

"With the continued support of Garrett County residents and businesses, Garrett County Department of Solid Waste and Recycling is proud to announce a recycling rate of 45.17 percent for 2010," Madigan said. "Our department applauds these efforts."

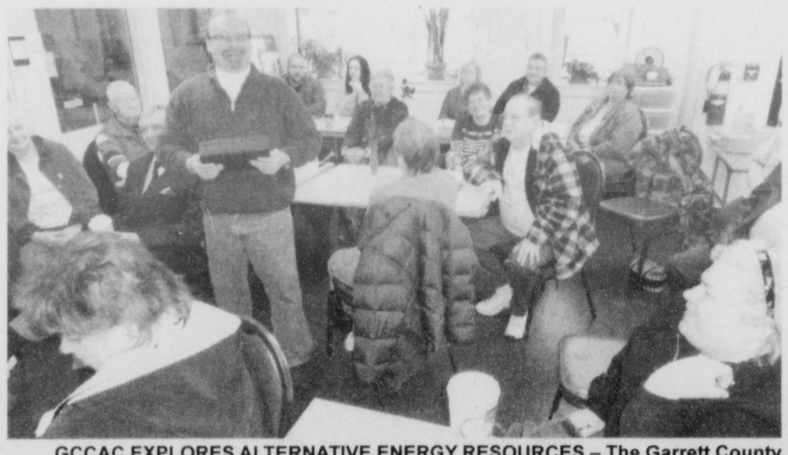
Examples of not-often-thought-of recycled materials are landscaping debris (grass clippings, leaves, brush and branches and mixed yard waste); carpet or cloth remnants; newspapers or catalogs sent back to manufacturers; wood waste to mulch/compost (i.e., canes/crutches; pallets, crates, barrels, wood furniture, wood shavings and sawdust); oil filters; all mixed paper; toner cartridges; camera/film canisters; and all plastics.

Common recyclables include aluminum cans, newspapers, cardboard, magazines, office paper, glass bottles and jars, electronics, and mixed metal.

"All over Garrett County, businesses have noticed the benefits of recycling by enjoying a reduction in their monthly disposal fees," Madigan noted. "If you are not recycling at this time, but are interested in receiving information on how you can save money and help preserve the natural resources in Garrett County, please contact our office immediately at 301-387-0322 or kmadigan@garrettcounty.org."

Garrett County residents and businesses may use the local refuse and recycling sites free of charge to recycle their materials. A current refuse sticker is not required to recycle.

Persons who have questions, require assistance completing the MRA report, or would like a complete list of MRA approved recyclable materials are asked to contact Madigan at her office or visit www.garrettcounty.org/GeneralServices/SolidWaste/recycleAZ.aspx.



GCCAC EXPLORES ALTERNATIVE ENERGY RESOURCES – The Garrett County Community Action Committee recently completed a program called Sustainable Energy Resources for Consumers (SERC) in which various alternative energy systems were installed in the homes of 60 clients in Garrett County. GCCAC representative Rick Hutchinson (center) and Heidi Phillips (not pictured) met with program participants to discuss any questions about the new systems and the financial management of the savings they have seen in their energy bills.

the other involved parties and the recovery of most of the property, the state's attorney noted. The five all spoke with police and admitted their various involvements to police, and reported the crimes had occurred over the course of approximately four days the prior week.

The juveniles have all been adjudicated delinquent, with two placed on probation and one committed to the Youth Camps. The case of the adult co-defendant remains pending in circuit court.

In an unrelated case, Bryan Kelley, 39, Westernport, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol. Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Kelley to one year in the Garrett County Jail. Sixty days will be served on home confinement, and the balance of the sentence was suspended in favor of probation. Fines and costs totaling $1,145 were imposed.

Kelley was charged by Maryland State Police who investigated a single-vehicle accident along I-68 west of Pigs Ear Road last August. Kelley's vehicle was determined to have been traveling east, struck the guardrails along the eastbound shoulder, traveled across all eastbound lanes, went through the median and across all westbound lanes, and struck a guardrail along the westbound shoulder before stopping in a field. Kelley was located near his vehicle.

Investigating troopers determined he was the sole occupant, and evidence at the scene and from blood tests substantiated he was under the influence.

In another court case, Justin Dale Hetrick, 19, Accident, was sentenced to six months in the Garrett County Jail for a drug charge of illegal possession of hydrocodone. Four months of the sentence were suspended, and Hetrick will be on probation after serving the balance of 60 days.

Last March, Hetrick was charged by officers with the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force who met with officials at Northern high School and learned that Hetrick had taken a narcotic medication to school to provide to another student. He pleaded guilty in July, and sentencing was postponed.

In other court proceedings, John Mark Finch, 44, Oakland, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol. Related charges were dismissed upon his plea.

Judge Sherbin then sentenced Finch to one year in the Garrett County Jail, with eight months suspended. One month will be served in the jail, followed by three months of home confinement. Finch will then be on probation. A fine of $200 was also assessed.

Finch was charged in September by a Garrett County sheriff's deputy who was patrolling in the Oakland area. As the officer was traveling on Mason Street and turning onto Elk Street, Finch, driving a youth-size four-wheeler, pulled into the path of the officer. Observation of Finch and field sobriety testing led to his arrest for the alcohol offense, the state's attorney said.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

HAM RADIO OPERATION has been a long-time personal hobby of Jill Schaumloeffel, interim professor of information systems at Garrett College, who shares that interest with students through the Continuing Education/Workforce Development class she offers. See story.

Jill Schaumloeffel Hams It Up With Garrett College Students

by Peggy Santamaria

Jill Schaumloeffel, interim professor of information systems at Garrett College, has a long-standing personal interest in a special form of information system – the ham radio. Her expertise, developed over the last 30 or so years, is shared with the students who take her ham radio classes through the Continuing Education & Workforce Development Division of GC.

"I became interested in amateur radio while in college in the late 1970s," she Schaumloeffel said. "Several of my classmates were involved in ham radio as a natural extension of our studies in electrical engineering. I enjoyed designing the antennas since I was a radio frequency engineer at the time."

It wasn't until Schaumloeffel took a position with the U.S. Department of Defense in Germany that she began studying the practical application of radio communication along with the Federal Communication Commission rules and regulations regarding ham radio. In addition, she learned Morse code, which was required in order to take the exam to obtain a technician class license. Having accomplished all this, she was given her license along with the FCC call sign she would use.

"I became N2JLC," she said.

Schaumloeffel would later upgrade this license to FCC general class, enabling her to provide more services to others learning to become amateur radio operators. She described her sojourn at the summer Instructor's Institute sponsored by the Amateur Radio Relay League (ARRL).

"I spent a week at ARRL headquarters with 12 other instructors to learn lots of neat and engaging activities about wireless communications to use in our classrooms," she said. "We learned about basic radio operations, communicating with satellites, we built and programmed a working robot, and got to operate the top-of-the-line radio equipment at the ARRL radio station W1AW. I use these skills when teaching the ham radio classes offered here at Garrett College."

In the Schaumloeffel household, ham radios are a family affair. Her husband Art, WA3BOQ, has been a ham operator for nearly 50 years. They work together building and installing antennas and setting up radio equipment. He even helps with the radio classes she teaches at Garrett.

"Art demonstrates different modes of radio use such as the traditional use of Morse code and voice on HF frequencies and the newer computer controlled digital modes," Jill said. "He will also teach Morse code for those students who wish to learn it. Although no longer required by the FCC, Morse code has recently grown in popularity."

In the ham radio class Schaumloeffel will offer in February, she and Art plan to cover the information needed to pass the general class license exam, build an antenna, and learn construction and soldering skills while building a digital clock, code oscillator, or crystal radio.

"If the weather permits, we would like to demonstrate the use of radios to conduct a fox hunt (find a hidden beacon using directional antennas) and possibly make radio contact with other operators using one of the many orbiting satellites," she explained. "We hope to bring in local ham operators to talk with the class about their experiences and help teach the class members construction skills."

The class will focus on upgrading from the entry level FCC technician class license to the FCC general class license, but people interested in obtaining their technician class license are welcome. Students will need

SimLab Provides Hands-On Training For EMS Students At McHenry Campus

by Peggy Santamaria

To provide state-of-the-art advanced life support (ALS) emergency medical and paramedic training to students, Garrett College uses a simulation laboratory, complete with a simulation man. This method of instruction is referred to as SimLab training using SimMan.

The lab is, in fact, an ambulance fitted out as it would be for an actual emergency service. Because it is an ambulance, it is a mobile unit which can provide training at various locations.

Lead instructor for SimLab is former GC student Doug Beitzel, NREMT-P, who spent years working to bring his dream of SimLab to reality. The donation of an ambulance by Tri-Towns Ambulance in Westernport allowed implementation of this training. Local business owner Jerry Humberson recently donated his services to imprint the Garrett College logo and the SimLab lettering on the ambulance.

Beitzel explained how the fully equipped SimLab is used in training.

"We have a patient simulator, and the ambulance is stocked like the real thing," he said. "We run a scenario that is just like a patient call in the field. The students treat the 'patient' and perform all skills just like they would on a real call. With SimMan, they can start IVs, give drugs, shock the patient, intubate (insert a breathing tube), and conduct many more advanced procedures. SimMan can talk, breathe, bleed, and even vomit."

Using techniques and protocols learned in a traditional classroom setting, the students are allowed to proceed uninterrupted by the trainers.

"The call is allowed to continue, regardless of how the student treats the 'patient.' said Beitzel. "However if the correct care is not given, the SimMan is programmed to get sicker and even die."

During each of these simulated calls, the students are digitally recorded in both audio and video, and all skills applied to the simulator are time-stamped. Following the session, the instructor will review the recorded information with the students in a "debrief" meeting and examine the good and bad points of the treatment provided.

"Most of the equipment inside the vehicle is owned by the college and was used in the classroom setting prior to having SimLab," Beitzel said. "Since the medical supplies and products we use on real emergency calls have expiration dates, many of the squads in Allegany and Garrett counties donate their expired supplies to SimLab to be used for our simulated calls."

He also pointed out that because SimLab is set up the same way as most am-

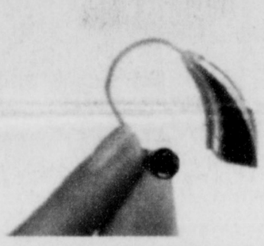
Now Being Tested – Tiny New Fix for Hearing Loss Weighs Less Than a Dime



The genius of this engineering design is The separation of the receiver (speaker) from the rest of the hearing aid. An ultra-Slim computer processor is worn in the hairline just behind the ear. The receiver rests in the ear canal, secured by a vented silicone tip. A hair-thin wire – not a tube – connects the two.

This Triumph in technology is from Starkey – a 75-year-old powerhouse in the hearing aid industry – is called the RANGE. It weighs less than a dime and instantaneously and unnoticeably "snaps" your hearing back into focus. This device is now being tested in the Cumberland, MD area. During this in-office trial, participants will be fit with the RANGE and asked to evaluate:

1. Speech recognition.
2. Discreet appearance.
3. Comfort to the ear.

You will receive a full hearing evaluation in our facility by a licensed hearing aid specialist. If your results indicate that you are a candidate for this technology, and choose to purchase the RANGE, this limited opportunity provides you a $950 discount for your time and effort participating in this study.

Anyone who is concerned about their hearing should consider this SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY to find out if you can be helped by this new technology.

This Starkey instrument product trial is exclusively offered through AUDIBEL HEARING AID CENTERS and is for a limited time only.

To participate, please call:

Open enrollment dates for this study are: Wednesday February 8 through Friday February 17, 2012.

Temptation & Possibilities

We all know that temptation has been lurking as long as man has been upon the earth...slithering around the Garden of Eden...disguising itself with glitter and glamour, promising love and acceptance, and sometimes pretending to be the only solution to our problem. All of us succumb to temptation now and then.

God allows us to be tempted for a reason. When we resist temptation and allow Him to be our guide, our spirit is strengthened. Perhaps one could think of this as a "divine" exercise in trusting our Heavenly Father.

Visit your chosen House of Worship this week and keep in touch with your Creator. As you come to know God and His will for you, you will discover divine possibilities for your life.

I saw a bumper sticker recently which said "The school is life. The lesson is love." Life is indeed a school, and it doesn't have to be the "school of hard knocks," as some would have it. Far better that life be a school where loving kindness and compassion are the constant lesson. Again and again throughout the Bible the centrality of love is preached. Consider 1 John 4:8, where we are told that "Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love." The Bible is an epic saga of God's love for humanity (and the rest of creation) despite man's tendency to turn away from God and not appreciate the wondrous bounty of God's love. Perhaps we should consider how we might live a life devoted to love, and how our thoughts, words, and actions, might reflect that divine love always and unconditionally.

"Dear friends, since God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No one has ever seen God; but if we love one another, God lives in us and His love is made complete in us."

World Spay Day Slated For Feb. 28, GC Humane Society To Participate

by Lisa Baker, GC Humane Society president

This year's Spay Day USA event will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 28. It has a new name: World Spay Day. Why? Because every year millions of companion animals suffer and die in the U.S. and around the world.

Globally, roaming pets contribute to the overpopulation problem. Often authorities in other countries electrocute, shoot, poison, or use other brutal methods to kill unwanted animals. In addition to being inhumane, these methods are not the long-term solution to animal overpopulation.

Spay/neuter is a permanent, 100 percent effective method of birth control. So the message of World Spay Day is that by spaying/neutering your pet and by informing others of the importance of spay/neuter, you can become an important part of the solution.

Nationwide, an estimated 6-8 million homeless dogs and cats enter animal shelters every year; less than half are adopted. Tragically the other half are "put down."

The number of homeless animals varies by state, and most are not street animals but are the puppies and kittens of pets that accidently or intentionally are allowed to breed.

World Spay Day is presented by the Humane Society of the U.S. and Humane Society International, but thousands of small organizations such as the Garrett County Humane Society take part in it every year. The local, non-profit GCHS has been distributing spay/neuter vouchers for over 25 years and has been part of Spay Day for at least 10 years.

As part of this event, a variety of promotional items and advertisements are made available to participating organizations.

For the last several years, the GCHS has had entries in an online photo contest, in which you vote for any of the thousands of entries. All entries receive prize money, and the top entries receive special awards.

You may enter your pet and chose the GCHS as the recipient of the prize money. To do so, go to www.worldspayday.org.

On Feb. 28, the GCHS will be distributing discount vouchers at the Garrett County Animal Shelter, located along Oakland Sang Run Road, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Vouchers will only be given to Garrett County residents, limit two per family. The voucher's amount will be determined according to dog/cat and male/female.

Vouchers cannot be mailed, and they are not valid at HART's spay/neuter clinic in McHenry. If you qualify for HART's reduced rates because of your income, then you need to contact that organization directly at 301-387-SPAY.

For more information about the GCHS vouchers, you may call the Garrett County Animal Shelter at 301-334-3553.

EENY, MEENY, MINY, MOE, WHERE WILL ALL THESE KITTENS GO? This photo (from last year) shows just a few of the hundreds of kittens that come into the Garrett County Animal Shelter each year. "They are cute, but they are homeless," said GC Humane Society president Lisa Baker. "There are simply not enough homes for all the kittens that come in each year. With 24 or more kittens at the shelter at a given time in the spring and summer and only a few people coming in to adopt one, they won't all get adopted. A lot of them will be taken to rescues by HART, but it all depends on how many and timing." To help alleviate pet overpopulation, the GCHS will distribute spay/neuter vouchers during this year's World Spay Day. See story for details. Photo courtesy of the GCHS.

My Grandma was SPECIAL in every way,
She made me smile every day.
And she was always there for me,
Especially in my time of need.
She was the one I ran to,
When I didn't know what to do,
And she was the one who was ALWAYS there,
When no one else seemed to care.
When I was down
She made me smile,
And that smile
Lasted a while.
My grandma was not just my Grandma
She was my BEST FRIEND.
She was my heart
And the day she died
My world fell apart!

Love & Miss you so much

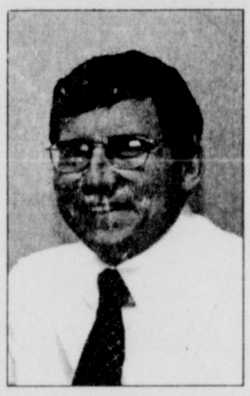
Porter Awarded CITP Credential



Rodeheaver & Associates, P.C., a certified public accounting firm in Oakland, has announced that Daniel Porter, CPA and director of business advisory service for the firm, has earned the certified information technology professional (CITP) credential.

The CITP is the American Institute of CPAs' credential for CPA technology professionals that illustrates to others Porter's business and technology acumen and his ability to develop and drive the use of technology to achieve the firm's goals and those of clients.

"We are extremely pleased that Daniel has earned the CITP credential," said Randy Rodeheaver, CPA, CVA, and managing principal of the firm. "CPAs/CITPs establish the trust between operational managers and their IT counterparts to achieve both teams' objectives by utilizing technology to help increase profits and efficiencies. Daniel will act as a bridge between our clients' operational managers and IT personnel to ensure that both groups, which can sometimes be at odds, better understand each other and create more effective technology solutions as a result."

Rodeheaver added that the certification and continuing education requirements for CPAs/CITPs ensure that they stay on top of new trends and technologies that can be applied within clients' organizations.

Military Family Support Group Plans Meeting

The Military Family Support Group will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 6:30 p.m. in the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad building on Route 135.

The gathering is open to anyone who has family or friends serving in any branch of the military. The meeting is designed to give families and friends an opportunity to provide support to one another, while their loved ones are serving and/or deployed. This month's meeting will feature a discussion on group activities for 2012.

Those interested in more information may call Cathy Menker at 301-334-5906 or Larry Schlossnagle 301-746-5723.

The group encourages those of the community with deployed family members to call and provide names and military mailing addresses for the spring package mailing.

Introduction To Anatomy Class Slated At NOC

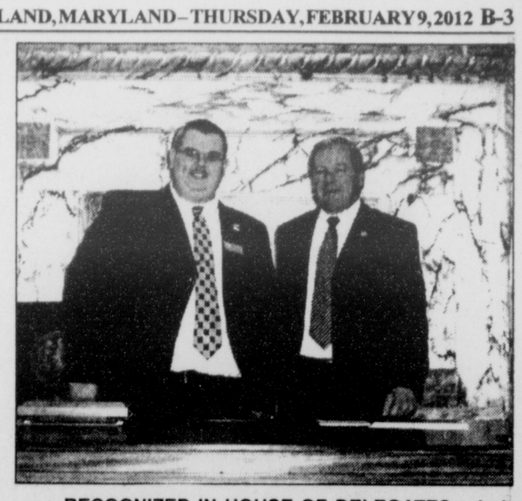
Garrett College will hold a course titled "Introduction to Anatomy and Physiology" at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, March 5 through April 4, from 6 to 9:15 p.m.

These classes will provide an overview of human anatomy and physiology, including an introduction to structure and function of the human body by systems and on the cellular level.

The course is intended for beginners in the health care field or to supplement the knowledge of those working in any type of medical setting such as physician offices, nursing homes, clinics, or other facilities where health services are rendered. The course is also offered as one in a series of the medical coding and billing curriculum.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center director, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register, one may call the college's Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.



RECOGNIZED IN HOUSE OF DELEGATES – Luke mayor Ed Clemons Jr. was recently recognized on the floor of the Maryland House of Delegates by Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R–Garrett and Allegany counties). Clemons, a former Garrett County resident, was in Annapolis to lobby lawmakers on issues regarding job creation and retention. "I am proud of the wonderful local leaders like Mayor Clemons who effectively represent the citizens of Garrett and Allegany counties on a daily basis," Beitzel said. "Mr. Clemons has tirelessly served the people of Luke for the past three years, and has also communicated very well the needs of the town to myself and my staff." Left to right are Clemons and Beitzel.

NOTICE
GARRETT COUNTY TAXPAYERS!

According to the laws governing the tax office (Section 14-808/Tax Property), the Tax Collector must advertise and sell properties for delinquent County, State, Town and/or taxes due to other taxing agencies.

Delinquent notices were mailed Feb. 1, 2012. We have included all taxes on the property as required by law. However, only delinquent taxes (2010-2011) and prior years must be paid to avoid a tax sale on the property. Also, personal property taxes for 2003-2004 and prior years are delinquent and become a lien on the real estate (Section 14-808). (If you are involved in a bankruptcy proceeding, please contact our office as soon as possible.) TAX BILLS MAILED JULY 2011 ARE NOT DELINQUENT!

According to legislation (Annotated Code 14-809), the county collector shall proceed to advertise and sell any real property located in any municipal corporation in the county on which municipal corporation taxes are delinquent. Unpaid amounts for other taxing agencies were shown at the bottom of the notices. PROPERTIES WILL ALSO BE SOLD FOR DELINQUENT WATER OR SEWER FEES. IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS CONCERNING PUBLIC UTILITIES, PLEASE CONTACT THEIR OFFICE AT 301-334-6983.

Property taxes may be paid at the Tax Office with Discover Card Only. Also, we accept payments by credit card or e-check on-line. To pay by credit card or e-check visit https://payments.garrettcounty.org. There is a fee charged for credit card payments; the E-Check service is free. Cards that can be used are: VISA, MASTERCARD, DISCOVER, and AMERICAN EXPRESS.

The annual tax sale will be held on May 4, 2012. Additional fees for attorney costs will be assessed after March 2, 2012. As of this date, certified funds will be required. Please contact our office for the correct figures. After approximately April 2, 2012, additional fees for advertising will be included in the total amounts due.

If you should have questions or if we can be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call anytime between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Birding BITS

BY Cindy Brook

Waxwing Sighting

Fresh water is very important during the winter months. I have four birdbaths and lots of migrating visitors. One year about a dozen cedar waxwings dropped down from the trees to drink from my birdbaths. It was quite a sight, and worth the effort of maintaining bird baths in winter.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

As bad as our economy is, no one can sprinkle some magic fairy dust and suddenly make it fine. We are now living in a vastly different kind of world than during the time America ruled the world in everything. We can't expect that America will return to its former state as the only significant player in the community of nations, and that is not a reasonable desire.

It is not only Americans who deserve a decent standard of living. That caused much worldwide turmoil. And there are a few Americans who have everything, and many just barely getting by. Some live in total misery. And that does not lead to domestic tranquility or worldwide stabilization. It only leads to things like Sept. 11, 2001, and the current Occupy Movement, because it is simply not in any way based on fairness.

It is not Fanny Mae or Freddy Mac that is hurting the housing industry, but it is caused by some powerful people from Wall Street and their pursuit of their own profits regardless of who is suffering from their actions. Maybe it would be more profitable to ship American manufacturing operations to developing nations, which would lead to the collapse of the American middle class. Much of middle-class Americans can only afford shopping at Wal-Mart, largely stacked with Chinese-produced products. My eyeglass frames are a good example of the quality of many Chinese goods; they function well for a couple of months then become worthless.

My great-great-great-grandfather on my Glotfelty side owned the large tract of land behind the peat bog and all the way to Meadow Mountain. One of his sons finally settled all of the land from their homestead to Bittinger. The second son settled from their homestead to what is now the Deep Creek Lake area, and I bet that land is still occupied by his decendants.

Warren Buffett came out without anyone prompting him to issue a strong statement, saying it was ridiculous that he pays taxes at a lower rate than that of his secretary. "This is ridiculous and must be changed," he said. The president referred to that proposal in his State of the Union as "the Buffet rule."

Buffet goes further, saying that we can't solve our debt unless America fixes this outrageous and unfair law.

Maybe some believe Buffett and Gates are not fair spokesmen for their wealthy upper class because they are a million times richer than the average millionaire.

The least meaningful holiday, Groundhog Day, is here. Punxsutawney Phil, the celebrity groundhog who is dragged from his den at Gobblers Knob. You could count the shadows coming from the whole bunch of television lights, and this year he did see his shadow.

Another groundhog at some place in Georgia did not see his shadow. The rule is that if the groundhog sees his shadow, we will have six more weeks of winter. Everyone in Bittinger knows that in early February the winter weather involves lots of snow and often blizzard conditions. But during the last month or so we have had spring-like weather. Six weeks from now, spring will be here anyway, so no important information came out this Groundhog Day. It was just a chance for one small town to attract media attention and tourists. I think they spend the night before in bars drinking all night. How meaningful!

If you want to attend the Super Bowl in person, a weekend trip will set you back a little over $5,000 (not including airfare). It could be more if you happen to have expensive tastes in accommodations and dining. If you have a fear of heights, those tickets are not for you. Few Americans can really afford that.

We should be very concerned about the possibility that Israel will launch a military attack on Iran because that would drag America into the conflict. Maybe even an American military action would follow. A war between Israel and Iran would be a problem. It is unlikely China and Russia will join in, as they typically act only for self-interest. Will the international community pressure Iran with strict sanctions again?

Regardless of what you might hear, the Chinese economy is getting worse. They do not hold all of the cards, but try to convince the international community of nations that they do.

America is showing increasing strength and growth in manufacturing and even in construction activities. We had another month of strong job growth numbers in these past two sectors. The trend in most areas of the economy is more positive. Employment numbers are better. Meanwhile, some in Congress support cutting jobs in the public sector, and that is where many of the middle-class jobs are and offers the best chance for hiring our returning veterans. No one can completely predict the future accurately.

We need to invest to improve the future of America, with more research and development. We need to repair the shameful condition of our bridges, roads, power grids, and water structures. We need to work on renewable energy, to decrease our dependence on oil.

Environmentalists and organized labor realize our current leader has the best interest in America because he has the right character and values, and is a decision maker. He is not reckless and does not favor only various narrow-minded special-interest groups.

A Bible study of the book of Genesis is being held on Wednesday evenings at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Bittinger. All are invited to attend.

The midweek Lenten services for the Bittinger Parish will begin with a communion service and imposition of ashes on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 22, at St. John's of Meadow Mountain at 7 p.m.

The Bittinger Parish will celebrate Souper Bowl Sunday on February 12 with a "Souper" lunch at Emmanuel following the worship service. Donations will be collected for a program called "100 Wells," which is an initiative to raise funds to build 100 wells to serve people who still do not have access to safe drinking water. Donations are also needed to support the Bittinger Food Pantry, particularly personal care items.

Garrett College Slates eBay Class At Northern Ctr.

"Buying and Selling on eBay," a hands-on computer course, will be held at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, on Mondays, March 12 and 19, from 6 to 9:15 p.m. Small-business owner Sarah Wilt will instruct the class.

This course is designed for individuals who wish to discover how to buy and sell items online through eBay, one of the sites that conducts online auctions matching buyers with sellers in a global marketplace.

Students will be shown how to create titles that get noticed, how to craft advertising copy to help sell items quickly and for top dollar, and how to upload photos of the items to be sold.

Students will also be told how to safely conduct financial transactions, how to accept credit card payments, and how to pack and ship any item.

Those interested in buying items on eBay can learn how to value items that are up for auction, how to get the best possible price, how to protect oneself against fraud, and how to compete effectively against other bidders.

Also scheduled at the center in March are "Introduction to Anatomy and Physiology," "Bookkeeper Boot Camp," "Introduction to Meditation," and "Slate Painting."

For more information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for these courses, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

Children's Tae Kwon Do Classes Slated In Oakland

Tae kwon do classes for children ages 5 to 11 will be held at Garrett College's Southern Outreach Center (SOC), Oakland, on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. The first session will run March 5–28. A second session will be held April 2–25.

The instruction will focus on basic self-defense, discipline, and the skills of punching and kicking.

Students are advised to wear loose clothing that allows easy movement. If they choose to wear shorts, these should be knee-length.

To obtain more information or to register, persons may call 301-334-8304.

These classes are offered by the college's Continuing Education/Workforce Development Division.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED REAL ESTATE
607 L Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550

By virtue of the power and authority contained in a Deed of Trust from Patricia Hornbeck Anderson aka Patricia L .Anderson and Leonard Roy Anderson aka Leonard R. Anderson, dated June 5, 2009, and recorded in Liber 1443 at folio 81 among the Land Records of GARRETT COUNTY, Maryland, upon default and request for sale, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will offer for sale at public auction 203 S. 4th Street, Room 209, Oakland, Maryland, on February 17, 2012, at 2:00 p.m.

all that property described in said Deed of Trust as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN TRACT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND AND PREMISES SITUATE, LYING AND BEING IN ELECTION DISTRICT NO. 16 OF GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, LYING ALONG THE EASTERN MARGIN OF L STREET, TOWN OF MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, AND BEING PART OF TOWN LOT NO. 1248 THAT RUNS ALONG THE NORTHWESTERN MARGIN OF GLADE DRIVE

The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, easements, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the subject property, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit in the form of cashier's or certified check, or in such other form as the Substitute Trustees may determine, at their sole discretion, for $17,000.00 at the time of sale. If the noteholder and/or servicer is the successful bidder, the deposit requirement is waived. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid within fifteen (15) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for GARRETT COUNTY, Maryland. Interest is to be paid on the unpaid purchase price at the rate of 8% per annum from date of sale to the date the funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees, if the property is purchased by an entity other than the noteholder and/or servicer. If payment of the balance does not occur within fifteen days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event settlement is delayed for any reason. Taxes, ground rent, water rent, and all other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale, and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Condominium fees and/or homeowners association dues, if any, shall be assumed by the purchaser from the date of sale. The purchaser shall be responsible for the payment of the ground rent escrow, if required. The purchaser is responsible for any amount in excess of $250.00 for outstanding water bills, if any, incurred prior to the date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, and all settlement charges shall be borne by the purchaser. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the deposit to the purchaser. Upon refund of the deposit, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Substitute Trustees. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss for the property immediately after the sale.

The above-described property (the "Property") being all the same property which was conveyed by the Grantor by the Mortgage dated and recorded as aforesaid.

TERMS OF SALE: The Property is being sold and will be conveyed free and clear of the lien of the above-referenced Mortgage and all subordi¬nate liens and encumbrances. The Property is being sold and will be conveyed "As Is, Where Is", without recourse, together with and subject to all applicable conditions, restric¬tions, covenants, limitations, rights of way, streets, alleys, reservations, easements, and appurtenances of record and subject also to all environmental conditions affecting the Property, if any. The undersigned Assignee makes no warranties or representations, express or implied, with respect to any matters concerning the Property, included but not limited to, condition of the Property, matters of survey or title, tenancies or parties in possession, zoning compliance, housing or other governmental or regulatory violations, etc.

A deposit of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) (the "Deposit") will be required at the time of sale in cash or by certified check or other form of payment acceptable to the undersigned Assignee in the said Assignee's sole discretion; the balance to be paid upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland; except that no deposit shall be required of the holder of the note secured by the Mortgage (or any controlled affiliate of the holder; collectively hereinafter the "Holder") where the Holder bids on the Property at the sale and payment of the purchase price by the Holder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Mortgage. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of Court ratification, and at the rate of twenty percent (20%) per annum from the date of Court ratification to the date of settlement. No interest shall accrue on the Deposit. If the successful bidder (the "Purchaser") fails to make settlement within fifteen (15) days following the date of Court ratification, time being of the essence thereto, the entire Deposit may, at the option of the undersigned Assignee, be forfeited and retained as liquidated damages and notice of said forfeiture shall be provided to the Purchaser by the Assignee. If the Deposit is not forfeited as liquidated damages, but is instead retained by the Assignee in escrow pending resale of the Property, the Property may be resold by the Assignee at the risk and expense of the defaulting Purchaser, and the Deposit thereafter shall be applied as required to any subsequently realized loss of the Assignee by virtue of the default by the said Purchaser and the required resale of the Property including any expenses incidental thereto. All taxes, water, and other public charges and assessments shall be pro-rated on and as of the date of said sale and shall be assumed thereafter by the Purchaser. Following the date of sale, all risk of loss to the Property shall be assumed by the Purchaser. The Purchaser shall pay the cost of all recordation taxes, transfer taxes (including but not limited to that agricultural land transfer tax imposed by Maryland Tax Property Code §13-302; which said tax may be applicable to the sale and transfer of the Property), document preparation and other costs of settlement. Any and all rents due and payable after the date of sale (but excluding any rents due and payable through the date of sale) from leases of all or any portion of the Property will be received and held by the Assignee as an accommodation only for the benefit of purchaser pending closing with all of said rents to be credited to purchaser at closing without interest thereon or deduction therefrom. Notwithstanding the immediately preceding sentence, nothing therein contained shall be construed to oblige the Assignee affirmatively to collect said rents. As an express condition of sale, the Purchaser shall be required to execute at the time of sale a Assignee's Auction Contract for Sale of Real Property in that form which shall be available for inspection on the date of sale or which may be inspected in advance upon request to the undersigned Assignee or on-line at http://www.schlosslaw.com/docs/wade.contract.pdf. The Purchaser shall be entitled to physical possession of the Property only after settlement; however, the Assignee assumes no responsibility to place the Purchaser in such possession of the Property. The undersigned specifically reserves the right to reject any bids submitted. The Assignee reserves the right at the sale to vary, modify, alter or qualify any of the foregoing terms or conditions of sale.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, on January 9, 2012, adopted a Resolution for the amendment of its Charter.

The following is a fair summary of the amendments to the Charter, as provided for in Section 13(e) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, as amended.

CHARTER AMENDMENT RESOLUTION NO. 2012-1

A RESOLUTION OF THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL OF FRIENDSVILLE adopted pursuant to the authority of Section 13(e) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, to Amend the Charter of the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville as adopted on September 10, 2007, by the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, by amending, Article 1, Section 101 of the current Charter and adding Section 7-109, entitled "Sales of Real Property"; said amendments enabling the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville to sell certain parcels of real property, held in trust or by proprietary capacity, when said real property has been has been found, by a Resolution of the Town Council, to be no longer needed for any public purpose of the Town of Friendsville. Article I, Section 101, of the Charter of the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville shall be repealed in its entirety and re-enacted to include the following words "may dispose of or sell such property, whether held in trust or in the Town's proprietary capacity, when necessary for the benefit of said corporation, and all of the property and funds of every kind belonging to the said corporation are vested in the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville." Article 7, Section 109, is added, granting power and authority to the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville to sell, for good and valuable consideration, any real property titled to the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville, whether held in trust or in the Town's proprietary capacity, when such real property is deemed by the Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville by a duly adopted Resolution that the Town of Friendsville would be better served by the sale of certain property located within the Town, when the same is no longer needed for any public purpose or that the sale is in the best interests of the Town and/or its citizens due to financial considerations; and empowering the Mayor and Town Council to pass all such ordinances as may be necessary to fully effectuate the provisions of this Section.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND
Case No. 11-C-12-012413

In the matter of the surface tract of 54 acres, located on the Easterly side of Jennings Road, Election District 3, Garrett County, Maryland
Designated Tax Acct. #03-008851
Gregory E. Lawson
Roger C. Resh
Petitioners
vs.
Unknown Heirs of Lawrence C. Custer, deceased, et al.
Respondents

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on January 24, 2012, a Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County by Gregory E. Lawson and Roger C. Resh, Petitioners, as the owners of the surface of the above tract against numerous present holders of the severed mineral interests under the 54-acre tract described above. The Petition alleges in substance that the mineral interests under the tract were originally severed and reserved by Michael Custer in his Will recorded in Wills Liber B, folio 41, in which he devised his farm property, near jennings, but reserved all coal and other mineral lying below the small or surface seams upon the tract. The Petition further alleges that the severed mineral interests have since descended among numerous heirs and descendants of seven of the children of Michael Custer. The Petition also alleges that the severed mineral interests have become Dormant as defined in Sectin 15-1203(a)(2) of the Environmental Article, Annotated Code of Maryland, and that the Petitioners, as surface owners, are entitled to a Court Order that terminates the Dormant Mineral Interests and merges the terminated mineral interests with the surface estate.

The relief prayed in the Petition is that the Dormant Mineral Interests held by all of the numerous heirs who are the descendants of the children of Michael Custer be terminated, and that all of the said mineral interests be merged with the Surface Estate.

Upon Motion of the Petitioners, Notice by Publication is hereby given to the following heirs and descendants who are believed to hold fractional interests in the Dormant Mineral Interests and whose identities and addresses are unknown and being all of the heirs of each of the following persons: Lawrence Custer, Lee E. Custer, Leonard Custer, Mern S. Custer, Myra "Billie" Custer Taylor, Wilbur G. Custer, Donald Wengerd, John M. Custer, Lena (Custer) Kellam, Nathan Custer, Hazel (Custer) Wilburn, Daisy (Custer) Alden, Glenn E. Custer, Charles C. Custer, Ray M. Lohr, Marshall E. Lohr, Harry W. Lohr, and Edna Myrtle Lohr, all other heirs of the devisees of Michael Custer, and all other persons with an interest in the minerals on and under the 54-acre tract described above.

WHEREUPON, it is ORDERED by the Circuit Court fo Garrett County, this 31st Day of January 2012, that the Petitioners cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper of general publication, published in Garrett County, once a week in each of three successive weeks before the 24th day of February 2012, giving notice to the said unknown heirs who are holders of fractional interests in the Dormant Mineral Interests, of the object and substance of the Complaint and warning each of them that a response must be filed no later than April 2, 2012, and that if any should fail to file a timely response, judgment by default may be entered against them, and the relief sought may be granted.

NHS ATHLETIC BOOSTERS HARRISON FOY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

In memory of Harrison Foy, Northern High School Athletic Boosters will award a $300 scholarship to a male and female NHS varsity athlete. Applicants must be a graduating NHS senior who participated in a varsity sport their senior year. Applicants will be evaluated on leadership, athletic achievement, and support of NHS athletics. Applications are available in the Guidance Office or from Coach Phil Carr. The deadline to apply is Monday, April 30.

SENIOR TRANSCRIPTS

A new policy is now effective for seniors who are applying to Garrett College. Only a "final" transcript needs to be sent to Garrett College. Seniors can tell Mrs. Ahern in the Counseling Center from now until June to have a final transcript sent to the college.

SERVICE LEARNING OPPORTUNITY

Oakland's 5th annual Winterfest will be held Feb. 16 through 19 (possibly Feb. 20). Volunteers are needed to help with many kinds of jobs. Students will have the opportunity to receive up to 30 service-learning hours. Those interested may contact Michelle at 301-616-4629. There is a sign-up sheet in the Counseling Center. Students may also see Mrs. Ray in Room 202.

GC Deputies Arrest Four On DUI Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies made several drinking and driving arrests last weekend. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to Spring Lane for a destruction of property complaint Friday afternoon. Upon arrival, deputies made contact with several witnesses, as well as the suspect, Larry Gay Wilson, 49, Oakland. Subsequent investigation led to Wilson's arrest. He was charged with driving under the influence and driving while impaired. He was taken to the Garrett County jail to await a bond hearing.

In a separate incident, deputies stopped a 2007 Jeep on Deer Park Hotel Road early Saturday morning for an equipment violation. Following the midnight investigation, Jeffery Lee Paugh, 48, Oakland, was also charged with DUI and DWI. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Deputies stopped a 2006 Subaru Legacy on Deep Creek Drive Saturday morning for a driving violation. Brian Eric Morris, 29, Broadlanes, Va., was arrested following the 1:20 a.m. stop. He was charged with DUI, DWI, and failure to use a turn signal. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Deputies stopped a 2001 Dodge truck on Cemetery Drive Sunday evening for an equipment violation. Wayne Virgil Jamison, 60, Oakland, was discovered to be intoxicated. He was charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and an equipment violation. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail and later released.

PINK DOMINATES ROBOTICS FIELD – The Pink Ice LEGO Team from Northern Middle School won the Robot Performance Award during the recent Maryland FIRST LEGO League Championship Tournament, held in the activities center of the University of Maryland in Baltimore County. The girls' robot, Pink, dominated the competition, outmaneuvering and outscoring the other 73 teams. Pink Ice brought home a first-place trophy for robot performance and a second-place trophy for research. The girls' main focus was "Core Values," which helped advance them to the state finals from the Garrett County qualifier. The team has nearly doubled in size from its six original members to the maximum of 10 allowed. "We are very proud of these exceptional young ladies," said SMS principal Karen Kamauff. "They are experts at thinking outside the box and forging their way to the top in a typically male dominated field." Left to right in the front are Kaitlyn Smith, Bailey Brewer, Abby Burdock, and Kendra Friend. In the back are Bethany Hershberger, Abby Schneider, Lorie Burdock, Bethany Phillips, Olivia Bennett, Jinny Warn, and Morgan Rush.

bulances in the area, it gives the students that extra edge of being able to function in a familiar setting when on a real call.

Beitzel says he continues to look forward and plan greater enhancements to the ALS training at GC.

"My next dream is to add a pediatric simulator to the unit. Currently it's hard for our students to see a lot of pediatric patients," he said. "Very few calls in our area are pediatric calls. Our students do clinicals in the hospitals; however, most very ill children are transferred out of the area to pediatric centers. So being able to provide care on a pediatric simulator would be very valuable. This would be a type of training we never offered before. We do currently educate students on providing care to children, but being able to run simulation scenarios as we now do with SimMan would be a big help and a big change."

In addition to the current use of SimLab, Beitzel sees many other opportunities for providing life-saving training.

"Since we are mobile now, we can provide training at other departments or agencies," he said. "We can go to them. All we need is an electrical hook up.

"Our biggest issue is going to be funding," he continued. "The equipment being used is already outdated. SimMan is 8 years old. We do not have a budget for SimLab, so we receive separate donations to make this work."

Because GC is the only paramedic training agency for both Garrett and Allegany counties, emergency medical personnel responding to local homes and businesses were probably trained through the GC Continuing Education/Workforce Development (CEWD) Division.

March 1 marks the opening of the application process for the next Advanced Life Support training scheduled to begin in September. The EMS/Medic training is managed by Jean Tressler, CEWD coordinator. To learn more about this training, persons may contact her at 301-387-3085.

To donate to the SimLab program, persons may contact the Garrett College Foundation at 301-387-3131.

to purchase their own ARRL technician class or general class license book. The supplies for the kits and antenna building will be donated by "a very generous" ham radio friend, Bill, N3DC.

"Amateur (ham) radio is a fun, fascinating, and useful hobby; I have learned skills that can be used for a lifetime. Come join us, get your license, and get on the air," Schaumloeffel said.

The GC ham radio class will be offered at the Southern Outreach Center in Oakland for nine sessions from February 16 through April 12, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. each evening. For more information or to register, persons may call 301-387-3069.

A GENTLE HAND – The Blind Skier Program at Wisp Resort, sponsored and organized each year by the Deep Creek Lions Club and several auxiliary volunteers, proves again and again to be a true "win-win" for all involved. In operation since 1976, the program allows sight-challenged teenagers from the Maryland School for the Blind in Baltimore to spend two days on the ski slopes at Wisp, guided by willing local young people from both Northern and Southern high schools, along with several adult volunteers. While the downhill experience is certainly the highlight of the trip, the "collateral benefits" are many, for students and volunteers alike. See feature story on this page. In the photo above, taken by Barbara Law, two local high school students gently guide a very brave sight-challenged skier onto the ski lift, under the watchful eye of the lift operator.

MPT PROGRAM TO FEATURE LOCAL BARNS – Maryland Public Television will air a one-hour long journey across the state in search of rare and scenic barns, and the program will include footage from Garrett County. Historic Barns of Maryland will air for the first time on MPT Wednesday, Feb. 29, at 8 p.m. Maryland reportedly has more historic barns per acre than nearly any other state in the nation, and the program covers a wide distance and multiple examples of barns and barn art. The innovative barn quilt project in Garrett County will also be covered during the statewide showcase. The scenic view above is the property of Ray and Rachel Miller, Pleasant Valley, which is adorned with the "love ring" barn quilt design. See story for details. Photo provided by Cheryl DeBerry.

MPT Program To Feature Area Barns, Barn Quilts

Maryland Public Television will present a one-hour program focused on the state's many barns and barn quilt art. The show will include footage of Garrett County. Historic Barns of Maryland will air for the first time on MPT Wednesday, Feb. 29, beginning at 8 p.m.

Maryland has more historic barns per acre than just about any other state in the nation, according to a spokesperson from the television station.

"There is a lot to explore and see – from the tobacco barns of the lower Eastern Shore and southern Maryland to the red bank barns of the Piedmont Plateau," the spokesperson said. "The innovative barn quilt project in Garrett County will also be covered during the statewide showcase."

CVLG To Give Information On Drilling Leases

The Casselman Valley Landowner Group (CVLG) will hold informational sessions on Saturday, Feb. 25, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Salisbury Volunteer Fire Department, Salisbury, Pa. Anyone who owns one or more acres of oil and gas rights will have a final opportunity to join the group that day. Informational sessions will be held hourly, and refreshments will be served.

The CVLG has been holding regular meetings in Salisbury since November. Landowners have expressed a strong interest in leasing property for Marcellus Shale drilling in recent meetings in southern Somerset County.

Landowners with 10 or more acres in Garrett County are invited to attend to get more information, as Shale Marketers is interested in starting groups in Maryland in the near future.

DC Lions Give Sight-Challenged Students Adventure Of A Lifetime

by Mary Sincell McEwen

Inspired by what they saw at a faraway ski slope more than three decades ago, two area men launched a program in 1976 that has grown into a much-anticipated, traditional event at the Wisp Resort. Bill Thoman, former mountain manager of Wisp, and Jay Kamineck, a former ski instructor, were skiing out West when they saw sighted volunteers assisting young people with vision challenges in skiing down a mountainside. They came back home and went to the Deep Creek Lions Club to make a pitch for a new service project. The Lions latched onto the idea immediately, and the local Blind Skier Program was born.

Each year, students from the Maryland School for the Blind (MSB) in Baltimore work hard to earn the right to come to Garrett County. The adventure on the ski slopes is a reward for good behavior and excellent grades at the school, where about 124 students live full-time. If they perform well, they know they have the chance to travel to Garrett County and Wisp Resort for three days of fun.

While they are working toward that goal, members of the Deep Creek Lions Club and extended volunteers are also hard at it, too, planning for the year's excursions. Each winter, the Lions bring three groups of students to Wisp for two full days of skiing. Many area people get involved in the process, including high school students who are good skiers and who like to pitch in as guides.

Barbara Law, a teacher at both Northern and Southern high schools, coordinates the students each year. She taught chiefly at Northern for more than 20 years before moving to Southern, so the student "bold guides" have chiefly come from NHS in the past. She has worked hard to involve more students from Southern, and did get a few more this year. She hopes to continue that trend and have groups of volunteers from both county high schools.

Linda Buchanon, another local resident, has volunteered her time for 16 years to organize the adults who take part in the program.

Tom Wenzel, a Lion and a volunteer with the program since 1991, said Wisp Resort has always provided free lift tickets to the students as well as the volunteers who may not have their own passes.

"A lot of people don't know that Wisp does that each year," said Wenzel. "It's a huge help to the Lions to have that covered."

Buchanon added that Wisp also provides all the rental ski equipment free of charge.

"And the lift operators go out of their way to assist our

Oakland Man Arrested For Gas Station Burglary

An Oakland man was arrested by Garrett County Sheriff's Office detectives Thursday evening on charges stemming from the commercial burglary of the Atlantis Petroleum 3T gas station on Oak Street, Oakland.

Adam Michael Warner, 25, Oakland, was arrested without incident at his residence on Oak Street. During the burglary, which reportedly occurred in the early morning hours of Feb. 14, a quantity of U.S. currency was stolen, and property was damaged. The investigation at the crime scene led detectives to a wooded area, where they discovered a small burned area that later

Md. State Police Seeking Info On Burglaries, Thefts

Maryland State Police are seeking information regarding two burglaries that occurred in Accident sometime in the past week and a half. It is not yet known whether the two incidents are related.

Sometime between Feb. 10 and Feb. 20, unknown suspect(s) gained entry into the residence at 1405 Sam Friend Road through a window. Items reported stolen are three Cobra Micro Talk walkie talkies, two 18-volt DeWalt drills, a 100-piece Stanley socket set, a vacuum cleaner, and one DeWalt electric grinder. Md. Senate Committee Votes 7–4 To Advance Same-Sex Marriage Bill

Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – A Senate panel voted 7-4 Tuesday to advance same-sex marriage legislation to the entire chamber, where members hope to move on it quickly, but the possibility of a filibuster remains.

The vote came just days after the Civil Marriage Protection Act won a narrow 72-67 approval in the full House of Delegates.

In a noon voting session, the Judicial Proceedings Committee advanced HB 438 after voting down two amendments, which would have allowed for civil unions in place of same-sex marriage and negated a House amendment postponing the bill's effective date until January 2013.

"A little bit of Wite-Out® is the guillotine here. So don't touch the bill if you are for it," said bill supporter Sen. Jamie Raskin, D-Montgomery, before an amendment vote.

Supporters want to avoid changes that would send the bill back to the House. With the Senate likely busy taking up Gov. Martin O'Malley's proposed budget in the coming weeks, Senate President Thomas V. Mike Miller Jr. said the full chamber will move quickly on the bill, with a vote coming as early as Friday.

"We'll try to deal with the issue as quickly as we can," Miller, a bill opponent, told reporters Tuesday morning.

The Senate passed similar legislation last year by a 25-21 vote, and with no members publicly announcing a change in stance, many expect a similar result this year.

Should same-sex marriage pass in the Senate, it would go to the desk of bill champion O'Malley for his guaranteed signature. Voters will then likely have the final say in referendum if bill opponents are able to gather enough signatures to put the measure on the November ballot.

Members acknowledged Tuesday that bill opponents could push for a filibuster, a delay tool not available in the House. But they expressed a desire to move on to other issues.

"Filibuster is a foreseeable event here, but I think the body as a whole wants

HAPPILY EVER ONCE UPON,* a fairy tale farce, is being staged at Our Town Theatre in Oakland next week. "Have you ever wondered what happened after the ball was over?" asked director Christie Elmlinger. "This play checks in with Prince Charming and Cinderella 20 years after the clock struck midnight. We learn that the Enchanted Kingdom is broke, Cinderella's fairy godmother is a blackmailer with a penchant for B-grade Western movies, and having five kids makes your feet so big the glass slippers no longer fit. Join us for an evening of laughter and love and see why the best fairy tales have real-life happy endings." The show will open Wednesday, Feb. 29, and run through Sunday, March 4. Productions start at 8 p.m. on all dates but March 4, when the show will start at 2 p.m. Tickets are $8 on Wednesday, Thursday, and Sunday, and $10 on Friday and Saturday. The director noted that this show "is not a princess fairy tale for young children." The play contains some adult themes and mildly foul language, and is appropriate for those age 14 and older. Elmlinger designed the set, Ben Sincell is the lighting designer, Emily Elmlinger is the stage manager, and Ted Hughes built the set. The cast is pictured. In the front, from left, are Joshua Elmlinger, Jen Shillingburg, and Tammy Beitzel. In the middle row, same order: Dylan Barnard, Hannah Newcomb, Matt Steyer, Nixon Malcolm, Becca Flinn, and Rachael Huxford. In back, armed with pistols, is Lynne Elmlinger. Reservations are recommended, and may be made by calling the theatre at 301-334-5640.

SOME EXTRA "HOOPLA" AT WVU – The WVU women's basketball team had a little extra "hoopla" at its recent Play4Kay game to heighten breast cancer awareness. Brenda Brosnihan, owner of Brenda's Body Shop in Oakland, coordinated another Hoop Hope Hooray dance project as part of the halftime festivities to raise awareness and funds for the Kay Yow Cancer Fund™. The WBCA Play4Kay initiative is a global, unified effort for the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's (WBCA) nation of coaches to assist in raising breast cancer awareness on the court, across campuses, in communities, and beyond. The late Kay Yow, former North Carolina State head women's basketball coach, served as a catalyst for starting the endeavor for the WBCA. After three bouts of breast cancer, Yow died in January 2009. "More than 50 participants took part, dancing with pink hula hoops decorated with pink ribbons with the names of breast cancer survivors and those who died from the illness. Hoop Hope Hooray represents the importance of healthy lifestyle choices, breast cancer awareness, and early detection." Brosnihan said the WVU game had the added component of a video showing prior to the performance taken of the dancers as they made their hoola hoops. "The women's basketball team learned the dance, too," Brosnihan said, "And the crowd really enjoyed seeing highlights of their efforts along with the dancers committed to supporting the Play4Kay initiative. Our performers included mothers, daughters, sisters, and grandmothers all pulling together to support this cause. We were thrilled to have the opportunity to perform at the WVU women's basketball Play4Kay game; together we share many of the same objectives."

GC Board Of Ed. Releases Pre-K Registration Info

Beginning Thursday, March 1, the Garrett County Board of Education will begin accepting applications for its prekindergarten program. To be eligible for this program, a child must have been born between September 2, 2007, and September 1, 2008.

Interested persons must complete and submit the PreKindergarten Notification of Interest Form and a Prekindergarten Program Questionnaire. These forms can be obtained from the nearest elementary school or from the Office of Pupil Services at the Board of Education office in Oakland.

The packet consists of the Notification of Interest Form, a parent letter, eligibility criteria, and the Pre-K questionnaire. The BOE has stated that these forms will need to be completed and returned as soon as possible to the Office of Pupil Services.

Any questions about this enrollment process may be directed to Liz Lewis, administrative secretary, Office of Pupil Services, at 301-334-8938.

EXCITEMENT, EXHILARATION, FEAR...are what these folks may be feeling just seconds before plunging into the freezing February Deep Creek Lake. Although we have not had quite the winter we usually endure, there is no doubt that the same bundle of emotions will be felt by those participating in this year's Deep Creek Dunk this Saturday, Feb. 25. Thousands of Maryland dunkers dare to bare it all each year for the inspirational athletes who represent Special Olympics Maryland. For just $50 in pledges, Dunk participants take a quick dip behind Uno's Bar and Grill to raise funds for Special Olympics Maryland, the state's largest year-round organization devoted to sports training and competition for children and adults with intellectual disabilities. The event is free to spectators, and dunkers receive a commemorative sweatshirt, lunch courtesy of Uno's, and group color photo. Registration begins at noon, and the dunk will take place at 2 p.m.

Info Sought By MSP On Theft In Bloomington

Maryland State Police are seeking information regarding a theft that reportedly occurred at a Bloomington residence this week.

Sometime between Monday and Tuesday unknown suspect(s) forced entry into the home at 137 Bloomington Hill Road and removed various items, including a quantity of copper wiring and other pieces of scrap metal. Anyone who can provide further details is asked to contact Tfc. Huber, McHenry Barrack, at 301-387-1101. Callers may remain anonymous.

Webinar To Feature Update On EPA's Fracking Study

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency present a webinar update on its study of the potential impact of hydraulic fracturing on drinking water resources on Monday, Feb. 27, from 3 to 4 p.m.

"EPA is committed to keeping the public up-to-date on the study's progress," the agency's web site notes. "This webinar will be the first in a series of updates held for the general public prior to the release of the preliminary study report."

The webinar will provide the current status of ongoing projects, including case studies and the well file review.

Interested persons are asked to register as early as possible for the webinar at http://www.epa.gov/hfstudy/hfstudyupdate.html.

Gatto To Speak At Next GGBA Meeting Feb. 29

The Greater Grantsville Business Association (GGBA) will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 29, at Penn Alps Restaurant beginning at 8 a.m. The guest speaker for the meeting will be Commissioner Bob Gatto. He will discuss current and upcoming issues that Garrett County faces.

Gatto is a resident of the Crellin area and has primarily worked as an electrician in commercial, industrial, and residential construction/maintenance for the past 29 years. He presently holds a Maryland master electrical license and a West Virginia journeyman's license.

He currently sits on numerous boards, including Adventures Sports, Chamber of Commerce, the Traffic Advisory Committee, and the Garrett County Development Corporation.

Man Charged With Possession Of Marijuana

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested a Garrett County man following a traffic stop on Ben Dewitt Road for an equipment violation.

Jordan Brian Sisler was identified as the driver, and a search was done of the vehicle following a positive K-9 alert. A quantity of marijuana was recovered in the search. Sisler was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of related paraphernalia. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Kitzmiller Man Is Charged Following Theft Investigation

A Kitzmiller man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on Wednesday after he attempted to sell stolen property to a local business.

Raymond Housley Jr., 38, was charged with two counts of theft under $1,000. Charges stem from an investigation of the theft of metal equipment, scrap metal, and lumber from a farm located along Vindex Road, Kitzmiller. Housley was arrested at Ours Auto Salvage trying to sell the stolen items. He was taken into custody to await an initial appearance before a District Court commissioner.

Man Arrested By GC Deputies On Burglary Charge

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested an Oakland man Tuesday afternoon on a burglary charge, as well as several other criminal charges.

Deputies responded to a Spring Lane residence, at which it was reported that Larry Gay Wilson, 49, had been observed breaking into the home. He had fled the scene by the time deputies arrived, but was later apprehended after being found hiding in a storage building nearby. Wilson was taken into custody without incident and charged with fourth-degree burglary, telephone misuse, malicious destruction of property, and harassment.

He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await an initial appearance before a Garrett County District Court commissioner.

Church Of God To Begin "Feed The Flock" Prog.

The Helping Hands Ministry from Loch Lynn Church of God will be providing free meals through its "Feed the Flock" program. Everyone is welcome.

Starting on Wednesday, March 7, and every first Wednesday of the month thereafter, Loch Lynn Church of God will join Oak Park Church of the Brethren, St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and St. Peter's Catholic Church in providing a meal for those hungry for food and/or company.

"Whatever the need, we invite you to come and have a meal with us," said a Loch Lynn Church of God spokesperson. "Those interested may stay and worship with us also following the dinner."

The meal will be served in the fellowship hall from 4:30 until 6 p.m. There is no charge for the meal, but freewill offers are welcome.

The church is located at 8649 Gorman Road, Loch Lynn. For more information, persons may call the church office at 301-334-3221.

closure," Raskin said.

Should it be invoked by bill opponents, a filibuster could be staved off by members with a vote of cloture, which requires 29 votes. Both sides said Tuesday the votes are likely there to prevent a filibuster.

"President [Miller] is not a supporter of the legislation. But he doesn't like filibusters, so there's one example of a vote for cloture from an opponent of the bill, and I think there will be enough of them," said bill proponent and Judicial Proceedings chair Sen. Brian E. Frosh, D-Montgomery.

Sen. Joseph M. Getty, R-Baltimore County, said that while no formal strategy is in place, opponents from both parties in the Senate have discussed a filibuster attempt.

"There are always discussions. I wouldn't say there's an organized strategy at this point, but there are always discussions," said Getty, a bill opponent.

Opponents said floor debate will focus on religious protections and education issues surrounding same-sex marriage. But, because any amendment added in the Senate would force the bill back to the House for ratification, members on both sides expect no changes.

"Any major piece of legislation in Annapolis, you see that. The legislative leadership tries to stifle debate and tries to eliminate a rational look at amendments because they don't want to send it back to the opposite chamber," Getty said.

Six states – Massachusetts, Connecticut, Iowa, Vermont, New Hampshire, and New York – and the District of Columbia currently issue same-sex marriage licenses. A Washington state law passed earlier this month takes effect in June.

California's Proposition 8 ban on same-sex marriage was recently held unconstitutional by a federal court, but an appeal is expected.

SOUTHERN HIGH JROTC EXCELS IN LEADERSHIP COMPETITION – The Southern High School Army JROTC Leadership Team was selected for Level II of the JROTC Leadership Symposium and Academic Bowl, after competing against 1,345 teams from around the world in Level I of the online contest. Following the second round, 48 leadership teams will earn an all-expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C., and advance to the final championship competition (June 22 – 26), to be held on the campus of George Mason University. This event, which tests cadets on their knowledge of leadership values and skills including leadership tenets from General George C. Marshall, is sponsored by the Army JROTC and will be conducted by the College Options Foundation. The JROTC Leadership Symposium and Academic Bowl is a nationally recognized academic competition created exclusively for JROTC students. According to a spokesperson, participating cadets learn the values of citizenship, academic competition, and college and career opportunities. College Options Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to "enriching the academic development of 1.1 million JROTC high school students, while preparing them for higher education." WW II Veteran "Tells It Like It Was"

by Glenn Tolbert

Roy Peterman has lived through what most of us can only know about through the history books or on the Internet.

At 89 years old, Peterman lived through one of the most dangerous jobs that the U.S. Army can offer. And he did it in both the European and the Pacific theaters.

"I was a medic," he said, "and I just did what I had to do until they finally let me come home."

Peterman does no bragging about his past. He simply tells it like it was for him. And an interviewer has to pull information from him about World War II, despite his alert and memory-filled mind.

When asked if he was ever in combat, he answers with merely a chuckle. And when asked if he was ever shot at he chuckles again and said, "You don't always know when you're being shot at."

Peterman would never brag about it, but the history books say that during World War II, a wounded soldier had an 85% chance of surviving if he was treated by a medic within the first hour. This figure was three times higher than World War I survival statistics. But the red cross worn by medics on their helmet and arm bands sometimes became visible targets for enemy snipers.

That's the reason that during the Vietnam conflict, medics were armed and carried firearms and grenades into combat. Red crosses on helmets and arm bands were no longer worn.

Peterman still has his Red Cross band, and the shirt from his uniform has been carefully preserved. And he remembers what it signifies. According to him and an extract from the online encyclopedia Wikipedia, a medic is a trained military soldier responsible for providing first aid and frontline trauma care on the battlefield. Medics are also responsible for providing continuing medical care in the absence of a readily available physician, including care for disease and battle injury.

Peterman sees nothing unusual in the fact that he fought the war on both the Pacific and Atlantic fronts.

"I just did what my country asked me to do," he said.

When asked if he ever suffered from post traumatic stress syndrome, he stared at the interviewer long and hard before answering, "We didn't have time for that kind of thing. We did our job and came home and went back to work. I'm not saying that everyone can do that, but most of us WW II vets came home and had too much to do to worry about a war that was over. We are just glad that we lived through it."

Peterman lives with wife Jean in Mtn. Lake Park. He has four children and "somewhere around" 20 great- and step-grandchildren," as well as "around 30 great-grandchildren," he said.

The births of two babies were announced this week, both girls.

A daughter, Rachelle Joy, was born to Mark and Karen (Peachey) Swartzentruber, Oakland, on Feb. 9 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

A daughter, Lilly M., was born to Justin Ryan and Lori Ann (Fox) Hatcher, Oakland, on Feb. 5 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Across Md., Bare-Bones Household Budgets Soar Above Families' Salaries

by Caitlin Johnston and Carl Straumsheim
Capito New Service

COLLEGE PARK – A Montgomery County family of three – an adult, a preschooler and a school-age child – needs about $78,000 just to make ends meet, a new report shows. And, without government assistance, minimum wage barely gets them a quarter of the way there.

The 2012 Self-Sufficiency Standard calculates the cost of living for Maryland families by looking at the price of such necessities as housing, food, transportation, and child care. The report, prepared for the Maryland Community Action Partnership, found that median wages in Maryland have failed to keep up with the increasing costs of basic needs.

While those costs increased statewide by 54 percent since 2001, median earnings failed to rise accordingly, increasing only 25 percent.

The result: a real cost squeeze, said Dr. Diana Pearce, director of the Center for Women's Welfare at the University of Washington School of Social Work, who conducted the study.

"People are working just as hard and more efficiently and more productively, but it's not showing up in wages," Pearce said. "And their costs are going up."

"The report shows taxes and health care costs in particular are leading the cost increases, rising by more than 70 percent each.

This continues to add pressure to what Pearce calls the working poor – people whose jobs simply aren't providing enough to meet basic needs.

"It's not the lazy bunch," said Zenobia Williams, executive directorof the Maryland Community Action Partnership. "It's hard-working Marylanders who just can't make ends meet."

The disconnect between incomes and costs means a lack of stability, meaning even families with two working parents are in danger of not being able to pay their bills.

They could lose their houses, their child care and their jobs.

"Movements like Occupy [Wall Street] focus on increasing income equality and wealth equality, but there's also the issue of cost inequality," Pearce said. "Wages have stagnated for people – especially the last few years – but costs in Maryland have continued to rise even during the recession."

The country's political debate is fraught with talk of tax cuts and job plans, and counties across the nation are facing the same challenges the report highlights in Maryland.

Out of the 37 states where the self-sufficiency standard has been calculated, Pearce said they haven't found any place in the U.S. that hasn't fallen victim to the growing gap between wages and cost.

In that sense, Maryland is typical of the national trend.

"It is true wages are stagnant nationwide, and these sort of good industrial jobs for low-skilled workers are basically unavailable now," said John Ham, an economics professor at the University of Maryland, College Park.

"In terms of social programs, it's certainly clear it's not getting easier to be poor in America with all these budget cuts. Poor people don't vote as much, so they're much easier to cut than Social Security.

"And with an election looming, who votes and whom politicians pay attention to are critical pieces in this cost equation," Ham said.

The national poverty rate stands at about 15.1 percent, meaning 46.2 million Americans are living in poverty – the highest number recorded in more than 50 years.

The federal poverty level, calculated by the federal Department of Health and Human Services, is set at $19,090 for a family of three in Maryland.

"The poverty measure is an inadequate measure of what people need to meet all their basic needs," Pearce said. "In particular, the poverty hasn't kept up with how needs have changed."

The costs of working, including transportation and child care, were negligible when the poverty line was developed nearly half a century ago.

The measure has failed to take demographic and economic changes into account, Pearce said.

And while the self-sufficiency standard is two to four times greater than the federal poverty level, Pearce said the findings might be too conservative, as they do not include expenses such as extracurricular and recreational activities, fast food and restaurant meals, and cable TV or phone service.

Despite the effects of the recession, the cost of living has seen a steady increase during the past decade. Although tax cuts and tax credits signed into law by President George W. Bush initially hid the growing disparity between wages and expenses, the gap continues to grow, Pearce said.

"Since the Great Recession, we have seen an incredible jump in people becoming eligible for and accessing food stamps and other programs," Pearce said. "We need to not have people be demonized when they have to turn to those programs to support their families."

State-run federal programs such as temporary cash assistance and the food supplement program are facing a growing demand.

While the state is broadening the application pool for some programs, it's also encouraging independence from the safety net, said Pat Hines, the communication director for the Maryland Department of Human Resources.

"Welfare is a last resort. We're here to help people with difficult times," Hines said. "No one wants it to be a way of life. We don't want to be in the poverty maintenance program."

The recession has a whole new demographic trying to decipher how to apply for programs such as food stamps. And for people who find themselves in this category for the first time, public assistance is a complex beast.

"A basic part of human nature is to avoid anything that seems daunting," Hines said, "And people are embarrassed. The last thing in their comfort zone is going to their neighbor and asking 'How do you get public assistance?' "

Maryland has families of all kinds facing challenges, said Williams, at the Maryland Community Action Partnership.

"You have husbands and wives both working jobs, but it costs a tremendous amount of money to live in some of these counties," Williams said.

The report also reveals striking differences within Maryland, from Montgomery County – more expensive than both San Francisco and New York City – to Garrett County, where families can get by with less than half of what their suburban counterparts pay.

The range in the self-sufficiency standard for Maryland ranges from $30,291 in Garrett County to $77,933 in Montgomery County. Several suburban counties –Anne Arundel, Baltimore and Howard, among others – have seen their expenses increase by more than 60 percent.

Worst is Queen Anne's County, where expenses have nearly doubled in past 10 years.

While no single cause is driving the cost increases, the report shows child and health care costs in particular have risen more than 50 percent each in the last decade.

Not a single county saw their overall costs go down. The University of Washington study did not determine how many working families have incomes below the Self-Sufficiency Standard. Census Bureau data show that roughly 1,215,591 people in Maryland – about 22 percent of the population – live in families with incomes less than 200 percent of the official federal poverty line. (For a family of four, twice the poverty line would be about $44,000.) The census data count the elderly and other categories that were not included in the self-sufficiency calculations for working families.

Railey Mtn. Lake Vacations To Host After Hours Event

Railey Mountain Lake Vacations will host the next Garrett County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours at Herrington House (former DelSignore mansion) on Saturday, March 7, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Food and drinks will be offered as those attending will be given the opportunity to mingle with fellow chamber members and chamber staff. Those who bring business cards may enter to win prizes.

"With 17,000 sq. ft., the Herrington House will make you feel as if you were living in a castle and is ideal for large groups, retreats, events and more," said a chamber spokesperson. "From the circular driveway, beautiful estate, and 11 acre lake, to the grand entryway, ballroom, and elaborate pool room – this is a must see."

The cost is $6 for members paid in advance and $10 for non-members and members paying at the door. Persons must RSVP by Thursday, March 5, to charlotte@garrettchamber.com or by calling 301-387-6171.

A Good Lesson...

This column today has been composed and, thanks to the incredible electronic communication technology of today (e-mail), transmitted to the newsroom of The Republican from the village of La Entrada, Ecuador. Even though the town is located on the Pacific coast of South America, it is, surprisingly (at least to this writer), located in the same time zone as that of Garrett County. If one were to draw a line on a map or a globe from Garrett County to La Entrada, it would be a near perfect, north-south perpendicular.

Interestingly, the country of Ecuador is geographically similar to that of the state of Maryland in that it has mountains (the Andes), plain areas, and oceanic coast. La Entrada, and several similar towns along the coast, though not nearly as developed, could be considered the Ocean City of Ecuador.

A natural activity of foreigners in any land is witnessing, pondering, and comparing both the differences and similarities between life in one's homeland and that of the country being visited. These run the gamut – from weather conditions to diet to infrastructure to language to vegetation to wildlife to customs to history to education to recreation to ethnicity to architecture to art/music to politics to religion to.... There is a constant barrage of such comparisons, with the end result almost inevitably being an expansion of one's own horizons, experience, and sense of openness to the amazing and varied world in which we live.

A visitor will learn quickly that if presented the opportunity, a taxi driver is often an excellent source of information about the ways of life in his country. The response of one such gentleman, when asked about the level of unemployment in Ecuador, was telling. He said that certainly there is a need for more and better-paying jobs in his country, but then quickly added, "However, we are pretty innovative, and almost everybody tries to work, tries to do something to contribute financially to his family." And indeed, it was observed in every little community along the way that people of all ages – from the elderly to the very young, male and female – were stationed along the roadways trying to sell their wares of water, candy, pastries, clothing, souvenirs, and other items. The driver said that one might bring home only a few dollars that day, but perhaps a sibling or a grandparent or an uncle would also each bring home a few dollars, and that would cover their needs for that day.

"We are pretty innovative and almost everybody tries to work, tries to do something to contribute..."

Those words began to resonate in the comparison exercise, suggesting that there is a good lesson here, particularly for us Americans. With all of our handout programs, many of which are so grossly abused by citizens who truly are able to "work and contribute something" but simply choose not to, have we truly become an "enabling" society, as many suggest? In our most worthy efforts to save the downtrodden, have we gone too far? Have we made "doing nothing to contribute" too easy? Too appealing? Too "logical"? There is strong evidence to suggest that we have done exactly that – just talk for 10 minutes to someone who works for the Social Security Administration, for example.

Of course, in Ecuador people who choose to do nothing simply will not survive very long, as the various safety nets enjoyed(?) in the U.S. just do not exist.

Yes, there is indeed a good lesson here...

To the Editor:

I consider myself a hard-working, intelligent, understanding person who goes to my job every day with the hopes of making a difference. However, after a long week of insurance nightmares, angry customers, corporate short-staffing, long hours, and no respect, I wonder that maybe I am not up to the profession, or maybe something is just dreadfully wrong.

I have worked with the public for 10 years, with the last four years being in the health care field. I have met some wonderful individuals who remind me why I chose this career path. However, there is still that handful of people who just don't have a clue.

There is no excuse for a lack of respect, lack of common decency, and lack of patience. Must we remind ourselves that we share this town with thousands of other people who all have the same wants and needs? The next time you find it an absolute tragedy to stand in line or wait your turn, why not just breathe? With everything, there are rules, regulations, and procedures that must be followed. There are company guidelines, health codes, state laws, and federal laws.

Most jobs are tough, demanding, and require some kind of skill and education. But people doing those jobs are often treated as if they are unskilled and uneducated. Most try to do their jobs to the best of their ability, and I doubt very much that people get up for work with a goal to see how many people they can make angry that day.

Being that I am in the health care profession, I encounter the most grief over medication. I am amazed at how many people do not take control of their health and well-being. No, I am not talking about diet and exercise. I am talking about prescription refills.

Learn what medication you are taking and why you take it, and take responsibility to see that you get it. If you need a refill, by all means ask for one. It is not the pharmacy's job to do that. It is not a job requirement, nor is it a state or federal law. The doctor's office requests a 24- to 48-hour notice for a reason. They must check charts, get the doctor's approval, and document that approval. Doctors' offices are busy, pharmacies are busy, and I'm sorry, but medication is not fast food!

Thank You,
Katie Lewis, CPhT

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in response to the editorial in the Feb. 16 issue of The Republican newspaper. I do agree with the editor that we do all have equal rights in this nation. But as a Christian I do also believe that the Bible is the word of God and that every word of it is holy and true.

If you read in Genesis chapter 19, Leviticus chapters 18 and 20, Romans chapter 1, and Jude verse 7, it clearly states that homosexuality is detestable in the eyes of God. The Christians have been silent far too long. If we would all stand together on these kinds of issues they wouldn't be coming up for a vote, and our lawmakers wouldn't have to decide whether it's right or wrong for everyone else.

I would like to ask, if this becomes a law in the state of Maryland, will I as a licensed minister in this state be required by law to perform a same gender marriage ceremony? If so and I refuse on the basis of my belief, will I be accused of discrimination against these people? What are my legal rights? Do I have equality in the eyes of the state or am I forced to go against my religious beliefs? Will our churches be forced to accept the practices of the world and allow them to become part of our beliefs?

I respect your opinions on this issue, and I also respect the fact that everyone has the right to his or her own choices in life. So please respect the response that I have to your editorial.

I would hope that I'm not alone in my beliefs and that other Christians will take a stand against the immoral practices of this world. Some people might respond negatively to my letter, but that's okay, since we all have our own beliefs. Mine might not be politically correct, but I believe that they are biblically correct. I encourage all Christians of our area to take a stand and allow your voices be heard.

Respectfully,
Pastor Marty Wilt

To the Editor:

Referencing last 2/16/2012 "A Vote For Equality":

Let's first look at the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to which most of our dear folks in the entire U.S. refer – and recite with great error. On Dec. 15, 1791, the first 10 amendments were declared ratified. The first amendment makes no reference to "separation of church and state," nor will you find it in the U.S. Constitution!! Quote:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for redress of grievances."

Now, the Declaration of Independence preceded the U.S. Constitution, and it would be wonderful if it were read by each citizen of the United States. It is what we celebrate on July 4th yearly. It refers to God and our creator. Let's understand some basics: Both of these great documents were and should be referred to with reverence and appreciation.

Many of our great men gave their fortunes and their honor to defend the Declaration of Independence.

Oh how we have drifted from these moral standards. In those early years the Bible was one of the main books read in those small schools. The Bible is quite clear about what is sacred and what is sin. For anyone to dismiss the words of caution therein– and they are numerous – is to play with fire. The Bible is not only the word of God, inspired by the Holy Spirit, but also a great history book.

Begin in Genesis chapter 6 verse 6. God was sorry He created man. Read why!! Some folks are aware of that particular history when Noah and his family were saved, but the entire world perished. There is a preponderance of evidence to support this.

How many admonitions are there in the Bible? I do not know, but in closing may I refer you to Revelation 21 verse 8: "But the cowardly, unbelieving, abominable, murderers, sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death."

Read these wonderful documents and the Bible. Israel walked away from God over the centuries – each time God lifted His hand. It is still time to repent.

To the Editor:

I was very dismayed, at the very least, when I started reading the "Notes from Bittinger" in the Feb. 16 edition. The writer states about God being willing to give Newt Gingrich forgiveness of breaking the commit adultery Commandment, and then extending it to women who chose to terminate their pregnancies that were not caused by her own will. From my standpoint that is committing murder, also one of the Commandments. The author also goes on to say that a fertilized egg, in her opinion, is not a full-human being.

Well, here's what I have to say. Last year I was pregnant, and found out I had a condition which was put to me very honestly by my doctor that I would probably lose my baby and could possibly die myself. That was the worst words I had ever heard in my life. I didn't want to lose my baby, who was only 17 weeks old at the time. That's only one week over three months. I had had a sonogram and seen her on the screen. I knew she was a living person, or why else would I be cautioned of her dying?

For those women who don't want their babies, yes nine months of pregnancy are long and miserable but there is adoption. I was adopted and lovingly raised, and am here now with my own family.

I was asked by the doctors during my pregnancies about getting a test to see if my kids would be handicapped in any way. I said I didn't want it; I'd love them no matter how they were. Killing a baby, no matter what age, is wrong. There are many loving families that would gladly go through all the red tape to get a baby.

As far as God forgiving Newt Gingrich, that's between them. We all have sinned and can anytime freely ask God's forgiveness, if we truly want it. We are going to sin no matter how much of a "good" person we are.

If you're a woman out there who doesn't want your baby, I strongly urge you to carry it and give it up for adoption. I have a wonderful life today because of it. My daughter did survive and is growing every day, and I thank God for miracles.

Sincerely,
Brenda E. Cosner

To the Editor:

One step at a time....

Regarding hydraulic fracturing of the Marcellus shale, we have discussed in previous letters that it may take 600 trips from the well head to the site where 3 million gallons of contaminated liquid may be disposed and the returning possibly 600 times.

In addition, we discussed the emissions from the exhaust pipes and the weight of the trucks being 67,000 pounds going from the well head to the disposal site possibly 600 times, and weighing 27,000 pounds returning to the well head possibly 600 times.

Today, let us think about loading the contaminated liquid from the well head into the trucks and then disposing the liquid.

Pipes or hoses are attached to the well head, and the liquid is deposited into the trucks. Then these millions of gallons are taken by these trucks to the disposal site, where the liquid is deposited by the pipes or hoses. Now, this procedure may be completed 600 times for one well with one fracture.

Using only a bit of logic, I wonder what the odds are as a predictability constant that spillage of this contaminated liquid would occur either at the well heard or the disposal site. Let us take my own personal experience for example.

When I wash my car, I use a bucket, some soap, and a hose for the necessary water. I attach the hose to the spigot on the side of the house, turn the valve to get the water, fill the bucket containing the soap, and then complete the procedure of washing my car.

I usually overfill the bucket, spilling soapy water on my driveway. At the spigot on the side of the house there is always some spillage. Sometimes, many times, I get sprayed by the nozzle where the water comes out. I always get back spray from where the water hits the car, and if the wind blows, I get more back spray. In other words, when I wash one car one time, there is spillage, probably on me and always on the ground.

What does this have to do with hydraulic fracturing and attaching hoses and pipes possibly 600 times and then depositing this contaminated liquid possibly 600 times without spillage? Well, I'll let you use your logic this time. I don't think that you need my help to get the message.

Respectfully,
Jim Zimmerman

To the Editor:

The governor's budget proposal for the coming fiscal year reduces mortgage interest and property tax deductions for many Maryland homeowners. As the trade association representing over 22,000 real estate sales professionals and the only voice for the homeowners they serve, we of the Garrett County Board of Realtors® have grave concerns about this proposal's negative effect on housing.

Real estate tax deductions accounted for almost 70 percent of total deductions claimed by Maryland taxpayers in 2008. While we understand the pressure on the state budget, we also recognize that Maryland property owners already pay at least their fair share in supporting state and local services.

Since 1913, the tax code has promoted home ownership by allowing a deduction for mortgage interest, and Maryland has never reduced it. This is sound public policy, consistent with our longstanding tradition of encouraging home ownership, the cornerstone of the American dream.

There is good reason for this policy. Housing and real estate account for nearly one-fifth of Maryland's gross state product, and the sector traditionally leads our local, state, and national economy out of recession into economic growth. Indeed, Maryland's economic recovery will not happen without a recovery in our housing market.

And Maryland homeowners face burdens that are especially challenging. Late last year, over one-fifth of Maryland homeowners were underwater on their mortgages, owing more than the market value of their home. Another 5 percent of homeowners were nearly underwater on their mortgages.

Maryland ranks 10th nationally among states most dependent on real estate taxes. We also have one of the most aggressive real estate tax structures in the nation, ranking 11th in terms of total real estate tax burden. Real estate already accounts for 49 percent, almost half, of revenues to our local governments.

We urge Governor Martin O'Malley and the members of the General Assembly to rethink this unwise proposal. We call on all Maryland residents to contact your elected officials to express your opposition to this proposal. For more information and to contact your elected representatives, go to www.savemdmid.org.

than Slade, along with videographer Tim Pugh, visited Garrett County early last summer to explore the Barn Quilt Trail. Several property owners and members of the Barn Quilt Association of Garrett County Inc. were interviewed.

"Part travelogue and part nostalgia, Historic Barns of Maryland will celebrate architectural ingenuity," the spokesperson said. "During the program, viewers will discover the agricultural, economic and cultural significance of these aging, iconic structures made of timber, stone, and brick. Farmers, builders, preservationists, architects, artists, and historians share insiders' stories and perspectives."

The "swayback" barn owned by Zelma Bittinger along Mayhew Inn Road is included in the footage.

"In this journey from the Appalachian Mountains of western Maryland to the shores of the Chesapeake Bay, MPT examines the construction, use, and 'repurposing' of these classic American structures," the spokesperson said.

GARRETT MEMORIAL EARNS AABB ACCREDITATION – The Garrett County Memorial Hospital laboratory was recently granted AABB accreditation, according to Lois Frazee, director of laboratory services. Established in 1947, AABB (the American Association of Blood Banks) is an international association dedicated to the advancements of science and the practice of transfusion medicine and related biological therapies. The association is committed to improving health by developing and delivering standards, accreditation and educational programs and services to optimize patient and donor care and safety. AABB's accreditation program contributes to the quality and safety of collecting, processing, testing, distributing, and administering blood and cellular therapy products. Accreditation follows an intensive on-site assessment by specially trained AABB assessors and establishes that the level of technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the standards set by AABB. By successfully meeting those requirements, GCMH joins similar facilities located throughout the United States and around the world that also have earned AABB accreditation. "The AABB's accreditation procedures are voluntary," explained Frazee. "GCMH has sought AABB accreditation because this program assists facilities around the world in achieving excellence by promoting a level of professional and technical expertise that contributes to quality performance and patient safety." Pictured from left with the accreditation certificate are Frazee, and lab staff members Jacqui Clark and Wendy Miller.

Local Residents Receive Master's Degrees At FSU

Four local residents were awarded graduate-level degrees during Frostburg State University's 139th commencement in December.

Oakland residents Aaron Hordubay and Robyn Nazelrod both earned master of education degrees in education, general.

Robert Kutchman, Oakland, earned a master of science degree in applied ecology and conservation biology.

Melissa Rohrbaugh, McHenry, earned a master of business administration degree in management.

GC Officials Attend State Senate Hearing

A group of Garrett County officials attended a hearing in Annapolis yesterday to discuss the proposed Maryland State Senate Bill #586.

The bill would cap school system funding losses from state aid at around five percent.

About 30 individuals from the Friendsville area were present, while Dennett Road Elementary had seven people at the hearing on its behalf.

The hearing began at 1 p.m. One Garrett Countian has stated that there was a wait time of approximately 3 to 4 hours before the school budget issue could be addressed, as other bills were also on the agenda.

When Bill 586 did come up, George Edwards, Maryland state senator, led the testimony and was followed by Davis Cox, Allegany County superintendent of public schools.

Next to speak were Garrett County commissioners Gregan Crawford and James Raley, followed by Sue Waggoner, Garrett County interim superintendent of schools, and Larry McKenzie, director of finance for the Garrett County Board of Education.

Spencer Schlosnagle, Friendsville mayor, then began the citizen testimony.

In response to the testimony, Edward Kasemeyer, Maryland state senator, stated that the committee was "going to help."

Further information will be forth coming.

Lions Give

children," Buchanon said. "Their cooperation is greatly appreciated."

While the folks in Garrett County are organizing and planning, the same is going on at the school. Scheduling begins in September, when the MSB staff sets the dates for the three excursions.

"The kids will come to me at the beginning of the school year, already asking about the trips," said Pam Schirmer, a recreation specialist at MSB. She has been with the program nearly from its inception. "The kids want this trip. They look forward to it all year, and work hard to be selected for it."

The MSB attempts to bring six students per trip, with two adults from the school. They usually leave on a Monday and get to Deep Creek Lake by evening, when they are given dinner by the Lions Club. The Lions keep the students and volunteers fed throughout the next three days.

The students and teachers are housed at a condominium close to the ski area, donated each year by Ron and Ann Coscia. The couple gives the condo for all three groups of students.

While the adventure of skiing down a mountain is a thrill and experience all in itself, the trip is actually so much more, for both the MSB students and the volunteers who work with them. Skiing is just one component of an all-around trip of a lifetime, and an unforgettable volunteering experience.

When the guests arrive in Garrett County, their every need is addressed by the volunteers.

The Lions Club raises money at events such as its recent Las Vegas Night to fund the program. When the students arrive, they are provided with dinner that first night, and they settle in to the condo for the next day's adventure. Before they head out in the morning, however, they are provided with a "full country breakfast," Law said, cooked for them at the condo by Lions Club members.

"They get there around 6 a.m.," Law said, "to start cooking a huge breakfast for the kids."

The local high school students, organized by Law, first must undergo a training morning to learn what their responsibilities will be as "bold guides." This year, however, an ice storm hit the county on that morning and the training had to be canceled. So some of the students learned "on the fly," but Law said they are always good at stepping up to the task. The students earn Service Learning hours for their efforts.

"Sometimes people will say, 'Oh, sure, those kids get to go skiing all day and earn hours,'" Law said. "But it's not nearly as simple as that. They work hard, and they work all day. They can't ski with their poles, and they have to snowplow a lot! Anyone who skis at all knows how tiring it is to go without poles, and to do a lot of snowplowing."

The day is indeed a busy one for the volunteers. The local students arrive at 8:30 a.m. at Wisp to meet their assigned skiers and to then help them with their equipment. This is no easy task at times, especially for brand new skiers with impaired sight who have never had a ski boot on.

The adult volunteers help, too, handing out the ski passes and helping to attach them to everyone's jackets, making sure everyone has a helmet, and a bamboo pole to use on the slopes.

During this time, the young skiers get to know each other as well, learning each other's names, how old they all are, and other information.

Buchanon said this is one of the best components of the program, when the young skiers can simply "hang out" with kids their own age. Law agreed, noting that the MSB students don't have a lot of opportunities to simply spend time with their sighted peers. And the students do indeed seem to relate quickly to one another and soon are comfortably talking and joking together.

When everyone is ready to go, the whole group heads out to the chair lift, where the operators are ready for them. The chair is slowed down as the trios of skiers are picked up. The guides tell the students exactly what's happening, and the operators make sure everyone is secure in the seat before the lift is put back up to speed. The same process takes place when they leave the chairlift at the top of the mountain.

As the groups of three

EVERYDAY TASKS REQUIRE A NEW PERSPECTIVE when a sight-challenged person is taking the plunge down a mountainside on skis. All the volunteers seemed to agree that this is a courageous, cheerful bunch, ready to take on the risks and difficulties without hesitation. In the photo below, a trio heads out of the tunnel on the "Down Under" trail. That photo was taken by Northern student Charles Hanek. See more photographs on page A-9.

Come With Me

God saw you getting tired
A cure was not meant to be
So He put His arms around you
And whispered "Come With Me"

With tearful eyes we watched you
And saw you fade away
Although we loved you dearly
We could not make you stay

A golden heart stopped beating
Your tender hands at rest
God took you home to prove to us
He only takes the best.

Southern States Slates Fundraiser For FFA Chapters

Southern States Cooperative Inc. will support the National FFA Organization by selling FFA emblems for $1. The campaign takes place Feb. 24–March 18.

"FFA is proud to step alongside Southern States in this campaign," said Rob Cooper, executive director of the National FFA Foundation, the fundraising arm of the National FFA Organization. "Money raised will support FFA activities at the local and national level that promote premier leadership, personal growth, and career success."

Southern States cashiers will be asking customers to purchase a paper FFA emblem for $1. After the purchase, customers can sign their names on the emblems or the name of a child they care about. The emblems will then be displayed in the store for all to see.

Proceeds will be split between the local FFA chapter, the state FFA association, and the National FFA Foundation.

"Southern States is a supporter of FFA and is proud to be the sponsor of the 'I'm Supporting FFA' fundraiser," said Thomas R. Scribner, president and CEO of Southern States. "Every dollar collected will benefit FFA members across the area. Southern States has a rich heritage of working with FFA and hopes the public will assist with the project by supporting the effort and contributing a dollar for a personalized paper FFA emblem."

DONATION AIDS NORTHERN FFA – The Northern FFA Chapter was recently able to purchase five Briggs and Stratton motors because of a cash donation made by John Tressler of Luther P. Miller in Confluence, Pa. These motors will enable the students to work on motors that are exactly the same as the motors used at the FFA small engine competitions held each year. "With the budget costs at the Board of Education, it is wonderful that private companies are stepping up with donations that will help with our students' education," said Phil Frantz, FFA alumni president, "Our students are our future." Garrett College To Offer Meditation Classes In G'Ville

A meditation class is being offered by Continuing Education and Workforce Development of Garrett College at the Grantsville Senior Center on Mondays, starting March 19 and continuing through April 23, from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The class will start with an exercise exploring each participant's individual purpose for meditation. Four styles of meditation will then be introduced: breath, heart centered, inner peace, and spiritual cultivation of source.

Participants will be led through guided visualizations and introduced to induction methods for meditations. According to a spokesperson, these are practices that any person may use to find balance in the midst of daily life.

The instructor for the course is Leigh Clement, who began meditating in 1971 and after extensive training became an instructor in Morgantown, W.Va., and later in the Washington, D.C., area. He continues studying and teaching various forms of meditation. This is Clement's second semester teaching at Garrett College.

Those interested in additional information may contact Terry Beachy by calling 301-895-4700 or via e-mail at terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu. Those wishing to register may contact Continuing Education and Workforce Development at 301-387-3069.

The reservation deadline is Sunday, Feb. 26.

Garrett County SKIES

By Dr. Bob Doyle
Frostburg State Planetarium

MARCH SUN – As March begins, the sun appears in front of the stars of Aquarius, moving a degree a day eastward relative to the stars. At noon on March 11, the sun enters Pisces, where it remains until 11 a.m. on April 18. Both of these star groups are nearly lost in the sun's glare in March. The star group Aries is to the east of Pisces, so it sets after the sun, appearing low in the southwestern dusk. The star group Capricornus, to the west of Aquarius, rises before the sun and is visible low in the southeastern dawn. In early March, sunrises in Garrett County are about 6:55 a.m. while sunsets are about 6:15 p.m. (11.3 hours of daylight).

On March 11, we shift to Daylight Saving Time, moving to the sunrise to 7:36 a.m. and sunset to 7:20 p.m. Around the end of March, Garrett County's sunrises are about 7:05 a.m. and sunsets occur about 7:38 p.m. (12.5 hours of daylight). So during March, the stars are last seen around 6:10 a.m. (early dawn) and then reappear about 8:30 p.m. (late dusk).

MARCH MOON – As March opens, the evening moon is just past half full in the evening sky. Those with binoculars can spot the larger craters and mountain ranges along the straight or left edge of the moon. Below the moon is the star group Orion with his three-star belt. On the evening of March 7, the moon is full and appears underneath the orange planet Mars. The full moon is rather disappointing through telescopes or binoculars as the moon then has few shadows and the craters don't stand out; what you mainly see are the darker lava plains and the lighter highlands. (The dark lava plains, long cooled and hardened, make up the 'woman in the moon' or 'man in the moon.') Late on the evening of March 11, the moon appears below the star Spica and to the right of the planet Saturn. On March 15, the moon appears half full in the southern dawn sky. (This is another opportunity to spot the moon's craters and mountain ranges in the early daylight hours with binoculars or telescope. Look along the straight edge of the moon then for these details.) The waning crescent moon will be last seen in the southeast dawn on March 20. After being lost in the sun's glare for several days, the moon again appears low in the western dusk on March 24. On the next evening, the crescent moon is just to the right of the bright planet Jupiter. (Binoculars held steadily will allow you to see both the major moons of Jupiter and some lunar craters.) On March 26, the crescent moon appears to the left of the brilliant planet Venus. In the last two days of March, the evening half full moon appears above the star group Orion in the southwestern dusk.

MARCH PLANETS – The five nearest planets are easily seen by eye, four of them shining steadily in contrast to the twinkling stars. Of the five, Mercury is usually the most difficult to see, at a low angle to the sun and seen very close to the horizon. Mercury can be seen very low in the western dusk in the first week of March when it sets more than an hour after the sun. On March 3, the planet Mars is opposite the sun, rising in the east as the sun sets and hanging in the sky all through the night. Mars shines with a steady orange tint; this is not a close approach of Mars, being 62.7 million miles from Earth. The brilliant planet Venus is great in March, setting about 4 hours after sunset. In early March, the bright planet Jupiter appears above Venus. The faster moving Venus will pass Jupiter on the left on March 13, the two planets then separated by 3 degrees or 6 moon widths. The ringed planet Saturn is improving its visibility in the eastern sky as its rising time drops from 10 p.m. in early March to 8:45 p.m. (Daylight Time) in late March. Nearby Saturn is the bright star Spica of Virgo. (Saturn will shine steadily while Spica will twinkle.)

MARCH STARS – In March, the bright winter evening stars shift a little westward each week. Orion is still prominent in the southwestern sky. Orion's three-star belt points right to his enemy, Taurus the Bull. Orion's belt points left to Sirius, the night's brightest star. High in the northwestern evening sky is the golden star Capella. The Big Dipper, high in the north-northeast is "dumping" into the Little Dipper below. Follow the Big Dipper's handle outward to the bright orange star Arcturus in the east.

MARCH PROGRAMS – Frostburg State University will present "animal sky shows" on March Sundays at 4 p.m. in the Compton Science Center, Room 224 (next to the pendulum). As usual, the programs will show the current evening sky sights. The March main topic is "Hooved Animals of Northern Lands and their Skies," featuring pronghorn antelopes, caribou, fallow deer, goats, sheep, elk, moose and musk ox. The program will end in the Science Discovery Center, where there is a collection of these preserved animals on display. Guests may photograph these animals. To receive a schedule (or bookmark), persons may call 301-687-7799 and give name and mailing address. Persons may also access the Planetarium section of the Frostburg State web site at www.frostburg.edu/planetarium.

GUN BASH

Terra Alta Ambulance Squad is sponsoring a Gun Bash on Saturday, March 31, at Craig Civic Center, Kingwood, from noon to 6 p.m. This is a fund drive to purchase a new ambulance. Tickets are $30 each which entitles each guest to free food and refreshments. Tickets may be purchased in Terra Alta at Groves True Value Hardware, Terra Alta Library, East Preston Floral, and the ambulance hall. Tickets can be obtained at Surveyor & Associates, Kingwood, Street's Store, Masontown, and Shaffer Ford Sales, Oakland. A total of 25 winners will be drawn throughout the day with a Kimber Super Carry Pro 45 ACP as the grand prize.

Dolly Parton Imagination Library has been a wonderful treat for the children in Preston County, with 60.83% receiving free books each month delivered to their door. This group needs the help of all parents who signed their children up. Those whose addresses have changed since sign-up time are asked to contact the agency where the sign-up occurred to give updated information for mailing purposes.

LIBRARY

The library will sponsor a Birthday/Fashion Show/Show and Tell adventure on Friday, March 9, in honor of "Barbie."

Elliott and Ruth Handler were the founders of the girl and boy doll. Ruth was inspired by her daughter Barbara's fascination with cut-out paper dolls. Elliott was skeptical of the doll's potential, but was wrong. Barbie became the top-selling fashion doll in the world. By 1965, sales topped $100 million.

All girls are invited to bring and share their Barbie dolls to celebrate her 53th birthday. Children may also bring Barbie's friend Ken along with them. This will be from 3 to 5 p.m. A display will be up and open for all participants. Anyone who wants to set up on Thursday is welcome to do so. Information on this can be obtained by calling the library.

Pollyanna by Eleanor Porter and When We Were Friends by Elizabeth Joy Arnold were given in memory of Pollyanna Stottlemeyer by the library's board of directors.

Others donationing reference or fiction books, periodicals, VCR tapes, and other reading materials have been Daley and Sherry Sypolt, Chip Voitelle, Lawrence Sypolt, Doug and Pat Auvil, Brian Schoolcraft, and Dr. and Mrs. Steven White.

AURORA-EGLON

LENTEN SERVICES

Ash Wednesday was celebrated this week with a service at St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House. Next week's program will be Feb. 29 at Maple Grove Assembly of God, with Pastor Gary Meeks speaking at 7 p.m. The public is encouraged to attend.

BREAKFAST BUFFET

A youth sponsored breakfast buffet will be held at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, Eglon, on Saturday, March 17. Serving will begin at 7 a.m. and continue until 11 a.m. Proceeds will benefit youth activities.

PERSONAL

Tyler Harsh, son of Mark and Jenny Harsh, Eglon, underwent an appendectomy on Friday of last week. Because there were several complications, he was not allowed to return home for a few days.

Kenneth Mincer, Ona, was hospitalized last week for surgery, which was quite serious. He is the husband of Sandra Rembold (a sister to Bruce Rembold) and the late Bruce was the son of Eileen Rembold, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Troy Judy, Eglon, was taken Sunday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital but was transferred to Cumberland. He had a bad nosebleed that refused to stop and was to be at the hospital for at least 72 hours. His wife Ruby stayed with him.

Letha Helmick, Horse Shoe Run, remains a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she has been for several weeks.

Eugene Hauser collapsed Monday at his home near Gnegy Church and is hospitalized at GCMH as a result.

Norma (Mrs. Lorain) Gnegy, Oakland, Md., was involved in an automobile accident this past weekend and is in GCMH.

Pastor and Mrs. Gary Meeks, Eglon, are in Ohio this week because of a worsening illness.

Annual Arthurdale Dinner Scheduled

Early tickets for Arthurdale Heritage's April 21 Elimination Dinner at the Masontown fire hall in Preston County are now available. Doors will open at 5 p.m. for the catered dinner, which begins at 6 p.m., followed by prize drawings.

Tickets are $35 each, which admits one person for dinner and a chance to win up to $1,000. Additional dinner-only tickets can be purchased for $15.

A total of $2,115 in prizes will be given, with the top prize of $1,000. Other drawings will be held during the evening.

Tickets are available at the Arthurdale Heritage office, located along Rt. 92 in Arthurdale, or online at www.arthurdaleheritage.org.

Proceeds benefit the historic preservation efforts for the nation's first New Deal homestead subsistence community project championed by first lady Eleanor Roosevelt.

Public Invited To "Quilt The County" Next Wednesday

Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 22 Maynardier Ridge Road, Bittinger, members are inviting the community to help them "Quilt the County."

"On Leap Day, Wednesday, Feb. 29, we encourage church quilt and sewing groups to come together to use this extra day of 2012 as gift from God in order to serve God," a spokesperson said. "Make quilts to be donated to the House of Hope, the Dove Center, Habitat for Humanity and the Bittinger Lutheran Parish S.T.U.F.F. (Sheets, Towels, Utensils For Families) Closet for use by the needy of Garrett County."

The church will have fabric, cutting mats and rotary cutters, tables for layout of quilt tops, sewing stations, and quilt frames for knotting set up at Emmanuel from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sewing and quilting skills are not required. Lunch will be provided.

"Bring a willingness to work together in laughter and caring, and join us," the spokesperson said. "If you prefer to work in the comfort of your familiar church environment or in your home, please do so and donate the fruits of your efforts."

Persons may call Cindy Richardson at 301-245-4249 with any questions.

Adorable Adoptables

No "Adorable Adoptable" photos were available this week. Persons interested in adopting a pet may stop by the Garrett County Animal Shelter, located along Oakland Sang Run Road, or visit petfinder.com to see what is available locally and in adjacent counties.

World Spayday is Tuesday, Feb. 28, and events will take place all over the world to help stop the pet overpopulation problem. The Garrett County Humane Society will distribute discount vouchers on that day to help local residents with the cost of having their pet spayed or neutered. This event will take place at the Garrett County Animal Shelter from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Vouchers will only be given to Garrett County residents and are only valid at the three local veterinarian hospitals: Pineview, Countryside, and Casselman Veterinary Services.

For more information, persons may call the Garrett County Animal Shelter at 301-334-3553.

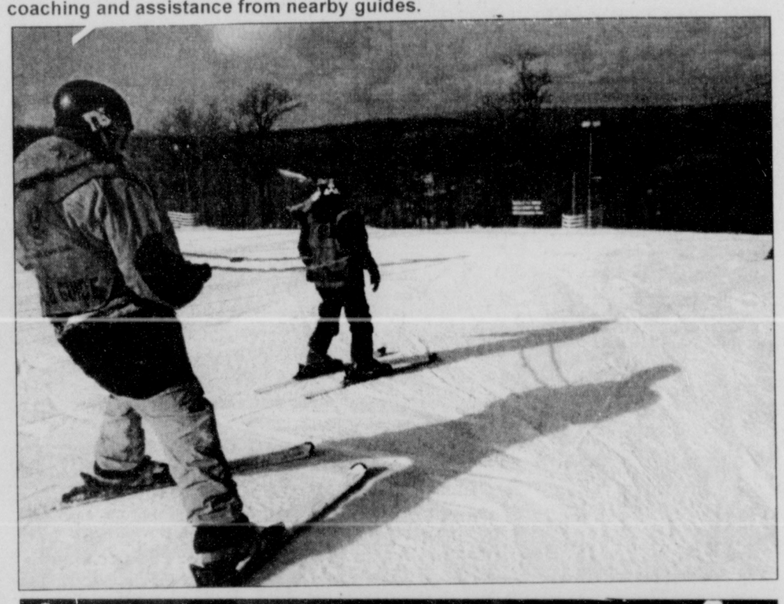
WAYS TO GET DOWN THE HILL – The MSB students have several options in ways to ski down the hillside at Wisp. The usual way is with a bamboo pole, pictured above, with the "bold guides" on the ends, and the sight-challenged student in the middle. This requires all to ski without poles, which is sometimes a trick for experience skiers who are very used to having them. In the photo below, the blind skier is tethered. This is for a more advanced student, as well as advanced guide. Finally, when all things are a "go," a blind student can even go down the hill solo, with much coaching and assistance from nearby guides.



GETTING TO KNOW EACH OTHER – Another valuable aspect of the Blind Skier Program is the experiences of both the sight-challenged teen, and his or her teenage guides. The opportunity to simply "hang out" with sighted peers is something that the MSB students don't often have, and the chance to assist and befriend peers with such challenges is new for the local students as well. In the photo above, volunteers Seth Holler and Michael McEwen chat with their MSB student Dean.

head down the mountainside, they are arranged as follows: The blind skier stands in the middle of two sighted skiers, and the three of them hold on to the pole, horizontally in front. Ideally, two adult volunteers ski nearby as well.

Then they head down the hill, with the guides describing what is coming, and telling the MSB student when to turn or slow down.

"We didn't always use the pole," Wenzel said. "We used to just hold hands or even put the student between our skis to go down the hill. The pole was a great idea, and helped so much."

Law agreed. "We did a lot of backward skiing before we had the pole," she said.

There is also a harness that can be used, with a sighted skier holding on to the tails of it, and the blind skier going down the hill first. This is designed for a slightly more advanced skier who is ready to be more on his or her own. When things are going exceptionally well, a blind skier may go down the hill solo, with lots of coaching and direction from many volunteers skiing nearby.

The MSB students have varying levels of sightedness, Schrimer explained, with some able to detect light and dark and large shapes, some able to see some detail and depth, and others nearly completely blind. Students with all levels of sightedness have taken part in the program over the years.

After a few hours, the students and guides head into the Wisp Lodge for lunch. Wisp provides a large discount on the food, and the Lions Club pays the difference. The students are allowed to pick out their own lunch in the cafeteria, along with all the volunteers.

The students then all sit together, while the adults are at their own table. Again, this provides all the participants with some teenage time, to joke and talk, maybe discussing the celebrities of the day or their favorite music, as well as laugh about their adventures on the hill.

A snippet of a conversation overheard at the kids' table went something like this:

Student: "I liked it when I did that 360!"

Guide: "Was that on purpose?"

Student: "Not at all!"

After a few more hours of skiing, the MSB students head back to the condo to rest from their big day. The Lions take the students to dinner, this year at Uno's Restaurant. There the young skiers, with the encouragement and help of Wenzel, stand up and speak about their day on the slopes. This is yet another facet of the program, as the young people may be very new to any kind of public speaking. Here they gather their thoughts and talk a little bit about who their guides were, what they learned, and how they felt about their experience.

"I felt much better on the slopes this year," said student Dean, who has been to the area for four years now. "I felt like I knew what I was doing more this time."

MSB student Tim Jones skied with Christine Carpenter and Kate Wood of Northern.

"We just kept busting out laughing," Tim said. "It was so much fun."

After the dinner, the students hit the sack, sleep soundly, and get up to another big breakfast the next morning. And then they do it all again, with new high school volunteers, and often some different adults as well. Law has so many students request to do it at Northern that she has to pick and choose, or have some students come along as photographers or simply extra helpers. She hopes to have as much interest grow at Southern, too. She announces the first meeting about the program each year just after Thanksgiving, and tries to have all the required paperwork (permission forms and other items) finished before the Christmas break.

The volunteer students this year were Aaron Broadwater, Asa Archer, Lake Sherrard, Seth Bagley, Vlad Johnson, Nick McGettigan, Cody Jenkins, Mikali Artice, Elizabeth Green, David Hall, Martin Green, Serjai Johnson, Seth Holler, Michael McEwen, Charles Hanek, Seth Layton, Christine Carpenter, Tommy Durst, Ashley Hackett, Morgan Yoder, Cara Brack, Nicole Walsh, Madeline Riesco, David Vitez, Jacob Williams, Kate Wood, Brittany Carney, Taylor Sines, Braden Dever, Hunter Hill, and Ian Sunday.

The sentiment of all the students seems to be that the service project is nothing but a good thing.

"I like it because it really does make me think of someone else besides myself," said Vlad Johnson of Northern. "And to appreciate what I have, too."

The adults helping out this year on the slopes, in addition to those mentioned, were Pam Taylor, Bob Luers, Sharon Seling, Fred Bradshaw, Susie Crawford, Grace Herpal, Kyle Camp, Al Sunday, Jessie Storey, Laura Schroyer, Odette Lueck, and Ted Frantz.

Buchanon also wanted to note that Paul Winkelvoss, who has been the program's "alpha guide" for well over a decade, was unable to help this year, but she wished for him to be acknowledged for his tremendous contribution over the years. So many other volunteers have worked hard in the program, like Nancy Geisler and Trudy Pickerel, to name just two. The effort has a long history of dedicated people, which speaks even more to its value.

Wenzel has been such a fan of the program that he devised a summer excursion for the MSB students as well. For several years now, the Lions Club has hosted a camping adventure for the students, complete with sleeping in tents at the Deep Creek Lake State Park, and going boating (and tubing) on Deep Creek Lake with Lions Club members.

"I just love how brave these kids are," Wenzel said. "I'm always learning something new, just being with them. And they are so willing to try things. They don't question it; they just do it."

The program is most certainly a hit with all involved, from the MSB students to the local students, and all adults who ski along and watch it all unfold.

"It's just a great program," Schrimer said. "We're just so appreciative of all the folks who work to make it happen each year."

Bev Schmitz, a recreational teacher from MSB, came along on one of the three excursions this year for the first time. She spoke at the dinner along with the students.

"I'll tell you, I'm just blown away by how well these kids performed today!" she said. "This was wonderful."

While the excursions are now completed for this season, the Lions are not quite finished. They will host an appreciation dinner next week for all the volunteers. And then the planning will begin again, as this valuable program carries on.

The Arts

International Film Fest Under Way At Frostburg

Frostburg State University is currently hosting the third annual Bridges to the World International Film Festival featuring films from Brazil, Japan, Austria, Sri Lanka, and Turkey, in conjunction with the Office of Student Activities and Greek Life, University Programming Council, and World Artists Experience.

All films feature English subtitles, and screenings begin at 7 p.m. in the Lane Center, Room 111.

The movies will run for five weeks, with two films already passed. The next showing will be The Inheritors (Austrian) on Feb. 28, and The Tender Trap (Sri Lankan) will be shown on March 6. Ice Scream I Scream (Turkey) will be presented on March 13.

The event is free and open to the public. For more information, persons may call the FSU information desk at 301-687-4411.

"Evening At Pops" Fundraiser Set At Northern High

The second annual "Evening at the Pops" dinner/concert fundraiser will be hosted at Northern Garrett High School on Friday, March 2, beginning at 6 p.m. in the school's cafetorium.

The event features a catered meal along with musical entertainment by several students performing a wide variety of musical selections.

The catered dinner will be preprared by Jearbryo's Restaurant of McHenry and will include salad, meat or vegetarian lasagna, baked rigatoni, dessert, and beverage. The meal will be served at 6 and the music will begin at 7 p.m.

The evening's musical entertainment will feature solos, duets, trios, and small ensembles. The stage band will perform, plus perhaps other small instrumental and vocal ensembles.

This event is open to the public. Tickets are $18 for adults and $14 for students. Children younger than 5 years will be admitted free of charge.

Tickets are available from any Northern High music student, or by contacting Duane Salisbury, director of bands, at Northern High School: 301-746-8668 or 301-895-5434.

All proceeds will benefit the Northern Garrett High School Music Boosters and the Music Department for a planned spring trip to New York City.

If the weather is inclement, the program will be held on March 16.

BURIED CHILD, the 1979 Pulitzer Prize-winning drama by critically acclaimed American playwright Sam Shepard, will open tomorrow night in Morgantown, W.Va., presented by the WVU School of Theatre and Dance. The show will be given Feb. 24, 25, 26, and 28, and March 3 and 4, with show times at 7:30 p.m. on all dates but Sundays, when the show is at 2 p.m. According to Jerry McGonigle, director, the characters are as follows: "A ranting alcoholic grandfather, a sanctimonious grandmother whose mission is to keep up their 'American family' façade, and their sons – one a former All-American footballer now back from New Mexico for unknown reasons, and the other an amputee with issues. Into their midst comes a grandson none of them recognizes or remembers, and his girlfriend, who cannot comprehend the madness she is suddenly thrown into. Steeped in mystery, humor, and stark poetry, the play plunges the audience into the subconscious of a dysfunctional family, ultimately resulting in a bizarre regeneration and rebirth of hope and fertility," the director said. "Although the subject matter is dark, the play is actually witty and funny and has almost a vaudeville quality to it." The actors pictured from left are Greg Holt, Will Stout, Ben Roberts, and McKenna Kirchner. For tickets, persons should call the CAC box office at call 304-293-7469, or go online to www.ticketmaster.com. The Feb. 26 performance will be interpreted for the hearing impaired. For more information on this production, persons may also call 304-293-2020 or e-mail theatre@mail.wvu.edu.

FSU All-Student Art Show Set At Roper Gallery

The 2012 Frostburg State University All-Student Show Opening and Awards Ceremony will be held Friday, March 2, at 7 p.m. in the Stephanie Roper Art Gallery in the Fine Arts Building on the FSU campus. The event is free and open to the public and will feature the artwork of FSU students from all majors.

Gallery owner Penny Knobel-Besa, an award-winning photographer, will judge the artwork. Winning pieces will be displayed in the gallery through March 25 and may include paintings, illustrations, sculptures, prints, photographs, graphics, and ceramics.

The Roper Gallery exhibits are free and open to the public. The gallery is open Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For more information about the exhibition or the Roper Gallery, persons may contact the FSU Department of Visual Arts at 301-687-4797.

WVU Faculty Cellist Skidmore To Give Recital

Cellist William Skidmore of the West Virginia University School of Music faculty will present his "Third, Semi-Annual Recital Forewarning Pending Retirement" on Tuesday, Feb. 28, at the Creative Arts Center in Morgantown, W.Va.

The program begins at 8:15 p.m. in the Bloch Learning and Performance Hall (200A) and is free and open to the public.

Featured on the program will be the Suite No. VI in D Major by Johann Sebastian Bach, as well as WVU Composer-in-Residence John Beall's Fantasy for Cello Solo.

"The last of Bach's suites for unaccompanied cello was written for an unusual five-stringed instrument that was what we would now call a ¾-sized cello that was tuned E-A-D-G from top to bottom, with an additional low C string added to give it the same bass range of the cello of today," Skidmore said. "This presents a challenge to the modern cellist to perform the work on the standard cello, as it necessitates playing in much higher and sometimes very awkward positions on the instrument. Perhaps for this reason the work is not frequently performed, as modern musicians are so cautious to appear in public when intonation problems might be unfavorable to the luxury of the splicing accuracy of recordings."

Skidmore has been a member of the WVU music faculty since 1977. As professor of cello, coach of the resident Graduate String Quartet and other chamber groups, he offers students insight that is founded upon significant professional experience,a spokesperson said. He has presented numerous recitals throughout the Eastern United States, including performances at the National Gallery of Art, the Phillips Collection, and the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

As a chamber musician, he has been a member of the Maryland Trio, the Baltimore Symphony String Quartet, and the American Arts Trio. In addition to the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, he was principal cellist with the West Virginia Symphonette and the Ohio Valley Symphony.

He holds degrees from the University of Illinois and previously taught at the University of Maryland. He has also taught cello and chamber music at the Interlochen Arts Camp.

Pitts. Symphony Orchestra Concert Slated At WVU

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra will perform in the Lyell B. Clay Concert Theatre at West Virginia University's Creative Arts Center on Saturday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will feature world renowned pianist Emanuel Ax, who will perform the Mozart Piano Concerto #22.

Other selections on the program will be Wagner's Prelude and Liebestod from Tristan und Isolde and Elgar's Enigma Variations.

LOCAL STUDENTS AWARDED FOR CREATIVITY – Kitzmiller Elementary students Eunae Rodeheaver (second grade) and Jonas Paugh (first grade) were both recently awarded for their entries in the Conflict Resolution Day Bookmark Art Contest sponsored by the Maryland Mediation and Conflict Resolution Office. Eunae was awarded third place and Jonas earned honorable mention in the K-2nd grade category. The contest is open to Maryland students from kindergarten through eighth grade. Winners of the contest received awards at a reception in Annapolis, which included more than 450 youngsters from across the state. Pictured above, from left, are Jonas Paugh, Eunae Rodeheaver, with Robert Bell, chief judge, Maryland Court of Appeals.

FEB. 24, 25, 26, and 28; March 3 and 4

• Buried Child, a play by Sam Shepard, presented by the WVU School of Theatre and Dance in the Gladys G. Davis Theatre, Creative Arts Center, Morgantown, on Feb. 24, 25, 28, and March 1, 2, 3 at 7:30 p.m., and on Feb. 26 and March 4 at 2 p.m. This is a Pulitzer Prize winning drama that "delves deep into American mythos and the collective search for identity and meaning," director Jerry McGonigle said. "Steeped in mystery, humor, and stark poetry, the play plunges the audience into the deeply buried subconscious of a dysfunctional family." Tickets: 304-293-7469.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 29, THROUGH SUNDAY, March 4

• Happily Ever Once Upon, a comedy at Our Town Theatre, Oakland, 8 p.m. (2 p.m. on March 4.) This farce (for audiences of those over 14 years old) ponders the question of whether or not Prince Charming and Cinderella really lived "happily ever after." See photo and information in today's issue. Tickets on Friday and Saturday are $10, and $8 for all other shows. Reservations are advised, and can be made by calling 301-334-5640 or visiting www.ourtowntheatre.org.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 29

• Historic Barns of Maryland, a program on Maryland Public Television, 8 p.m. Featuring the barns of the state of Maryland, the program will also include a segment about Garrett County and the unique barn quilt art found throughout the area. Check local listings.

FRIDAY, March 2

• Second annual "Evening at the Pops" Dinner/Concert in the Northern Garrett High School cafetorium, beginning at 6 p.m. This fundraiser for the NGHS Music Boosters and music department's spring trip to New York City will be catered by Jearbryo's Restaurant, with dinner to be served at 6 p.m. and the pops music portion to begin at 7 p.m. The entertainment will be provided by the students, who will perform solos, duets, trios, and in small ensembles. This event is open to the public, with tickets priced at $18 for adults, $14 for students, and free for children younger than 5. Tickets will be available from any Northern High music student, or by contacting Duane Salisbury, director of bands, at the school: 301-746-8668 or 301-895-5434. In the case of inclement weather, the program will be rescheduled for Friday, March 16.

Movies in the Mountains with Kyle Lantz

Ghost Rider: Spirit of Vengeance (3-D)

The demon rides again in Ghost Rider: Spirit of Vengence, a film that alludes very little to its 2007 predecessor, also starring Nicolas Cage as foolhardy stuntman Johnny Blaze – a man who swaps his soul to save his father's life and ends up possessed by a malignant spirit. But that's what happens when you make a deal with the Devil, right?

In any case, our film begins somewhere in Eastern Europe with a crew of paramilitary baddies hunting down a mother and her young son, who is wanted by El Diablo for some rather unsavory reasons (he's the antichrist, or a demon vessel, or something). Heading up the seek-and-capture operation is a pretty boy, straight out of a Land's End catalog, who has somehow ascended to a leadership position amidst this crew of roughnecks; making perfect sense. Explosions and unbearable one liners ensue.

On the other side of this equation is fighting monk Moreau (played by Idris Elba), who is working for a monastic order with intentions of denying the Devil his due. Hoping to keep "the prophecy" from coming to pass, Moreau enlists the Ghost Rider in the quest to keep the boy from the Devil, with a promise to exorcise the demon causing his head to catch on fire.

All of this is, of course, incidental, as the point of the film seems to be to overwhelm the viewer with computer-generated fire and destruction. Though I typically find the 3-D experience more trouble than it's worth, the medium works best in Ghost Rider when the filmmakers incorporate camera speed tricks and animated asides to keep the whole thing chuggin' along at a rapid pace.

Generally speaking though, the film seems to be absolutely uninterested in taking itself or its subject matter at all seriously. Don't let the surprisingly committed, and generally well-wrought, supporting performances of Elba and Ciaran Hinds (as the Devil) fool you; this thing has doubled down on stylized crazy.

But, if madness is our intended soup du jour and not simply a product of bad filmmaking, then who better to lead the parade than Nicolas Cage, whose character is somehow less over-the-top when transmuted into a flaming CGI skeleton. Though many may feel put off by what Cage does on screen, it would be hard to label it boring.

Casual fans of the comic book film may be disappointed to find that in this movie there is no hero, just a "demon...with a hunger," as the protagonist himself explains. What we have in Ghost Rider: Spirit of Vengeance is a 96-minute, non-stop, explosive, leather-clad, engine-revving mash-up, crafted with all the care – and concern for depth – of a Metallica video.

Where the film comes closest to succeeding is in its utter failure to repent for any of this. With that in mind, movie goers should allow their own sensibilities (and, in some cases, inner preteens) to guide them in their individual decisions to pony up 8 bucks for this gem or pass it by.

If the film's promotions have you under the impression that you'll enjoy it, well, then you most likely are under no illusion that you'll be bothered with any complex plot points or character development. No, I must say that my biggest impression of this movie is that I have none at all. Don't be too surprised if you find yourself leaving the dark of the cinema with a puzzled look on your face. Rated PG-13. 2½ of 5 stars.

Hilarious parody for Age 14 and over!

Happily Ever Once Upon

by Virginia Kidd

Cinderella and Prince Charming have been married 20 years. He's overweight and balding; she's dowdy and smeared with cold cream. And he's broke. Melba, the fairy godmother, has moved in and emptied his treasury making B-westerns in Hollywood.

BOARD OF EDUCATION RECOGNIZES TALENT – At its February meeting held on Tuesday in the cafeteria of Southern Middle School, the Garrett County Board of Education recognized 10th grader Lindsey Murray, the Southern High School student who designed the board's 2011 Christmas card. The card was sent from the BOE and its superintendent to each Maryland school superintendent, as well as various state agencies last December. Pictured above, from left, in the first row are: Rodney Durst; Elizabeth Sines, student board member; Cynthia Downton; Murray; and Charlotte Sebold. In the back row are Thomas Carr and Sue Waggoner, interim superintendent of schools.

KITZMILLER ELEMENTARY STUDENTS HAVE POEMS PUBLISHED – Alexia Wolf and Kiera Warnick, both first grade students at Kitzmiller Elementary School, were recently selected to have their poems published in the 2011-2012 Young Poets Collection. Poems that were submitted for consideration were selected for their creativeness, use of language, and the appearance of the poetry. Pictured, from left, are: Kitzmiller principal Patrick Damon, Kiera Warnick, Alexia Wolf, and Sandy Dewitt, teacher.

"Art Up Close!" Event Featuring Fuller Sculpture

The Art Museum of West Virginia University and the Friends of the Museum have announced the next "Art Up Close!" event of the spring semester, focusing on individual works of art from the museum collection.

The March 1 presentation is titled "Buckminster Fuller's Jitterbug Atom," by Kristina Olson, art history professor at WVU.

Buckminster Fuller (1895-1983) was an American architect and engineer remembered as the "Wizard of the Dome" for his invention of the geodesic dome. This talk will explore Fullers "Jitterbug Atom," a sculpture in the collection of the Art Museum of West Virginia University.

The moveable aluminum object demonstrates Fuller's principle of "tensegrity," or tensional integrity, which is the basis of his dome and many other projects.

The "Art Up Close!" presentations are held from 5:30. to 6:30 p.m. in the Museum Education Center (formerly the Erickson Alumni Center) adjacent to the WVU Creative Arts Center. All the events are free and open to the public.

Each presentation features an original work of art and commentary by WVU faculty, followed by a question and answer session and light refreshments. This series of lectures is designed to give an in-depth look at a single work of art selected from the WVU Art Collection. Audience members will have the opportunity to view the actual work of art.

Have you checked your credit report lately?

When was the last time you checked your credit report? What does your credit report mean to those who lend you money and credit? Not only does your credit report affect your financial life, it can also affect your career, education, and the interest rates that lenders offer you.

By periodically reviewing your credit report you can see your payment history, understand how your credit is rated, prevent errors from going undetected, and save delay when you need an accurate credit report.

To order your free credit report, go to www.annualcreditreport.com. Review your credit report from the three major credit bureaus (Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion), getting one every few months. This keeps you up to date on the content and allows you to find any inconsistencies within your financial information as you compare the reports. The three major credit reporting agencies do not share information, so one report may not be identical to another.

A standard credit report contains a complete outline of your financial history. There are four parts to a standard report:

Personal Information – Your name, spouse's name, address, previous address for the past 5-10 years, date of birth, Social Security number (as well as that of your spouse), addresses of your present and previous employers, and your telephone number.

Tradeline – A list of your credit accounts, the opening date, whether you make timely payments, the balance of each account, joint account information, and any negative information regarding the account.

Public Record – Monetary judgments, state and federal tax liens, and bankruptcies. This information is found by the bureaus from public records.

Inquiries – Everyone who has viewed your credit report recently. One kind of inquiry is generated when you apply for credit, insurance, or a job. Another is a promotional inquiry that is created when lenders ask the credit bureau for a list of people who fit a certain category so they can mail them pre-approved credit offers. A third inquiry type is created when lenders want to review their customers' credit reports to increase credit limits before the holidays. Customers who fit the qualifications will be granted more credit.

If you spot suspicious information, you should: Write a letter to each credit reporting bureau, giving your full name, and mailing address, date of birth and Social Security number, and explain what information you think is inaccurate. Request a deletion or correction. In your letter clearly identify each item in your report that you dispute. Sign your letter and enclose a copy of your report with the items in question circled. Include copies of documents that support your position. Send your letter by certified mail with return receipt requested so you can prove the credit bureau received your information. Keep a log of your efforts and everyone you talk to.

Make your credit report a valuable asset. Pay your bills on time, review your credit report at least once a year, and understand how the credit rating system works.

For more information on credit reports and credit scores visit the Federal Trade Commission at www.ftc.gov and search for credit reports and scoring.

Rams Power Their Way To Bi-County Championship; Win By A Half Point

The wrestling team of Southern High School recently claimed the title of Bi-County Tournament Champion after compiling a team score of 198.5, enough to edge past second place Mountain Ridge, which scored just a half point behind at 198.

The Rams produced five first-place finishes in their winning effort on Saturday at Northern High School. With the victory Southern High has now won the bi-county tourney for six consecutive seasons, as well as seven of the last eight. With this most recent win, the Rams will head to Fort Hill High School for the regional tournament this Friday and Saturday.

Following Southern, the Miners had three wrestlers finish first, but had seven second-place finishes to Southern's four.

Host Northern scored 151.5 points to finish in third, while Fort Hill was fourth at 131.0. Allegany came in fifth with 84 points.

For the Rams, Austin Shaffer and Garrett Beachy won at 106 and 113. Mikey Skipper and Scott Cooper won in 152 and 160, and Kevin Miller was champion at 285.

Second-place finishers for Southern were Josh King (120), Gavin Murphy (126), Dakota Pritt (138) and Coty Rasel (195).

Mountain Ridge's champions were Adam Martz at 126 pounds, George Martin at 145 and Jason Wright at 195. Cody Mathews (106) and Jacob Taylor (113) both finished second, as did Tyler Maynard (132), Evan Deckers (152), Phil Shifflett (160), Abe Maklin (182) and Shane Phillips (220).

The Huskies' three title winners were Justin Opel at 120, Kody Osselburn at 132 and Zach Meyers in the 220-pound class. Tyler Owens (145) finished in second, along with Zach Merrill (170) and Justin Durst (285).

Two Fort Hill wrestlers, Dillon Darr at 138 and Cody Arigo at 182, won Bi-County titles, while Garrett Bittinger won Allegany's only title at 170 pounds.

"The tournament came down to the last match of the day," explained Southern head coach Dave Taylor.

RAMS NAMED BI-COUNTY CHAMPS – The Southern High School wrestling team has won the Bi-County Wrestling Tournament after having five wrestlers take first-place finishes on Saturday at Northern High School. The Rams finished with a total of 198.5 points, just a half point over the second-place grapplers of Mountain Ridge. Southern's team members, pictured here from left, are: Coach Tim Rush, Brandon Uphold, Steven Collins, Cooper McCauley, Austin Shaffer, Kevin Miller, Gavin Murphy, Mikey Skipper, Will Foulke, Coach Dave Taylor, Dakota Pritt, Austin Sines, Scott Cooper, Garrett Beachy, Brad Clary, Coty Rasel, and Tanner Massey. Also pictured, though partially hidden from view, are grapplers Dalton Cooper and Josh King. See story for details. Photos by Delos Carpenter.

"Senior Kevin Miller needed to pin his opponent in the finals for Southern to win the tournament. As I sent Kevin out there I said 'no pressure – you pin, we win.' Kevin said, 'you got it' and went out and took care of business.

"Even though it came down to the last match, each kid contributed to this win. I have told the kids all year long that every match and every point counts and this tournament proved it. Each win, each major decision, and each pin gave us the opportunity to keep our winning streak going.

"I am very proud of this team. Nobody gave us much of a chance this season, but the kids worked hard and pulled off a big win."

Northern Youth Wrestlers Vie In Two Tournaments

Members of the Northern Youth Wrestling Team recently participated in a pair of youth tournaments in Somerset and Laurel Highlands.

In the Somerset tournament, Luke Lowery took first place in the 11/12, 122-pound division. Taking first place in the 7/8, 65-pound division was Jamison Warnick. Noah Phillips earned fourth place in the 9/10, 60-pound division.

At the Laurel Highlands tournament the following grapplers placed in their respective divisions: Luke Lowery, first place; Cance Ritchey, first place; Noah Phillips, second place; Jamison Warnick, second place; and Cross Ritchey, fourth place.

Top-Ranked Rams Finish Strong, Take Wins Over BW, Hampshire

The number-one seeded Southern High School boys' varsity basketball team rounded out its regular season schedule with a pair of road wins this week. The first came at the expense of a fourth-ranked Bishop Walsh team, 59-48, on Tuesday evening, while the second the Rams earned at Hampshire, 63-59, after coming out on top in overtime.

With its strong regular season performance now in the books, Southern has earned a first-round bye in the Maryland 1A West Region Tournament, after tallying an overall record of 17-5 (13-4 AMAC). The Rams await the victor of Friday's first-round contest between Northern High and Hancock. Second round games are scheduled for Tuesday.

At Bishop Walsh, D.J. Ritchie led the Rams with 18 points, Wyatt McBee hit for 17 points, and Kurt Gangler scored 10 more, in what became Southern sixth-straight win.

Ritchie netted six baskets, two from beyond the 3-point line, and also sank 4-of-5 free throws. McBee accounted for five 3-pointers and was a perfect 2-for-2 from the foul line. Gangler's 10 points came off two 3-point baskets and two more shots from within the paint.

Bishop Walsh was led by Pat Jones' game-high 25 points. He made 10 baskets, including three from beyond the 3-point line. He shouldered the majority of the offensive production, and was the only Spartan to score in double digits. Lucas Brock added eight points and Greg Hendershot had seven points, along with a team-leading seven rebounds.

The Rams maintained a lead throughout the game, ending the first and second quarters up 11-10 and 29-23, respectively. Bishop Walsh remained in contention, however, until Southern began to brake away in the final period, outscoring Bishop Walsh 17-9. The Spartans had climbed to within three points at the end of the third quarter, 42-39, but the final eight minutes were all the Rams needed to seal the deal.

Bishop Walsh won the junior varsity game, 39-35. Garrett Shaffer scored nine points and Brandon Reed added eight more. Matt Mayles led the Rams with 10.

In Wednesday's overtime matchup with Hampshire, McBee nailed all four of his attempted foul shots in the extra period to push the Rams to victory in a tough road game.

The Trojans' Robbie Smelser scored a game-high 29 points, but it was the Rams' defense that ultimately decided the game's outcome, as it limited Hampshire to only two points in overtime.

Southern, which led 33-28 at halftime after being tied at 16 after the first period, took a 43-39 lead into the fourth quarter.

Ritchie again paced the Rams' offensive game, scoring 20 points. He made eight field goals and was perfect in four attempts from the foul line. McBee finished with 16 points, making five baskets, including two 3-pointers and his free throws in overtime.

Hampshire's Smelser had 13 baskets, hitting 13-of-18 from the field, and made 3-of-5 from the line. Travis Clower added 11 points and Cullan Noonan nine points.

Smelser hit a late basket to tie the contest at 57-57. Southern put up a game-winning shot attempt, but it was missed.

The Rams also claimed the junior varsity win.

Men's Basketball League Results Are Announced

Play in the Oakland Men's Basketball League on Sunday resulted in victories for the teams sponsored by Automated Packaging, Fox's Pizza, and Hutton Auto.

Jason Shank scored a game-high 17 points and teammate Ted Kitzmiller had 14 to lead Automated Packaging past D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction, 60-49. D&L received 15 points from Bo Davis.

Fox's Pizza earned a 57-45 victory over Terra Alta VFW #578, with Mike Browning and Doug Copeland scoring 36 and 14 points, respectively. Shaun Shaffer tallied 24 points for Terra Alta VFW.

Joey DiSimone paced Hutton Auto in its 71-68 victory over Taylor Made, with his game-high 27 points. Also providing offense for Hutton Auto was Mike Fazenbaker, who netted 18 points. Taylor Made was led by Jason Brenneman, who scored 25 points.

Games slated for this Sunday will pit Fox's Pizza against Hutton Auto in the 6 p.m. clash, Taylor Made against Automated Packaging at 7 p.m., and Terra Alta VFW against D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction in the 8 p.m. tipoff.

Ram Frosh Fall At Mountain Ridge, 48-47

The Southern High School freshman basketball team went on the road last night to face the Miners of Mountain Ridge. That game ended in a one-point, 48-47, loss for the Rams after an intense back-and-forth duel between the two teams.

Miner Dane Lutton's free throw with 16 seconds left proved to be the difference. That one shot handed Mountain Ridge the championship and was the deciding factor in the Mountain Ridge Freshman Tournament.

Southern's Logan Cvetnik scored 12 points and teammate Clay Todd scored 11 points.

Rashawn Johnson scored 25 points for Mountain Ridge, while Brady Folk hit for 11 points and had 12 rebounds.

The Miners led 18-13 at the end of the first, before Southern came back to take a 32-24 lead at the half. The Miners came back, however, to take a 42-40 lead entering the fourth.

Following Lutton's final clutch free-throw, the Rams' called a time-out with only one second left. Southern managed to get three shots off, the final one at the buzzer, but none fell.

NORTHERN SLIPS TO MOUNTAIN RIDGE, LOOKS TO PLAYOFFS – The regular season ended in a disappointing 10-point loss for the Northern High varsity boys' basketball team, which hosted the Miners on Friday, but came up short, 56-46. The Huskies fought hard and hung with the Miners for most of the contest, though things went Mountain Ridge's way in the second half. Northern will have to put the loss behind it, however, as it is set to travel to Hancock for its round-one game in the Maryland 1A West Region Tournament. In the photo at left, is Northern's Jeremy Bender (#14, far left) working his way toward the basket and eyeing teammate Ryan Palmer (#31, third from left) for a pass. Pictured at right is Husky junior center Nick Ruff (#32) putting up two after slipping past his defender. From left, in the background are teammates Palmer and Tyler Yutzy (#21). Huskies Fall To Miners In Season Finale

The varsity boys of Northern High School concluded their regular basketball season on a disappointing note, falling to visiting Mountain Ridge in an Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference contest on Friday, 56-46.

The loss dropped the Huskies' overall record to 5-17 and their AMAC mark to 2-14.

The Huskies played evenly with the Miners (12-10, 9-7) through the first half, but fell well behind in the third quarter and could not recover.

The score was knotted at 14-14 at the end of the first quarter, and Northern trailed by a single point at halftime, 22-21; however, the Miners out-scored their hosts in the third stanza by a 21-8 margin to take a comfortable 43-29 advantage into the fourth period.

Mountain Ridge was led offensively by Dan Strietbeck and Montana Bradley, who recorded 18 and 15 points, respectively, while Patrick Sines paced the Huskies in scoring with 15 points and teammate Jordan Evans finished with 12 points.

The Northern junior varsity was topped in the preliminary contest, 47-29, with Glassbrenner scoring 12 points to lead the winners. Adam Warnick led the jayvee Huskies with nine points.

The Huskies will begin post-season play this Friday when it heads to Hancock High School for a first-round game in the Maryland 1A West Sectional Tournament.

Huskies' Final Shot Blocked; Lose At Moorefield, 45-43

A blocked shot at the buzzer ended the Northern High School girls' varsity basketball team's regular season last Thursday, as the Huskies (3-19) fell by just two points, 45-43, at Moorefield (W.Va.).

The Huskies were nipping on the Yellowjackets heals at the end of each period, down by 9-12, 17-22, and 33-36 at each break, and before their final shot was sent back.

Northern was led by Allison Yommer, who tallied 23 points, including three 3-point baskets. Teammates Beth Cook and Courtney Parker both scored nine points, while Cheyenne Lender had eight points and Katelynn Wills scored seven. The Huskies went 10-for-19 from the free-throw line.

Shannon Combs, who was responsible for the blocked shot, was one of three Moorefield players to score nine points.

With the regular season now concluded, Northern will head into round one of the Maryland 1A West Region Tournament and play at Allegany on Friday.

In the boys' division, age 13-14, Daniel Pompa took first place, Nick Blasey was second, and Nelson Dibiase earned third place.

After Loss To Lions, Rams Best No. 1 Sentinels In Regular Season Finale

Following last Thursday's tough road loss, 66-60, to Tucker High (W.Va.), the Southern High School girls' varsity basketball team made a statement on Tuesday, besting the top-ranked Fort Hill Sentinels, 44-38, in Cumberland. The game, a make-up contest originally scheduled for Feb. 8, ended both teams' regular season schedules.

Southern will now enter the playoffs with a 15-7 overall record (13-3 AMAC) and has earned a first-round bye in the Maryland 1A West Region Tournament. The Rams will host the winner of the upcoming Hancock, Mountain Ridge matchup in the second round on Monday.

Against Tucker last week, the Rams allowed the Mountain Lions to take a 19-11 advantage by the end of the first quarter.

Southern then charged its way back into the game and managed to cut the lead to well within striking distance (28-27) at halftime.

The momentum again shifted in the third quarter of play, as Tucker extended its lead to 10 points before entering the final period of regulation. The Lions held off the tenacious Southern squad through the fourth, despite the Rams putting up 22 points.

Raeslee Weimer scored 17 points and Kambrie Bosley added 13 points to lead the Rams.

Amber Evans scored 24 points to lead Tucker County.

In Tuesday's game against the Sentinels, the Rams applied the pressure early.

"Southern did a great job on defense against us," said Amber Waltz, Fort Hill's head coach. "They played us tough all night, but really hurt us in the first quarter."

Southern had the Sentinels, down 14-5, scrambling to make adjustments after the first break.

The Rams held a 23-16 lead at halftime and were up 32-26 after three quarters.

Southern, which had its lead chipped away at after the half, reasserted itself in the final period, putting a stop to the Sentinels' hopes for a comeback.

Earning top-scorer honors against Fort Hill was Ram freshman Bosley, who tallied 10 points. Southern's Alli Shaffer, Raeslee Weimer and Lindsay Brady all finished with eight points.

Fort Hill was led by Sarah Lowery's 14 points. Alyssa Twigg had nine rebounds and five points.

Lakers To "Pink Out" For Cancer Research Funding

The Garrett College women's basketball team has scheduled a "pink out" game against Potomac State at home for Tuesday, Feb. 28, beginning at 5 p.m.

Aundrea McCormick, the team's head coach, has organizing this event to raise money for the Kay Yow Cancer Fund. She has stated that she hopes to get a lot of support not only from the folks on the college campus, but also from the Garret County community.

The Lakers are currently selling specially-designed T-shirts which feature the event's logo. The Garrett College Student Government Association is assisting in the effort by helping the team members sell pink ribbon cut-outs on which the purchaser can write his or her name. These will be displayed outside the gym on the day of the game. Anyone wearing pink will be admitted into the event for free.

"This is my fifth year putting on this event," said McCormick. "The last four have been very successful, so I'm looking forward to getting wide support for this one."

Anyone interested in further information on the event or to order a T-shirt may call Coach McCormick at 301-387-3148.

Northern Places Second In Unified Bocce Tourney

The second Bi-County Unified Bocce Tournament was held at Northern High School on Tuesday in the Igloo. The host team took second place, while top honors went to Allegany High School.

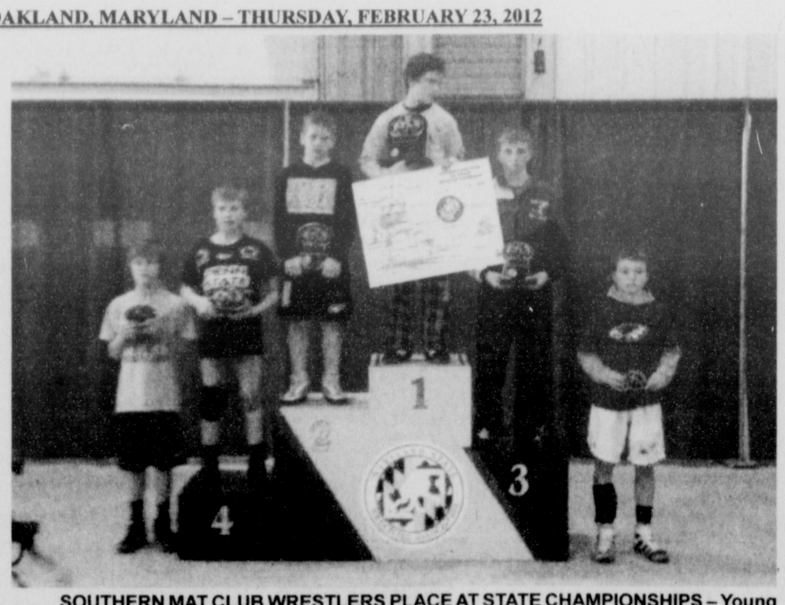
The Campers amassed a record of 5-1 with the only loss coming at the hands of Southern High School in a 16-0 blowout.

The Huskies earned second place after compiling a record of 4-2, including a last second 8-7 loss to Allegany.

Tied for third were the Rams with both the black and red teams from Mountain Ridge. Fort Hill came in fourth place with a 2-4 record. The gold team from Mountain Ridge finished in fifth place with a 1-5 record.

In the Southern/Northern matchup the host Huskies came out on top after grabbing three late points to seal a win. These two teams have typically played in see-saw battles decided by less than two points.

Both Southern and Northern next travel to Hagerstown on Friday, Feb. 24, for the Unified Bocce Maryland State Tournament.



SOUTHERN MAT CLUB WRESTLERS PLACE AT STATE CHAMPIONSHIPS – Young grapplers from the Southern Mat Club recently placed at the Maryland State Wrestling Association's state tournament, which was held at the Shipley Arena/Carroll County Agricultural Center in Westminster on Saturday, Feb. 18, and Sunday, Feb. 19. Taking third place in the 13/15, 85-pound division was Devan Hamrick, while Aiden Schwab took fourth place in the 7/8, 52-pound division and Joey McComas was sixth place in the 9/10, 60-pound division. Other participants representing Garrett County were Anthony Smith, Quentin VanGorder, Reid Schenk, Jake Sweitzer, Nathan Tasker, Jimmy Schwab, and Erik Fike. Over 600 wrestlers from all parts of Maryland competed over the two-day event before state champions in 48 age and weight brackets were announced. All competitors had to place in the top three at one of the five regional qualifiers in order to be eligible for the contest. Some clubs had 25 to 30 wrestlers enter the tourney, while some individuais came on their own. Southern Mat Club had the largest presence from either Garrett or Allegany County. The event is the highest level of competition in Maryland for youth wrestling. In the top left photo is Devan Hamrick, second from right, after placing third in his division. Pictured in the top right photo, second from left, is Aiden Schwab standing in the fourth place spot on the podium. In the pictured below, Joey McComas is pictured far left in sixth place.

Southern Girls Bowl Into Second Place

The Allegany County Inter-Scholastic Bowling League has the girls' and boys' team champions from the same school, as the Mountain Ridge teams have taken the boys' actual division with a record of 13-3 and the girls' actual division with a record of 14-2. The Miners won two close contests, however, as Mountain Ridge took first in both the boys' and girls' divisions by only one game. Fort Hill was the second boys' team with a record of 12-4, while the Southern High girls were second with a record of 13-3.

Keyser took the top spots of the adjusted boys' and girls' divisions, rolling to victory in their last matches of the season, with the boys' record at 11-5 and the girls' at 11.5-4.5.

Going into Keyser's match with Mountain Ridge, both teams were tied for first place, and the boys were in second place for the adjusted. The girls scored 34-2 to take first place, while the boys rolled a 22-14 to take first place by a half game over Allegany for first.

Dylan Bean (Fort Hill) maintained a 206 average to take the top spot for the boys' high average. Freshman Brianne Morris (Fort Hill) and Kristie Swearengen (Southern) rolled to tie for high average of 150 for the girls. Rounding out the top five girls were Bre Grove and Mariah Snyder from Mountain Ridge, and Brooke Spiker from Southern. All had averages of 147.

Randy Cubbage (Allegany) at 196, Dylan Pepper (Hampshire) at 193, Danny Walch (Mountain Ridge) at 191, and Adam Brant (Fort Hill) at 190 were the top five in the boys' division.

Against Southern, Frankfort's Ryan Mackey rolled the third 300 game of the league's history.

He had a 665 set with games of 187, 300, and 178. The next highest games rolled during the season were by Dylan Bean (Fort Hill) and Zach Folmer (Frankfort). Both scored 278. Hampshire's Dylan Pepper had a 267 game and Southern's Zack Riggleman a 266 game.

High sets rolled were by Meghan Sulsby's 563 (Fort Hill) and Kristie Swearengen's 547 (Southern). The boys were led by Hampshire's Dylan Pepper at 726 and Fort Hill's Dylan Bean at 724.

The results for the boys' actual division are Fort Hill at 12-4, Hampshire at 11.5-4.5, Southern at 10-6, Frankfort at 9.5-6.5, Allegany at 9-7, Bishop Walsh at 3-13, Keyser at 4-12, and Calvary Christian at 0-16.

Following Mountain Ridge and the Southern girls at 13-3 were Hampshire at 11-5, Fort Hill at 9.5-6.5, Keyser at 8-8, Frankfort at 7.5-8.5, Calvary Christian at 7-9, Bishop Walsh at 2-14, and Allegany at 0-16.

The adjusted girls' division teams in order after Keyser are: Mountain Ridge (10.5-5.5), Hampshire (10-6), Calvary Christian (8.5-7.5), Southern and Fort Hill (7.5-8.5), Bishop Walsh (6-10), Frankfort (5.5-10.5), and Allegany (4-12). The boys' adjusted teams in order following Keyser are: Allegany and Southern tied (10.5-5.5), Calvary Christian (8-8), Mountain Ridge (7.5-8.5), Frankfort and Fort Hill tied (7-9), Bishop Walsh (5.5-10.5), and Hampshire (5-11).

The Josh Aman Memorial Sportsmanship Award was awarded to the Mountain Ridge girls at the Showcase Tournament.

Town Hall

ACCIDENT

The February town meeting was held immediately following the annual town convention on Feb. 7 at the town hall. Council members Brenda Shields and Robert Hook were nominated to be placed on the ballot for the March 6 town election. The polls will be open from 4 to 8 p.m. at the town hall on the day of the election.

The next town meeting will be held on Thursday, March 1, at 7 p.m. at the town hall.

OAKLAND

The town municipal election will be held on Monday, March 12, with the polls open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the town hall.

Terms expire for mayor Margaret "Peggy" Jamison, and council persons Elmer "Butch" Redinger, John "Jack" Rickman, and Sherwin Teagarden. Others now serving are Harvey "Jay" Moyer, Jack Riley, and Ryan Wolf. The last day to file for office is Monday, Feb. 27, at 4 p.m.

Any resident of Oakland age 18 or older may register to vote at Oakland City Hall during regular office hours until 4:30 p.m. on Friday, March 2. The town of Oakland maintains a separate register of voters; however, those who registered at the Board of Elections after Jan. 1, 1990, and are residents of Oakland are automatically qualified to vote in the municipal election. Applications for absentee ballots can be obtained at Oakland City Hall.

Ask The Everyday Scientist

SPACE JUNK
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I hear that many satellites in space leave trash around, like spare metal parts, which orbits the Earth. Won't it accumulate and become a problem?

A. Just this week we're celebrating the 50th anniversary of astronaut John Glenn's flight on Freedom 7 – the first time an American went into Earth orbit. On TV recently, Glenn reminisced about seeing debris flying away from his spacecraft as it re-entered the Earth's atmosphere.

In 50 years, we have put a lot of satellites into orbit, usually in "low Earth orbit" (LEO), meaning about 100 miles up, high enough to stay in orbit without serious friction from the few air molecules nearby. Insertion into LEO requires less booster power. There are a few objects way out there about 22,000 miles away, in "geosynchronous" orbit, but the great majority of orbits are low. The Hubble Space Telescope was deliberately put slightly higher to get it farther above the atmosphere.

Just about everything in low Earth orbit is moving at roughly the same speed, about 17,500 miles/hour relative to the Earth below. If something moved faster, it would fly outward a little to a slightly greater radius (a higher orbit), and if it slowed down a little it would go inward to a lesser radius. When that inward motion continues for a time, the satellite feels some air friction, slows down even more, drops to a still lower orbit, and eventually plunges into the atmosphere and burns up. Most debris lands in the ocean, which covers 71% of the Earth's surface, but sometimes pieces hit land.

Orbiting objects moving at the same speed are not moving at all relative to each other, and so they won't bump into one another. NASA tracks about 500,000 objects in space, including booster-rocket parts and satellites that no longer function, just dead objects floating along. Much of that is termed "space junk." Little pieces might drift away now and then, as when an astronaut on a space walk once dropped a wrench.

Such fragments are themselves tiny satellites. Sooner or later just by chance alone, it's inevitable that a valuable satellite will run into some long-forgotten object. In 1996 a French satellite was damaged that way, and in 2009 a dead Russian satellite clobbered and destroyed a valuable American communications satellite.

Sometimes some real space-slobs do something incredibly stupid. China deliberately blew up a satellite as part of a missile test, scattering about 150,000 pieces of debris around. Consequently, one zone of orbits has been essentially "toxic"" and "off limits" since 2007.

Other times nations have bad luck. Just last November a Russian satellite bound for a Martian moon got stuck in Earth orbit, and couldn't be revived. When that very heavy object spiraled into Earth's atmosphere, it was $170 million down the drain. At least it's not still up there in the way.

We'd like to put up a huge "vacuum cleaner" that would capture a whole lot of debris, but at present there is no technology to do that, no way to sweep stuff in. Any clean-up process will be pretty slow. In the meantime, everyone who puts up a satellite worries about it getting hit by somebody else's junk. To the question "Who ya gonna sue?" there is seldom a way to identify the originator of the junk. Nobody is motivated very much to clean up after themselves.

Recently the Swiss have come up with a new idea for a "janitor satellite" that would fly around in orbit, looking for space junk and then firing small ancillary rockets to make an excursion to collect a piece of debris. The device is named Clean Space One. The first thing it will do is collect two dead Swiss satellites. That's a fine example of neatness that other countries should follow.

However, any such janitor satellite must have three capabilities: First, its trajectory must be controlled with great accuracy in order to intersect with the position of the object it's trying to retrieve. Second, recall the high speeds involved: If the target satellite is moving at 17,600 mph and this janitor satellite comes in at a very slight angle traveling 17,700 mph, that's still a collision speed of 100 mph. How do you grab hold and capture something at that closing speed? You dare not have it just bounce away after the collision, and you certainly don't want to break the object (say by knocking off some antenna or appendage), which would put even more debris into orbit. Third, the janitor satellite holding its collected garbage has to "de-orbit" – descend lower into the atmosphere, burning up both the collected junk and itself.

Achieving all three of these objectives won't be cheap. The first prototype costs about $11 million, not counting the launch cost.

St. Mark's To Host Lenten Meals, Services

St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Oakland will continue its annual, traditional soup suppers and midweek Lenten worship services this season, with meals and services on Wednesday evenings.

Soups, salads, rolls, and desserts will be served each Wednesday during Lent, beginning at 5:45 p.m. in the church fellowship hall. A service of vespers (evening prayer) will follow the meal at 7 p.m.

These services will include song, prayers, and scripture readings, as well as short presentations on "faith in daily living" by members and guests of the congregation.

Special music and congregational singing will be led by St. Mark's choir.

"Our Lenten services are ecumenical in nature," said Pastor C. Scott Robinson. "Non-Christians and Christians of all denominations are invited to join us for food, fellowship, and a contemplative service of worship."

St. Mark's is located at the corner of Second and South Center streets, across from the Ruth Enlow Library. Interested persons may call the church office for more information at 301-334-2668.

Basic Computer Skills Class Slated

A class in basic computer skills for older adults is scheduled at Garrett College Southern Outreach Center in Oakland. Class sessions will be held on two Fridays, March 16 and 23, 9 a.m.–noon.

Instructor Wilma Shirko will present information on basic computer operations, use of computer files and folders, and help the participants feel more at ease with computers.

For more information or to register for this class, persons may call 301-334-8304 or 301-387-3781.

4-H Club News

NORTH STAR
by Salina Sines, reporter

The North Star 4-H Club held its monthly business meeting at the Accident fire hall on Jan. 10. The group discussed going to the movies to watch Big Miracle. The project for the evening was making Valentine boxes to hand out at the Goodwill Nursing Home during a program.

Members Kathryn Kitzmiller, Dalton Kitzmiller, and Isaac Brenneman demonstrated what they learned at the robotics workshop. Salina Sines gave a demonstration on the parts of an egg, and Isaac Brenneman gave a cooking demonstration. He made a quick coffee cake that he shared with the group.

The next meeting was also planned, and will include visiting a beef farm and learning more about breeding and showing.

National Children's Dental Health Month

Baby and Small Children's Dental Care Habits

Most new parents are overwhelmed with all the information about how to care for their new baby. They are told how to dress and bathe the child, and may be instructed on the importance of breast-feeding for their baby's health that may improve immunity or decrease the risk of ear infections. However, most new mothers are probably not told that breast-feeding will also help improve their child's oral health.

One of the most devastating oral health problems faced by small children is baby bottle tooth decay, also called early childhood "caries." This nature of tooth decay is caused when a child is put to bed with a bottle containing sugars or other liquids besides water. When a child is put down for the night with a bottle, the sugary liquids lie in their mouths while they sleep. This feeds bacteria that are present in the mouth, which causes an environment to promote tooth decay. The decaying process may start first on the front teeth that can be seen easily, while the teeth in back of the mouth may be decaying at the same time. Tooth decay can lead to intense pain and emotional distress to the child. Breast-feeding for at least the first four months can decrease the risks of tooth decay since breast milk is much less likely to cause tooth decay.

To prevent tooth decay,you can wipe the baby's gums after he/she nurses or has a bottle. A soft cloth can be used. Once teeth start to appear, talk to your pediatrician or dentist about when to take your child to the dentist. Be sure to use a toothbrush and toothpaste that is approved by your pediatrician, pharmacist, or dentist.

Remember: By never putting your child to bed with a bottle and by wiping his/her gums, you are helping your child to develop a healthy smile for a lifetime.

For more information on when to take your child to his/her first dental visit, persons may call Garrett County Health Department's Dental Care Center at 301-334-7660 or 301-895-3111.

Achieves Master Status From Ford

Jason Fazenbaker recently achieved master status from Ford Motor Company in the areas of chassis and engine.

"As vehicle technology progresses, it requires increased levels of knowledge and skill for technicians to effectively complete advance diagnostic and repair options," a spokesperson said. "Jason's accomplishment supports Ford's level of commitment to highly trained personnel. Most importantly, this commitment fulfills customer expectations that their vehicles are repaired by highly skilled, factory-trained technicians."

Fazenbaker has been employed at Diehl's Ford Sales as shop foreman since 2003. He resides in Westernport with his wife Kerry and his sons Nathan and Jacob.

Healthy Cooking Class Slated By GC At Southern High

Spring into Healthy Menus, a one-session cooking class, will be offered by Garrett College Continuing Education and Workforce Development (CEWD) Division at Southern High School on Friday, March 16, 5:30-8:30 p.m.

This class will focus on preparing dishes using gluten-free and dairy-free ingredients, as well as alternative sweeteners.

There will be discussion of several dietary health issues, including the seven principles of an optimal health diet and a pantry list of healthy cooking ingredients.

The course will include a cooking demonstration of a meal with health-promoting foods that are free of the top eight allergens (wheat, dairy, egg, soy, tree nuts, peanuts, fish, and shellfish), as well as low glycemic, low carb, and low fat.

The instructor for the class will be Beverly Sincell, who has done extensive research on these topics and has taken professional cooking courses featuring these principles.

Anyone interested in registering for this session may contact the college at 301-387-3069.

Lick, Greenville, Larimer, Milford, Southampton, and Summit have thus far shown a committed interest in leasing over 15,000 acres of land for drilling purposes, according to Jack Polochak, an attorney representing the Casselman group.

The group has been organized by Shale Marketers, a marketing group representing clients who are interested in leasing their gas and oil rights to energy companies.

Richard Vickroy, the land group manager for Shale Marketers, noted that the more property owners combine efforts and acreage, the easier it is to negotiate an agreement with a prospective company.

"The group is free to join and doesn't lock members into leasing their property," Polochak said. "Some of the benefits include help with legal issues, such as review of their leases and assistance with title problems. Members also receive group discounts for residential water testing."

In exchange, the attorneys and Shale Marketers receive a percentage of the upfront fee agreed to by the CVLG. However, they will not receive any royalty fees that landowners may receive.

NOTES FROM BITTINGER

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I am totally weary of the coverage of Whitney Houston's death. It is like the coverage of Michael Jackson's death, and it is not a true national tragedy. Picking on every detail of someone who died is simply morbid and indecent.

But I remember I was stunned when I saw a photograph of Whitney when she arrived at the Emmy Awards a few years ago with her face bruised – probably a result of spouse abuse. Why did that not cause an intervention? It was probably the root of her substance abuse problem. But it seemed almost acceptable to many people because it was just an exercise in complete dominance of a husband over his wife. I guess it is maybe a warped version of "spare the rod, spoil the child."

It is quite rare that any corporation executives ever take any constructive position. One quite successful corporation is Ben and Jerry's Ice Cream. And Ben and Jerry are actually people. From day one, they have promoted a better America for all Americans. And they have enough guts to speak out positively about the Occupancy movement. They rejected their former Ben and Jerry Ice Cream Inc., and did not seek higher profit. And the goodwill from their decent business policies only makes Ben and Jerry's Ice Cream a highly sought product. How rare in America today.

I can't see that a majority of Americans want a severely conservative president. At least not if it means going back in time so birth control is not fully available. Even most Catholics approve and use birth control. The relentless effort by conservatives to seek out and decry all kinds of behaviors that they view as sinful is an assault on American liberty. More than anything, it has caused the very well off to be able to use their money any way they choose and allow the helpless among us to simply slip deeper and deeper into suffering. That strikes many Americans as an important a moral issue as any sexual activities. And it increasingly seems like an unwise use of our limited public funds to spend a huge portion to imprison non-violent offenders.

No doubt the election of 2008 was a bit embarrassing for the GOP, with a sheer laughing stock candidate for vice president. But does that mean that it's wise to drag a whole bunch of equally laughable people to the top of the ticket?

Let's face it. All this talk about the Keystone Oil Pipeline would ensure that American energy would emerge independent, but the big oil companies plan to export the refined oil to other countries. The same is planned for natural gas. Of course, big oil also made truly massive profits last year, and they did that by raising the gasoline prices in America.

All the remaining candidates for the Republican Party support personhood laws, meaning a law that states that a fertilized egg deserves to be viewed as a person, with the same rights as a fully developed embryo and one that is born living. Yet many things can prevent a fertilized egg from developing into a viable baby.

No one suggests that it would be right to kill a newborn at birth just because it was a result of rape. But it is possible to prevent a rape from resulting in a baby. A drug can prevent a fertilized egg from implanting on the uterine wall to prevent pregnancy.

To anyone with some common sense, that is vastly different than killing a living born infant. A newborn baby can feel pain. A few are even able to begin to form an emotional bond. At least my first baby was unusually well developed, and she could lift her head and make direct eye contact with me. I knew I was looking at a new person, and it was thrilling. And I would do anything to protect her if she was in danger.

But that is vastly different from what I felt right after the egg was fertilized within minutes of the sexual act that resulted in that fertilized egg. I did not even know or believe I was pregnant. I never felt that completely until the "quickening," when a mother can feel her embryo moving inside her. That is an amazing feeling. But it is not felt by many women when they have just a fertilized egg inside them. A large percentage of fertilized eggs get naturally expelled in the first three months of pregnancy, and they are often unnoticed.

There are any number of reasons for a fertilized egg to not implant. That is why many women are reluctant to announce that they are pregnant before the first three months after conception have passed. Too often, something goes wrong.

I don't know if it is possible to damage a fetus that early in its development by drinking an alcoholic drink, because it is not in contact with the uterus and its blood supply. If there were any alcohol in the mother's blood, there would be no way for it to reach the free-floating sphere, which is what a fertilized egg is. It will eventually go through development of the many systems of the human body, including central nervous, circulation, and limbs. These are not present in a free floating embryo. It is a potential person, but it is not a person yet. And it is only unusually religious zealots who believe that it has a soul. It is unclear when that happens. We do not know for sure when a soul departs a dead person. It is not settled knowledge exactly when death happens.

I have been with several loved ones as they were dying. And I could feel when they were gone. It had nothing to do with when their heart stopped beating or they stopped breathing. It was just a feeling that something was gone, and the loss of it was a heart-wrenching feeling. Surely, I would equally feel that right away when a new life was inside my body, like immediately after conception. But I never felt that until I felt the little being inside me move around.

It is a bit hard to believe that Bobby Kennedy has a grandson old enough to run for Congress. But his grandson Joe Kennedy III announced his candidacy for the spot vacated by the retirement of 70-year-old Barney Frank. But Joe is a graduate of Harvard Law School. And Bobby must have started his family at a young age, since he fathered 11 children with his wife Ethel.

Why is the stock market higher today than it was back before the financial meltdown in the fall of 2008? It is simply that the investors are seeing the many very positive indicators, like higher profits in many industries and a major surge in the manufacturing sector. There are many more jobs being created and fewer job losses. This is all in direct relation to President Obama's policies. That is exactly the opposite of what the GOP hoped for.

Here is an interesting statistic: the 10 most conservative states have 10 times more people who benefit from government support programs than most liberal states.

It is certainly good news that the Maryland House of Delegates passed an important basic civil rights law allowing same gender couples to be able to get married. That kind of lifelong commitment is an important thing for anyone. Unfortunately, my own did not work out as I had hoped and desired. You can take a horse to water, but you can't make it drink.

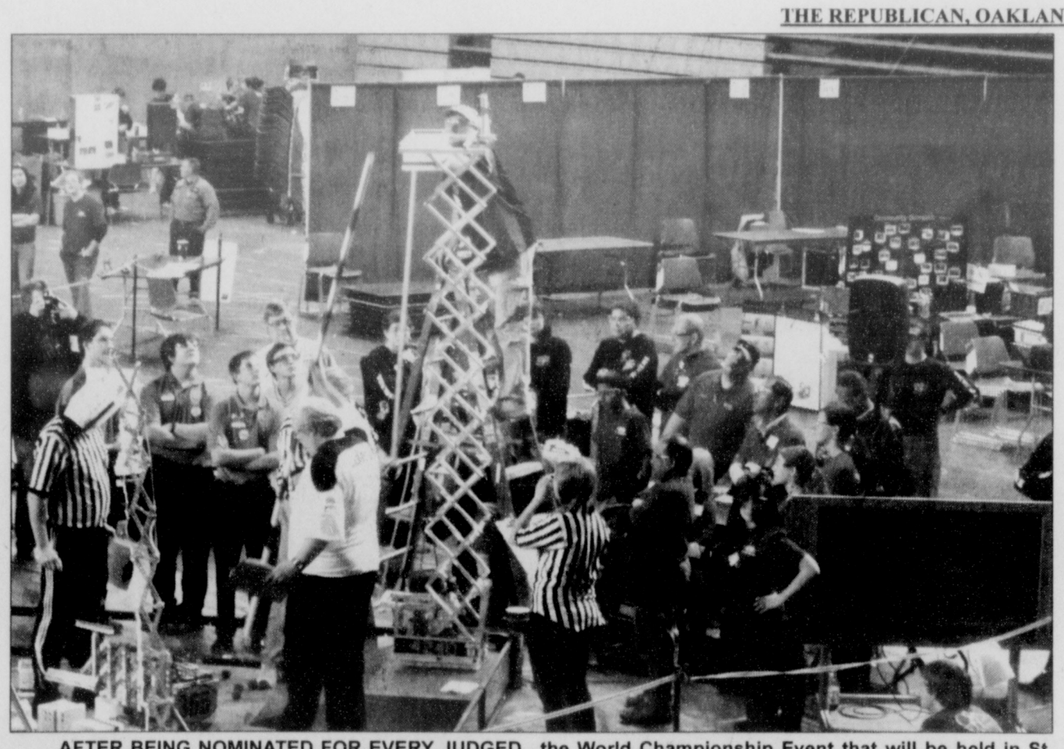
Rodney and Marci Glotfelty took advantage of the long weekend for Presidents' Day to go down to the Baltimore area to celebrate Rodney's 60th birthday with their kids. His birthday is not until Feb. 26, but it is close enough. My friend Carolyn DuBose reached that same milestone on Feb. 17.

Monday was the first anniversary of the first American orbiting the Earth. That, of course, was John Glenn. And it was an early morning launch, and we got up extra early before we went to school to see it. It was the dawn of a new era in American and world history. My double second cousin, John Buckel, was born late in 1961. And his parents, Ken and Harriet Buckel, named their new baby boy John Glen Buckel. Less than a decade later, Americans did step on the moon, as President John Kennedy promised. What a different national mood and atmosphere between then and now. Now so many Americans reject the ideas of hope and change and progress that the nation embraced during the New Frontier Era. Now they prefer to focus on all the things that divide our nation. It is a very disheartening thing to see. I can't accept this as my children's future.

I am nobody from a little community called Bittinger. But I have experienced lots and saw many things, and felt many feelings, and always try to make decent sense of all of it, and try my best to make my life have real meaning. And as much as possible, I tried to make other people's lives better when I came in contact with them. And if everyone just followed these simple guidelines, surely we can make a better world for all people.

Midweek Lenten services will continue next week with a Taize candlelight service at 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 29 at Emmanuel Lutheran Church. The service will be followed with a meal, and all are invited.

During the Lenten season, the youth Sunday school class at Emmanuel will be collecting money for God's Global Barnyard, a program for purchasing animals for families in need to combat world hunger.



AFTER BEING NOMINATED FOR EVERY JUDGED AWARD, the Techno Clovers were presented the most prestigious award, the Inspire Award. Other nominations included the PTC Design, Rockwell Collins Innovate, and Think, Connect, and Motivate awards. The Inspire Award is given to the team that embodies the challenge of the First Tech Challenge program. Judges use match performance, observations made during judged interviews and visits to the pit area, and the team's engineering notebook to determine the winner of this award. Inspire Award-winning teams receive an automatic invitation to participate at the World Championship Event that will be held in St. Louis, Mo., in April. The Techno Clovers also achieved a new national high score of 444 points in a match. Shown above is a referee using a tape measure because the "big stick" wasn't big enough. Baylor Admitted To Maryland Bar

Justin M. Baylor, Hagerstown, formerly of Oakland, was recently sworn in and admitted to the Maryland State Bar Association before the Court of Appeals of Maryland in Annapolis.

Baylor graduated from West Virginia University College of Law, Morgantown, W.Va., on May 14, 2011, where he received his doctor of jurisprudence. While in law school he earned a position on the College of Law's National Moot Court Team, which recognizes those students who excel in brief writing and oral advocacy. Baylor represented the College of Law during appellate advocacy competitions against other law schools throughout the country.

Baylor is a member of the Maryland Association for Justice and is currently practicing law in Hagerstown, concentrating on personal injury and criminal defense.

He is the son of Michael and Susan Baylor, Hagerstown, and the grandson of Leroy and Patricia Bernard, Oakland.

Accident Post Notes Success In Yearly Events

Accident American Legion Post 208 recently reported on a successful year. The group continued its financial support to the usual charities and disabled veterans.

At the Veterans Day Dinner in November, certificates of commendations were presented by Aaron Miller, commander, and Allen Fratz, membership chairman. Certificates were given to World War II veterans Carl Haenftling and Cecil Edwards; Korean veterans Karl Kahl and Dale Rodeheaver, post executive chairman; and Vietnam veteran Edward Margraff.

Honorable mention was also noted for Hobert Bowser, sgt. at arms, Edward Deal, past commander, and James Fratz for their continued service to the post.

Sgt. Major Melvin Hoffman, retired Marine, was the guest speaker.

Accident Volunteer Fire Department named Post 208 color guard the most patriotic group in the 4th of July firemen's parade. The flag-raising ceremony was held at the Accident Veterans Park, and all veterans past and present were honored for their service to God and country. The Accident Concert Band performed at the flag-raising ceremony.

The post held several funeral ceremonies during the past year.

Fundraisers are planned for the coming year in an effort to continue services as in the past.

Post Adjutant Harry Miller praised the post for its increased membership and meeting its yearly goals.

Flags will again be placed on the Accident veterans' graves through Memorial Day. Memorial Day ceremonies will be held again at the Accident Veterans Park.

The 4th of July flag raising at the Accident Veterans Park will be held prior to the Fireman's Parade. The Post 208 color guard will participate.

Garrett County Natives See "Fruits Of Their Labor" In Honduran Travels

by Elliot Glotfelty

After an early 3:30 a.m. flight, my twin brother Darryl and I – along with 51 other volunteers – get off the plane for what will be our third visit to Honduras in the past year.

The sun is hot, reaching up to 90 degrees in midday, a stark contrast from the cool Maryland air we Garrett County natives have grown so used to in the early months of the year.

This trip would be, perhaps, not as eye opening as our prior two visits, but definitely something more rewarding than before.

After starting construction on a children's home in January 2011 and fundraising more than $42,000 to support the rest of the project, Darryl and I, along with many other Towson undergraduates, would be able to see the fruits of all our past year's labor: a loving home, providing 12 abandoned and orphaned boys ages 6-14 an opportunity to get out of the deplorable conditions of state-run orphanages and homes.

Witnessing an orphanage in Honduras was one of the most heartbreaking experiences of our lives. Nearly 200 children were left in the care of four adults. When we arrived there, the kids immediately ran up to us hugging our legs, desperate for human contact. To be held brought so much joy to these kids.

In the baby room, 30 babies were in the care of one adult, with two to three babies in each crib. The crying only stopped when they were picked up by volunteers in our group.

The 12 boys now living in the children's home built and funded by students of Towson University came from this orphanage the group visited in January 2011.

After hearing about several Towson students' work in the organization Students Helping Honduras (SHH), an international nonprofit started in 2005 by college undergraduate Shin Fujiyama, Darryl and I wanted to get involved and attend the next trip.

TWINS HELP TWINS – Garrett County natives/twins Darryl (left) and Elliot Glotfelty (right) are pictured with Honduran twins German and Pedro, two of 12 boys currently living in a children's home built and funded by Towson University students in 2011. "The home gives these children access to education, extracurricular activities, a house mother, and a community that embraces them – a stark contrast from the overcrowded state-run orphanage where they previously lived," Elliot said. See story for details.

From our first trip, a passion for helping the people of Honduras was sparked. My brother and I helped to raise nearly $7,000 of the total $42,000 in 2011, including a benefit concert dubbed "honduROCK" that brought in nearly $5,500.

Our extensive networks at Towson definitely provided a lot of momentum for the concert which our band, The Lake Effect, will repeat with several other local acts in mid-April of this year.

"The support for SHH in the Towson community is overwhelming," Darryl said. "The opportunity to travel to a Third World country and see the benefits of your actions in real time is inspiring for not only the volunteers but for everyone who hears our stories. We know the names of the people benefitting from our work. We know the villages. We know the money isn't being wasted on frivolous overhead spending. It's a rare thing to be involved in a non-profit benefiting a Third World nation where you can physically see where your money is going and whom it directly benefits."

Fujiyama, the first "CNN Hero" under 25 years of age and founder of SHH and now the Central American Children's Institute (CeCI), moved to Honduras two years after visiting the country for the first time during his undergraduate career at University of Mary Washington, Fredericksburg, Va.

After raising nearly $300,000 in his first two years, this then young 23-year-old built a village, Villa Soleada (the Sunshine Village), consisting of 44 homes with access to clean water, sewage treatment, electricity, and an education center equipped with Internet and computers.

Fujiyama uses his organization to empower and employ many local Hondurans through the construction projects and other micro grants for business startups. In addition, much of the administrative work is done by locals, which saves money for the organization and provides great jobs.

All the families who live in Villa Soleada are required to provide a set number of hours per week of manual labor on SHH projects as part of a "buy in," which they all are more than willing to do.

Darryl and I had the opportunity to work alongside two local fathers, Pastor and René, on the construction of a wall that will be surrounding a bilingual school currently being constructed in Villa Soleada.

The fathers could not be more excited at the prospect of their combined eight children learning English and getting solid education. Knowing English in Honduras provides on average a 300 percent increase in potential income, something these families living in poverty see as an opportunity to break out of their current struggles.

Students Helping Honduras will be partnering with the well-established organization Bilingual Education for Central America, which will provide a curriculum and teachers for the school. The ultimate goal for SHH and CeCI is to build 1,000 schools across Honduras in the next 10 years. With nearly 12 built in this organization's infancy, there is still a lot of work ahead.

Darryl and I are May 2011 graduates of Towson University and are currently contractors at the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Chemical Defense. We will continue to work with students at the university with fundraising efforts and trip planning. The group will be working to raise $50,000 to finish the bilingual school this year.

My brother and I plan on returning to Honduras this year to continue to see the progress of the construction and visit our friends that call Villa Soleada home.

If you would like to make a contribution to the bilingual school project or would like more information on how you can help with the efforts in Honduras, feel free to contact either Darryl or me at dglotf1@gmail.com or ejglotfelty@gmail.com

Bloodmobile To Visit Grantsville

The American Red Cross bloodmobile will make its regularly scheduled visit to the Grantsville fire hall on Monday, Feb. 27, from noon to 5 p.m. The public is encouraged to attend.

Clogging Class Scheduled At Local School

The Still Kickin' Cloggers will start a new class for beginners on Thursday, March 1, 7:30 p.m., at Broad Ford Elementary School, Harvey Winters Road. The class will be taught by Judy Simpson, who has been leading the cloggers for several years.

The classes will be held weekly for about one-half hour at a cost of $2 per person, but the first class will be free.

"Come see if you might like to learn this unique form of dancing," said a spokesperson. "Its roots are Celtic, Appalachian, American Indian and more. It's fun and great exercise. Comfortable, flexible shoes like sneakers and loafers will be fine until you decide if you want to continue."

Those who would like more information may call Judy at 301-334-3853.

Keep on Praying

If goldfish pray, this is the time. If not, let's hope luck is in their fishbowl. It is said that we all live in a fishbowl. Access to personal information is as simple as pushing a button. We read of crime each day; it's not surprising that we feel vulnerable. Luck is seldom an effective deterrent. Are we helpless against evil that is lurking... waiting to pounce?

Help is only a prayer away. As you worship God at His House this week, ask Him to surround you with his mercy and strengthen you with His love. You need not be afraid. Trust God's will...and keep on praying.

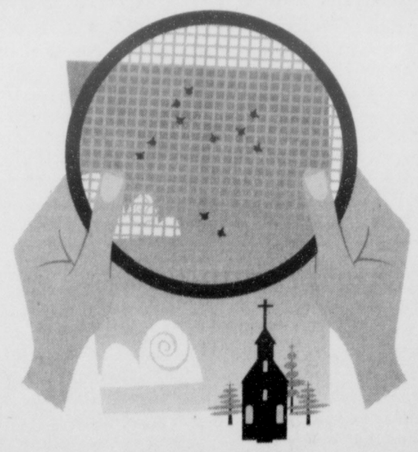
STRAINING AT GNATS



In Matthew's gospel Jesus harshly criticizes the scribes and Pharisees for straining out gnats (paying careful attention to the minutia of the law) while swallowing camels (ignoring more weighty matters such as justice, mercy and faithfulness). This straining at gnats is a type of hypocrisy which we are prone to see in others but fail to notice in ourselves. Consider some of the many ways in which we strain at gnats while swallowing the camel. Those who publicly berate others for lapses of etiquette seem to be missing the entire point of etiquette, which is to put others at ease in social situations. Those who hold others to the letter of the law often lose sight of the spirit of the law. Justice and mercy may require us to bend the law in some circumstances. People who faithfully tithe or otherwise give charitably may neglect to be appropriately charitable to their families, friends and neighbors. We should all be aware of how easy it is to see the gnat in your neighbor's eye and miss the log (or camel) in your own. We can all be hypocritical, and perhaps the best way to avoid swallowing a camel is to worry more about our own morals and less about the morality of others.

"You blind guides! You strain out a gnat but swallow a camel."

Matthew 23:24

Winter Visitors

Every winter, migrating chipping sparrows come to my little-bird feeding area and stay until May. Last year I hosted more than two dozen. This year I have seen only a few, but much to my surprise, American goldfinches are here. I love migration. You never know who will show up.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was noted American wit and columnist Franklin P. Adams who made the following sage observation: "Elections are won by men and women chiefly because most people vote against somebody rather than for somebody." It's certainly something to keep in mind during this strife-ridden election season.

• It was a German company, Interstuhl Manufactur, that made the world's most expensive office chair. With a price tag of $65,500, you shouldn't be surprised that the chair is plated in gold and comes with a matching ottoman.

• Have you ever wondered where we got the phrase "the dog days of summer"? According to tradition, the dog days start in July -- and not just because it's usually pretty hot then. At one time, that was when Sirius, also known as the dog star, rose at sunrise. The Romans associated Sirius (called the dog star because it is the brightest star in the constellation Canis Major, or "large dog") with hot weather, and at the beginning of the dog days they would sacrifice a dog in the hope of ameliorating the sultry weather. • If you were to take the entire world's water supply and compress it into one single gallon, freshwater would make up just 4 ounces, and freshwater that is easily accessible would be just two drops.

• Considering the fact that it's home to much of the American film industry, it's probably not surprising that the sprawling city of Los Angeles has the world's third-largest GMP, or gross metropolitan product.

• On Feb. 27, 1860, Abraham Lincoln poses for the first of several portraits by noted Civil War-era photographer Mathew Brady. A relatively new art form, the photograph (or daguerreotype) showed a beardless Lincoln just moments before the future president's historic speech at Cooper Union in New York City.

• On March 3, 1887, Anne Sullivan begins teaching 6-year-old Helen Keller, who lost her sight and hearing after a severe illness at age 19 months. Under Sullivan's tutelage, Keller flourished, eventually graduating from college and becoming an international lecturer and activist.

• On March 2, 1904, Theodor Geisel, better known as Dr. Seuss, the author and illustrator of children's books, is born in Springfield, Mass. Geisel's first book, "And to Think That I Saw It On Mulberry Street" (1937), was rejected by dozens of publishers.

• On March 1, 1932, Charles Lindbergh III, the 20-month-old son of aviation hero Charles Lindbergh, is kidnapped from the family's new mansion in Hopewell, N.J. Days later, the baby's body was discovered near the Lindbergh home.

• On Feb. 28, 1940, Mario Andretti, whose name will become synonymous with American auto racing, is born in Montona, Italy. He officially retired from racing in 1994 as the only driver to ever win the Indianapolis 500, Daytona 500 and a Formula One championship.

• On March 4, 1966, a John Lennon quotation that was ignored in England set off a media frenzy in America: "We're more popular than Jesus now." Bible Belt disc jockeys declared Lennon's remarks blasphemous and vowed an eternal ban on all Beatles music. • On Feb. 29, 1980, the iconic glasses worn by rock 'n' roll pioneer Buddy Holly, lost since his death in a plane crash in 1959, are found in Mason City, Iowa. The plane wreckage was strewn across snow-covered cornfields, and the glasses weren't found until the snow melted in the spring. They were given to the Cerro Gordo County Sheriff's office, where they sat filed away for the next 21 years in a sealed envelope.

Q: We have an 1880 game table that has been restored by a professional restorer from the Smithsonian Institution. It is pure walnut and has its original casters and hinges. I was told that walnut items are not selling well in my region but do not believe this is true. A table like mine recently sold in Vermont for $3,500, and our Smithsonian friend says ours is in much better shape. -- Barb, Albuquerque, N.M.

A: I am curious why you didn't ask the restorer at the Smithsonian for his or her opinion about the value of your table. As for walnut items not selling in your region, the lust for antique furniture often goes in cycles. Several decades ago, the rage was tiger oak, then mahogany, and more recently mid-century modern. Mexican primitives and art deco pieces still are extremely popular. This doesn't mean that walnut pieces are not desirable or important, but just a reflection of current conditions in the marketplace. There are at least two appraisers your area who I think can help you: Suzanne Staley, www.suzannestaley.com, 888-758-1118; and Judy Settle, www.landmark-estates.com, 505-459-4900. Both are certified appraisers. You should, of course, expect to pay for their expertise and advice.

Q: I have two calendars from 1936 and 1937 featuring the Dionne Quintuplets, given out at the time by Curran and Joyce Company in Lawrence, Mass. I am curious about how much they are worth. -- Sandra, Pelham, N.H.

A: With fertility drugs fairly common, it's not unusual for a woman to give birth to a litter. Think Octomom. But while multiple births have become fairly routine today, that wasn't the case in 1934 when the Dionne Quintuplets --- Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie --- were born in Canada.

The publicity surrounding their birth and their special status as wards of the Canadian government made them international celebrities. They quickly became a major tourist attraction in Ontario. Needless to say, dozens of products flooded the marketplace including dolls, spoon sets, mugs and calendars. Your calendars are each worth in the $45 to $75 range, if complete and in good condition. The two surviving sisters of the Dionne Quintuplets are Annette and Cecile.

AN INTEREST IN HOME HORTICULTURE is all that is needed to begin training through the Master Gardener program at the Garrett County Extension Office. A new session is set to begin next Thursday, March 1. One of the local activities that master gardeners are involved with is the Garrett County Agriculture Fair, where they help to organize the displays (above). See story for details.

Master Gardener Training Slated At Md. Extension

Persons interested in serving their community and learning more about home horticulture are invited to complete the next Master Gardener program.

According to a spokesperson, a master gardener is someone who is eager to learn, and is active, outgoing, and ready to better the community through volunteering.

The Maryland Cooperative Extension began the Master Gardener program in 1978 as a way of extending horticulture and pest management services to the general public.

The Master Gardener mission is to educate Maryland residents about safe, effective, and sustainable horticultural practices that build healthy gardens, landscapes, and communities. Eighteen counties, Baltimore City, and two correctional institutions sponsor Master Gardener programs in Maryland, as well as every state in the United States and even other countries.

An interest in home horticulture is all that is needed.No previous technical training is required because the University of Maryland Extension provides basic training and educational opportunities.

Topics covered during training include entomology, soil science, botany, plant pathology, ecology, and vegetable gardening.

Attending 40 hours of basic training education is required, as well as passing the required exam. After completing 40 hours of community service, interns earn the title of an active master gardener.

Each year following the basic training, individual master gardeners are required to complete 10 hours of continuing education and 20 hours of community service through approved activities.

In Garrett County, Master Gardeners sponsor the Healing Garden, a chestnut tree restoration planting, a booth at the Garrett County Agriculture Fair, educational displays and plant clinics, and several other projects.

The 2012 Community Service projects are being organized, and the Extension is looking for people who are interested in this program.

The 13 basic training courses will be held at the Garrett County Extension Office in Mtn. Lake Park, and will begin on Thursday, March 1, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Basic training classes will be held every Thursday evening through May 31.

For more information, persons may call Ashley at the University of Maryland Extension Office in Garrett County at 301-334-6960 or e-mail abachtel@umd.edu.

A training fee of $99 includes the purchase of the University of Maryland Master Gardener Handbook. Additional opportunities include advanced training and travel to the International conference, which will be held in Alaska in 2013.

The Maryland Master Gardener vision is a healthier world through environmental stewardship.

Farming On The Mountaintop

New Record Set For Cover Crop Acreage In Md.

Governor Martin O'Malley recently announced that Maryland farmers participating in the Maryland Department of Agriculture's (MDA) Cover Crop Program planted a record of 429,818 acres of cover crops on their farms this past fall to control soil erosion, reduce nutrient runoff and protect water quality in streams, rivers, and the Chesapeake Bay.

The 2011 cover crop planting is the largest in Maryland history and exceeds Maryland's 2013 Chesapeake Bay milestone goal by 21 percent.

Our farmers continue to show their leadership in the Chesapeake Bay restoration efforts by planting a record number of acres of cover crops, exceeding their two-year goal by 21 percent," O'Malley said. "Cover crops are the workhorse of our bay restoration efforts. I thank all farmers who planted cover crops, and especially encourage those who did not participate to enroll in the program this summer."

Cover crops are widely considered to be one of the most cost-effective and environmentally sustainable ways to control soil erosion and reduce nutrient runoff in the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries during the winter.

Collectively, the 429,818 acres of cover crops planted will prevent an estimated 2.58 million pounds of nitrogen, which is 60 percent of the overall two-year milestone goal, and 86,000 pounds of phosphorus from potentially impacting the Bby and its tributaries.

"Thanks to Governor O'Malley's commitment to the cover crop program, farmers can count on a strong program with consistent funding from year to year, making it possible for them to plan ahead and include cover crops as a part of their normal cropping system, said Buddy Hance, agriculture secretary.

Farmers plant cover crops in the fall, following the harvest of summer crops such as corn, soybeans and vegetables. Rye, wheat, barley, and other "cereal grains" are planted as cover crops because they continue to grow in cool weather, eventually becoming the lush green fields that checker an otherwise barren rural winter landscape.

As they grow, cover crops recycle unused plant nutrients remaining in the soil from the previous summer crop, protect fields against wind and water erosion, and help improve the soil for the next year's crop.

The use of manure and fertilizer is restricted on acres enrolled in Maryland's cover crop program.

Maryland's Cover Crop Program is administered by MDA and the state's 24 soil conservation districts through the Maryland Agricultural Water Quality Cost-Share (MACS) Program.

It is funded by the 2010 Chesapeake Bay Trust Fund and the Chesapeake Bay Restoration Fund. Applicants must be in good standing with MACS to participate and must be in compliance with the Nutrient Management Program.

The sign up period for the 2012-2013 MACS Cover Crop Program will take place early this summer.

STATE OF MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT
WATER MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION

NOTICE OF FINAL DETERMINATION TO ISSUE

GENERAL PERMIT FOR DISCHARGES FROM TANKS, PIPES and OTHER LIQUID CONTAINMENT STRUCTURES at FACILITIES OTHER THAN OIL TERMINALS

The Maryland Department of the Environment (Department) proposed to reissue State/National Pollution Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) General Permit for Discharges from Tanks, Pipes and Other Liquid Containment Structures at Facilities other than Oil Terminals, Permit No. 11HT (NPDES No. MDG67) to meet federal requirements and to protect water quality. This permit replaces one issued in February 2006.

A public notice on the tentative determination to reissue the discharge permit was published on July 29, 2011, in the Maryland Register and in twenty-three newspapers throughout Maryland during the weeks of August 1 and 8, 2011. The Department held a public hearing concerning the tentative determination on Wednesday, August 31, 2011, at 10 a.m. in the Aqua Conference Room at the Department, 1800 Washington Blvd., Baltimore, MD 21230, and received comments through October 6, 2011.

The Department has made a final determination to reissue this permit. While no significant changes to the tentative determination have been made regarding the purpose and content, the final disharge permit reflects minor revisions of grammar and organization to provide clarifications based on comments received during the public comment period. Listed below are revisions included in the Department's final determination:

- Part II.LL has been corrected to replicate the definition of water per COMAR 26.08.01.01.
- Part V.F identifies the portions of the permit where monitoring is not required to be submitted to the Department on a discharge monitoring report (DMR) form.
- Part V.F clarifies that a DMR form shall be submitted for each outfall.
- Part VI.D includes a statement to address the Civil Monetary Penalty Inflation Adjustment Rule for all monetary penalties identified in the permit.

Any person adversely affected by this final determination may file a petition for judicial review. Petitions for judicial review of a final determination or permit decision subject to judicial review must be filed in accordance with §1-605 of the Environment Article no later than March 10, 2012 (30 days following publication by the Department of this notice of final determination in the Maryland Register), and must be filed in a circuit court in Maryland. Petitions for judicial review must conform to the applicable Maryland Rules of Civil Procedure. Failure to file a petition for judicial review by March 10, 2012, will constitute a waiver of any right to a judicial review of this final determination.

To view and print the final permit, go to the Department's website www.mde.state.md.us and use the search engine keyword "tanks.aspx".

Any questions regarding this final determination, and permit, should be directed to Shannon McDonald or Edward Gertler at the Maryland Department of the Environment, Water Management Administration, at smcdonald@mde.state.md.us or egertler@mde.state.md.us, by telephone at 410-537-3323 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Persons seeking to review the final permit and associated file may do so by contacting Ms. McDonald to make an appointment. Copies of documents may be obtained at a cost of $0.36 per page. 2/16-23(2)

Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated June 29, 2007, and recorded in Liber No. 1317, folio 658, among said Land Records.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of SEVENTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS ($17,000.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements, if any. The Property will be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, and any other payable public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND
Case No. 11-C-12-012413

In the matter of the surface tract of 54 acres, located on the Easterly side of Jennings Road, Election District 3, Garrett County, Maryland
Designated Tax Acct. #03-008851
Gregory E. Lawson
Roger C. Resh
vs.
Unknown Heirs of Lawrence C. Custer, deceased, et al.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on January 24, 2012, a Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County by Gregory E. Lawson and Roger C. Resh, Petitioners, as the owners of the surface of the above tract against numerous present holders of the severed mineral interests under the 54-acre tract described above. The Petition alleges in substance that the mineral interests under the tract were originally severed and reserved by Michael Custer in his Will recorded in Wills Liber B, folio 41, in which he devised his farm property, near jennings, but reserved all coal and other mineral lying below the small or surface seams upon the tract. The Petition further alleges that the severed mineral interests have since descended among numerous heirs and descendants of seven of the children of Michael Custer. The Petition also alleges that the severed mineral interests have become Dormant as defined in Sectin 15-1203(a)(2) of the Environmental Article, Annotated Code of Maryland, and that the Petitioners, as surface owners, are entitled to a Court Order that terminates the Dormant Mineral Interests and merges the terminated mineral interests with the surface estate.

The relief prayed in the Petition is that the Dormant Mineral Interests held by all of the numerous heirs who are the descendants of the children of Michael Custer be terminated, and that all of the said mineral interests be merged with the Surface Estate.

Upon Motion of the Petitioners, Notice by Publication is hereby given to the following heirs and descendants who are believed to hold fractional interests in the Dormant Mineral Interests and whose identities and addresses are unknown and being all of the heirs of each of the following persons: Lawrence Custer, Lee E. Custer, Leonard Custer, Mern S. Custer, Myra "Billie" Custer Taylor, Wilbur G. Custer, Donald Wengerd, John M. Custer, Lena (Custer) Kellam, Nathan Custer, Hazel (Custer) Wilburn, Daisy (Custer) Alden, Glenn E. Custer, Charles C. Custer, Ray M. Lohr, Marshall E. Lohr, Harry W. Lohr, and Edna Myrtle Lohr, all other heirs of the devisees of Michael Custer, and all other persons with an interest in the minerals on and under the 54-acre tract described above.

WHEREUPON, it is ORDERED by the Circuit Court fo Garrett County, this 31st Day of January 2012, that the Petitioners cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper of general publication, published in Garrett County, once a week in each of three successive weeks before the 24th day of February 2012, giving notice to the said unknown heirs who are holders of fractional interests in the Dormant Mineral Interests, of the object and substance of the Complaint and warning each of them that a response must be filed no later than April 2, 2012, and that if any should fail to file a timely response, judgment by default may be entered against them, and the relief sought may be granted.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AND ANY IMPROVEMENTS THEREON
134 KNOLL CREST HEIGHTS DR. OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Leslie A. Bittinger and Salena D. Bittinger dated February 28, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1291, Folio 524 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $232,000.00 and an original interest rate of 6.625% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on MARCH 14, 2012, AT 1:30 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with any buildings or improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, and any improvements thereon, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $23,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Sub. Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If purchaser fails to settle within 10 days of ratification, the Sub. Trustees may file a motion to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Sub. Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Sub. Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if ratification of the sale is denied by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust from Bonnie Rae Artice and Toney M. Artice recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1305, folio 609, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, and Erin Gloth as Substituted Trustees, the Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, in Liber 1305, folio 609, also being further described in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1300, folio 632 and in a Deed recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber 1305, folio 605. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $50,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 8.75000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason , there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages.

In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser`s sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser`s sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

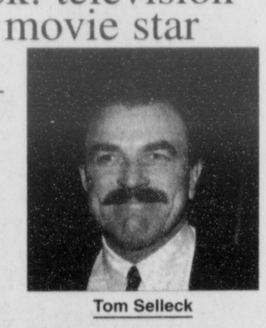
Tom Selleck: television icon and movie star

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it



Tom Selleck

Q: Some years ago, Tom Selleck made several movies – including "High Road to China," "Lassiter" and several others – while he was making "Magnum, P.I." Can you tell me the names of the others and whether they are available on DVD? – C. Wayne Troutt, Pueblo West, Colo.

A: You named two of the four. Another was "Runaway," a then-futuristic 1984 thriller in which cop Selleck chased villain Gene Simmons (yes, he of KISS and reality show fame), who had developed an early form of what now are known as "smart bullets." Novelist and "ER" creator Michael Crichton wrote and directed that film, which is available on DVD.

So is the biggest-by-far movie hit Selleck had during that period, the 1987 comedy "Three Men and a Baby," which teamed him with Ted Danson and Steve Guttenberg as roommates who took in an infant abandoned at their door. Fans of current "Blue Bloods" star Selleck's "Jesse Stone" movies for CBS will be glad to know that the next of those, "Benefit of the Doubt," is scheduled to air May 20.

Q: Will "Flashpoint" be coming back this summer? It is a great show, and I do not understand why it is not carried as a regular program. – Peg Crossin, Columbus, Ohio

A: It has been, especially if by "regular program," you mean during the regular TV season. Last October, the Canadian-made police drama began running on ION Television, which bought the rights not only to new episodes but also the ones that originally aired on CBS in previous years. Enrico Colantoni, Hugh Dillon, Amy Jo Johnson and the show's other stars are at work filming new stories now.

Q: I recently viewed and enjoyed the movie "The Holiday," and I wondered if the two young actors who played Jude Law's children are his children in real life. – Jan Adams, Milwaukee

A: They all have British accents, but that's as far as it goes. Miffy Englefield and Emma Pritchard are the young actresses, and other than collecting their paychecks along with Law from the makers of the 2006 film – which TBS is slated to show Sunday, Feb. 26 – they're not related.

Send questions of general interest via e-mail to tvpipeline@tribune.com. Writers must include their names, cities and states. Personal replies cannot be sent.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

INTERCESSION IN ADIRONDACKS – Five students and two adventure sports instructors from Garrett College completed a total of 10 days engaged in an expedition to the Adirondack Mountains of upstate New York during the recent winter intersession. The expedition was offered as part of the Garrett College Aventuresports Institute (ASI) program. The courses that the students were completing were ASI 117 Cold Weather Outdoor Living Skills, ASI 212 Eastern Mountaineering, and ASI 226 Ice Climbing. The intrepid members of the group were students Josh Armstrong, McHenry; Kyle Burton, Forest Hill; Colin Hower, St. Michaels; Annalee Law, Smithsburg; and Dylan Mayes, Gaithersburg. Leading the group were instructors Andy Hershey and Chad Cochran. In the photo, at an elevation of 4,714 feet, Burton, wearing crampons, shows the exhilaration of making it to the summit of Mount Colden. The Algonquin Peak, which is at an elevation of 5,114 feet, is in the background to Kyle's right. Photo by Colin Hower.

GC President Richard MacLennan Joins Community College Forum

The National Association of Community College Entrepreneurship (NACCE), the nation's leading organization focused on promoting entrepreneurship through community colleges, announced this week that Garrett College, represented by its president Richard MacLennan, is among the five Maryland community colleges to join its newly formed Presidents for Entrepreneurship Forum.

Through the program, presidents of community colleges throughout the country commit to increase the focus on entrepreneurship at their institutions and intensify the impact these colleges have on the economic well-being of the communities they serve.

The Maryland community college presidents who have joined the forum, besides Dr. MacLennan, are Marty Smith, Anne Arundel Community College, Arnold; Barbara Viniar, Chesapeake College, Wye Mills; Kathleen Hetherington, Howard Community College, Columbia; and Charlene Dukes, Prince George's Community College, Largo.

The Presidents for Entrepreneurship Forum was initiated in response to the White House-led Startup America call to action to stimulate economic growth state-by-state by encouraging individuals to start their own businesses. NACCE is a founding affiliate of the Startup American Partnership, an alliance of many of the country's most innovative entrepreneurs, corporations, universities, foundations, and other leaders. To date, over 100 community college presidents have joined the forum.

"NACCE understands that community colleges are ideally positioned to further entrepreneurship locally, and that our traditional workforce development role needs to be linked with entrepreneurial development," said Dr. MacLennan. "Garrett College is currently developing an entrepreneurship program that will include a comprehensive array of courses and institutional resources, including business incubator space for potential future business owners. Participation in the Presidents for Entrepreneurship Forum is one more way Garrett College is working to help individuals and families achieve their personal and business dreams."

"As a national organization supporting entrepreneurship development, NACCE touches the lives of students and community members across the country," said Ron Thomas, NACCE board chairman and president of Dakota County Technical College in Rosemount, Minn. "NACCE has an obligation to lead the way in providing assistance to entrepreneurship education programs, which are an essential part of the economic recovery at local, regional, national, and global levels."

According to NACCE executive director Heather Van Sickle, the forum will stimulate community colleges to advance entrepreneurship and create jobs across the country. The forum was launched at the White House in January 2011 and works to dramatically increase the prevalence and success of American entrepreneurs. Community college presidents who join the forum make five commitments:

- Develop transparency of community college and community assets,
- Create internal and external teams dedicated to entrepreneurship,
- Increase entrepreneurs' engagement in community colleges,
- Engage in industry cluster development, and
- Create broad exposure to their college's commitment to entrepreneurship.

"The five commitments were developed based on NACCE's observations of what was working best on member campuses," said Van Sickle. "After observing the entrepreneurship-related activities of our members over a period of years, we started to see commonalities among the more successful institutions. One of the major things that clearly makes a difference is the commitment by leadership to entrepreneurship. So we want to put something in front of leadership that they can actually commit to. We want to create a national network of institutions sharing these commitments and see what impact that can have on communities," she concluded.

ASI Is Provider In United Way Grant To GCHD

The Garrett College Adventuresports Institute will join forces with the Garrett County Health Department and the Garrett County Board of Education to develop an after-school activities program at three locations: Grantsville Elementary, Accident Elementary, and Southern Middle schools. This enterprise will be funded through a grant to the health department from the United Way of Garrett County.

According to the GC United Way officials, this grant was awarded with the goal of improving public school attendance and ultimately promoting public school graduation rates.

Michael Logsdon, director of adventure sports at Garrett College, explained that the grant proposal was developed by staff from both the Garrett County Health Department and the Adventuresports Institute.

"In the process of constructing the proposal, staff from both the health department and the college worked to design a set of after-school adventure activities, to be conducted at three locations," he said. "The program will involve an ASI professional staff and an ASI student major, who will coordinate a set of adventure initiatives and challenges."

The after-school adventure program is currently scheduled to be conducted after classes midweek on the campuses of each of the three schools beginning April 19.

"As a culminating activity, after-school participants from each school will separately spend a Saturday on the grounds of New Germany State Park, participating in a smorgasbord of activities, including rock climbing, a nature hike, orienteering, mountain biking, and canoeing," Logsdon said.

The Garrett College Adventuresports Institute has joined forces with the health department and the board of education in previous endeavors. The Transitional Age Youth program (TAY) is offered by a partnership between Garrett College, the board of education, and the Garrett County Core Service Agency. The program targets boys and girls who are facing challenges in staying on course for a successful future.

Logsdon said he believes that this type of adventure activity programming can be effective in helping the younger students develop a more positive attitude and increasing focus and confidence.

"It is also a great opportunity for the adventure sports students to gain real-world experience working with youth under the supervision of professional staff," he said. "We are looking forward to launching this new project," he said.

For more information on the Adventuresports Institute, persons may contact Logsdon at 301-387-3333.

STUDENT ADVOCACY DAY is sponsored annually by the Maryland Association of Community Colleges (MACC) and brings hundreds of students from across the state to Annapolis. The students were there in force again this year to let elected officials know that their schools need greater financial support. Representing Garrett College were Student Government Association (SGA) president Keenen Royalty and SGA sophomore representative Connor Norman. The students were accompanied by assistant coordinator of student activities Michael Chavis and dean of student life Dr. George Brelsford. The GC students had the opportunity to meet with Del. Wendell Beitzel while they were there. In the photo, from left, are Dr. Brelsford, Norman, Del. Beitzel, Royalty, and Chavis. See story.

Garrett Students In Annapolis For Advocacy Event

Hundreds of students from Maryland's 16 community colleges traveled to Annapolis last week to meet at the Miller Senate Office Building. The occasion was the annual Student Advocacy Day sponsored by the Maryland Association of Community Colleges (MACC).

Representing the Garrett College student body were Student Government Association (SGA) president Keenen Royalty and SGA sophomore representative Connor Norman. The students were accompanied by Michael Chavis, assistant coordinator of student activities, and Dr. George Brelsford, dean of student life.

Presiding over the welcome and college rally held in the Presidential Conference Room of the senate office building was Dr. Richard Midcap, vice president of Chesapeake College. Following his opening remarks, Dr. Midcap introduced various elected officials who addressed the assembled students.

Chavis noted some high points of the day for the Garrett College SGA representatives.

"Keenen and Connor were able to hear from legislators from around the state, as well as peer speakers from other community colleges," he said. "They also had the opportunity to meet with Maryland Delegate Wendell Beitzel. During this conversation, they exchanged stories with Del. Beitzel and thanked him for the continued support for community colleges given by his office."

This was Royalty's second trip to the state capital to represent Garrett College at the MACC advocacy event.

"Fewer Garrett students were able to go this year because the date conflicted with test schedules for other SGA officers," he said. "I'm glad that Conner and I were able to be part of this and add the voice of Garrett College. We were there with all the other students to let our elected officials know that the community colleges are doing a great job, but we need the funding to keep doing it."

Norman, attending the Student Advocacy Day event for the first time, described his experiences in Annapolis.

"When we got there, the conference room was packed," he said. "I could just feel that there was a lot of positive energy in the room. Hearing the students speak, you could tell they are really involved with their colleges. It is what I think of as a university heart in a community college."

Both Royalty and Norman agreed that students who spoke presented a good case for funding the state's community colleges.

Del. Beitzel met with the GC students in the afternoon.

"It was all very natural and comfortable talking with him," Norman said. "Keenen and I told our stories about life at Garrett, and Del. Beitzel really listened to us. Then he shared some stories about his early life in Garrett County."

Jeanne Neff Named To Wheeling Jesuit Board Of Trustees

Wheeling Jesuit University's board of trustees recently welcomed six new members, including a Garrett County resident. Led by chairman Margaret "Mimie" Helm, the new members join a board of 18 active and two emeritus members.

Dr. Jeanne Henry Neff, Oakland, retired in 2008 after 13 years as president of the Sage Colleges (N.Y.), during which she was widely recognized for her work in regional economic development. She chaired the board of the National Council for Independent Colleges and was a director of the American Association of Colleges and Universities. Prior to Sage, she was vice-president for academic affairs at Susquehanna University (Pa.).

From 1980 to 1986, Neff was academic vice president at Wheeling Jesuit, and before that a dean and professor.

She began her career teaching at Carlow University in Pittsburgh, Pa. After retirement, Neff served as interim president of Garrett College and is now chair of the board of the Garrett College Foundation.

Neff earned her bachelor of arts in English at Wheeling Jesuit, her master of arts at Rice University, and her doctor of arts degree at Carnegie-Mellon University. She also is a graduate of Harvard University's Institute for Educational Management.

Woman Charged After Allegedly Stealing $44,000

An Oakland woman was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies yesterday on numerous theft charges.

Karen Sue Otto, 62, was charged with seven counts of theft and theft scheme stemming from an investigation of embezzlement from accounts of Hospice of Garrett County. Otto, who had been employed by Hospice on a part-time basis for 27 years, is alleged to have embezzled over $44,000 dating back to 2004. She was taken to the Garrett County District Court commissioner for an initial appearance and was later released on personal recognizance.

First Rabies Case Of 2012 Reported By GC Health Dept.

Environmental Health Services of the Garrett County Health Department recently reported the first case of laboratory confirmed rabies in Garrett County for 2012. The incident occurred on Feb. 15 in the Underwood Road area, south of Oakland, and involved a raccoon and an unvaccinated cat.

The property owner shot the injured raccoon after it was found inside the cat shelter. The raccoon was sent to Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene Rabies Laboratory on Feb. 16 and was found to be positive for the rabies virus.

There was no human exposure with the raccoon, but it was not clear if the unvaccinated cat was exposed. The cat, which was apparently an adopted stray, was captured and taken to be euthanized on Feb. 22.

"This incident reinforces the importance of keeping household pets vaccinated against rabies, even adopted strays or farm pets," said a Health Department spokesperson.

The Garrett County Health Department will hold low-cost rabies clinics for dogs, cats, and ferrets during the first or second week of May. Locations and times will be published in newspapers and announced on the radio. The cost per animal is still $5.

All dogs, cats and ferrets over 4 months of age are required by law to be vaccinated. These animals can be vaccinated at 3 months

FLOODING WAS SUDDEN AND SEVERE last evening in Garrett County and the surrounding area, with more than two inches of rain falling in the late afternoon in heavy downpours that caused drainage overflows, flash-flooding, and probably thousands of wet basements. This photo was taken in Terra Alta, W.Va., by Matthew Friend of Oakland as he traveled through that town late yesterday afternoon. Several roads were closed at the peak of the storm, and some remained closed this morning in the southern part of the county, including Smouse Road. Debris covered most roadways this morning as well. The weather continues to be quite uncharacteristic for Garrett County, with warm temperatures and even thunder and lightning with yesterday's Leap Day storm. Snow, a rare event this year, is predicted to fall Sunday, but the temperatures will go back up Monday.

The Republican Newspaper Marks 135 Years Of Operation March 3

Today's issue of The Republican newspaper begins its 136th year of existence, having been founded on March 3, 1877, by Capt. James Hayden. A veteran of the Union Army in the Civil War, he named the paper in honor and in memory of President Abraham Lincoln, who had been assassinated just 12 years prior. Hayden's descendants still reside in Mountain Lake Park.

Benjamin Hinkle (known by most as "B.H.") Sincell purchased the publishing company in 1890, and printed his first issue of The Republican on his 21st birthday.

Sincell operated the company, producing the newspaper and managing a general printing shop, until his death in 1947. His son, Donald R. Sincell ("Mose"), general manager, and his brother-in-law, George H. Hanst, editor, took over the business at that time, along with B.H.'s widow, Lillian "Tay" Sincell and his grandson, Robert Benjamin Sincell.

Robert's son Donald W. Sincell became the editor in 1978. In the 135-year history of The Republican newspaper, there have been just four editors: Hayden, B.H. Sincell, George Hanst, and the current editor, Don Sincell. Ownership remains in the Sincell family, with five family members on the staff.

The Sincell Publishing Company Inc. employs 26

Grantsville Man Found Not Guilty In Assault Case

A Garrett County Circuit Court jury found a 56-year-old Grantsville man not guilty last week of two counts of first degree assault. Teddy Lee Kitzmiller was charged last September following a junkyard compliance enforcement action that occurred on his property.

On Aug. 25, 2011, John Nelson, Garrett County Department of Planning and Land Development director, was authorized by the court on behalf of the county commissioners to enter the Kitzmiller property for the purpose of bringing the

Garrett County FTC Teams Win State Championship; Will Attend Nationals

Garrett County's FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) teams, G-FORCE and Techni Clovers, sponsored by GEARS and 4-H, won the Maryland FTC State Championship held at the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory this past weekend. Both teams were finalists for various awards, with G-FORCE bringing home the Inspire Award and Techno Clovers receiving the PTC Design Award. The teams together, along with a team from Washington, D.C., won the Winning Alliance Award.

Both teams have worked since September learning engineering design, fabrication, and testing concepts, and winning these awards advances both teams to the FIRST FTC National Championships to be held in St. Louis, Mo.

The Inspire Award is given to the team that the judges felt truly embodies the "challenge" of the FTC program. The team that receives this award has performed well in all judging categories and was chosen by the judges as a model FIRST Tech Challenge team. The judges use match performance, observations made during interviews and in the pit area, the team's Engineering Notebook, and performance on the playing field in determining the winner.

The intent of the PTC Design Award earned by the Techno Clovers is to expand the challenge, inspiring teams to incorporate industrial design into their robots. These elements can be shown in the simplicity of the design as it applies to the tasks, the look and feel of the robot, and how the design allows one to think of robots in new ways. The design aspect must serve a function – but should also differentiate the robot in a unique fashion – not an easy task with a limited set of parts and game challenge.

G-FORCE was a finalist for the PTC Design Award,

Public Hearings Slated For Local Lawmakers' Bills

Public hearings have been scheduled in Annapolis for several bills introduced by local lawmakers during the Maryland General Assembly session.

The Senate Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee will review Sen. George Edwards' SB 769: Garrett County – Animal Control Ordinance – Enabling Authority on Thursday, March 8, at 1 p.m. This proposed legislation would authorize the Garrett County commissioners to adopt an animal control ordinance, authorize a specified animal control officer to deliver a citation to a person believed to be committing a violation of the ordinance, establish the contents of the citation, establish a maximum penalty, and authorize the county commissioners to establish specified fines and procedures.

The Senate Budget and Taxation Committee will hold a hearing for Edwards' SB 768: Natural Gas Severance Tax and Impact Fund on Wednesday, March 14, at 1 p.m. This proposed legislation would, in part, impose a tax on the removal of natural gas from natural gas wells in the state, provide for the administration of the tax by the comptroller, require persons subject to the tax to file returns and keep and make available specified records and information, provide for the distribution of revenue from the tax, and establish the Natural Gas Impact Fund.

The House Economic Matters Committee will review Del. Wendell Beitzel's HB 733: Public Utility Companies – Generating Stations – Wind and HB 747: Garrett County – County Commissioners – Wind Energy Conversion Systems on Thursday, March 15, at 1 p.m.

HB 733 would repeal a provision that exempts a specified person from having to obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity for a generating station that produces electricity from wind under specified circumstances.

It would also repeal a provision that requires a person to obtain approval from the Public Service Commission prior to any construction of a generating station that produces electricity from wind under specified circumstances.

In addition, it would repeal a provision that requires the commission to provide an Area Leaders Voice Concerns At "Stop The Shift" Press Conference

The Garrett County commissioners joined the Allegany County commissioners at a "Stop the Shift" press conference in Cumberland on Tuesday. About 50 people attended the event, which took place at the Allegany County Office Complex.

Spearheaded by the Maryland Association of Counties (MACo), similar press conferences took place across the state on Monday and Tuesday to give local leaders an opportunity to voice their concerns about Gov. Martin O'Malley's Budget Reconciliation and Financing Act of 2012 (BRFA).

The House Appropriations Committee, House Ways and Means Committee, and the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee held public hearings in Annapolis this week on BRFA.

A major component of the budget that concerns MACo is the governor's proposal to "shift" teacher pension liability from the state to county governments. Effective July 1, 2013, jurisdictions would pay for half of the combined cost of teachers' Social Security and pension costs. Currently, counties only pay for the Social Security portion, which is about one-third of the total pension cost.

"Counties are maxed out," Commissioner Jim Raley said at the Cumberland conference. "Enough is enough. Citizens, please get involved in this issue. It is critical, as if the pension shift occurs, it will certainly cut jobs, close schools, and devastate communities."

Raley noted that last year Garrett County "absorbed" a state cut of approximately $1.5 million to education, thus placing the local appropriation higher than the state appropriation for the first time ever.

"The $1.7 million that Garrett County contributed last year allowed for the schools to continue to operate and work toward a solution to this ongoing problem," Raley said. "This year, our loss will be approximately $2.7 million in state aid to education and, coupled with the county loss of revenue of approximately $2 million and a potential of having to absorb pensions for education employees, creates

GC Commissioners Slate Second Land Use Work Session

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners will conduct an administrative work session on Tuesday, March 13, beginning at 9 a.m. Certain agenda points, however, will be held in executive session.

The board will conduct its second Garrett County government Land Use Management work session at 1:30 p.m. that day. Director John Nelson, Department of Planning and Land Development, will be in attendance to facilitate this review.

The public is welcome to attend this session and listen to this discussion. Questions on this matter are to be address to county administrator Monty Pagenhardt.

GCSO Seeking Info On Armed Robbery At BFS

Garrett County sheriff's deputies are investigating the recent burglary of the Mtn. Lake Park BFS near Southern States.

Employees at BFS told police that a masked white male entered the store at about 4:20 p.m. last Friday brandishing a handgun and demanded all the cash from the register. After obtaining an undisclosed amount of cash, the suspect fled on foot. He is described as approximately 6 ft. tall with a thin to medium build. He was wearing a dark colored hoodie sweatshirt and light colored pants.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the Garrett County Sheriff's Office at 301-334-1911 or leave an anonymous tip at www.garrettcountycrimesolvers.org.

IN NEED OF MAJOR REPAIRS – As evidenced in this photo taken this morning by Lisa Broadwater, the historic Casselman River Bridge is in great need of repairs. In addition to the damage pictured, which is located on the west side of the downstream face of the 199-year-old structure, the road above is separating from the bridge's stone wall. The 80-foot span bridge is located in the four-acre Casselman River Bridge State Park, located off U.S. Route 40 east of Grantsville. The bridge was completely restored in the 1940s. It has not been used by vehicles for decades, but is open to foot traffic. Park crews recently set up barricades to the bridge and roped off access to the damaged area. Park service engineers were at the site this morning inspecting the damage.

TECHNO CLOVERS AND G-FORCE EXCEL AT STATES – The Techno-FORCE alliance worked together with the RoboFoxes to win the number one robot performance Winning Alliance Award. G-FORCE was also awarded the Inspire Award, which is the most prestigious FTC award given to the team that truly embodied the "challenge" of the FTC program. The Techno Clovers were also awarded the PTC Design Award. Pictured from left, beginning with the front row, are Justin Maust, Kendrick Bender, Eric Beitzel, Derrick Maust, Jeffery Bender, and Melody White. Second row: Cindy Maust, Kevin Maust, A.J. Savopoulos, Scott Brenneman, Tim & Ken Gotsch, Max Peterson, Stephen Lilly, and Rich Bender. Back row: Andrew Hauser, Phil Malone, Robbie Browning, Josh Frick, Levi Lantz, Alex Miske, Aaron Lantz, Zach Frick, Willie Lantz, Kevin Haenftling, and Arlene Lantz. See story for details.

BIGGER AND BETTER EACH YEAR – The 2012 Deep Creek Dunk brought over 900 dunkers out to take a cool dip in the lake. As mild as our winter has been, last Saturday's weather did not disappoint those who showed up to watch the dedicated souls wade into the cold water. Over $160,000 was raised to benefit Special Olympics Maryland, the state's largest year-round organization devoted to sports training and competition for children and adults with intellectual disabilities. Each year, the event becomes a bigger success, with everyone – dunkers, spectators, and organizers alike – feeling satisfied at the day's end.

THE BONTRAGER FAMILY SINGERS, a family music group from eastern Iowa, will perform at Maranatha Assembly of God, Grantsville, on Saturday, March 10, at 7 p.m. The family includes parents Martin and Becky and their 10 children, who range in age from 3 to 19. According to a spokesperson, they have traveled extensively throughout the United States, sharing in word and song through a unique, refreshing gospel/bluegrass style. They play a variety of instruments, including the banjo, violin, keyboard, mandolin, guitar, dobro, and bass guitar. Together, they have ministered in churches, camps, prison, and many other venues. The family notes that their one and only purpose is to glorify their Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, in all they do. The public is invited to attend. The church is located at 176 Springs Road, Grantsville.

Lenten Lunches To Be Served At Trinity UM Church

A free Lenten lunch will be held every Wednesday in March from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Terra Alta at Trinity United Methodist Church, located across from Clear Mountain Bank. Donations will be accepted.

Homemade soups, breads, and desserts will be served on March 7, 14, 21, and 28. A different selection will be available each week.

This annual event, in celebration of the Easter season, is hosted by Trinity's Women's Group.

Cardin Criticizes Planned Maryland Postal Closures

by Mark Miller
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – Sen. Ben Cardin criticized proposed cuts to mail processing facilities announced by the United States Postal Service last week, two of which could see Maryland facilities consolidated with others outside the state.

The cuts, as described by USPS spokeswoman Freda Sauter in an e-mail, would see the mail processing center in Cumberland consolidated with a Johnstown, Pa., facility, and the Suburban Annex facility in Gaithersburg shut down and its operations diverted to the Southern Maryland Capital Beltway Facility in Capitol Heights.

All told, the proposed Maryland changes could affect almost 150 workers.

Cardin said he opposes the Cumberland plant closure, but he reserved his harshest criticism for a plan Sauter said remains under study to move operations from the Eastern Shore Processing and Distribution Facility in Easton to a plant in Wilmington, Del.

"The most egregious is what they did in Easton," said Cardin of the cuts.

Originally, he said, the USPS planned to consolidate the Easton facility with a mail processing center in Baltimore, but it changed course on the proposal to study a Wilmington merger without consulting him.

"We're not sure what they're doing," Cardin added.

But Sauter said the USPS has not yet decided to close the Easton plant, and it is not expected to make a decision until the middle of the year.

"No decision has been made to move the operations to the Delaware plant," Sauter cautioned in the e-mail. "A new study will be conducted. The study will begin immediately. Typically . . . studies can take anywhere from three to five months to complete."

A SOAKING WET LEAP DAY – Hard, continuous downpours of rain battered the county yesterday, sometimes coming down so hard that visibility was greatly impaired. As a result of the onslaught, small streams and drainage ditches were overwhelmed, and the water poured out wherever it could go. According to reports, about two inches came down in a relatively short period of time. These pictures show the Leap Day 2012 scene along Dennett Road near Southern High School. Photos by Deb Swiger.

First Gifted Student Policy Set By Board

The Maryland State Board of Education approved regulations this week that would set in place for the first time minimum standards for gifted and talented education programs in school systems throughout the state.

The regulation supports the identification of a diverse gifted and talented student body, specifying that local school systems draw from a pool of candidates that encompasses all students and use multiple indicators of potential and achievement.

Maryland's new regulation bolsters local school systems as they seek to achieve equitable representation of gifted and talented students, English language learners, and students with special needs, by recommending early talent development for all students.

"Maryland schools must provide for the diverse learning needs of all of our students, if our education is to reach its full potential," said interim state superintendent of schools Bernard J. Sadusky. "All students can learn, but students learn in different ways. Our job is to make certain that we have programs in place for every learning style and need."

State board members made it clear they will be monitoring reports and data from local school systems to make certain the new policy acts as a catalyst for improved services for students. Local school systems provide information on gifted and talented programs through the annual Master Plan process required by the Bridge to Excellence Act legislation since 2005.

The new gifted and talented policy, in development since 2006, is flexible and does not dictate details for local systems. The state board published the regulation in December, receiving and reviewing public comment prior to their discussion and approval this week.

The regulation as proposed can be found online at http://msde.state.md.us/GT_Education_Regulations.pdf.

Deputies Arrest Local On Disorderly Conduct Charges

An Oakland woman was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies this past Sunday after they received a report of a suspicious vehicle.

Deputies responded to the area of Wheeling Avenue, Mtn. Lake Park, which led to the arrest of Terri Lynn Belasco, 40. She was charged with disorderly conduct, disturbing the peace, and malicious destruction of property less than $500. Belasco was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Oakland Municipal Election Slated For March 12

The town municipal election will be held on Monday, March 12, with the polls open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the town hall.

Terms expire for mayor Margaret "Peggy" Jamison, and council persons Elmer "Butch" Redinger, John "Jack" Rickman, and Sherwin Teagarden. Others now serving are Harvey "Jay" Moyer, Jack Riley, and Ryan Wolf.

Any resident of Oakland age 18 or older may register to vote at Oakland City Hall during regular office hours until 4:30 p.m. on Friday, March 2. The town of Oakland maintains a separate register of voters; however, those who registered at the Board of Elections after Jan. 1, 1990, and are residents of Oakland are automatically qualified to vote in the municipal election. Applications for absentee ballots can be obtained at Oakland City Hall.

Bartlett Backs Mustaches, But Not Tax Breaks

by Madeline Marshall
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – The American Mustache Institute ran with it – Rep. Roscoe Bartlett, R-Frederick, was introducing its legislation to give tax breaks to those sporting a 'stache.

The trouble was, Bartlett never heard of the "STACHE Act" – for the Stimulus to Allow Critical Hair Expenses Act providing a $250 tax break to mustachioed-Americans – and his press secretary never seriously submitted it as legislation.

But that didn't stop the buzz about the cut.

The American Mustache Institute proposed the STACHE Act based on the environmental, social, and economic impacts that mustachioed-Americans contribute.

"The cookie duster can act as a natural warming device, allowing the Mustached-American to reduce dependencies upon artificial heating devices," wrote Dr. John Yeutter in a white paper proposal for the act.

The $250 tax deduction would go toward grooming expenses, such as "trimming instruments," "bacon," "DVD collections of 'Magnum P.I'," "mustache insurance" and "Burt Reynolds wallet-sized photos."

AMI brought the white paper proposal to the staff of Bartlett, who has sported a mustache since the 1950s. Bartlett's press secretary, Lisa Wright, sent the proposal to the Ways and Means Committee, which works with tax policy, without comment and without a request for action.

"Standard procedure," Wright said, "and I informed the Mustache Institute that I referred their proposal as a media inquiry."

AMI misunderstood and announced on its STACHE Act web site that "the congressman has begun the process of ensuring STACHE Act becomes law."

By passing the information along, Wright was not starting legislation. Bartlett didn't even see the proposal.

"It's very common for advocacy organizations to make leaps and run with them," Wright said.

And did it run. CNN, newspapers, blogs, and people on Twitter were confused that the fiscally conservative Republican 10-term congressman would support not only a joke, but – gasp – a tax break.

The Maryland Democratic Party tweeted, "Roscoe Bartlett supports tax cuts for millionaires, big oil, and men with mustaches. Absurd."

"As we deal with a tough economy, foreclosures, budget cuts, etc., Roscoe Bartlett is more concerned with mustache tax cuts," tweeted Dem-ocratic challenger Rob Garagiola.

Bartlett faces a tough reelection battle in the 6th Congressional District after redistricting made the area more competitive.

But will the mustachioed congressman ever support facial-hair legislation?

"For the record, Roscoe is pro-'stache, but he does not believe Americans should pay for people's personal grooming decisions," Bartlett's chief of staff Deborah Burrell said in a statement.

ACCIDENT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL REWARDS CHARACTER, GOES HOG WILD – After being challenged with the fundraising goal of $500 for the Leukemia Society, the Accident Elementary School student body raised a total of $1,664.66. To reward his students for their efforts, Dave Yoder, AES principal, then promised to kiss a pig in the school's recently held "Hog Wild" assembly. Pictured above left are the Accident Elementary students who were recognized at the assembly for displaying good character traits, specifically honesty and trustworthiness. In the front row, from left, are Kolten Mason, Kaitlen Allen, and Rosey Hernandez. In the second row are Megan Schlossnagle, Tara Beitzel, Jeffrey Eyler, and Toby Wilburn. In the back row are Jazzmen Lynch, Hunter Green, Garrett Emory, Cody Eyler, and Ava Ashby. In the photo above right, Yoder (at left) is shown preparing to lock lips with the unsuspecting swine being held by Tony Miller, school custodian. Pictured below left is Yoder, dressed as a pig, re-enacting a recent GEICO commercial. At bottom right the photo shows student Sara Smith (at right) receiving a coin set donated by First United Bank from Roger Sisler. Sara received this award at the assembly for meeting her Accelerated Reading goals.

Two Cited For Underage Drinking In Bloomington

Two people were issued underage drinking citations following a report made to Garrett County sheriff's deputies early Sunday morning.

Deputies responded to a 91 North Street, Bloomington, home following the complaint. Investigation revealed that a 17-year-old juvenile from Bloomington and a 20-year-old adult from Swanton were consuming alcohol. Both were issued citations. Charges are pending against the property owner.

A Welcome Weekly Visitor...

To a few of us here at our office on Second Street, it seems like just yesterday that the staff of this weekly was observing/celebrating the 100th anniversary of its publication, but last week's edition capped our 135th year. To our knowledge, there has not been a single week since March 3, 1877, that an issue of The Republican was not published. That was just over 7,020 weeks ago.

"A permanent institution in our community" is what James Hayden, founder of The Republican, hoped this newspaper would become, and while all worldly things eventually come to an end, we who work here today are pleased that we have so far been able to carry on the work started by Hayden 135 years ago.

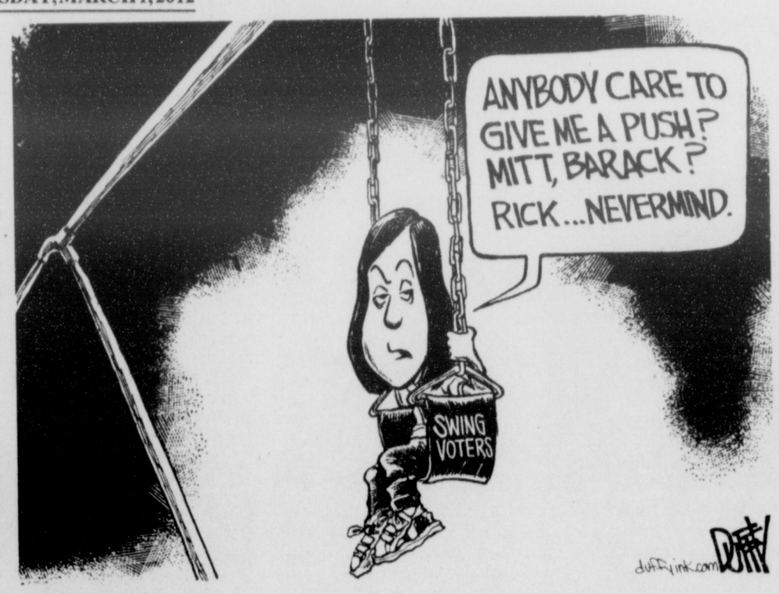
It's not that it hasn't been without its challenges, however, with some of the most significant ones facing us today. When Hayden wrote the above words and put his very first issue on the street, he almost certainly never envisioned a day when the printed word might actually be replaced via some kind of electronic technology that would make it possible to magically transmit the news, complete with full-color photographs, through the air and all the way around the world in a matter of seconds.

Yet that day has come, and with it the very real concern that the printed word, as well as the handwritten word, are literally on the verge of extinction. It is difficult for those of us who have been walking this planet for 50-plus years to even imagine such a world, but clearly not such a challenge for those who have been alive for only a few decades.

Certainly the Internet, e-mail, and electronic "books" such as the Kindle are here to stay. Fortunately for us here at The Republican, one still cannot go online and find a comprehensive collection of the news of Garrett County, Maryland, for the past week. A Google attempt to do so would take the surfer right to our web site.

So we believe that our newspaper still has a niche in the county, and while we are endeavoring to embrace the electronic age to help us "serve up" our product to our readers, in the meantime, we remain committed to – as Hayden said in his first editorial – working hard each week to be "a welcome weekly visitor to every household in the county."

We sincerely appreciate all of our advertisers and the tens of thousands of readers over the past 135 years, without whom this publication would have disappeared long ago.



Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

On behalf of Boy Scouts of America Troop 22 of Oakland, I would like to extend our deepest appreciation to the following people and organizations who/that have helped us over the past year in accomplishing many of our projects and goals:

1. St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Oakland for giving us a place to hold our meetings and store our supplies.

2. Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club for donations and support of our re-chartering for the past 20 years.

3. June Bug's Party Rentals for use of its dunk tank during the 2011 Garrett County Fair.

4. Harold Harris of Oakridge Farm in Swanton for donating Christmas trees for us to sell as a fundraiser in 2010 and 2011.

5. Rob McBee and the employees at Swanton Store for giving us a place to sell our trees and assisting us in collecting the money.

6. Terry Helbig for his generous donation to the troop and for allowing us to participate in the Christmas on Alder Street celebration.

Thanks to the help and support from these folks (and any others whom I may have inadvertently forgotten), the boys are building on their life experiences and learning how to be responsible and respectful young men. Thank you so much!

Sincerely,
Dan Clark
Troop 22 Scout Master

To the Editor:

One step at a time...

Previously, regarding hydraulic fracturing of the Marcellus shale, I have discussed in four letters to the editor the trucks which carry the contaminated liquid from the wellhead to the site where the liquid is to be deposited. Let us this week focus on the Marcellus shale itself.

The Marcellus is a marine sedimentary rock, black in color, with a low level of permeability. In other words, it is not porous. The shale is extremely brittle and can be broken, or fractured. The Marcellus is an important source rock with fractures which contain natural gas, and the shale may actually act as a non-porous seal that traps gas reservoirs. Therefore, the shale must be fractured to increase permeability, or to shatter the seals so that the natural gas may be retrieved.

The Marcellus contains various heavy metals, a few of which are molybdenum, vanadium, uranium, and lead. Let us center on uranium, which is radioactive and is found in nature, and not on the other materials which may also be radioactive and are used in the hydraulic fracturing process. We'll save them for later.

Uranium is a silvery white metallic chemical element with a chemical configuration of a U. There are several types of uranium, but the type we are concerned with is U_{238}. We know that uranium is the source rock for radon gas, and we in this area have been warned that it is a radioactive contaminant and an extremely dangerous health hazard. The warning has caused many of us to have our homes checked for radon.

Syracuse, New York, is a high-risk area for radon as an indoor air pollutant because of the Marcellus shale's proximity to the land surface. Our own governor, via Executive Order 01.01.2011.11, has directed that the study of possible radioactive material involved in the hydraulic fracturing be explored as one concern.

In conclusion, I must say that there have been concerns regarding radioactivity in almost every documentary that I have seen and article I have read, and it all begins with the black Marcellus shale.

Respectfully,
Jim Zimmerman

To the Editor:

Over the years, I've accrued quite of list of plays and specifications that the people of Garrett County want us to produce at Our Town Theatre. Among the requirements: The play has to be funny; it should be a musical; it should be entertaining; it shouldn't be "dirty." I've actually had several people tell me, "I don't want to think; I just want to laugh."

So far this season, OTT has produced a light and funny children's play, a charming musical about quilting, an outrageous farce, and a wonderful comedy about aging storybook characters. There has been plenty of laughter. We in the production team have had a joyous time of it, and the laughter will continue throughout the next two productions.

However, as Stella Adler, the great actress and acting coach, put it, "The theatre was created to tell people the truth about life and the social situation."

On March 11 and 12, OTT will be holding auditions for Lisa Loomer's play Distracted, which is about a nationwide concern dealing with the apparent epidemic of attention deficit disorder. If I can cast the play (please see the audition article on this week's arts page), I guarantee that it will make you laugh and think and feel.

Please be warned, however, that it contains the "f-word." Now in our society, the f-word is a nasty word, but it is only a word; it is not a slur. We at OTT don't allow that word in our plays unless it is extremely pertinent to the meaning and mood of the play, and in the case of Distracted, it is.

I hope to see a big turn-out at auditions as well as the performances of Distracted. I feel that this play will help all of us to understand and cope with the problems of ADD and ADHD in our children and the rest of society. Please direct any questions to Our Town Theatre at 301-334-5640, ext. 3.

Thank you,
Jane B. Avery

To the Editor:

My name is Jim Johnson, but you can call me Jim "Big Head" Johnson. I own Electronics Diagnostic Center in Oakland and am a member of the Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA). In fact, I have sat on the board for four years now. My company plays a large part in coordinating the Oakland Winter Fest. I write this letter for two reasons.

The first is to fix an oversight on my part. In the Winter Fest 2012 brochure, I did not give GOBA its just due, as GOBA was omitted from the "brought to you by" list. How I did this is something I don't quite understand, because if not for GOBA and all its members there would be no Winter Fest, nor pocket-park movies, the Little Yough Summer Music Festival, Christmas on Main Street, Wonderful Wednesdays, and other activities that I am sure are missing from my mind.

Sometimes I think we all forget that GOBA plays an important part in all that goes on, not just in Oakland, but in Garrett County.

The second reason for this letter is to ask for help and volunteers for next year's Winter Fest. We are in need of 10-20 people to help with things as simple as putting out 3' x 10' banners two weeks before the event (I did not get them out until two days before the event), help putting up lights on sculptures, and working with Bill Sandusky, the ice carver, to set up the ice sculptures on Friday night. There must be a least 40 little jobs that need to be done. So if you think you would like to help and be a part of Winter Fest, please call me at 301-334-3352.

I hope to see the Oakland Winter Fest grow year after year, but without help, I am not sure this will happen, and this would make many of us very sad. So get together with some friends and become "the lighting team" or "putting-out-the-cones team." Please, the Winter Fest Committee members are asking for help; do not let them down.

Sincerely,
James "Jim" Johnson
Chair, Oakland Main Street Promotions

To the Editor:

Does Deep Creek Lake have value for Garrett County residents?

This question seems to be at the root of some decisions made in Garrett County government. As a homeowner in Garrett County, I took a look at what the value of the lake actually is to the county. I learned some interesting things:

•It is reported that about 60% of county revenue comes from District 18 real estate taxes, which includes Deep Creek Lake.

•From a study contracted by the chamber of commerce, about $243 million are spent in the county by tourists every year. Most of this is in the summer, and clearly the result of the attraction of the lake.

Undoubtedly there are other financial benefits for the county derived from the lake, but these two seem to be the most significant. Let's consider for a moment what it would mean to the county if real estate values in District 18 declined by just 15%.

If you do the math, you'll see that this would cut our county revenues by 9%, or about $6.6 million! In these financial times, this is the last thing we want to have happen.

However, this is already happening. Several lake-front property owners have applied for, and been granted, a reduction in their real estate taxes based on reduced property values. While some of this loss of county revenue is due to the poor economy in general, some is also due to sediment accumulation in some coves of the lake that reduces the value of the property. To be sure, our "hair is not on fire," as there is time to fix these kinds of problems – and we have a number of such problems, but not a lot of time.

We need to recognize the benefit the lake affords our county and community. In order for revenues generated by the lake to continue, some effort must be made to assure the continued attractiveness of Deep Creek Lake for tourists and to maintain real estate values. As Deep Creek Lake is man-made, the effort to preserve the lake and its benefits to the county are not trivial. We need to take the necessary actions to preserve and husband our "goose that lays the golden eggs."

This is our county and our community. If we don't look out for its welfare, who will?

Teams Win

as well as the Think Award, which is given to the team that the judges feel best understands the role of the engineering notebook in the design process. Both teams were the top two finalists for the Rockwell Collins Innovate Award, which is given to the team that the judges feel has the most innovative and creative robot design solution to the FTC challenge to any or all specific field elements or components. Elements of this award include elegant design, robustness, and out-of-the-box thinking with regard to design.

Coach Arlene Lantz was also a finalist for the Compass Award, which recognizes an adult coach or mentor who has provided outstanding guidance and support for an FTC team throughout the year. The winner of the Compass Award is determined from candidates nominated by FTC team members, via a 40- to 60-second video submission, highlighting how the team's mentor has helped them become an outstanding team.

The teams hold weekly practices at Garrett Engineering And Robotics Society (GEARS) in McHenry, with the coaches there to supervise and guide the students. The students take the lead role in building and running their award-winning robots.

"During the season, I learned so many things, from design work to running power machines to teamwork and communication skills," stated Southern High School sophomore Alex Miske, who is new to the G-FORCE team this year. "A highlight for the season was having the chance to be on the drive team. We went undefeated at our first qualifier, and then I also got to drive at this competition. Being a part of this team has really changed my life and has set me on the path to an engineering career."

Lantz felt that a lot of success came from the leadership of the veteran FTC team members displayed in working with the rookie members this year to make them an integral part of the team.

The teams will continue working together during the off season promoting robotics at local, state, and national trainings and events, and continue building leadership and teamwork skills essential to today's work force.

a large budget shortfall. In the current year, Garrett County government is contributing $850,000 over maintenance of effort to our schools."

According to Del. Wendell Beitzel, the governor's proposed budget includes certain offsets to the teacher retirement shift by way of a disparity grant; however, the total shift for FY 2013 alone would cost Garrett County government $276,240 and Allegany County $554,075.

"The disparity grant is set to expire, and then the local jurisdictions have the entire burden," Betizel noted in his weekly e-mail to constituents.

BRFA is generally a part of the overall budget package released by the governor, Beitzel noted. It makes specific changes to already codified law regarding the appropriations of funds.

"During years with budget surpluses the BRFA is not needed," the delegate wrote. "However, this will be the fifth consecutive year that Governor O'Malley has introduced a BRFA during the legislative session. This year, as has been the practice during the O'Malley administration budget years, the BRFA not only is used to balance the current fiscal year's budget, but also makes or changes policy."

The act also includes the total elimination of the Maryland Mined Coal Tax Credit.

"This is also the fifth time that the governor has proposed such a legislative change," Beitzel wrote. "The tax credit is already slated to be eliminated in 2021. However, it has been the constant target of environmental groups over the years. As I have pointed out in previous editions of the newsletter, I believe that the elimination of this tax credit would be incredibly detrimental to western Maryland's local economy and would result in loss of jobs. The Garrett and Allegany County commissioners have also voiced their opposition to this elimination."

In addition, BRFA includes the elimination of the mortgage interest deduction.

"This is an important tax benefit received by homeowners," Beitzel noted. "This provision of the BRFA is being opposed by Maryland's real estate agents, who believe that should an elimination (of the tax) take place, would further imperil the already bleak housing market. This is another take on 'tax the rich,' which really hurts the middle class and makes it harder for people to realize their dream of owning a home."

property into compliance by locating all items of property constituting "junk" under the county code.

In the event that the junk was too large in size, quantity, or mass to be located within an area not more than 1,000 square feet, Nelson was authorized to sequester and store such objects in an appropriate storage facility in Garrett County.

Two Garrett County sheriff's deputies were assigned to keep the peace during Nelson's enforcement action at the property on Sept. 12, 2011. The assault charges stemmed from a dispute between Kitzmiller and Nelson over how the process was being conducted, according to an officer's report in the court records.

In an unrelated case, Glen Firby, 22, Germantown, pleaded guilty to exceeding the maximum speed limit. Judge Jim Sherbin rendered a probation before judgment verdict. A fine of $80 and court costs totaling $135 were also imposed.

A Maryland State Police trooper clocked Firby going 74 mph in a 65 mph zone in the eastbound lane of I-68 near Finzel Road last September.

"The Health Department would like to remind individuals that if they find it necessary to dispatch wildlife due to contact with pets or humans, do not shoot the animals in the head, as the brain material is the portion of the animal tested for the virus," said the spokesperson. "In addition, persons should not handle pets or wildlife within two hours of an incident unless wearing gloves. Virus on the coats of pets will be dead after two hours of contact."

STUDENTS DONATE COMFY BABY BLANKETS – Broad Ford Elementary School's second grade classes donated baby receiving and fleece blankets to Broken Road Associates during the 2011 holiday season. Bill German, president and co-founder of Broken Road Associates, has partnered with Kathy Greaser, Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation director, in providing a warm, comfortable environment to welcome new additions to Garrett County families. To begin the partnership, a donation of 85 receiving blankets, 30 fleece blankets, and 20 knitted hats were donated to GCMH's Family Centered Maternity Suites. Pictured above with the Broad Ford Elementary second graders are Bill and Brittany German (the other cofounder of Broken Road Associates). Below is Bill German with the donation at GCMH.

Area Agency On Aging Seeking 100-Year-Olds

The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging (AAA) and the Community Action Committee Inc. are seeking to identify Garrett County citizens 100 years of age and older, and individuals who will be 100 by Dec. 31 of this year.

The AAA conducts this annual search in order to recognize these individuals at a luncheon hosted by the agency.

May is designated as Older Americans Month. In keeping with that, agencies throughout Maryland conduct various related activities. One such activity is a statewide centenarian luncheon held in the Baltimore area.

"Although our centenarians are invited to attend the statewide event, few if any are able to make such a long trip," said an agency spokesperson. "Therefore, we began hosting a local recognition luncheon for our 100-year-olds. We believe hosting a luncheon to recognize those persons who have reached such a milestone in their lives is only fitting."

Individuals who meet the criteria noted above or family or friends of a centenarian are asked to contact the AAA at 301-334-9431 or toll-free 1-888-877-8403 by March 23 with the individual's name, address, and phone number. Invitations will be mailed to all eligible individuals by April 10.

PERSONAL

George Friend, Aurora, prepares this week to go for another set of treatments for his leukemia. He will have blood work done on Tuesday. Friend has gotten along well since the first attempt at treatment and is doing this with anticipation.

Pastor Gary and Bonnie Meeks remain in Ohio at his mother's bedside. Her condition dictates this vigil.

Troy Judy returned home Friday after a visit with his doctor in Cumberland, where he was hospitalized on Sunday after a nosebleed proved he wasn't responding to usual treatment.

Wyatt Frantz developed a bad infection last week after visiting the dentist. He is the grandson of Rose Ina Harsh, and his parents, Donnie and Heather Frantz, are presently at an Illinois military base. He soon improved following the serious reaction.

An e-mail was received by Eglon resident Linda Lewis from Janet Broadwater, Parkersburg, indicating that Broadwater's father, Harold Hendrix, Vienna, had died early Sunday, Feb. 26. He was 84 and had been hospitalized for about three weeks attempting to recover from a massive heart attack. He was the husband of the late Betty Winters Hendrix, who is the daughter of the late Herbert and Susan Winters, former residents of Eglon/Horse Shoe Run.

Community Fund Launched In Preston Co.

The Tucker Community Foundation will strengthen its outreach in Preston County by seeding its first endowed area fund, the Preston Community Fund, according to spokespersons from the organization. Currently the foundation manages 80 endowed funds serving area causes, including some in Garrett County.

Endowed funds managed by the foundation are pooled to keep administrative costs low and invested for growth and income to provide a permanent source of funding. To initiate the fund Tucker Community Foundation will match Preston Community Fund donations made prior to Jan. 1, 2015, dollar-for-dollar up to $5,000.

Once the unrestricted Preston Community Fund has reached the minimum fund requirement of $10,000, an advisory committee from Preston County will be appointed to make recommendations on distributions based on a competitive application process.

Individuals and businesses that wish to donate to the fund should mail their tax deductible check to TCF, P.O. Box 491, Parsons, WV 26287. Checks should be made payable to TCF–PCF. Donations of any size are accepted.

Tucker Community Foundation currently manages more than 80 endowed funds serving charitable causes, projects and organizations throughout Barbour, Grant, Mineral, Preston, Pocahontas, Randolph, and Tucker County, W.Va., and Garrett County, Md. Income generated by each fund is distributed as a grant or scholarship award.

The foundation was started in 1989 as a tax-exempt public charity. It is one of more than 700 community foundations nationwide that offer and manage permanent funds intended for local use. It is a member of Council on Foundations and a founding member of West Virginia Grantmakers (WVG). Since its inception Tucker Community Foundation has distributed more than $4 million in grant and scholarship awards throughout the region.

For more information, persons may contact the foundation office at 304-478-2930 or visit www.tuckerfoundation.net.

GERALD A. BISER

Gerald Allen (Jerry) Biser, 93, Statesboro, Ga., died on Saturday, March 25, 2012, at the Ogeechee Area Hospice Inpatient Facility.

Born on Aug. 26, 1918, in Thomas, W.Va., he was a son of the late Elza O. and Lillie Mosser Biser. He was also preceded in death by his loving wife, Emily Turner Biser; four brothers; and one sister.

In 1941, he married the love of his life, Emily, with whom he shared a loving and happy marriage for 58 years until her death in 1999. Together they enjoyed gardening, fishing, and serving their Lord at Emit Grove Baptist Church. He was a man of wisdom and knowledge, which he conveyed to his children and grandchildren.

After his precious wife passed away, he enjoyed making wooden baskets and giving them away to family and friends. He enjoyed fishing and hunting, and especially enjoyed camping and fishing at the river. He also loved cutting his own firewood.

He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Upon his discharge, he settled in Statesboro, where he experienced different occupations. He retired from Grinnell Corporation, where he was a maintenance worker.

He was the oldest member of the Emit Grove Baptist Church, faithfully serving for 64 years. He was ordained as a deacon in June of 1964, and was currently a deacon emeritus. He enjoyed attending Sunday school, where he was a member of the Faithful Workers Class. His church family was very special, and giving his wooden baskets to new members brought him great joy.

He is survived by one daughter; Geraldine Stephens and spouse Ray, Statesboro; one son, Sonny Biser and spouse Carol, Statesboro; five grandchildren; Steve McDaniel and spouse Cathy, Statesboro, Neal McDaniel and spouse Dino, East Bernstadt, Ky., Cyndi McDaniel and companion Amy Bray, Hastings, Neb., Jennifer Thatcher and spouse Bill, Duluth, Ga., and Jeffrey Biser and fiancée Jacklyn Brannen, Statesboro; six great-grandchildren; five great-great-grandchildren; two brothers, Marshall Biser and spouse Frances, Senoia, Ga., and Warren Biser and spouse Harriett, Glendale, Ariz.; two sisters, Mildred Graham and spouse Bill, Morgantown, W.Va., and Faye Schmidt, Swanton; and several nieces and nephews.

Friends were received at Joiner-Anderson Funeral Home.

A funeral service was conducted on Tuesday, Feb. 28, at Emit Grove Baptist Church, with Rev. Tim Huffingham officiating, assisted by Rev. Hubert Tankersley.

Pallbearers were his grandsons. Honorary pallbearers were the members of the Faithful Workers Sunday school class.

The family requests that memorial contributions be made to Ogeechee Area Hospice, P.O. Box 531, Statesboro, GA 30459.

Robert Earl White, 97, Thomas, W.Va., passed away at his home on Friday, Feb. 24, 2012.

Born Feb. 16, 1915, in Long Hollow, Tucker County, he was a son of the late Morris Lakin White and Mary Lepha Wotring White. He was also preceded in death by five brothers, Dale, Blaine, Taylor, Ralph, and Kenneth White; and two sisters, Elizabeth Close and Gwendolyn Hebb.

He married his wife of 68 years, Mary Gladys Luzier White, on Aug. 10, 1935, who also preceded him in death in 2003.

Mr. White worked in the woods and coal mines before entering the U.S. Army. After his discharge from the Army, he and his brother-in-law, Bill Hauser, worked at an automotive garage in Aurora, W.Va. Bob then worked as a mechanic and welding instructor at the Davis (W.Va.) Center.

After retirement, he enjoyed woodworking and photography. He was a lifelong member of Thomas United Methodist Church.

He is survived by three brothers, Jerry and Morris White, both of St. George W.Va., and foster brother Delford J. Cool, Oakland; three sisters, Betty L. White, St. George, Effie "Dot" Dumire, Aurora, and Madeline Messiora, Morgantown, W.Va.; lifelong friends Boone and Carol Pase and their children, Tammy and Danny Pase; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Friends were received at Hinkle Funeral Home, Davis, where a service was conducted on Monday, Feb. 27, with the Rev. Pat Cassidy officiating. Interment followed in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Online condolences may be offered to the family at www.hinklefuneralhome.com.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I heard my first pre-dawn bird noise this morning, Sunday, Feb. 26. It is the virtual end of February, thank goodness. The first hint of light was barely showing over Meadow Mountain when that bird gave voice. Most of the time, that wakes me up, but I was awake before because my mind is still too busy. Why must I now process everything that happened to me as a student in the University of Maryland theater department?

They didn't give any awards to outstanding students in any graduating class, as did the WVU School of Social Work, which honored my Caitlin in 2010. A theater department is very different from most university departments. It is far more diverse, with performers in very different aspects of theater. There is simply a divide between the performers and the technical people. Rarely is that divide crossed. And it is not mainly determined by student's grades or course work.

I was close to the top, at least on required courses for my degree, as I was only a tiny bit below a perfect 4.0 average. But since I was a dreadful performer in both Introduction to Acting and Modern Dance, I got C's in those classes. However, I had A's in some of the most challenging courses in upper English, like Shakespeare, which is a really hard course.

After one examination about Shakespeare history, all my friends in that course looked at their grades and were horrified and dismayed. They got D's, probably for the first time in their lives. I had to slink away from that class so they wouldn't learn that I got 100 percent, which is ridiculous. I couldn't believe it, and I knew that it would cause severe resentment from my friends.

It was not a multiple-choice exam. Instead, we had to write out answers, which was always easy for me. We had to identify about 25 characters from a Shakespeare history play and state what their role was in the story. Since quite a few were various dukes, and most female names were either Ann or Elizabeth, it was not easy.

I just found out that this weekend is the NBA All-Star weekend. I probably should pay more attention to the NBA overall. It is still a good while before baseball really gets running. I can't wait. Because professional baseball, especially with the Pittsburgh Pirates, is my pro sport choice.

I enjoy college basketball, so it is reasonable to think that I would like to watch the best basketball players with the most skill sets. They deserve the big money they are earning. They deserve it more than garden-ordinary Wall Street executives.

I never hear any national leaders talk about how the housing crisis has such a terrible impact on many millions of children. Their whole lives are turned upside down, so it is not surprising that their school performance is worse. It seems like most leaders have a view simply of a financial crisis. At the same time, they might lose a trusted teacher due to the state's budget cutting.

Yes, Rick Santorum, it takes a family. Yes, that is terribly important, but what if the child's family is in trouble, like with job losses or even the loss of the family's home? Those things take a serious toll on adult mental health, so maybe it is difficult to perform their parental duty at the highest level. Suppose their whole neighborhood is in the same position?

That is why I am progressive, or dare I say, liberal. It was hard enough for my daughters when my illness rocked their world. It not only lowered our family's income, but there was also less time for my extended family to pay close attention to my girls' shaky emotions. Hillary Clinton was so right when she said that "it takes a village."

Claire was lucky that she was in fourth grade and not tiny when I was stricken. I think it was very thoughtful that her teacher gave her some nice items out of her closet. No doubt they were not important articles of clothing, and ready to be replaced. But they were something new for Claire.

And my middle daughter Caity had just started kindergarten with a very mild learning disability and frankly scared to death about what had happened to me. She was so lucky to have the kind-hearted and loving kindergarten teacher Sharon Platter to help her.

We need to raise awareness of people who suffer from disabilities. Thomas Edison believed he was too dumb to even attend school because of his deafness. He showed that he had a remarkable mind, and gave us all kinds of things that advanced our living standard, from electric lights to phonographs. Equally, Helen Keller, in spite of both blindness and deafness, proved she could learn and live a rather extraordinary life.

I don't believe I can stand much more of the nonsense of the extreme "Right," or what I have to call "the Wrong." I seriously doubt that what I write in this column can change anything of what I loosely call the "mind" of many conservatives. I know I am way outnumbered around here. That is horribly depressing, but an undeniable fact.

Thank goodness a new business actually performs a valuable service. Comfort Keepers provides home-based care for the elderly. There is no reason to warehouse human beings. Someone should open a franchise around here. The qualifications for those kind of jobs are to be a compassionate, sensitive person. That is a good type of work for both homemakers who seek some income and young people with the right kind of personality.

I would like to explore an area of higher education. business school. I can't even imagine what they study there. Many business school students focus strictly on the financial sector, leading to work on Wall Street. It seems that far fewer are studying how to create business and industry. Most graduate-level business students learn to move money – to make money by manipulating money, not real entrepreneurship. How odd. It is totally foreign to me.

No wonder our economy is stagnant. It is based on the structure of the Wall Street financial service sector, and any money made in big business is merely moved to various places and institutions. It is nothing beyond various kinds of spreadsheets with a bunch of seemingly meaningless numbers with various players manipulating them to get the right numbers in the right place. Sounds pretty soul-less, and must feel pretty meaningless.

I got a campaign brochure for a Democratic candidate for our district for United States Congress. And that is pretty important, because we people from western Maryland have a decent candidate to replace our long-suffering (too long) Republican Congressman Roscoe Bartlett. It is most important to end gridlock and poor functioning of the federal government.

The U.S. Postal Service is in the American Constitution as an essential service for the American people. But the USPS has announced it is going to fire 50,000 postal workers, who will join the ranks of the unemployed. At the same time, if you still mail your payments for bills, it will take longer than before for them to be delivered. A whole bunch of those lay-offs from the Postal Service will be in Cumberland.

A spaghetti dinner benefiting Phil Workman Sr. will be held Saturday, March 17, from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Deep Creek fire hall. All proceeds will go toward the Workman family's travel and expenses to and from Ruby Memorial and the Cancer Center.

Midweek Lenten services will continue next week with a Taize candlelight service at 6:30 p.m. on March 7 at St. John's Lutheran Church of Meadow Mountain. The service will be followed with a meal, and all are invited.

The three churches of the Bittinger Parish observed Bold Women Sunday to celebrate women who have acted or who are acting boldly on their faith in Jesus Christ. Following the services, women of the parish met at the home of Lesa Whittemore for a light lunch and fellowship.

"Quilt the County" Day was yesterday, Feb. 29, at Emmanuel. People from the community worked on quilts for donation to the House of Hope for distribution to Garrett County families in need.

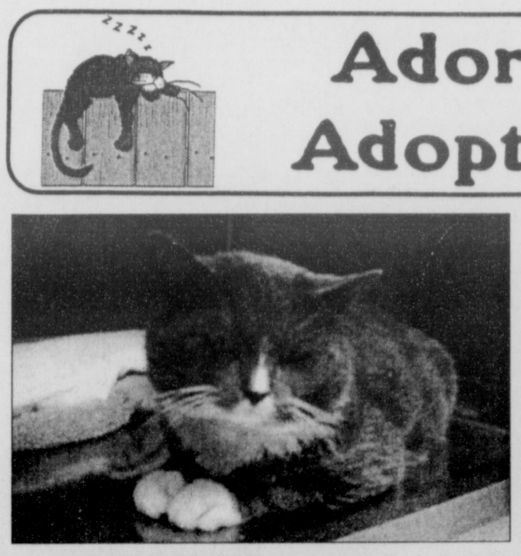
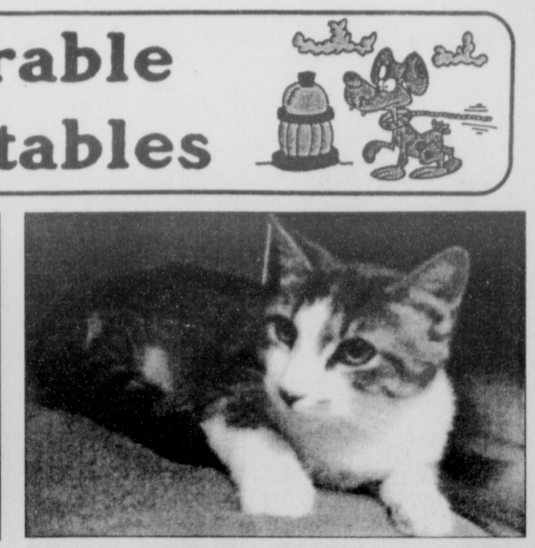
Adorable Adoptables





TWO STRAY FELINES are currently housed at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Above left is a large male grey tuxedo that was found in Mtn. Lake Park. Above right is a young male tabby that was trapped in Oakland and brought to the shelter. Also in need of homes are a female brown/black hound (below left) that was dropped off at the shelter after hours and a small black mixed breed canine (below right) with no ID tags that was dropped off at the Accident post office. "These and other pets are available for adoption," said a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson. "Last week, HART was able to take several dogs to rescues, and two were reclaimed by their owners this week. Plus, the large male black/white tuxedo feline was finally adopted. More than 100 spay/neuter vouchers were given out on World Spay Day, Feb. 28, by the Garrett County Humane Society. We are a nonprofit, volunteer organization that does not operate the shelter, but rather provides a year-round spay/neuter program and responds to the many animal neglect calls. Make sure your pets have shelter from the wind, rain, and snow, and that their food is also protected from the elements." For more information, persons may call the animal shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the county-operated facility is open Monday through Friday. Photos courtesy of the GC Humane Society.

ELKS AWARD

David "Kent" Burrell Sr. recently attended the Oakland Elks Lodge #2481 appreciation dinner and received an award for Fireman of the Year 2011–12 for his dedicated service to the Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department and the community.

HONORED WITH ELKS AWARD – David "Kent" Burrell Sr. was honored recently at the Oakland Elks Lodge #2481 appreciation dinner, where he received one of the awards for Fireman of the Year for 2011–2012. He was recognized for his dedicated service to the Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department as well as the community. "They say that the strength of the community is determined by the fabric of its citizens," said Elk Sandy Brantner (pictured presenting Burrell the award). "He is one of the community's strongest threads. He's a good citizen and a great neighbor, and always ready to respond to a need."

HUSKY Notes

HUSKY SOFTBALL TEAM TO HOLD HITTING/PITCHING CLINIC

On Saturday, March 17, the Northern High School softball team will hold a hitting and pitching clinic at the school. The clinic is open to students in grades 3 through 12. Those in grades 3 through 6 will practice from 10 a.m. to noon after registration, which begins at 9:30 a.m. Those in grades 7 through 12 will practice from 1 to 4 p.m., following a registration that will begin at 12:30 p.m. The cost for the younger group is set at $25. The cost for the older group is set at $30. There will be a special pitching session available for an additional $5 fee. Pitchers will be required to bring their own gear, as well as arrange for someone to catch for them. Northern FFA Receives "Food For All" Grant

The North Garrett FFA chapter has been awarded $2,500 as part of the inaugural FFA: Food For All program. The nationwide program provides grant money to local FFA chapters to support yearlong service-learning projects focused on developing and implementing sustainable hunger relief projects.

The North Garrett FFA plans to help fight hunger by producing pork, potatoes, and vegetables for the food programs offered by the Garrett County Community Action Committee. In conjunction with the University of Maryland Extension and Community Action, several educational programs will be offered throughout the county.

"Joining forces with the North Garrett FFA will be a great aid in providing items that are usually not available to our participants," said Beverly Carvell, content specialist 1 at Garrett County Community Action. "We are looking forward to the fresh vegetables and locally produced pork provided by our local FFA students. What a fine collaboration!"

The FFA: Food For All grant program is administered by the National FFA Organization, with funding provided by Farmers Feeding the World and the Howard G. Buffett Foundation. The program provided $330,000 to FFA chapters in 41 states. More information about the program can be found at www.FFA.org/foodforall.

CHAPTERS CELEBRATE FFA WEEK – Both local chapters of the FFA are celbrating National FFA Week, which is Feb. 18 to 25. The theme is "I Believe," and several activities were planned. The Southern High FFA conducted a community outreach and traveled to various Garrett County elementary schools to read agriculturally related books to pre-kindergarten and kindergarten classes. A copy of the book was also donated to each respective school. Throughout the week, the group raised student awareness of agriculture and the FFA by broadcasting agricultural and FFA facts during morning announcements and handing out FFA dinner mints to all students at lunch. At Northern High School, awareness was raised through hat day, ice cream sandwiches for all students on one day, a soup and sandwich luncheon for staff, and a game that involved guessing the number of corn kernels in a jar. Pictured above left are members of the 2012 SHS FFA Week committee. In the front row, from left, are Victoria Varner and Andrea Davis. In the second row are Jenny Jones, Lucas Muenchow, Kenya Rinker, and Christine Welch. In the third row are Devin DeWitt, Jackalyn Wolf, Michael Welch, and Warren Wright. In the back are Charlie Harvey, Hunter Massey, Logan Tichinel, and Colt Mason. Pictured above right are members of the Northern FFA after they presented a pewter paperweight to Gary Reichenbecher, principal; and Edwards, assistant principal, in observance of FFA week. In the front row, from left, are Toby Grove, president; Derrica Friend, reporter; Ashley Edmonds, secretary, Kayla McKenzie, secretary, and Austin Lowdermilk, vice president. In the back are Edwards; Tristan Devalk, treasurer; Ryan Palmer, vice president; Colton Grove vice president; Tyler Gilpin, vice president; Adam Opel, sentinel; Cody Savage, junior advisor; and Reichenbecher. Farm Service Agency Reports

Eric M. McCartney, County Executive Director
Preston County FSA Office
157 Plaza CT., Suite 13, Kingwood, WV 26537-1793

DEADLINE FOR NAP AND CROP INSURANCE COVERAGE FAST APPROACHING

Eric McCartney, executive director of USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Preston County, reminds producers that the March 15 deadline to obtain coverage under the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) and Federal Crop Insurance for spring seeded crops will soon be here.

NAP provides coverage to producers for non-insurable crops when low yields, loss of inventory, or prevented planting occur due to natural disasters. Crops eligible for NAP coverage are those for which crop insurance is not available, including fruits and vegetables, aquaculture, and forage crops. Producers must apply for NAP coverage before a disaster strikes.

A service fee of $250 per crop, per producer with a $750 cap per county, not to exceed $1,875 for any producer, applies. Service fees may be waived for eligible limited resource producers. NAP applications for coverage must be filed and service fees paid by the applicable closing date. Application closing dates vary by crop. The application closing date for 2012 annual crops, such as vegetables, is March 15.

Producers are also reminded that the final date to obtain crop insurance for corn and oats is also March 15. Current policyholders also have until March 15 to make any changes to their existing contracts. Crop insurance provides protection against losses from natural perils such as drought, hail, wind, and excessive moisture.

Producers are encouraged to contact a local crop insurance agent as soon as possible for premium quotes and more details. A list of crop insurance agents is available from the Farm Service Agency, located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza, or by telephoning 304-329-1923. Persons may also log on to the USDA's Risk Management Agency web site at http://www3.rma.usda.gov/tools/agents/.

The 2008 Farm Bill stipulates that for producers to maintain eligibility in FSA's supplemental disaster programs, all noninsurable crops on the farm must be covered by NAP. Likewise, all insurable crops produced on the farm must have federal crop insurance coverage.

NORTHERN FFA RECEIVES GRANT – The North Garrett FFA recently received a $2,500 grant as part of the inaugural FFA: Food For All program. The group will use it to produce pork, potatoes, and vegetables for the food programs offered by the Garrett County Community Action Committee. See story for details. Pictured from left are FFA officers Toby Grove, president; Derrica Friend, reporter; Ashley Edmonds, secretary; Kayla McKenzie, secretary; and Austin Lowdermilk, vice president. Back row: Tristan DeValk, treasurer; Ryan Palmer, vice president; Colton Grove, vice president; Tyler Gilpin, vice president; Adam Opel, sentinel; and Cody Savage, junior advisor.

Agronomy Day Conference Set March 9 At GC

The University of Maryland Extension has teamed up with Southern States Cooperative to sponsor the Western Maryland Agronomy Conference on Friday, March 9, at Garrett College. Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m.

The day will feature a total of 14 presentations from industry and the Extension on crop production topics ranging from nutrient management to corn marketing and weed control.

A spokesperson noted that two concurrent sessions will be held throughout the day, so participants are sure to find a topic of interest.

For a complete schedule, persons may visit one of the local Southern States stores or contact the Extension office.

Local seed, chemical, and fertilizer dealers will be available in a vendor area to share the latest products and services. Credits will be available for Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia private applicator pesticide renewal, Maryland Nutrient Applicator vouchers and Nutrient Management Consultant credits.

Persons should register by March 5 with the Garrett County Extension Office by calling 301-334-6960. The fee for the meetings is $10, which includes lunch. Southern States is offering a $10 in-store coupon for patrons who attend the meeting.

Deadline Nears For 2012 GCAC Grant Applications

The Garrett County Arts Council issued a reminder this week that persons wishing to apply for grant funding from the organization must complete the applications by March 21.

Applications are accepted from non-profit and community organizations needing support for public arts programs and projects scheduled in Garrett County between July 1 of this year and June 30, 2013.

Applications must be mailed or delivered to the Garrett County Arts Council on or before March 21 to qualify for funding consideration.

According to Karen Reckner, executive director, one of the primary purposes of the Garrett County Arts Council is to support community arts development and the public presentation of local arts programs through this grant program. Funding support is provided by the Garrett County commissioners, the Maryland State Arts Council, and the members of the Garrett County Arts Council.

During the current year, the Garrett County Arts Council has provided $45,000 in funding support to nearly 20 local organizations for arts programming and related efforts.

Application forms, eligibility guidelines, and program requirements are available at the GCAC office along Alder Street in Oakland. Persons may also call the office at 301-334-6580.

Additional information about the Garrett County Arts Council and scheduled community arts events is available online at www.garrettarts.com.

PUPPET SHOW SET AT FSU – The Cultural Events Series at Frostburg State University will presents John Tartaglia's ImaginOcean on Thursday, March 8. The public performance begins at 7 p.m. in the Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall of the university's Lane University Center. This program is a black-light puppet show created by Tony Award nominee John Tartaglia. During this undersea musical show, three fish friends, Tank, Bubbles, and Dorsel, swim off on a treasure hunt. Along the way, they sing and dance to styles of music ranging from big band to R&B. Show creator Tartaglia is a master puppeteer who joined the Sesame Street team at the age of 16 and has since worked on many high-profile Broadway productions, including the Tony-winning musical Avenue Q. He played the role of Lumière in Broadway's Beauty and the Beast, and the role of Pinocchio in Shrek the Musical. Tickets are $12 for adults and $7 for youth under 17. Corporate and group discount rates are also available. For more information, persons may contact the CES box office at 301-687-3137 or visit the CES web page at ces.frostburg.edu. This program is presented with funding support from the Kathleen Dailey Hill Private Foundation, the M&T Charitable Foundation, and the FSU Foundation Inc.

LONE WOLF
by Jodi Picoult
c. 2012, Emily Bestler Books/Atria, $28; 432 pages
Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Your mother often said you were born in a barn.

That's because it seemed like you were always going ape, laughing like a hyena, and horsing around. Surely, you drove her batty until she didn't think she could bear another minute of you, but secretly, Mom probably didn't mind. She knew you were healthy as a horse, and, really, one look at those puppy-dog eyes and your monkeyshines were always forgiven.

You were a wild child, and then you grew out of it – much to the relief of your loved ones. But in the new novel Lone Wolf by Jodi Picoult, Luke Warren embraced the animal in himself and in doing so, he destroyed his family.

Luke Warren never really wanted fame.

As a biologist, he never thought he'd write a book or become a TV star. Reticent, almost hermit-like, what Luke really wanted was for his research to help people understand that real wolves aren't like the ones in fairy tales. Wolves have a unique culture, an explicit way of communicating, and family is everything. They're also more afraid of humans than humans are of them.

And Luke knew that because he lived for two years in the

OTT To Host Auditions For Play: Distracted

Auditions for the play Distracted will be held at Our Town Theatre in Oakland on Sunday, March 11, and Monday, March 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. Persons may also call the theatre at 301-334-5640, ext. 3, to schedule an audition appointment.

A cast of nine women (ages 20-60) and five men (ages 20-65) is needed for the production, which is scheduled for April 17-22.

The play explores the issue of attention deficit disorder (ADD), according to Jane Avery, director.

"What's wrong with 11-year-old Jesse? He can't sit still, he curses, he raps, and you can't get him into – or out of – pajamas. His teacher thinks it's ADD but Dad says, "He's just a boy!" And Mama's on a quest for answers," Avery said. "Is Jesse dysfunctional or just different? Don't we all have ADD, to some degree? The mother consults a psychologist, a homeopath, a neuro-psychologist, and an environmental physician in her search to help Jesse."

Avery said this is a "hilarious, provocative, and poignant look at a modern family and the epidemic dilemma of ADD."

This play is being funded in part by the arts councils of Maryland and Garrett County, and will be produced via a special arrangement with Dramatists Play Inc.

Date Changed For NHS Music Dept. Fundraiser

There has been a change in the date for the second annual "Evening at the Pops" Dinner/Concert fundraiser being hosted by the music department of Northern Garrett High School.

As a result of unforeseen circumstances, this event will now take place on Friday, March 16. (It was originally slated for March 2). The doors will open at 6 p.m. in the school's cafetorium, and dinner will be served at 6:30. Music will begin at 7.

The catered dinner will be preprared by Jearbryo's Restaurant of McHenry and will include salad, meat or vegetarian lasagna, baked rigatoni, dessert, and beverage.

The evening's musical entertainment will feature solos, duets, trios, and small ensembles. The stage band will perform, plus perhaps other small instrumental and vocal ensembles.

This event is open to the public. Tickets are $18 for adults and $14 for students. Children younger than 5 years will be admitted free of charge.

Tickets are available from any Northern High music student, or by contacting Duane Salisbury, director of bands, at Northern High School: 301-746-8668 or 301-895-5434.

All proceeds will benefit the Northern Garrett High School Music Boosters and the music department for a planned spring trip to New York City.

FSU To Promote Culture With Open Mic Event

Frostburg State University's Department of Mass Communications will present two Open Mic Nights on Thursday, March 8, and Thursday, March 15, from 5:30 to 10 p.m. in the Lane University Center Loft. This event is free and open to the public.

The Open Mic Nights are a part of the university's Mind Culture Original Music Project. According to a spokesperson, the goal of the Mind Culture project is to produce a full-length music CD with original music from local area and student artists.

Participants in the open mic sessions will have time slots assigned at 5 p.m. and will be invited to submit work to be considered for inclusion on this year's CD, and also perform in a live show near the end of the semester at a local venue.

"This is not just for students; we really want the residents of the surrounding area to get involved," said Dr. John Lombardi, Department of Mass Communication chair.

"We call it the Mind Culture Original Music Project because the goal is to promote local artists and their original material. It also gives students an opportunity to learn more about music promotions by participating in the project."

Those interested in further information about the Mind Culture Original Music Project may attend one of the Open Mic Night events or contact the Department of Mass Communication at 301-687-3049 or mcom@frostburg.edu.

FSU is committed to making all of its programs, services and activities accessible to persons with disabilities. To request accommodations through the ADA Compliance Office one may call 301-687-4102 or use a voice relay operator at 1-800-735-2258.

points, 34-31, with a couple of free throws by Kambrie Bosley.

From that point on, the Sentinels outscored the Rams 18-12, with Fort Hill's Mariah James supplying half of that output on two field goals and 5-for-7 shooting from the foul line.

"Fort Hill played great defense on us tonight which caused us a lot of unforeseen problems," said Coach Bosley.

"We preach to our players about the importance of tough defense, and I'll tell you, Fort Hill played some tough defense tonight. There are things we could have done better, but the credit lies with the Fort Hill defense."

Rams Topple Huskies, Host Campers In Tonight's West Sectional Matchup

It was intra-county rivalry time Tuesday night, playoff style, as Southern High School bested Northern High School, 63-40, in the Maryland Class 1A West Region quarterfinal.

Winning the game, which was played in Oakland, has advanced the Rams (18-5) into today's west sectional matchup with Allegany. The Huskies' season has concluded, however, after a run of 6-18 overall.

Southern's game will tip off this evening at 7 p.m. on the Rams' home court.

Hosting the Huskies, Southern's D.J. Ritchie netted 21 points and snagged six rebounds, while teammate Kurt Gangler scored 18 points to lead a second-half surge in the win.

Northern was hampered early by its own sluggish start, and found itself trailing early, 18-11, after the first quarter.

That trend continued throughout the game, as Southern doubled its lead going into halftime, 33-19, before blowing the game wide open in the third period.

The Rams took a 26-point lead into the final minutes, as the third quarter ended 52-26.

Northern made adjustments in the fourth quarter, increasing its offensive output and outscoring the Rams, though it was too little too late, as Southern cruised to its 23-point victory.

Husky Patrick Sines refused to go down without a fight, however, and tallied 20 points in the contest.

Against Allegany tonight, Southern will face a team coming off a 73-59 win over Fort Hill. In that game, Camper Tylor Jessie had a double-double performance (30 points, 16 rebounds) against the Sentinels.

The Rams are 1-1 this season against the Campers, losing the two teams' first regular season meeting back in December, in which Jessie put up 30 points and hauled in 20 rebounds in the Campers' 87-71 win in Cumberland.

In its second regular season meeting with Southern, however, Allegany was treated to a 74-52 loss in Oakland.

Northern Tops Hancock In West 1A Play Before Falling At Southern High

The boys' basketball team of Northern High School took a win over Hancock, 69-52, in the first round of the Maryland 1A West Region playoffs on Friday. The Huskies were eliminated from the tournament at Southern, however, on Tuesday in the rivals' round two matchup (see other story).

In its win over Hancock, Northern trailed after one quarter, 10-9, but roared from behind to take a 29-27 lead into the break.

The Huskies had trailed 27-21 with the closing minutes of the second quarter ticking away, but claimed their two-point advantage at the break before picking things right up in the third period and extending their mid-game run to 20-5.

In fact, Northern maintained the momentum throughout the final two periods, outscoring the Panthers 40-25 through the second half.

"I told them that the lead was good and I was proud of them (at halftime)," said Oliver Jones, Northern head coach.

"I told them to build on the lead, and let's see if we can try to run away with it."

The Huskies had three of their key players reach double digits in the contest, with game-high honors going to Tyler Yutzy, who finished with 19 points. Right behind Yutzy were Huskies Patrick Sines and Jeremy Bender with

Southern Levels Mtn. Ridge, Falls At Fort Hill In Season Ending Loss

The Southern High School girls' varsity basketball team leveled Mountain Ridge, 46-37, while hosting Monday's second-round Maryland 1A West Region game, but its season came to a close on Wednesday night at Fort Hill, 52-43, in a semifinal playoff matchup in Cumberland.

Against Mountain Ridge, Southern clamped down defensively in the third quarter to outscore the Miners, 15-4, breaking open what had been a four-point game at the half.

Hannah Horne led the Rams with 15 points, while Raeslee Weimer scored 11 points. Alycia Horner was Southern's top rebounder in the game, snagging nine, four of which came off the offensive glass.

"It was a close game up to halftime," said Southern head coach Danny Bosley.

"We kind of took over in the third quarter, holding them to four points, which was the big thing."

The Rams held the lead, 11-8, at the end of the first period and were up 20-16 at the half, before lighting up the Miners in the third quarter and taking a 35-20 advantage into the fourth quarter.

Mountain Ridge was led by the offensive game of Shae Winner, who netted a game-high 21 points. Teammate Carlie Lewis knocked down eight points.

At Fort Hill, the game began with a tough defensive struggle between Southern and the Sentinels. Neither team had scored in the first quarter until Fort Hill's Kayla Hutson converted a 3-point play with 5:39 before the break, giving her team a 3-0 lead.

The Sentinels led 9-5 at the end of that first quarter, but the Rams tied it two minutes into the second period. Fort Hill then went on an 8-0 run before taking a seven-point advantage into the half, 20-13.

Southern's Horne opened the third quarter with six quick points, pulling the Rams within striking distance. The Sentinels managed to extend their lead, however, before the end of the third period at 32-24.

Each time the Rams pulled closer to overtaking Fort Hill their opponent seemed to come up with big scoring drives. With 5:36 remaining in the fourth quarter, Southern cut the lead to three

NORTHERN MAT CLUB COMPETES IN STATE TOURNAMENT – The Northern Mat Club recently competed in the Maryland Wrestling Association for Youth (MDWAY) State Wrestling Tournament held in the University of Maryland, Baltimore County's Retriever Activities Center. Northern had the following grapplers place in their respective divisions: Nate Durst, 2nd place; Shane Fink, 3rd place; Chance Ritchey, 3rd place; Luke Lowery, 4th place; and Luke Artice, 6th place. Also competing were Paul Zimmerman, Cross Ritchey, and Jamison Warnick. Pictured front and center in the photo above is Shane Fink. In the first row, from left, are Luke Artice, Nate Durst, Luke Lowery, and Paul Zimmerman. In the back row are head coach Bruce Opel and assistant coach Randy Fink.

NAMED TO ALL-CONFERENCE FIRST TEAM – Following the inaugural Capital Athletic Conference Championships held in York, Pa., the Frostburg State University track and field teams had seven student athletes placed on the 2012 All-CAC Indoor teams. Five Bobcats earned all-league first team honors after earning victories in their respective events, including former Southern High School standout Samantha Taylor, pictured, who was so honored after winning the pole vault with an ECAC qualifying height of 3.20 meters. FSU head coach Dale Luy was named 2012 CAC Men's Indoor Coach of the Year. Both the FSU men and women return to action this weekend at the ECAC Championships at the NYC Armory.

Every Northern player who took to the court scored at least a point, as the Huskies spread the ball around with precision.

Hancock was paced by Donnie O'Brien's 15 points, while teammate Vinnie Foreman finished with 10 points.

"There was a big momentum shift right before the half," explained Hancock coach Tom Flowers. "I give Northern Garrett credit, they did what they needed to do to win."

The victory over the Panthers gave Northern a 6-17 overall record. The Huskies have concluded their season at 6-18, following Tuesday's loss to Southern.

Southern finishes its season at 16-8 overall.

people, and operates a satellite office in Grantsville. The paper is published each Thursday. To the best knowledge of the company owners, a week has not passed without publication since the paper's beginning. So today's issue should be the 7,021st Republican printed.

The commercial shop was initiated by B.H., who did most of that work by himself for many years, printing business cards and stationary and many other items for area businesses and individuals. He slowly added staff members over the years, including his son Mose, who worked in the commercial shop his entire career, and who was followed in that position by his son Robert ("Bob"), who remained there until his death in 2003.

The shop continues to operate, producing printed materials, such as posters, tickets, brochures, invitations, stationary, business cards, posters, and others items.

The newspaper has a circulation of approximately 11,000, combining the 9,500 mailed papers and the 1,455 online subscriptions. The paper is mailed to virtually every state in the country, and is viewed online internationally every week.

The web site address for the newspaper is www.therepublicannews.com. It is a paid site, with a fee of $9.95 per year to view a wide range of items from the hard copy of the newspaper.

As newspapers struggle nationally in the rapidly changing publishing world, The Republican faces its challenges as well, according to the company's owners. The explosion of the Internet, the woes of the U.S. Postal Service, and the recent difficult economy have definitely affected Sincell Publishing, but the paper remains an important and vital part of community life in Garrett County, and the staff is dedicated to maintaining that role.

The leadership of the company is working to stay in step with online publishing, and hopes to be able to offer the entire newspaper online perhaps within the year, or soon afterward. However, the press will also continue to operate as long as there is a demand, and as long as the materials to publish a newspaper remain available.

The staff in the early 1900s consisted of B.H. and Mose Sincell, and Marie Little. That was the roster for many years. The current staff is as follows:

Newsroom, in addition to D. Sincell: Mary Sincell McEwen (co-owner), Renee Shreve, Rachel Sincell Vecchioni, Brenda Ruggiero (who works at the Grantsville office), and Kyle Lantz. The photographer and company secretary is John McEwen, also a co-owner.

Advertising department: Lisa Rook, manager, and representatives Connie Reams, Jody Freeland, Patti Grose, and Fabian Green.

Commercial shop: Beth Bowers, manager; Richard Hill, graphic designer; Matthew Vecchioni and Eric King, printers; and finisher Michael Ware.

Pressmen: Tom Swiger, Gary King, and Matthew Miller.

Jerry Stewart is an office manager, and Linda Gibson is the receptionist. Lisa Broadwater manages the Grantsville office, and Donna Aspinall is the company proofreader. Billing is handled by Jessica Hoover, and the circulations manager is Ellie Paugh.

ATTENTION TEACHERS

Next week is Newspapers In Education (NIE) Week, and in celebration of that event, all area teachers are encouraged to use The Republican newspaper in a classroom project. Any teacher interested in having extra copies of next week's issue of The Republican for the classroom is asked to call the main office at 301-334-2962 or e-mail marym@therepublicannews.com by Tuesday, March 6, at noon. The papers will be donated free of charge to all requesting teachers.

Information will be included in the issue about free online tools available to teachers for lesson planning. First introduced for NIE Week 2002, this year's curriculum has been updated to include standardized lesson plans which include common core standards, technology standards, leveled activities, and assessments. Everything can be downloaded free of charge. The website is located at nieonline.com.

This curriculum is organized by units, so teachers can pick and choose what works in conjunction with their curriculum and students. Each unit includes several lessons that can be taught consecutively in two, three, four, or five days, or used independently. Each lesson is specifically designed to include instructional objectives, applicable standards, a list of materials, an anticipatory set, instructional procedures, a formative assessment for each lesson within a unit and resources associated with that particular lesson, if applicable. Adaptations and accommodations for ELL students and those with special learning needs are provided, as well as summative assessment tools.

The staff of The Republican encourages all teachers to take advantage of this offer, and to utilize the community newspaper in their classrooms sometime this month. Please contact the office by Tuesday, March 6, at noon to request extra copies.

EARNS RUNNER-UP TROPHY – Hunter Sanders, a first-year member of the Southern Mat Club, earned a second place trophy in the Laurel Highland's Novice Tournament, held Sunday in Uniontown, Pa. Cardin Criticizes

The deficit-strapped USPS released a plan last Thursday calling for cuts to more than 220 mail processing facilities nationwide, a strategy Cardin called "short-sighted" and predicted would lead to a further decline in fortunes for the agency.

"Closing the processing centers will almost guarantee that we won't be able to get mail delivered on the next day," said Cardin, who added that rapid mail delivery is expected by businesses shipping within their local areas. "By making these cuts, it will reduce the service levels on mail delivery and package delivery, and as a result, there will be fewer customers that will use their services."

In her e-mail, Sauter acknowledged the potential pain of the cuts.

"It's important to remember that these are very difficult times, and difficult decisions have to be made," Sauter wrote.

In addition to the Cumberland, Gaithersburg, and Easton facilities, mail processing machines at the Waldorf Post Office will be moved to Capitol Heights as well under the USPS' latest proposal.

In total, Sauter wrote, up to 18 employees could be affected by the Waldorf move, in addition to 30 employees projected to be laid off by the Cumberland consolidation and nearly 100 from the Gaithersburg merger. The number of employees that would be affected by an Easton plant closure is currently unknown, she added.

Last fall, a mail processing facility in Frederick closed and its operations were rolled into other Maryland sites.

Canadian wilderness with a pack of wolves.

Edward Warren remembered those years without a father; how his mother, Georgie, cried and how his little sister, Cara, missed her daddy. Edward was 15 then, and Luke had burdened him with a man-of-the-house talk before he left, handing Edward the financial reins and making him sign a scrap of paper which gave the boy medical power of attorney.

Wanting neither, Edward did his best. But shortly after his father returned from Canada, shortly after he told his mother he was gay, Edward left home, angry, vowing never to return.

Cara Warren barely remembered Luke's absence, but it didn't matter anymore.

After her parents divorced, Cara lived with her mother but favored her father. Everything she knew, she learned from him. Compassionate, smart, wise, and patient, he adored her and he adored his wolves.

But that was before the accident.

That was before doctors said that Luke would never regain consciousness, before Georgie called Edward home.

Before Edward decided that it was time to let his father go peacefully…

Filled with well-rounded characters you come to feel as though you know personally, Lone Wolf is comfortingly typical of author Jodi Picoult's other works. Each person is allowed to tell his or her own story, there's a pivotal issue around which they all revolve, and there's a tantalizing, hidden "hook" you know is there but that you hate to see.

What's different about this novel is that one of the characters tells his story from a unique place. That's unexpected, and I also won't tell you why the ending was a sweet relief. You've got to find out yourself.

And if you're a member of Jodi's Pi-cult, that won't be a problem at all. For you, or for any new fan of this author, Lone Wolf is a howling good read.

Northern's Unified Bocce Team Earns Silver at States

The unified bocce team from Northern High School earned a silver medal Friday in the state tournament held at Hagerstown Community College. The Huskies overcame a second-round loss to Boonsboro and fought their way back into the gold medal game by winning four straight matches.

Competing in Division four, the Huskies defeated Catoctin in their opening game by a score of 8-7.

Boonsboro was Northern's next opponent and the Huskies fell behind quickly and never recovered, dropping that game 10-5.

Moving into the loser's bracket, Northern put together four straight wins to reach the gold medal round. The first match in that win streak was against Baltimore City, whom the Huskies defeated in another one-point game, prevailing with a 9-8 victory over the Cheetahs.

Catoctin was next in the two teams' second matchup of the day. Northern prevailed in another close game, 8-7.

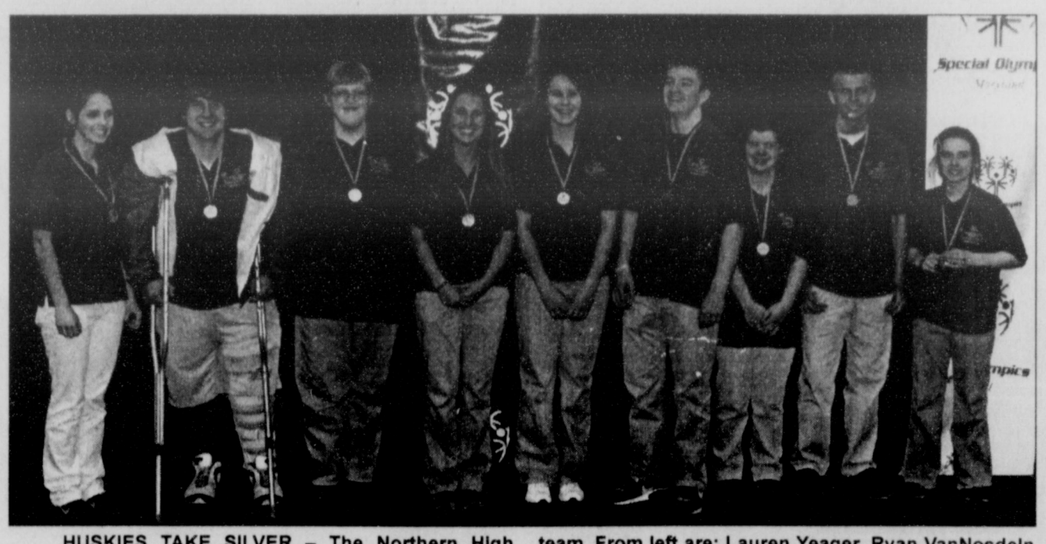
That win was followed with a victory over Smithsburg, which the Huskies won by 11-4. The win eliminated the Leopards and sent Northern into the gold/silver games.

With a berth in the top match of the day on the line, the Huskies then defeated Boonsboro in a rematch, pulling out a close 8-7 victory. Both teams would play again in the final match.

That game saw the Huskies battle back and forth in the championship game with Boonsboro. The Huskies pulled away by three with time running out only to see the Boonsboro team grab three quick points in the final frame to tie the score at 8-8.

The winning point came down to the very last ball thrown by the Huskies, which stopped just two inches short of the winning point in their 8-7 overtime loss.

Northern was awarded the silver medal, after a day in which it won five of its seven games by only one point.



HUSKIES TAKE SILVER – The Northern High School unified bocce team recently claimed the silver medal at a state tournament held at Hagerstown Community College. After suffering an early loss, the Huskies bounced back and won five straight games, before taking second place in the tourney. See story. Pictured above is the 2012 Northern High bocce ball team. Northern Drops Round One Game To Allegany, 54-43

Though the Northern High School girls' varsity basketball team had three players – Kirsten Rayner, Allison Yommer, and Kiersten Butler – score in double figures, the Huskies lost their first round Maryland 1A West Region contest to Allegany, 54-43, on Friday. The game was played in Cumberland.

Allegany used good defensive play to build an early 12-6 lead through the first quarter before pulling ahead, 25-12, by the half. The Campers' lead was 37-22 at the end of the third period.

Huskies Rayner and Yommer both scored 12 points, while Butler tallied 10.

Leading the way for Allegany was Lindsie Linaburg, who put up 20 points and had nine rebounds. Linaburg had seven field goals with a 6-for-10 performance from the free-throw line. Camper Aimee Conley scored 14 points and Stephanie Dawson had 11 points.

With the loss, the Huskies' season has come to an end. Northern finishes its 2011-12 campaign with an overall record of 3-20.

LOCAL GOLFER WINS 2012 MYRTLE BEACH CLASSIC – Rob Heilig, president of the Oakland Golf Club, has won the 2012 Myrtle Beach Classic at the Legends Resort (S.C.). Heilig posted a winning score of four under par to win the first event of the season and his second major win (he won the 2008 tour championship). Though the event was reduced to 18 holes after a coastal storm hit the Mid-Atlantic, Heilig played a steady, solid round of golf to earn the victory. His first-place spoils consist of: $2,400, free entry into the 2012 Golf.com World Amateur Handicap Championship event, four tickets to the Monday After the Masters Pro Am Golf Tournament, the Myrtle Beach Classic trophy, and the Winner's Star. In the photo above is Heilig (at right) receiving his oversized check from Matt Biddington, Legends Resort golf pro. The Oakland Golf Club will open its 2012 season with the Frostbite Tournament on March 31. The public is invited to this event. Details may be provided at the OGC Pro Shop at 301-334-3883.

CONFERENCE FRESHMAN OF YEAR – Former Northern High School standout Kaitlynn Fratz, now a member of the Pitt-Johnstown collegiate team, has been named Freshman of the Year in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The freshman guard was selected via a vote of the conference coaches. In adddition, Fratz also garnered first-team All-WVIAC accolades and was selected to the WVIAC All-Freshman Team. She concluded her rookie season as the league's sixth-best scorer at 17.4 points per game on her way to leading the Lady Cats to the No. 7 seed in the upcoming WVIAC Tournament. Her 1.77 steals per outing ranked her 12th, and her average of 1.65 3-point field goals per game placed her 14th in the conference standings. The daughter of Steve and Tracy Fratz, Kaitlynn also earned WVIAC Player of the Week honors on Dec. 20.

Lakers Slip To Potomac State At Home, 67-63

The women's basketball team of Garrett College dropped a close one Tuesday while hosting Potomac State, 67-63.

The Lakers found themselves down, 36-28, after the half and made a run at it before falling by just four points.

Southern graduate Mariah Stem and teammate Rachel Waibogha were top scorers for the Lakers, as both tallied 10 points. Former Husky Terra McKenzie, plus Brianna Diggs, and JaQuita Cherry all added eight points.

For Potomac State, Ashley Hines finished with 16 rebounds and 15 points. Three of her teammates – Ali St. Van, Brandie Robertson, and Danielle Freeman – also scored in double figures.

"The first half was mostly back and forth," said Jim Walton, Potomac State's head coach.

"We came out cold early and blew some high-percentage shots before finally being able to get a decent lead by halftime. It seemed like every time we would build a big lead, they would come back and get it close."

Pot. State
Ashley Hines 6 3-7 15, Alexis Steele 2 2-2 6, Ali St. Van 6 1-6 15, Brandie Robertson 3 6-9 13, Danielle Freeman 5 4-6 16, Courtney Dolly 0 0-2 0, Steph Duah 1 0-2 2. Totals 24 13-34 67.
Garrett

Southern's Shaffer Paces Five County Wrestlers To State Event

Both Southern and Northern high schools will be represented in the Maryland State 1A/2A Wrestling Tournament, slated for this weekend at Cole Fieldhouse in College Park, as three Rams and two Huskies finished among the top four in their respective weight divisions in Saturday's 1A/2A West Region championships, hosted by Mountain Ridge High School.

Emerging as the regional champion in the 106-pound division was Southern's Austin Shaffer, while teammate Kevin Miller finished as the runner-up in the 285-pound division. Mikey Skipper is also headed to the state tourney as a fourth-place finisher in the region.

Northern Huskies who qualified for the state event were Justin Opel and Kody Osselburn, who were both runners-up at the regional tourney.

"Austin dominated the tournament this weekend," said Southern head coach Dave Taylor. "He has a great shot at winning it all at Cole Fieldhouse this weekend."

Shaffer recorded a convincing 11-3 decision over Cody Matthews of Mountain Ridge in the 106-pound title bout.

Miller defeated all of his opponents until he faced Ty Tucker of Walkersville in the final match and was pinned.

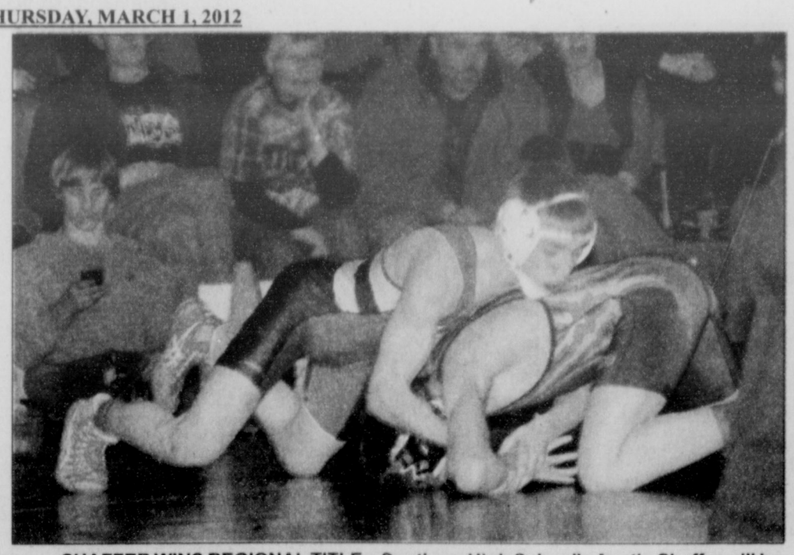
Skipper lost a pair of close matches, including the consolation final against Billy Fritz of North Carroll, who eked out a 1-0 decision.

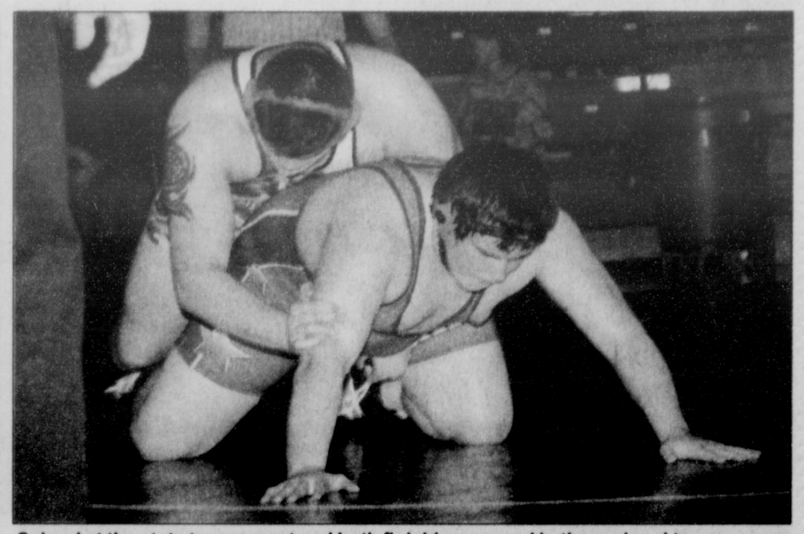
"Mikey lost two close matches, and is capable of beating anybody in the state this weekend," Taylor said.

The two Northern Huskies both just missed winning regional championships, as Opel was edged 1-0 in the 120-pound title match by Sean Donoghue of Century, and Osselburn dropped a tough 4-3 decision to Matt Capobianco of Middletown in the 132-pound final.

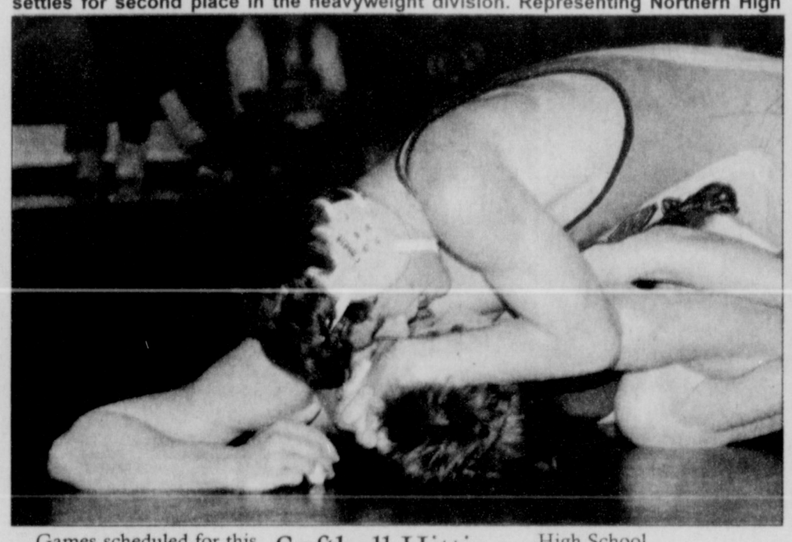
As a team, the Rams placed ninth with a score of 65, while the Huskies took 11th place with 46 points.

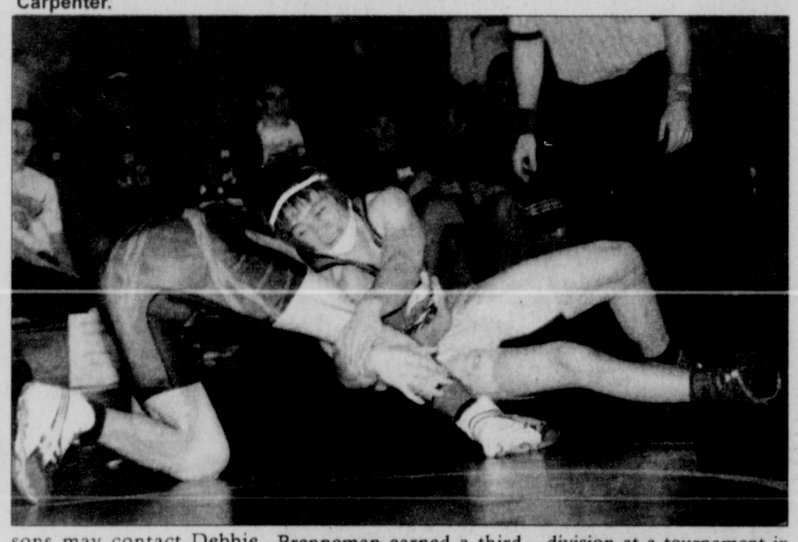
Winters Mill cruised to the West Region team title with 154 points, followed by Middletown with 121.5, Century with 92, Mountain Ridge with 87, Catoctin with 86.5, South Carroll with 84, North Carroll with 76, Liberty with 67, Southern, Williamsport with 47.5, Northern, Brunswick with 40, Manchester Valley with 375, Walkersville with 24, Francis Scott Key with 21, Smithsburg with 16, Fort Hill with 15, Oakdale with 8, Boonsboro with 4, and Allegany with 0.





SHAFFER WINS REGIONAL TITLE – Southern High School's Austin Shaffer will be the only high school grappler going to this weekend's Maryland State 1A/2A Wrestling Tournament in College Park as a West Region champion. Shaffer is pictured above in total control of Cody Matthews of Mountain Ridge in the regional 106-pound division title match on Saturday. Shaffer went on to record a convincing 11-3 decision. Above right, Shaffer's teammate Kevin Miller battles Ty Tucker of Walkersville and ultimately settles for second place in the heavyweight division. Representing Northern High School at the state tournament and both finishing second in the regional tourney were Justin Opel, pictured below left, and Kody Osselburn, in action in the photo below right. Opel and Osselburn were each edged by a single point in their matches, with Opel falling to Sean Donoghue of Century, 1-0, and Osselburn being nipped 4-3 by Matt Capobianco of Middletown. Also qualifying for the state tourney was Southern's Mikey Skipper, who placed fourth in the 152-pound division. Photos courtesy of Del Carpenter.





Men's Basketball League Results Are Announced

Claiming victories in Oakland Men's Basketball League play on Sunday were the teams sponsored by Hutton Auto, Automated Packaging, and D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction.

Joey DiSimone scored a game-high 19 points in his team's winning effort as Hutton Auto downed Fox's Pizza, 58-50. Leading the offense for Fox's was J.J. Bolyard, who netted 15 points.

Automated Packaging received double-digit scoring from Jason Shank and Ted Kitzmiller – 18 and 16 points, respectively – in its win over Taylor-Made, 52-46. Damian Schminger was the high-scorer for Taylor-Made with 17 points.

Bo Davis totaled a game-high 18 points for D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction, which defeated Terra Alta VFW by a score of 51-43. D&L's Dylan Evans scored 17 points in the contest, while Terra Alta picked up 16 points from Brad Sisler.

Games scheduled for this Sunday will pit D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction against Automated Packaging at 6 p.m., Taylor-Made against Fox's Pizza at the 7 p.m. slot, and Terra Alta VFW against Hutton Auto in the 8 p.m. clash.

DESPITE THE UNSEASONABLE WARMTH, the fifth annual Winter Fest in downtown Oakland last weekend was deemed a success, with a good turn-out, multiple ice sculptures created, and a number of family activities held under a bright sunny sky. Bill Sandusky, a professional ice artist and owner of Frozen Assets Inc., was the town's guest once again. He created a number of intricate and varied sculptures that were placed around town. He is pictured above as he works on a lion's head that was positioned outside the Book Mark'et along Second Street. Shown below is Sandusky's gift to the town, a five-foot high work of art at the corner of Second and Liberty streets that stood for several days following the festival. In the photo above center, Jamie Yommer shows her snowman building contest entry, "Death of a Snowman," complete with a chalk outline and a detached carrot nose. Building snowmen is not so easy when there is but a shovelful of snow, but Yommer made do with some creativity and humor to win first place. Organizers said that next year they will send out the word that people may bring building materials if snow is again lacking. The festival featured an ice throne for photo opportunities, as well as the annual ice slide and ice bowling. The toddler photo contest winners for this year were Joshee McGee, son of Josh and Danelle McGee, and Addison Hershman, daughter of Justin and Sheri Hershman. Photos courtesy of the Electronic Diagnostic Center, Oakland.

FIRE AND ICE – An interesting attraction of Winter Fest 2012 was Bill Sandusky's creation of an "ice fence," which was placed around the bonfire located near the Oakland gazebo. Volunteers made s'mores there and other treats for passers-by throughout the weekend.

Chamber Forum To Feature Healthcare Update Discussion

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce will present a healthcare reform update report at the next Business Before Hours on Tuesday, March 20, at Will O' the Wisp. The forum begins at 8 a.m. with breakfast and networking, followed by the program from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m.

"Healthcare Reform – Maryland's Implementation and Progress" will include discussion on the Maryland Health Benefit Exchange, incentives for businesses to provide health insurance, and what the reform means for rural areas.

The speakers will include Carolyn Quattrocki, executive director, and Jonathon Kromm, deputy director, from the Governor's Office of Healthcare Reform, and Rodney Glotfelty, Garrett County health officer.

"Healthcare reform as dictated in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act signed into law by President Obama in 2010 is rapidly approaching implementation deadlines, and what the new system looks like is still an enigma to most people," said Nicole Christian, chamber president/CEO. "We are holding this forum as a first step in helping businesses and the people of Garrett County understand what they can expect from federal healthcare reform. Maryland is definitely ahead of the game in terms of implementation, but we must ensure that the state is not making poor decisions by rushing to the finish."

The cost for chamber members is $15 in advance, or $20 at the door. The cost for nonmembers is $30.

Interested persons are asked to register online at visitdeepcreek.com or call Charlotte at 301-387-6171 by Tuesday, March 13, to receive the advanced payment discount for members. Space is limited so early reservations are recommended.

The event is sponsored by CBIZ and Mountain Laurel Medical Center.

The Business Before Hours breakfast programs are bimonthly events designed to focus on specific topics with formal presentations. The topics slated for 2012 include "State of the County,""Mayors' Update," "Tourism Update," and "Legislative Wrap-Up."

Storytelling With Puppets Set At Local Libraries

Ruth Enlow Library, in partnership with Jane Avery of Our Town Theatre and the Friendsville and Kitzmiller schools, will present several interactive programs titled "Storytelling with Puppets" in March. At each event, Avery plans to entertain the participants with puppetry and storytelling.

Children will learn about the importance of reading and stories, and will have an opportunity to create a finger puppet during the program. They also will receive a free book to take home.

The schedule is as follows:

•Monday, March 19, 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Grantsville library for children ages 5 to 10. Because of limited space and supplies, registration is required by calling Sandra at 301-895-5298, ext. 102, or by e-mailing sandra@relib.net.

•Monday, March 26, 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Oakland library for children ages 5 to 10. Because of limited space, registration is required by calling Keela at 301-334-3996, ext. 115, or by e-mailing keela@relib.net.

•Tuesday, March 27, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at Friendsville Elementary School for Head Start through first grade and from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. for second through fifth grades. The contact is Michele Liston at 301-746-5663 or michele@relib.net.

•Wednesday, March 28, 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Accident library for children ages 5 to 10. Because of the limited space and supplies, registration is required by calling the library at 301-746-8792 or by e-mailing susan@relib.net.

•Thursday, March 29, 1 to 2 p.m. at Kitzmiller Elementary School for Head Start through first grade and from 2 to 3 p.m. for second through fifth grades. The contact is Diane Kisner at 301-453-3368 or diane@relib.net.

A listing of events and services at the Ruth Enlow Library is available at www.relib.net.

Estate Planning Course Slated At Southern Center

Estate Planning: The Importance of Wills and Trusts, a class offered by the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division of Garrett College, will be held at the Southern Outreach Center in Oakland on Wednesdays, March 21 and 28, from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Rita Watson, register of wills for Garrett County, will instruct the first session of this course. She noted that estate planning, which is not just for the wealthy, provides the legal mechanism for disposing of property upon death in a way that recognizes an individual's wishes and the needs of his/her survivors, while minimizing taxes.

For many it can mean planning for the handling of affairs in case of disability, and the personal medical choices to be made as life nears its end.

This two-part course will address the common questions regarding wills and trusts. Part one (March 21) will center on wills and probate. This class will focus on such issues as the following: What is a will and what does it do? What does it take to draft a will? How does one choose an executor and what percentage of one's assets does that person take as a commission? What is the probate process and is it necessary for one's estate?

Part two (March 28) will focus on trusts. Included in the discussion will be trust basics, with a definition of terms and variations. Some other topics will include comparing living trusts, testamentary trusts and wills, disposition of property outside of probate, some related tax issues, and specialized trusts and estate planning tools.

This portion of the course will be instructed by Carl Miltenberger, an elder law attorney with more than 15 years' experience.

For additional information, persons may contact Pat Baer, Southern Outreach Center director, by calling 301-387-3781 or via e-mail at patricia.baer@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for this course, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

Syrup Making Demos Slated At State Parks

Demonstrations of the boiling of maple sap into maple syrup will be held at two local state parks on the weekend of March 17 and 18.

Steyer Brothers, a local sugar camp operator, will be on hand to answer questions and to demonstrate the use of an evaporator in the syrup-making process. Pure maple products will be offered for sale during both demonstrations.

Demos will be given at Swallow Falls State Park on Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Herrington Manor State Park. A pancake breakfast will also be offered at Herrington Manor on Sunday. Pancakes, buckwheat cakes, pure maple syrup, sausage, orange juice, and coffee will be served. Adult meals are $8, and children under 12 can eat for $5.

For more information, persons should contact Herrington Manor State Park at 301-334-9180.

Relief Event Set At Trader's Coffee House March 16

Relief for Refugees: Helping the Horn of Africa will be held at Trader's Coffee House, Deep Creek Lake, on Friday, March 16, to organize and package health kits and baby bundles for refugees living in Africa. The event will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. A comforter that needs to be knotted will also be set up for any one able to help.

An estimated 11 million people in the horn of Africa have been affected by the current drought. This is reportedly the worst drought they have seen in 60 years, with 80% of households having lost their livelihoods.

"In August, 2.3 million children were acutely malnourished," noted event coordinator Jenelle Yoder. "People are fleeing their drought-stricken homelands and moving into refugee camps, where they have hope of receiving aid."

The Dadaab refugee camp in Kenya is the largest camp, housing around 500,000 people fleeing the famine, as well as political unrest in Somalia.

The evening will begin with Grantsville resident Ruth Yoder sharing her story of living in a refugee camp as a child. She will share her story again at 8 p.m.

"Come learn about the work that is going on to help the people in East Africa," said Yoder. "Join us for an evening of hope, and come find out how you can help."

Donations will be accepted to go toward the Mennonite Central Committee.

Brethren Church Schedules Revival

Swallow Falls Dunkard Brethren Church will hold spring revival services Sunday, March 4, through Sunday, March 11.

"Come worship with us as Brother Jeff Aungst from Pennsylvania brings us messages from God's word each evening at 7:30 p.m.," a church spokesperson said.

The church is located along Swallow Falls Road .5 mile north of Swallow Falls State Park.

DEMO CANDIDATE VISITS – Ron Little, Democratic candidate for the District 6 congressional seat currently held by Rep. Roscoe Bartlett, was the speaker at a recent meeting of the Garrett County Democratic Club. Born in the Bronx, New York, to a working class family with five children, Little become the first in his family to become a college and law school graduate. He and his wife moved to Maryland in 1998 when he accepted a position in a law firm and Mrs. Little began her first tour as a U.S. Navy officer. He is still with the same law firm and his wife is now on active duty with the U.S. Public Health Service. They are the parents of three children. Since 2004, Little has been a Montgomery County Democratic Precinct chair and has served in multiple capacities in the Montgomery County District 19 Democratic Club. Pictured with him above are Stephan Moylan, left, president of the GC Democratic Club, and Doris Goldsborough, club member and past Democratic Central Committee member.

Bloomington UM Schedules Supper

Bloomington United Methodist Church will hold a pancake supper on Friday, March 16, from 4 to 7 p.m. In addition to pancakes, sausage, sausage gravy, and eggs will be served.

The cost is $7 for ages 8 and up, $4 for ages 4 to 7, and free for those under 4.

MICROSCOPIC TRANSISTORS AND MOORE'S LAW
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. It seems that computers keep getting better and faster but smaller in physical size. How long can that keep going on?

When the first transistor was invented around 1948, the apparatus on the lab bench was bulky and the transistor a couple inches across. Times sure have changed. Today, over a trillion (1012) transistors fit in about that same space.

Theoretically, transistors could be made smaller, and the ultimate tiny size would be only three atoms: one to be the emitter, one the gate, and one the collector. The wisecrack going around in 1960 was "Yeah, but it sure would be tough to solder on the connecting wires." Manufacturing techniques improved rapidly, and before long, there were multiple transistors being built into a single chip, as "integrated circuits," or ICs for short.

Still further progress brought more complex circuits in smaller spaces, and the cost went down. Hand-held calculators of the early 1970s were about $500 apiece, but they had the computing power of machines that took up a whole building in the 1950s. By the late 1970s Apple had introduced the first personal computers. At every step there was profit to be made by manufacturing smaller devices with more capability, and large-scale manufacturing economics drove the cost steadily downward, to the advantage of everyone.

Back in the 1960s and 1970s, it was noticed that the computing power of chips tended to double every 18 months. That became known in the trade as "Moore's Law," after Gordon Moore, co-founder of Intel Corp. Everybody considered it a rough approximation, and nobody expected the trend to continue indefinitely. However, the trend has continued for nearly half a century, as elements on a computer chip have become incredibly small.

Looking back, the improvement has been stunning. The 16 GB removable drive that is about the size of your thumb has storage capacity that would have occupied many square miles a half century ago. Compute 2 to the power of (45/1.5) and get over a billion. If Moore's law holds for 50 cycles (75 years) the improvement will be over 1,015, a quadrillion, a thousand trillion.

No one working in any factory of the 1970s could have foreseen the improvement. Circuit boards are now printed via microphotolithography, and transistors too small to see are then etched onto the surface. The smallest dimension in commercial production now is 22 nanometers (22 x 10-9 m), less than 100 atomic diameters. Humans barely go anywhere near the production process.

The theoretical dreams of 50 years ago are no longer jokes. In January 2012 an Australian-American research team reported getting the "lead wires" to be attached down to 4 atoms wide and a single atom thick. In February 2012 the same research team reported in the journal Nature Nanotechnology the achievement of a working transistor from "a single phosphorus atom embedded in a silicon crystal." That's certainly still on the research bench – it must be cooled to very low temperatures. But stay tuned.

The concept of a "quantum computer" using "Qubits" is a legitimate R&D activity currently. That concept moves beyond ones and zeros to represent more states, and thus speed up computation still more.

Even after all these achievements over the decades, the most amazing thing is that there is still plenty of gain to be achieved via further advances. Moore's law is not going to hit its theoretical limit anytime soon.

Dr. Sheahen lives at Deep Creek Lake and has taught physics at Garrett College. Persons wishing to submit questions for this column may e-mail them to newsroom@therepublicannews.com.

Niner Joins Deep Creek Title Group

Karen Niner has joined the growing staff of Deep Creek Title Group, a locally owned title and settlement company that specializes in purchases, construction, refinance, and home equity loans.

"Karen brings over 34 years of experience in real estate settlement and loan closing services in the Deep Creek Lake and Garrett County area," said Jonathan Robeson, a local attorney and the managing member of the Deep Creek Title Group.

Niner previously worked at Eiswert, Janes, and Kepple, working with banks, real estate agents, and attorneys, as well as buyers and sellers.

"She has developed loyal working relationships in the local community by providing quality, professional service, while maintaining the highest level of accuracy, integrity and ethics," Robeson. "Her aptitude to bring a winning attitude to each settlement from start to finish, as well as her great attention to detail, efficiency, and outstanding professionalism, makes her a great complement to the Deep Creek Title Group staff."

SWANTON

DINNER

An all-you-can-eat buckwheat, pancake, and sausage dinner will be held at the Swanton Community Center on Saturday, March 10, beginning at 4 p.m. All are welcome.

DEATH

The community was saddened last week by the death of David A. Wilson and Everett O'Brien. A funeral service was held for David on Friday at Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church. Arrangements were by David Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland. A service for Everett was held on Saturday at St. John's Lutheran Church, with arrangements by Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville. Both were outstanding figures in the community and will be greatly missed by family and friends.

BIRTHDAYS

Those celebrating birthdays this week are Charles Coddington on March 3 and Melvin Custer on March 7.

ANNIVERSARY

Rodney and Barbie Sweitzer will celebrate their wedding anniversary on March 9.

CARD SHOWER

Family and friends are having a birthday card shower on Saturday, March 10, for Helen Friend, who is spending the winter with her son in Texas. Cards may be sent to her at 2127 Walnut Grove Lane, Richmond, TX 77406.

4-H Club News

GARRETT HOOF PRINTS
by Brianna LeMay, reporter

The Garrett Hoof Prints 4-H Club met for its monthly meeting on Feb. 13. The meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledge.

Secretary Gertrude Tesar took roll call. Twenty members were in attendance. Gertrude read the minutes from last month's meeting. Katelyn Hanek gave the treasurer's report. President Kelsey VanSickle reviewed old and new business with the group.

Club members were reminded of the new fair week starting July 28. They discussed a hippology clinic in Carroll County scheduled for March 10. The horse judging/hippology contest scheduled for April 21 was also discussed. The Horse Bowl is scheduled for April 22. Other local 4-H events were discussed.

Confirmed Garrett County 4-H horse show dates were announced. Dates for 2012 are June 24, July 15, and Aug. 19. All shows are at the fairgrounds. Members were encouraged to save the date and to plan to help out.

Katelyn Hanek gave a demonstration on administering horse vaccinations. The group finished the meeting by having the Clovers participate in a group activity with Christy Alexander. Club leader Mary VanSickle assisted the older members with a horse game.

The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, March 12, at the Maryland State Police Barrack.

TRAILBLAZERS
by Zachary Ritchey, reporter

The Trailblazers 4-HClub met at Kiddie Korner on Feb. 21.

Following a short business meeting, Erika Ritchey, Jordyn Sines, Amy Schmidt, and Lilah Schmidt gave prepared speeches while Zachary Ritchey, Nick Easterday, Austin Sines, Nicole Pysell, and Emily Pysell gave 30-second radio spots.

Because of the closing of Mtn. Glade Adult Day Care, everyone was asked to think of another program for the spare change ministry.

Five clover members were present and learned how to make play dough.

Lilah and Amy Schmidt provided refreshments.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 20, at 6:30 p.m. at Kiddie Korner.

All members will give demonstrations on their projects.

Anyone wishing to join 4-H may call 301-334-6960 for more information.

Buckwheat Cake Dinner Scheduled

An "all-you-can-eat" buckwheat cake/pancake dinner will be held at the Swanton Community Center on Saturday, March 10, starting at 4 p.m.

The menu will include sausage and sausage gravy. The cost is $7 for adults, $3.50 for children, and free for those under 5 years. Proceeds benefit the center's New Roof Fund.

FINANCIAL AID HELP FOR SENIORS

Financial aid help is available for seniors through the guidance office. Most financial aid deadlines are today (March 1).

BUILDING TRADE PROJECTS NEEDED

The building trades program is looking for projects within the community that will allow students to utilize their skills and further their knowledge in carpentry and related building trades. Smaller projects, like the building of bookcases and cabinets, are also areas in which the students have experience. Those interested may contact Loren Bowser at the Southern High School, 301-334-9447.

KRISPY KREME FUNDRAISER

The junior class members of Southern High are currently selling Krispy Kreme doughnuts to raise money for the prom and their senior year expenses. They are selling plain doughnuts and special order varieties, including chocolate-iced, lemon-filled, cream-filled, raspberry-filled, and sprinkle. Plain doughnuts are $7 a dozen and special order doughnuts are $8 a dozen. Orders and payment are due on Monday, March 5. Delivery is set for Thursday, March 15, in the SHS cafeteria. Orders may be picked up between 3 and 5 p.m. Those who would like to place an order may e-mail shsprom@gmail.com or see an SHS junior.

Make Way for Spring

The holidays are but a memory; the snow, which was novel in November and welcomed in December, is merely tolerated in January and declared a nuisance in February. Still we must bear the ice and freezing temperatures awhile longer, at least in some parts of our country. Yet, toward the end of winter there may be a most unusual day, when the air is not quite so cold and the sun melts the winter snow. God is making way for spring, giving us a day to lift our spirits.

Does it sometimes seem like your winter will never end; that you have more than your share of trouble and sorrow? Learn to know God; accept Him and let His love touch your life like the revitalizing warmth of an early spring day. Spend time at your House of Worship this week and let God lift your spirits!

One of the valuable lessons which I learned growing up was that family is important. My father was fond of saying that friends would come and go, but that family would always be there for you. I also recall how painful it was to both of my parents when there was an argument between siblings. Brothers and sisters shouldn't fight like mortal enemies, a little healthy competition is okay, but siblings should always stick up for each other. If there are rifts in your family, do your best to heal them, and strive to help your family and always be there in times of need. We should have this same attitude to our extended family, to our aunts and uncles, nieces and nephews, and even distant cousins. But, we should also realize that we are all God's children and thus part of the human family. No doubt it pains God to see his children fighting and killing each other, no less than it pains human parents when they see their children fighting.

"From one man he made all the nations, that they should inhabit the whole earth; and he marked out their appointed times in history and the boundaries of their lands. God did this so that they would seek him and perhaps reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from any one of us. . . . As some of your own poets have said, 'We are his offspring.'"

TV Pipeline

'Off the Map' is off the air ... for good

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: Will "Off the Map" be back on this summer? – Bonnie Bowman, Wyoming, N.Y.

A: It won't. The show was canceled last year by ABC after its initial run, and some of its stars have shown up in other projects since. Rachelle Lefevre has been co-starring on the CBS drama "A Gifted Man," and Mamie Gummer – daughter of Meryl Streep – had a guest role on the same show. Zach Gilford has finished a couple of movies, and Valerie Cruz turned up on Syfy's "Alphas" and NBC's "Grimm."

Q: What can you tell us about Colin Morgan of the series "Merlin"? – Steve Williams, Columbus, Ohio

A: After studying drama in Scotland, the native of Northern Ireland began his career in the theater, appearing in London stagings of such plays as "A Prayer for My Daughter" and "Our Private Life." The "Merlin" job came shortly afterward and has pretty much kept him occupied since, though Morgan also has had roles in a couple of movies, "Parked" and "Island."

Q: I am a big fan of "Wipeout." It appears the contestants take some hard hits and dangerous falls. Do they look worse than they actually are? Has anyone been injured? – Joyce Brown, Decatur, Ala.

A: We marvel, too, at the fact that apparently no one on the ABC series has been seriously hurt as a direct result of participating on the obstacle course. Apparently, there is an enormous release that contestants have to sign ... not only to ensure the player is in good health to do it but also to protect the network and producers in case anything unforeseen should happen during the taping. And it's hardly a surprise they would want that.

Rachelle Lefevre

Former co-host Jill Wagner told us several times during her "Wipeout" run that if there was a chance anyone could get seriously injured on the show, she wouldn't have been a part of it. And she was there for quite a while. While an Internet search on the subject will turn up reports of a contestant having died relatively early in the show's run, a while after doing one of the episodes, nothing has linked that conclusively to his participation on the program.

Birding BITS

BY Cindy Brook

Yellow-throated Warbler

Primarily a gray bird with black-and-white markings, these birds are easy to identify by their bright-yellow throat. Yellow-throats eat a variety of insects, but can be lured into your yard with sunflower heart chips in a tube feeder with a tray. I had one the other day.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was English philosopher Francis Bacon who made the following sage observation: "The root of all superstition is that men observe when a thing hits, but not when it misses."

• I'm sure you've seen photos of those picturesque covered bridges. It seems that they would have provided a welcome haven for people driving buggies caught out in the rain. You may be surprised to learn, though, that the bridges weren't designed with a roof for the comfort of travelers. Being made of wood in an era before protective sealants, the bridges themselves needed to be protected from the elements.

• Most frogs lay their eggs in the water; that way, when the tadpoles hatch they are already in their element. The red-eyed tree frog, however, protects its eggs from aquatic predators by attaching its eggs to the underside of leaves that hang out over a body of water. Once the eggs hatch, the tadpoles fall into the water. • The next time you travel to the United Kingdom, if you visit the university towns of Cambridge or Oxford, you should keep off the grass. Professors are the only ones allowed to walk on most of the green swards in those towns.

• In ancient Rome, it was widely believed that holding in gas could cause a person to catch a disease or become poisoned. This was such a concern to public health that Emperor Claudius went so far as to pass a law making it legal to fart at banquets.

• Have you ever known someone who keeps making the same error over and over again despite being corrected? The next time you run into this person, you'll know what to call him or her: a mumpsimus.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On March 6, 1899, the Imperial Patent Office in Berlin registers Aspirin, the brand name for acetylsalicylic acid, on behalf of the German pharmaceutical company Friedrich Bayer & Co. In its primitive form, the active ingredient, salicin, was used for centuries in folk medicine.

• On March 10, 1902, in the case of Edison v. American Mutoscope Company, the U.S. Court of Appeals rules that despite his claims, Thomas Edison did not invent the movie camera. The court did, however, admit that Edison invented the sprocket system that moved perforated film through the movie camera.

• On March 9, 1913, English author Virginia Woolf delivers the manuscript of her first novel, "The Voyage Out," to her publisher. In 1941, fearful for her own mental state and afraid of the coming world war, she filled her pockets with rocks and drowned herself.

• On March 7, 1923, the New Republic publishes Robert Frost's poem "Stopping By Woods on a Snowy Evening." The poem begins with the famous line "Whose woods these are, I think I know." Although Frost never graduated from a university, he had collected 44 honorary degrees before he died in 1963.

• On March 5, 1963, the Hula-Hoop, a hip-swiveling toy that became a huge fad across America when it was first marketed by Wham-O in 1958, is patented by the company's co-founder, Arthur "Spud" Melin. An estimated 25 million Hula-Hoops were sold in its first four months of production alone.

• On March 11, 1970, author Erle Stanley Gardner, creator of Perry Mason, dies. The crime-solving attorney Perry Mason appeared in numerous novels and became the star of a top-rated TV show starting in 1957. The show starred Raymond Burr as the titular hero and ran for nine years. • On March 8, 1986, "Mask," starring Eric Stoltz and Cher, opens in theaters. Cher, who had launched a serious acting career with her appearance in Robert Altman's film "Come Back to the Five and Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean" in 1982, received the Best Actress prize at the Cannes Film Festival for her role in "Mask."

Q: I have a hurricane lamp that is inscribed on the underside "L&LWMC 1973." Can you please identify it and give me the name of a dealer who buys such lamps. -- Lloyd, Surprise, Ariz.

A: Your lamp was manufactured by Loevsky and Loevsky White Metal Castings, a company based in New Jersey that specialized in reproduction lamps and fixtures. It closed in about 1978. Your lamp was made in 1973, and is, indeed, a reproduction and not rare. I have seen similar lamps at antique malls and in thrift shops priced for less than $50.

Q: I have a book in the "Tell a Tale" series entitled "Little Black Sambo." I also have the Viewmaster reel that goes with it. Can you help me determine the value? -- Florence in Dubuque, Iowa

A: Before I answer your question, let's review a little literary history. The character of Little Black Sambo was introduced in 1898 by Helen Bannerman, the daughter of a Scottish minister and the wife of a surgeon in the British Army in India. The story she wrote was set in India and vividly describes a young boy's encounters with four tigers. The book was so popular, she followed it with three sequels: "Little Black Quibba," "Little Black Quasha" and "Little Black Mingo."

It wasn't until the 1930s and '40s that "Little Black Sambo" began to take on negative racial connotations. The book has gone through dozens of editions, but I believe your "Tell a Tale" version is probably from the 1950s. If so, it is worth about $25. The reel you have might be valued at about $10. One of my favorite references in this field of collecting is "The Art and History of Black Memorabilia" by Larry Vincent Buster (Potter, $34.95).

President Warren Wright called the Jan. 19 meeting of the North Glade 4-H Club to order at the Swanton Community Center. Jacki Markwood led the pledges and the treasurer's report was given.

Warren Wright reported that the club still has hamburger and sausage for sale. Interested persons may call Sam Wright at 240-321-1628 or Becky Wright at 240-321-1627 to purchase the meat.

Enrollment forms, participation fees and record books were co ected. Members were reminded of 4-H Day at the Wisp and officer training dates.

The Achievement Night program will be at the Garrett County fairgrounds exhibit hall on March 24.

Quality Assurance must be completed by July 31. Anyone selling a market animal at the fair must attend 75 percent of club meetings.

It was noted that if school is canceled, the meeting will be canceled.

Wyatt Wright gave a demonstration on raising a goat from birth to 9 weeks old.

Becky Wright installed the new officers for 2012. They are Warren Wright, president; Hannah Gillispie, vice president; Jacki Markwood, secretary; Wyatt Wright, treasurer; Shawn Markwood, reporter; and Rachel Duggan, photographer.

New members joining the club are Jeremy Hoalcraft, Anna Holtschneider, Will Holtschneider, Katrina Marracciani, Connor O'Brien, Bethany Rexroad, and Jordan Sweitzer.

The installation of officers included Greg Tichnell, president; Jacob McRobie, vice president; Charlie Harvey, secretary; Isaac McRobie, treasurer; and Sierra Tichnell, reporter.

Deadlines For Upcoming Primary, General Elections Are Approaching

Important deadlines for the upcoming 2012 Presidential primary election are approaching. The deadline to register to vote or change party affiliation and the deadline for certain voters to request a polling place change for this election is Tuesday, March 13, by 9 p.m.

To vote in the upcoming primary election, Maryland residents who are eligible to vote but are not yet registered (including 17-year-olds who will be 18 years old or older on or before the Nov. 6, 2012, general election) must complete a voter registration application and hand-deliver or mail the application to a local board of elections.

A hand-delivered application must be received by a local board of elections by March 13, and a mailed application must be postmarked by March 13. This is also the deadline for registered voters who have moved since the last election to provide updated address information to the local board of elections and for registered voters who wish to change their party affiliation.

Voter registration applications are available at the following locations:

- Local boards of elections
- Motor Vehicle Administration offices
- State Department of Health offices
- Local Department of Social Services offices
- Offices on Aging
- Division of Rehabilitation Services
- Public institutions of higher education
- Marriage license bureaus
- Post offices
- Public libraries
- State Board of Elections

To request an application by mail, persons must call 1-800-222-8683 or visit www.elections.state.md.us and click "Voter Registration Information" under Quick Links.

Most of Maryland's polling places are accessible to voters with disabilities. An elderly voter or a voter with a disability who is assigned to an inaccessible polling place may request reassignment to an accessible polling place. This request must also be submitted in writing by March 13.

The form to request reassignment is available at the above-mentioned web site under "polling place reassignment" in the search field. On receipt of a timely request, the local board of elections will review the request and determine whether there is an accessible polling place with the same ballot as the voter's home precinct and notify the voter of the status of his or her request.

On the State Board of Elections' web site, a voter can verify his/her voter registration status and find out if the polling place to which he/she has been assigned is accessible. To find this information, one should click on the "Find Out Here" link.

The 2012 presidential primary eElection will be held on Tuesday, April 3, and the general election will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 6. Deputies Arrest Two On Drinking, Driving Charges

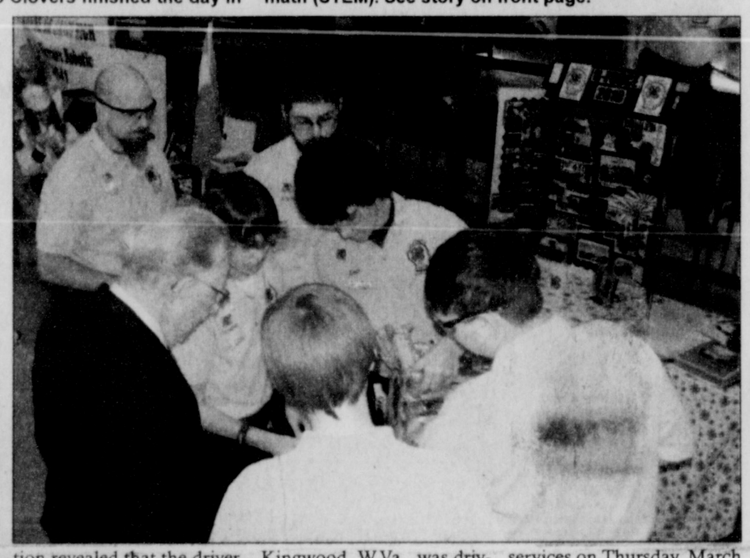
Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested two drivers on drinking and driving charges this past weekend. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to the intersection of Wheeling Avenue and L Street, Mtn. Lake Park, at approximately 2:30 p.m. last Friday for a motor vehicle collision. Investigation revealed that Michael Shaun Cosner, 34, Kitzmiller, had been operating a 2003 Dodge passenger vehicle west on Wheeling Ave., when he failed to stop for a stop sign and collided with a 1997 Buick passenger vehicle, driven by Ida Virginia Gower, 90, Oakland. Both vehicles were heavily damaged. Further investigation revealed that alcohol was a factor in the accident. Cosner was arrested and charged with failure to stop at a stop sign and driving while impaired related charges. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail, where his bond was set at $3,000.

TEAMS WIN BIG AT STATE CHAMPIONSHIPS – G-FORCE and TechnO Clovers, Garrett County's FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) teams sponsored by GEARS and 4-H, won the Maryland FTC State Championship held at the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory this past weekend. The sister teams had to play against each other in one of the six qualifying matches at the state championship, pictured above. G-FORCE's crate was higher (right) and ITS alliance partner was able to raise one crate (far left), but Techno Clovers (center) edged past G-FORCE by raising two crates and won that qualifier round. Techno Clovers finished the day in first and selected G-FORCE and the Robo Foxes to help them win the Winning Alliance Award. Below, G-FORCE members explained to Roscoe G. Barlett, U.S. House of Representatives, how their robot works. "He was really impressed when they raised their lift 10 feet in the air," said a spokesperson. In his remarks during the opening ceremony, he commented that he had heard that the Garrett County teams were favored to win the championship and referenced the movie October Skies. He encouraged all the students to pursue their dreams in the careers of science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM). See story on front page.

In a separate incident, deputies conducted a traffic stop on a 1995 Ford Ranger traveling north on Garrett Highway in the area of Kings Run Road. The stop was conducted to further an investigation that was taking place in the Oakland area at the time. Investigation revealed that the driver, Lester David Lewellen, 36, Kingwood, W.Va., was driving while intoxicated. He was charged with DUI and DWI. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.



GCSO Warns Residents Of Phone Scams

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office reminds residents to not provide any personal or banking information to any person(s) over the telephone.

A local Garrett County resident received a suspicious call in regard to a tax refund to which the caller claimed the resident was entitled. The caller asked for personal information and then checking account information to allegedly transfer the funds. The resident hung up and contacted police.

Because it is tax preparation season, police remind residents to be wary of such calls and to report them if these calls are received.

Revival Services To Be Held At UM Churches

Rev. Gary Rankin has announced the revival services schedule for the Bloomington United Methodist Charge. All services will take place at 7 p.m. Larry Cochran from Webster Springs, W.Va., will be the guest evangelist.

Mt. Zion United Methodist Church will hold services this Sunday, March 4, and Monday, March 5. The church is located 2.5 miles east of Swanton at 2445 Mt. Zion Road.

Chestnut Grove United Methodist Church will hold services on Tuesday, March 6, and Wednesday, March 7. The church is located at 8 Virts Road, Swanton.

Bloomington United Methodist Church will hold services on Thursday, March 8, and Friday, March 9. That church is located at 10 Knight Street, Bloomington.

For more information, persons may call Rev. Rankin at 301-359-3551 or 301-359-3839.

Potato, Taco Bar To Benefit High School Robotics

The local High School Robotics Team 1629 will hold a baked potato and taco bar at the Northern High School cafeteria this Saturday, March 3, from 4 to 8 p.m.

The meal will include baked potatoes and tacos with various toppings, dessert, and drink. Persons may eat in or take out.

Proceeds will help to fund travel expenses to robotics competitions. The public is invited to attend.

"Donations are greatly appreciated," said an event spokesperson.

National Children's Dental Health Month

The Importance of Protecting Smiles with Mouth Guards

While the shopping list for children's sports may seem endless and costly, there is one inexpensive item that should not be overlooked. When picking out the proper baseball glove, soccer cleats, and apparel, make sure that you also pick up an appropriate mouth guard.

A mouth guard is a flexible piece of plastic that fits over the upper teeth to protect them from injury when playing sports. An athlete is 60 times more likely to injure his or her teeth when not wearing a mouth guard. Mouth guards should be worn for any sports activities that may pose a risk of falls or contact with other players or equipment, which includes non-contact sports such as gymnastics and skateboarding.

Sixty percent of facial injuries occur during sports practice. Sports such as football, lacrosse, and hockey generally require players to wear a mouth guard. Surprisingly, the oral injury rate for football players is lower than all other sports, including women's basketball, because the players are required to wear mouth guards. Mouth injuries resulting from basketball and baseball account for nearly half of all sports-related mouth injuries.

There are three types of mouth guards to choose from. A stock mouth guard is sold in sporting goods stores in varying sizes and is held in place by simply biting down. The "boil-and-bite" mouth guards are the most common and can also be found in sporting goods stores. These are softened in boiling water and then formed to fit the mouth. Finally, a dentist can make a custom-made mouth guard. Although these are the most expensive, they are also the best for preventing oral injury.

When choosing a mouth guard, make sure that it is flexible, durable, comfortable, and resistant to tears. It should fit properly, not obstruct breathing or speaking, and be odorless and tasteless. A good mouth guard should also be easy to clean.

Remember that a mouth guard is much less expensive and a lot less painful than repairing a broken tooth. More than 200,00 injuries are prevented each year by wearing appropriate mouth protection. If your child thinks that a mouth guard is not "cool," remind him or her that neither is missing front teeth.

For more information regarding dental care for children and teens, persons may call Garrett County Health Department's Dental Care Center at 301-334-7660 or 301-895-3111, or their own family dentist.

Town Hall

OAKLAND

The next town council meeting is set for Monday, March 5, beginning at 7 p.m. with a presentation from a representative from the Bunnell Hill Development Company.

The regular meeting will continue with the approval of Feb. 6 minutes, February financial reports, and utility bill adjustments. An update will be given on the Water Byproducts Compliance Project. There will be requests from the Northern and Southern high school after-prom party committees, as well as a request from Cub Scout Pack #70. A discussion will also be held on gypsy moths. The meeting will adjourn following the approval of bills, the mayor's update, and committee reports.

Reminder: Any resident of Oakland age 18 or older may register to vote at Oakland City Hall during regular office hours until 4:30 p.m. on Friday, March 2. The election for mayor and town council members will take place on Monday, March 12.

LOCH LYNN HEIGHTS

Garrett Trails will present a short program about the Eastern Continental Divide Loop Trail at the regularly scheduled council meeting to be held at the town hall on Tuesday, March 6, at 6 p.m.

The Planning Commission will meet on Monday, March 19, at 6 p.m.

Slate Painting Course Slated In Grantsville

A slate painting course will be held at Garrett College's Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, on Tuesdays, March 20 and 27, from noon to 3 p.m.

In this hands-on course, students will explore the use of acrylic paint on slate. The theme will be "The County Bird and Wildflower: Bluebird and Columbine."

Local artist Peggy Nixon will instruct the class. She will provide demonstrations, examples, and one-on-one instruction. At the completion of the course, participants will take home their hand-painted plaques ready for hanging.

All materials for this course are provided, including slate, paints, and brushes. For additional information persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center director, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Those who wish to register for this course may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

4-H Club News

GRANTSVILLE
by Cheyenne Bagley, reporter

The Grantsville 4-H Club met at the Grantsville Elementary School for its monthly meeting on Feb. 6.

President Brooke Colmer brought the meeting to order. Pledges were led by Jaylyn Wilt. The roll call was answered by 24 members.

The members of the club discussed providing a basket as a door prize for Achievement Night and will vote on it at the next meeting. Members voted to lead the pledges at Achievement Night.

Cameron Newman did a demonstration on public speaking and Tanner Friend gave a speech on his last year's market lamb project.

Refreshments were provided by Tommy Yantz, Justin Yantz, Amy Burrow and Dave Burrow.

The next meeting will be on Monday, March 5, at Grantsville Elementary School at 7 p.m.

SNOWY CREEK
by Kendra Friend, reporter

The Snowy Creek 4-H Club met on Feb. 12 with five members, four adults, and one guest present.

Rileigh Lowdermilk led the club in the 4-H pledge, while Colby led the American pledge.

The group discussed the yearly club plan and calendar.

Recreational activities the club would like to participate in include swimming at the CARC, Seven Springs Shooting Academy, and Wings of Challenge. Committee members are looking into cost and dates.

The 2012 Market Animal Guides were handed out to each member. Achievement Night is scheduled for March 24 at Southern High School. Carley Sisler will pick up the door prize gift.

Following the meeting, club members participated in a team-building exercise.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, March 8, at 6:30 p.m. at Sand Spring Church.

Become Familiar with These Five Key Areas

As an investor, what are your goals? You can probably think of quite a few — but over the course of your lifetime, your objectives typically will fall into five key categories. And once you're familiar with these areas, you can start thinking of what they'll mean to you in terms of your financial and investment strategies. So, let's take a look at each of these areas and see what they might entail for you:

• Preparing for retirement — With advances in health care and a greater awareness of healthy living practices, many of us can expect to live two or three decades in an active retirement. To pay for all those years, you'll need to save and invest early and often. So, while you're working, take full advantage of your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, as well as contribute to a traditional or Roth IRA. After understanding your desired retirement lifestyle, your financial advisor can help you determine how, and how much, to save to provide for your income in retirement.

• Planning for the unexpected — You can't see into the future, so you'll need to prepare for anything that comes your way. By building an emergency fund containing six to 12 months' worth of living expenses, you can possibly avoid dipping into your long-term investments to pay for things such as a new furnace or a major car repair. And planning for the unexpected also means having sufficient life insurance to provide for your family in case anything happens to you.

• Educating your children — College is already expensive — and college expenses have been rising faster than the overall rate of inflation. If you want to help your children, or grandchildren, pay for school, you may want to invest in a college savings vehicle, such as the 529 plan. You can contribute large amounts to a 529 plan, and earnings have the opportunity to grow tax-free, provided withdrawals are used for higher education. (Withdrawals not used for education are subject to income taxes and a 10 percent penalty.)

• Living in retirement — Once you reach retirement, your investment emphasis will shift somewhat, from accumulating resources to making them last. By working with a financial advisor, you can develop a withdrawal strategy that can help make sure you don't outlive the income you receive from your 401(k), IRA and other sources. At the same time, given the possible length of your retirement, you can't ignore the need to invest for growth, so you may need to consider some growth-oriented vehicles in your portfolio to help your income keep pace with inflation.

• Transferring your wealth — When you've worked hard your whole life, you want to be able to leave a legacy — one that allows you to provide financial resources to the next generation and to those charitable organizations you may wish to support. So, when it's time to think about transferring your wealth, you'll want to consult with your financial and legal advisors to create an estate plan that's appropriate for your needs. And because these plans can take significant time to create, you won't want to wait too long to start.

So, there you have them: five key financial areas on which to focus as you travel through life. By doing your homework, planning ahead and getting the help you need, you can make the journey a pleasant and productive one.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $50,000.00 will be required of the purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, at the time and place of sale. Unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, the balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 8.75000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser, unless the purchaser is the Holder of the Note or its assigns, in which case, no adjustments shall be made. Ground rent, water and/or sewer charges public or private, if any, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason , there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees, all other charges due, and incidental and consequential damages.

In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser`s sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the Holder or its Servicer has entered into any agreement with, or accepted funds from, the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser`s sole remedy shall be return of the deposit.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
365 East Ashby Ellis Road
Oakland, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Judith A. Tusing and Robert H. Tusing, dated June 26, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1236, Folio 540 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustee will sell at public auction at Court House Door on March 19, 2012, at 3:20 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND KNOWN AS metes and bounds, situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust, carrying Tax ID No. 14-034501 & 14-020322.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, agreements, easements, covenants and rights of way of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $10,200.00 will be required at the time of sale in the form of cash, certified check, or other form as the Substitute Trustees determine acceptable. No deposit shall be required of the noteholder where the noteholder bids on the property at auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, time being of the essence for purchaser. In the event that settlement does not occur within the said ten days, the purchaser shall be in default. Upon such default the Trustees may file a Motion and Order to Resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser, and purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice, in which case the deposit shall be forfeited and all expenses of this sale (including attorney's fees and the full commission on the gross sale price of this sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. The Trustees may then readvertise and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser; or, without reselling the property, the Trustees may avail themselves of any legal or equitable remedies against the defaulting purchaser. In the event of a resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to receive the surplus, if any, even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulting purchaser. Interest to be paid on the purchase money less the stated deposit called for herein, at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustee. There shall be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason, including but not limited to exceptions to sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, Court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects. There shall be no adjustment of taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges/assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, and same are to be assumed by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, agricultural transfer tax, if any and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of damage to the property from the date of auction forward. If the Substitute Trustee does not convey title for any reason, including but not limited to the Secured Party executing a forbearance agreement with the borrower(s) described in the above-mentioned Deed of Trust, or allowing the borrower(s) to execute their right to reinstate or pay off the subject loan, prior to the sale, with or without the Substitute Trustee's prior knowledge, or if the sale is not ratified for any reason including errors made by the Substitute Trustees, the foreclosure sale shall be null and void and of no effect, and the Purchaser's sole remedy in law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit without interest. Further terms and particulars may be announced at time of sale, and purchaser may be required to execute a Memorandum of Sale at the time of auction. (Matter #17089)

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF UNIMPROVED NON-RESIDENTIAL REAL ESTATE

5.0 acres, more or less, identified as Lot 6 Holland Tract, south side of Upperman Road, Oakland, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated October 17, 2008, and recorded in Liber No. 1393, folio 536, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms, I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will on at the Alder Street entrance to the Garrett County Circuit Courthouse, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: 5.0 acres known as Lot 6 Holland Tract, south side of Upperman Road, Oakland, Maryland. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated October 17, 2008, and recorded in Liber No. 1393, folio 0533 among said Land Records.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($1,900.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements, if any. The Property will be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, and similar public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF A VACANT LOT KNOWN AS UNIT 88, GALLATIN WOODS, TREETOP WAY, DEEP CREEK LAKE, MARYLAND.
(TAX ACCOUNT NO. 18-086484)

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a deed of trust of William P. Budd and Mary V. Budd, to Thomas R. Janes, trustee, for the benefit of First United Bank & Trust dated December 15, 2009, and recorded in Book 1488, page 134, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and having been duly appointed Substitute Trustee, default having been made under the agreements, covenants and conditions of said deed of trust, the undersigned will offer for sale at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett County, in the rotunda on the first floor, on Monday, March 12, 2012, at 2:00 p.m.

TERMS OF SALE: Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) on day of sale and balance within fifteen (15) days after the ratification of sale by the court unless otherwise arranged with the Substitute Trustee. Any buyer other than the note holder is required to pay interest on the unpaid purchase price from the date of sale to closing at the contract rate. Time is of the essence. Costs of recordation stamps and transfer taxes will be paid by the Buyer. All state, county and city taxes, insurance and other public assessments will be adjusted as of the date of sale. The property is sold in "as is" condition with no representation as to structural integrity, state of repair or the absence of any hazardous material. Description of the improvements was accurate at the time received by the lender; no assurances are intended as to the current condition.

Efforts will be made to have the property available for inspection prior to the sale. Please contact Jeannie Myers at First United Bank & Trust (800-470-4356, extension 1640) or John J. Coyle, Jr., Substitute Trustee, (301-722-0123) to arrange for inspection of the property.

134 KNOLL CREST HEIGHTS DR.
OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Leslie A. Bittinger and Salena D. Bittinger dated February 28, 2007, and recorded in Liber 1291, Folio 524 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $232,000.00 and an original interest rate of 6.625% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on MARCH 14, 2012, AT 1:30 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with any buildings or improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, and any improvements thereon, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $23,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Sub. Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If purchaser fails to settle within 10 days of ratification, the Sub. Trustees may file a motion to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Sub. Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Sub. Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if ratification of the sale is denied by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF IMPROVED RESIDENTIAL REAL ESTATE

Lot 4, Bear Crossing, containing 43,560 square feet, with improvements known as 157 Bear Crossing Drive, McHenry, Maryland. By virtue of the power of sale contained in a Deed of Trust dated June 13, 2007, and recorded in Liber No. 1313, folio 135, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under its terms, I, Craig Ingram, Substitute Trustee, hereby give notice that I will, on at the Alder Street entrance of the Garrett County Court House, Oakland, Maryland, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following property: Lot 4, Bear Crossing, containing 43,560 square feet, with improvements known as 157 Bear Crossing Drive, McHenry, Maryland. Being the same property as was conveyed by deed dated August 1, 2001 and recorded in Liber No. 852, folio 110, among said Land Records.

Terms of Sale: Deposit of THIRTY-SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS ($36,000.00) will be required of Purchaser at the time and place of sale, such deposit to be cash, certified check or such other form as the Substitute Trustee may determine acceptable in his sole discretion. Balance to be payable by same method within fifteen (15) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, with interest on said balance from the date of sale to the date of actual receipt of funds by the Substitute Trustee at 7% per annum. There shall be no abatement of interest for any reason. Deposit not required if mortgagee is purchaser. Substitute Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to extend the time of settlement at his discretion. Property is sold in "AS IS" condition. The Substitute Trustee makes no representations and/or warranty whatsoever regarding the title or any other matter with respect to the property, either express or implied, including but not limited to: the nature, condition, quality and quantity of the land, suitability of use and/or purpose, description of the property and/or improvements, if any. The Property will be sold subject to all easements, conditions, liens, restrictions, rights of redemption, covenants, encumbrances and agreements of record affecting the same, and such state of facts that an accurate survey or physical inspection of the Property might disclose. The Property will be sold subject to all existing building, zoning, wetland, and environmental problems and or violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any. Purchaser at the foreclosure sale shall assume the risk of loss with respect to the Property as of the time of sale. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property. Taxes, and similar public charges and assessments will be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for all current and past due water and sewer charges, including any transfer fees. All costs of conveyance and settlement, including incidental settlement costs, including transfer taxes and recordation taxes, shall be paid by Purchaser. Time is of the essence as to Purchaser. In the event the Purchaser fails to settle as required, in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies available, Substitute Trustee may declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and expense of Purchaser. In such event, Purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney fees, and all other charges due. In the event that Substitute Trustee is unable to convey marketable title, or, in the event the Mortgagor entered into a repayment plan, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to sale, or if for any other reason, Substitute Trustee did not have the right to sell the property, the sale is null and void and Purchaser is not entitled to any legal or equitable remedy, other than the return of the deposit, without interest and any and all other claims of the Purchaser are hereby released. Other terms and conditions may be announced at the sale. The information contained herein is offered for informational purposes only. It is Purchaser's obligation to obtain an independent investigation of the Property. The Note Holder and Substitute Trustee do not make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of this information and Purchaser holds them harmless from same.

Garrett County Dept. of Social Services
Notice of New Emergency Assistance Regulations

Upon receiving notification from the Maryland Department of Human Resources, the Garrett County Department of Social Services is changing eligibility for its Emergency Assistance to Families with Children (EAFC) Program. Changes to the EAFC Program are the result of current budget constraints and is mandatory for all 24 Maryland Local Departments of Social Services. Effective 3/1/2012, participants will be limited to one EAFC in 24 months. In the past, the limit was one every 12 months. EAFC coverage is limited to preventing homelessness of a child and utility/heating assistance. The applicant's resources and the EAFC must resolve the crisis and allow the family to remain in their home or continue utility service. The family must be able to show how they will pay the ongoing expense or the EAFC will not be approved. People with questions about this program change may call Social Services at 301-533-3000 or 301-895-3560 and ask to speak with a Family Investment Supervisor. 3/1-8(2)

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

AMO AND FRIEND – Education with a hands-on experience was what Amo (Anthony Oliverio) was looking for. It was what he found in the Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology program at Garrett College. Now an adjunct biology lab instructor, Amo strives to pass on his love for learning about nature and its creatures. In the photo with Amo is Clarrisse the red-tailed boa. She is the type of constrictor that Amo and his fellow Garrett College students may find while in Costa Rica for a class.

Biology Instructor Anthony Oliverio Feels "This is My Garrett College"

by Connor Norman

Befitting his nickname "Amo," Anthony Olivero was "locked and loaded" with his eye trained on a career involving his love of the natural world. When he discovered Garrett College's signature program in natural resources and wildlife technology in 2003, he knew he had found his niche. He has since transitioned from student to teacher. Currently employed at Garrett College as an adjunct lab instructor, Amo has a deep and ingrained involvement both currently and in his past with the college.

"My parents were originally from Garrett County. I was born and raised in Pittsburgh, however," Amo said. "When my mother moved back here, I moved down to take care of her."

When he moved to the area, he linked up with a friend and followed him to the GC campus to talk to NRWT program director Kevin Dodge. During his friend's meeting, Amo began a conversation with biology professor Peter Skylstad.

"Mr. Skylstad sold me on the NRWT program. The hands-on experience of the NRWT program was exactly what I wanted," Amo said.

Before moving to Garrett County, Amo was a student at Slippery Rock University studying geology.

"I came to Garrett College and I didn't feel like a number anymore. I felt like a student," he said. Just prior to his graduation from the NRWT program he became a naturalist for the Deep Creek Lake State Park's Discovery Center. He worked there for five years before moving into teaching.

After obtaining his associate's degree at Garrett College, Amo transferred to Frostburg State University to attend Frostburg's Wildlife Biology program.

"When I moved on I felt like I knew more than the students who had been at Frostburg all four years. Their program was good, but it wasn't as hands-on or as in-depth as the NRWT program at Garrett," he said.

Amo is now an adjunct lab instructor at Garrett College teaching biology. He is now enrolled at the University of Maryland with an aspiration to attain his master's degree. He enjoys his work with the students of the college and works hard in a mission to give to the students what he was given at Garrett College.

"I was a poor student before; I learned how to be a student at Garrett. I had a love for the outdoors; Garrett gave me a passion for it. I want to instill the passion in my students that was instilled in me," he said. "I was given the tools to be successful in my career. Now it's my turn to hand those tools down."

Amo has his sights set on staying with Garrett College after obtaining his master's degree. He has plans to get more involved and leave a lasting legacy on the college, because, as he said, "this is my GC."

Spring Events For Families Slated At CARC

Two early spring family events are scheduled at the Garrett College Community Aquatic & Recreation Complex (CARC).

The first is a Beach Party at the CARC pool on Saturday, March 10, from 4 to 8 p.m. The event will include games, snacks, door prizes, photos with Splash, a chance to win a basket of gifts, and swimming.

The CARC Beach Party is free for all members. There will be a fee of $5 per person for non-members.

The second spring event is the Easter Egg Hunt and Community Swim at the CARC on Saturday, April 7, from noon until 2:30 p.m. The activities will begin with the Easter egg hunt, which will be held rain or shine. This event is designated for children ages 2 to 12 years with participants divided into age groups.

The community swim will follow the hunt. This event is free for all CARC members. There will be a fee of $5 per person for non-members.

The CARC is located along Mosser Road on the McHenry campus of Garrett College. For more information on these and other events at the CARC, persons may call 301-387-3786 or visit the web site at www.gccarc.com.

Garrett Seeking Nominations Of GC Contributors

The board of trustees of Garrett College announced this week that it is inviting nominations f the Award for Outstand ig Contributions to Garrett College.

This award is typically given at Garrett's commencement ceremony in the spring. Any member of the community may submit a nomination, and all nominations are encouraged.

The purpose of the award is to recognize individuals or organizations that have significantly and positively influenced Garrett College's mission and goals.

Persons who wish to recommend a candidate are asked to contact Marcia Knepp, executive assistant to the president, at 301-387-3056 for further information and a nomination form.

To be considered, nominations must be submitted to Knepp no later than March 16.

Does Yoga Wreck Or Heal: Next Topic Of ASI Colloquium

DR. LY WI S

The Garrett College Adventuresports Institute will host a presentation on health benefit and risks of practicing yoga. This presentation, which is part of the ASI Colloquium program, is free and open to the public. It is scheduled for Tuesday, March 6, starting at 7 p.m. in the classroom of the Garrett College Community Aquatic & Recreation Complex (CARC).

The speaker for this event will be Dr. Kimberly Williams, research assistant professor in community medicine at West Virginia University, certified Iyengar yoga instructor, and co-owner of Inner Life Yoga Studio LLC in Morgantown.

Williams will discuss how yoga can be used to heal low back pain (LBP). She will also discuss why people can get hurt practicing yoga and how to minimize injury. She will draw on her experience of overcoming chronic LBP as a yoga teacher, and teaching many others to do the same, and will share the results of her two clinical trials on the subject. There will be an opportunity to learn some simple poses to prevent and treat chronic LBP.

This series of lectures offered throughout the semester features speakers whose expertise relates directly to the recreation and adventure activity industry. For more information on this presentation or the Garrett College Adventure Sports program, persons may call 301-387-3333.

Blaze Damages House In Hutton Monday Afternoon

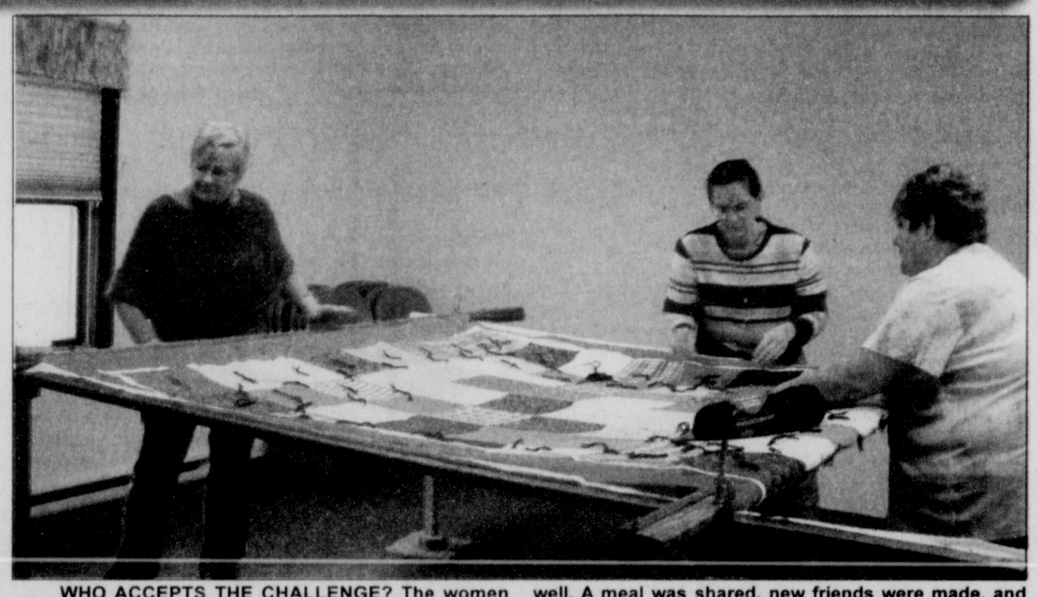
An accidental fire resulted in significant damage to a one-story single-family dwelling and contents along Hutton Road west of Oakland on Monday.

Volunteers from four fire departments were summoned to 2999 Hutton Road at 12:35 p.m. after the occupants of the structure discovered fire in the living room. Those occupants were Kevin and Rebecca Shaffer, and the house is owned by Donna Shaffer, according to the report filed by the office of the Maryland state fire marshal.

Called to the scene were the Oakland, Terra Alta, Deer Park, and Aurora volunteer fire departments. Some 20 firefighters brought the blaze under control in about 15 minutes, according to the report.

The fire was reportedly caused by an electrical problem in the living room. The loss to the structure was estimated to be $10,000, while the estimate for loss of contents totaled $20,000.

There were no injuries reported.



WHO ACCEPTS THE CHALLENGE? The women at Emmanuel Lutheran Church are challenging local citizens to "quilt the county" by creating and donating quilts to the House of Hope for distribution to local families in need. A total of 14 women gathered at the church in Bittinger to lend their time and talent to the creation of three new quilts. Nine tops were completed and stacks of squares were cut for future projects as well. A meal was shared, new friends were made, and many laughs were enjoyed while the women worked. Those willing to donate to the cause are asked to contact Cindy Richardson at 301-245-4249 for dates and times of the next get-together. Any other groups who have already gathered are asked to share their quilts and experiences by contacting Richardson.

Man Sentenced To Six Years In Prison For Burglary Charge

A 41-year-old Oakland man was sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court last week to six years in the Division of Correction for a second degree burglary charge.

Judge Jim Sherbin suspended all six years of Robert Vaughn Winters' sentence and placed him on two years of supervised probation. Related charges against Winters were dismissed upon his plea.

Last July, investigators with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office received a report from a local contractor that his business had been burglarized over the course of two days. Property stolen included tools and payroll checks.

Winters was found in possession of some of those tools when he was stopped by a law enforcement officer in West Virginia for traffic offenses, according to the state's attorney.

In an unrelated case, Richard Allen DeBerry, 30, Oakland, pleaded guilty last week in Circuit Court to violating his probation by not abstaining from the use of illegal substances.

Judge Sherbin sentenced him to 18 months in the Garrett County Jail and then suspended all but 30 days of

Access Currently Restricted To Casselman Bridge

The Maryland Park Service (MPS) has restricted access on and around the Casselman River Bridge in Grantsville until further notice because of safety concerns related to the failure of a portion of one wall. MPS installed fencing and signs to prevent public access to the bridge and the surrounding area.

"The closure is a precautionary measure in response to structural deterioration along the west wall of the bridge," said Jordan Loran, director of the Engineering and Construction Unit of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR). "While the structure appears to be relatively stable at this time, there is some danger that stones may continue to fall."

Engineers conducted a thorough inspection of the bridge last week and determined that the damage is repairable. MPS remains committed to preserving and protecting this historic landmark and will begin the necessary repairs as soon as possible.

The Casselman River Bridge is one of the oldest surviving bridges in the country. The 80-foot stone-arch bridge was originally built in 1813 as part of the old National Road. At the time of its construction, the Cassleman River Bridge was the longest single-span bridge in the United States

The Republican, Students Engage In Newspapers In Education Week

This week, March 5 to 9, is National Newspapers In Education Week. In light of that designation as well as this month's 135th "birthday" of The Republican newspaper, a number of local teachers will be using this newspaper in their classrooms as a learning tool this month.

Approximately 600 papers are being delivered this afternoon and tomorrow morning to 11 Garrett County schools, as requested by teachers in response to the newspaper office's offer to provide free papers for classroom lessons.

"We are very happy to provide our newspaper to our county's teachers to be used in this way," said Don Sincell, editor and president of the Sincell Publishing Company/ The Republican newspaper. "We hope they are able to learn much from our pages, which we so often dedicate to the youth of our county."

The Republican is now in its 136th year, having passed the milestone of the anniversary of the first printing of the paper, which was on March 3, 1877.

"We are very gratified to have the distinction of being a 'fixture' in the homes of so many of our residents," said Mary Sincell McEwen, vice president of the company. "That is something we try very hard to not take for granted, especially in this day and age of the Internet. We greatly appreciate our readers, both here and beyond, and we are so happy that so many teachers took us up on our offer this week."

Newspaper In Education (NIE) Week is celebrated annually during the first full school week of March. The Newspaper Association of America Foundation (NAA) is providing an online teacher's guide, titled "Give Them the Keys," which can be located at www.nieteacher.org/nie2/Language_Arts-Literacy/Adolescent-Literacy-Keys.pdf.

This year the curriculum includes standardized lesson plans of common core standards, technology standards, leveled activities, and assessments. All items can be downloaded free of charge.

"In all their forms, newspapers remain one of the most remarkable, multifaceted and effective educational resources available to teachers," said an NAA spokesperson. "Newspapers expose students to an ever-widening range of subjects, and give teachers fresh resources for teaching both core and enrichment topics.

"With newspapers, teachers can engage students with contemporary informational texts that not only bring academics to life but also deepen learning by grounding it in real-world experiences," the spokesperson said.

The NAA and NIE refer to newspapers as "living textbooks."

The curriculum for NIE Week 2012 celebrates the

Keyser Resident Receives Jail Time For Church Theft

A 27-year-old Keyser, W.Va., man pleaded guilty in Garrett County Circuit Court this week to second degree burglary. Related charges against Joshua Lee Delawder were dismissed upon his plea.

Judge Jim Sherbin then sentenced Delawder to three years in the Division of Correction and suspended 18 months of the sentence. Delawder will be on probation upon his release from the Garrett County Jail, with conditions that include paying $1,202 in restitution to the Loch Lynn Church of God.

Delawder was arrested and charged by investigators with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office in December 2011 for the October burglary at the church. Video surveillance and a tipster led to Delawder, who was staying with a friend in the Rawlings area. After his arrest, Delawder confessed to entering the church, forcing open various interior doors, and stealing a small amount of cash and food, the state's attorney noted.

In another Circuit Court proceeding this week, Jay R. Harding, 39, Frostburg, admitted to violating his probation. Sherbin sentenced him to 18 months in the Garrett County Jail.

Last May, Harding was convicted of causing a child to be in need of assistance. At that time, he was sentenced to two years in the Division of Correction, which was suspended in favor of probation.

While on probation, Harding failed to enroll or participate in treatment, admitted to continued use of a controlled dangerous substance

LOCAL RESIDENTS TESTIFY – Garrett County residents were among those who testified this week in Annapolis before the Education, Health and Environmental Affairs Committee of the Maryland Senate. At issue were 20 different bills that have to do with the drilling for natural gas in the Marcellus shale layer in western Maryland. Among those who testified were members of the local advocacy group CitizenShale, business owners, and private citizens. Pictured at the table above, from left, are CitizenShale members Eric Robison of Garrett County, Jacquelyn Sams of Allegany County, and Nadine Grabania and Paul Roberts, both of Garrett County. The various pieces of legislation cover issues of property leasing, potential damages, disclosure issues, and taxation of drilling companies.

Elections Board In "Good Shape" For April Primary

The Garrett County Board of Elections is gearing up for Maryland's primary election on Tuesday, April 3, director Steve Fratz indicated during an update report to the county commissioners on Tuesday. Commission chair Jim Raley and Fratz also briefly discussed code home rule.

"We have currently 106 judges who perform election duties on election day," Fratz said. "We have all of them trained and assigned. So for the primary and general election cycle, we're in good shape."

He added that logic and accuracy testing for the board's voting units will begin on Monday, March 12.

He noted the last day to register to vote before the primary election is Tuesday, March 13, at 9 p.m. Registration forms are available in all local libraries, post offices, the county courthouse, and online at the Maryland State Board of Elections web site: elections.state.md.us.

The last day to apply for an absentee ballot is Tuesday, March 27, at 8 p.m.

Early voting for the primary is Saturday, March 24, through Thursday, March 29. Garrett County voters may cast their ballots at the Oakland Community Center on Saturday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and on Sunday from noon until 6 p.m.

On primary election day, the county's 19 polling sites will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Fratz said the Board of Elections would canvass the primary absentee ballots on Thursday, April 5, beginning at 10 a.m. at its office in Mountain Lake Park.

"Of course, that's open to the public," he noted about the canvass.

The board will can-

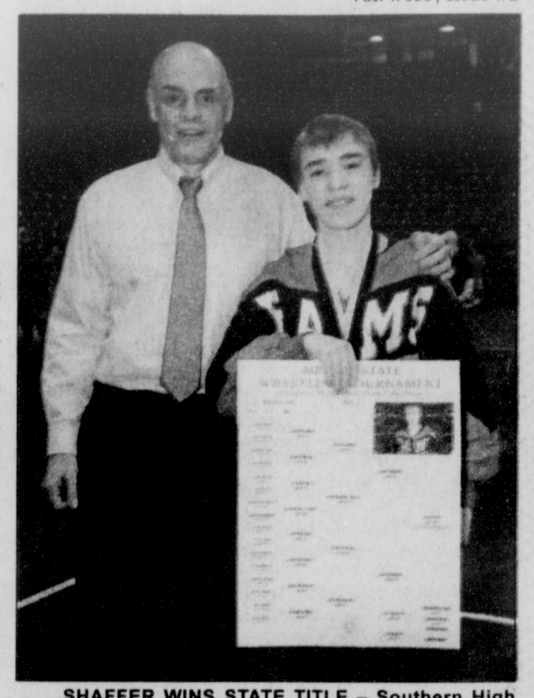
MSP Arrest Man On Distribution Of CDS Charges

Maryland State Police arrested a Colorado man following a traffic stop on I-68 last Thursday.

Troopers stopped a 2012 Mazda passenger vehicle driven by Carliss Lee Pritts Jr., Colorado Springs, for a traffic violation. During the stop, a K-9 scan was conducted and resulted in a positive alert. Pritts was found to be in possession of a quantity of marijuana, methamphetamine, and drug paraphernalia, for which he was charged. He was also charged with possession of marijuana with intent to distribute. He is being held on a $10,000 bond at the Garrett County Jail following a bond hearing by a District Court commissioner.



SHAFFER WINS STATE TITLE – Southern High School sophomore Austin Shaffer joined an elite group of Garrett County high school athletes this past weekend when he captured the individual 1A/2A Maryland state wrestling championship in the 106-pound division at College Park. Shaffer defeated four opponents in the tourney en route to his title, recording two pins, a technical fall, and a 3-0 decision over Zach Hensley of Oakland Mills High School in the championship bout. Commissioners Approve Additional Funding For Deep Creek Lake Study

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners met in an emergency administrative session on Monday to review additional funding for Phase II of the Deep Creek Lake Sediment Study. By a vote of two to one, the commissioners approved allocating another $40,000 toward the Maryland Department of Natural Resources project.

Last year, the commissioners committed $65,000 from the county budget rollover to help fund the study, which will be conducted by the DNR at a total cost of $180,000. The DNR and such private entities as the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association have pledged $75,000 toward the study.

The DNR recently informed the county that there is a $40,000 deficit in the total funding required to complete all components of the study and that the commissioners needed to decided immediately if they wanted to contribute more.

After a long deliberation at Monday's emergency session, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners, on a motion by chairman Jim Raley which was seconded and carried by Commissioner Bob Gatto, approved the additional funding of $40,000. Commissioner Gregan Crawford voted against the motion.

Crawford issued a statement Tuesday morning, outlining his reasons for voting against the proposal. He noted that the commissioners unanimously committed the original $65,000 because of the economic value of Deep Creek Lake to Garrett County.

"This action was taken in order to partner with the state and private entities to cover the cost of $180,000, even though Deep Creek Lake is solely owned by the state of Maryland," Crawford said.

He noted that a total allocation of $105,000 from

Commissioners Sign North South Hwy. Resolution

The Garrett County commissioners signed a resolution on Tuesday pledging to work in partnership with the North South Appalachian Highway Coalition to advocate for the North South Appalachian Highway. Local resident David Moe, a member of the coalition, requested the resolution.

Garrett County's portion of the multi-state project involves the reconstruction/ relocation of U.S. Rt. 219 from I-68 to the Pennsylvania state line (2.54 miles).

"We've designated it as our No. 1 state highway project," Commission chair Jim Raley noted.

The previous Board of Garrett County Commissioners' No.1 priority was the Rt. 219 Oakland bypass.

The coalition's mission is to advance the project, ensuring its completion as the connection transportation corridor from I-68 in Maryland to the Pennsylvania Turnpike and Corridor H in West Virginia. Lack of funding has stalled the project for several years. The coalition is calling upon the U.S. Congress to support the completion of the project with continued funding.

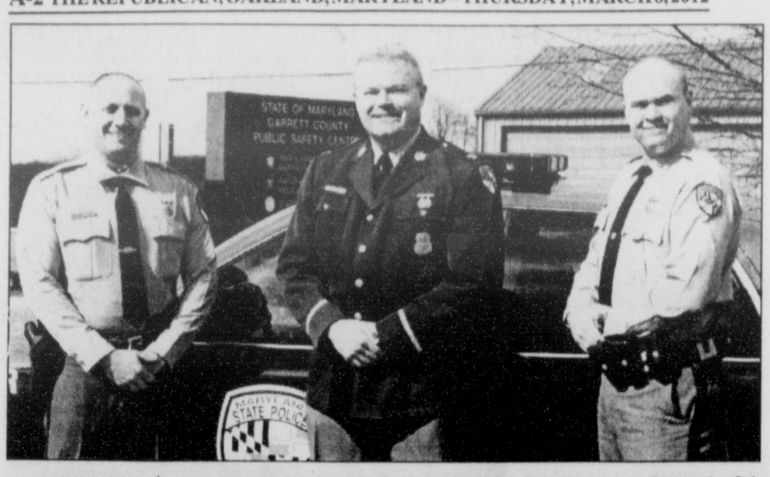
SO...WILL THEY BE 4½ WHEN THEY GRADUATE? These newborns, who made their appearance at Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Feb. 29, will not technically celebrate their first birthdays for another four years. GCMH employee Chris Wildesen shared her leap-year birthday celebration with the two babies and their families, as it has become tradition at GCMH since she is the only hospital employee whose birthday falls on Feb. 29. Proud parents Amanda and David Shaffer welcomed Liam at 3:23 a.m., and he weighed 8 lbs. 8 oz. and was 21½ inches long. Danielle Teter welcomed daughter Anna at 7:08 a.m. She weighed 7 lbs. 7.1 oz. and was 19 inches long. From left are the Shaffer family, Wildesen, and the Teter family.



MSP HONORS LOCAL SERGEANT AND TROOPER – The McHenry Barrack of the Maryland State Police has announced that Sgt. Brian Broadwater is the 2011 Barrack Non-commissioned Officer of the Year and Tfc. Andrew Farrell is the Trooper of the Year for 2011. See story for details. Left to right are Broadwater, Capt. James Pyles, commander of the Western Troop, and Farrell.

Sgt. Broadwater, Tfc. Farrell Recognized By Md. State Police McHenry Barrack

The Maryland State Police McHenry Barrack has named Sgt. Brian Broadwater as the 2011 Barrack Non-Commissioned Officer of the year and Tfc. Andrew Farrell as the Trooper of the Year for 2011.

"Sgt. Broadwater's performance by his subordinates was exemplary," said MSP Capt. James R. Pyles, Western Troop commander. "His group outperformed many other groups in many rating categories. Sgt. Broadwater's performance during 2011 was also exemplary. He demonstrates excellent time management skills and pays particular attention to detail. This is always evident in his completion of subordinate appraisals, as well as reviewing subordinate paperwork. All of the duties and responsibilities assigned to him are punctual and accurate."

Broadwater was assigned to the Drug Enforcement Command for several years prior to his promotion and has done an outstanding job adapting to the Field Operations Bureau, according to Pyles.

"[Sgt. Broadwater] balances his time between his supervisory duties as barrack tow truck supervisor, hazardous and toxic substance supervisor, ordinance supervisor, health and safety coordinator, personal and vehicle inspection supervisor, supply officer, license plate recognition supervisor, and in his spare time serves as the shift commander," Pyles said.

Farrell entered the Maryland State Police Academy in July 2005. After graduating from the academy, he was assigned to the Westminster Barrack in Carroll County. In 2009, Farrell was transferred to the Frederick Barrack and assigned a K-9. Farrell was assigned to the McHenry Barrack in August 210, where he currently works as a K-9 handler. He is the son of retired Trooper Timothy J. Farrell.

"Tfc. Andrew Farrell currently is assigned two canines, one a German shepherd drug dog and the other a bloodhound tracking dog," Pyles said. "While at the McHenry Barrack, he displays exceptional attention to detail in all aspects of his job performance and has provided job knowledge and leadership in drug interdiction efforts at the barrack. He demonstrates exceptional ability to identify, analyze, and solve every aspect associated with criminal investigations. Most of his criminal investigations are self-generated through his aggressive traffic enforcement."

In 2011, Farrell spearheaded a five-day criminal interdiction initiative to identify individuals attempting to further their criminal enterprise while traveling on Maryland roadways in Garrett County. The operation resulted in 44 controlled dangerous substance arrests and four felony distribution cases. Police seized heroin, LSD tablets and pills, mushroom, marijuana, Ecstacy, methodone, numerous items of drug paraphernalia, a large amount of currency, and two vehicles.

"Tfc. Farrell is a self-starter who takes initiative in all tasks assigned and assumes responsibility with a take-charge attitude," Pyles said. "His initiative and energy is contagious to the other troopers who work around him and his peers are [eager] to work with him. His positive attitude and high level of achievement have a strong impact on his superiors and subordinates alike."

The commander added that Farrell's knowledge, skills, and experience are a credit to himself, as well as the Maryland State Police.

"His dedication and enthusiasm are evident in his overall performance and leadership," Pyles said. "He is an exceptionally dedicated individual who has served and represented this agency in a way that deserves recognition of the Maryland Barrack 2011 Trooper of the Year. This recommendation is not being made for any single accomplishment or event. Tfc. Farrel is recommended for being a complete multi-faceted trooper with an excellent set of work skills combined with leadership, [thus] carrying on the legacy of his father."

The 42 personnel assigned to the McHenry Barrack are involved in criminal and traffic enforcement efforts in a partnership with local and federal law enforcement and emergency services agencies.

"We are part of a coordinated network of state resources ready to respond in times of crisis and always working to protect the citizens of our great state and Garrett County," Pyles said.

Changes Made To Garrett Co. Landfill Hours Of Operation

The Garrett County Department of Solid Waste and Recycling has announced changes in operating hours for the Garrett County Landfill, located at 3118 Oakland Sang Run Road.

Effective April 15, the landfill will operate on two distinct seasons: summer and winter. The new schedule is the result of a review of historical data, recent customer survey results, and the desire to reduce operating expenses, according department manager Dave Baker.

The landfill hours will be as follows:

- Summer season – April 15 through Nov. 15 – Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with scales closing at 2:30 p.m.
- Winter season – Nov. 16 through April 14 – Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon. Scales will not be open, and commercial and large loads will not be accepted on Saturdays.

The landfill will be closed for the following holidays in 2012:

- Memorial Day, Monday, May 28.
- Independence Day Wednesday, July 4.
- Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 3.
- Thanksgiving, Thursday, Nov. 22.
- Christmas Day, Tuesday Dec. 25.

"Commercial customers overwhelmingly support an earlier opening time, and residential users find that Saturday hours are more important to them," Baker said. "This schedule accommodates both groups, and lines up with actual use over the last five years. The new schedule saves on operating expenses and frees up existing staff to work on necessary improvements at the refuse collection sites located throughout the county.

For more information, persons may call Baker at 301-387-0322.

MSP Arrest Man Following Assault At McHenry Home

Maryland State Police arrested an Arizona man following an incident at a McHenry home rented by Garrett College students early this morning.

MSP Troopers responded to a Close Road apartment for a reported assault at approximately 2 a.m. Jonathan Slezak, 20, Washington, reported that Christopher Rowland Lowry, 20, Pheonix and McHenry, was holding a steak knife in his hand and forced open Slezak's bedroom door. Lowry allegedly grabbed Slezak by the shoulder while demanding that Lowry return his seasonal ski pass. Lowry departed after retrieving his property and was later located at another McHenry address, where he was placed under arrest.

Lowry was charged with first- and second-degree assault, as well as malicious destruction of property under $500 for allegedly damaging the door frame. His bond was set at $2,500. Slezak was reportedly uninjured.

Board Of Ed. To Hold March Meeting At Southern Middle

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, March 13, beginning at 4 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Southern Middle School cafeteria.

Following public comment at 4 p.m., the board will meet in closed session until 5:30 p.m. After that session, public agenda topics planned are action on the 2011-12 school calendar and the 2012 graduation date. Recognition will be given at approximately 5:40 p.m. to the Young Author Contest winners.

The Dennett Road Elementary School, the Friendsville Elementary School, and the Kitzmiller Elementary School advisory Committees will present their group reports on the proposed school closings beginning at 6 p.m.

Time will be set aside at approximately 8:30 p.m., after the advisory committee reports, for public comment and participation on any topic. The public is invited to attend.

More Local Hunters Will Receive Bear Hunting Permits

Garrett County hunters will have a better chance of getting a bear hunting permit in the 2012 season. Paul Peditto, director of the Wildlife and Heritage Service, informed Sen. George Edwards last Thursday that the Department of Natural Resources will amend its lottery protocols, which will allocate 25 percent of the bear hunting permits to western Maryland residents.

"In other words, a minimum of 25 percent of all bear permits will be assigned to those hunters who live in the current bear hunting 'zone,'" Peditto wrote in a letter to Edwards. "We anticipate this change will ensure local hunters a greater likelihood of being drawn for bear permits. Likewise, local hunters, who have greater access to local private land, will more effectively and efficiently help us achieve our bear management goal to slow the growth of Maryland's bear population, particularly nuisance bears on private lands in western Maryland."

Though local hunters will be ensured at least 25 percent of the permits, they could end up receiving 50 percent of them. Garrett and Allegany applicants who are not drawn for the first 25 percent of the permits will go back into the drawing with the remaining applicants, which means local hunters with have another chance at getting a permit.

In the last bear hunting season, 3,915 hunters applied for an available 260 permits. Permits are usually issued in September, and the hunt takes place in October.

Friendsville Gets Funds For Tourist Parking Project

The town of Friendsville has received over $18,000 to construct an off-street parking facility for visitors to the Youghiogheny River. The funds were presented to the Friendsville Town Council by American Whitewater, a national whitewater paddling organization, on March 5.

The hundreds of kayakers, canoeists, and rafters who arrive in Friendsville to run the wild rapids of the Upper Youghiogheny River have traditionally had a large impact on the small town.

As the "Upper Yough" is one of the country's premier expert whitewater runs and one of very few with scheduled water releases every summer, paddlers come to Friendsville from far and wide to set their watercraft into the river. Typically, they have parked their vehicles on both sides of Maple Avenue for several hundred yards near the "put-in" at Sang Run. This results in congestion and potential safety hazards for the Friendsville community.

In order to better accommodate the whitewater enthusiasts and its citizens, the Friendsville Town Council has been working closely with American Whitewater to manage the "footprint" of visiting kayakers.

"Posts on AW's web site have encouraged more respectful behavior and made a real difference, but we all knew that better facilities were needed in the long term," stated a spokesperson for the Friendsville Town Council.

The town acquired the necessary land and Councilman Jess Whittemore developed plans for an off-street parking area. When he began looking for grant funding, American Whitewater stated that it intended to help.

In order to do this, American Whitewater designed a comprehensive online fundraising campaign that placed an appeal on its web site, numerous Facebook pages, and on a dozen East Coact whitewater club bulletin boards and chat rooms. The group's goal of $12,000 was surpassed after an influx of funding was received in response to the online requests.

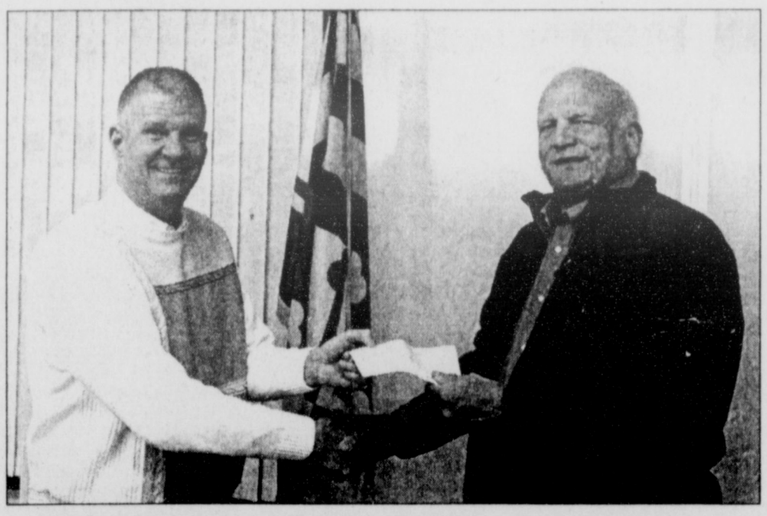
American Whitewater presented a check for $14,200 to Spencer Schlosnagle, Friendsville mayor, on Monday, marking the largest amount the group has ever raised for a municipal project. In addition, close to $4,000 has been pledged or was sent directly to the town. More funds are still being collected, and several paddlers with professional qualifications have offered to donate their time and expertise to the project.

"This is an exciting moment," said Charlie Walbridge, American Whitewater board member.

"This outpouring of generosity shows how much we value the town of Friendsville and its support of whitewater paddling on the Upper Yough."

"The town is pleased with the partnership that has developed with the whitewater kayakers in order to protect the river resources and small-town values that we love," added Whittemore.

"We hope that the parking lot will be ready for summer season use."



WHITEWATER PADDLERS RAISE OVER $18,000 FOR FRIENDSVILLE PARKING – American Whitewater presented Spencer Schlosnagle, mayor of Friendsville, with a check for $14,200. The money, along with additional pledges of around $4,000 sent directly to the town, will go toward an off-street parking project that will provide kayakers visiting Friendsville with more convenient access to the Youghiogheny River. The project was adopted due to the congestion caused by paddlers leaving their vehicles on both sides of Maple Avenue. The town felt something had to be done, as that parking arrangement was considered both inconvenient and hazardous. See story.

Oakland Man Faces Eight Months In Garrett Co. Jail For Theft Charge

An Oakland man was sentenced by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert in a recent District Court hearing to eight months in the Garrett County Jail. Keith Allen Dooley, 42, was found guilty on a theft less than $1,000 charge that stemmed from an investigation this past summer.

Dooley reportedly stole a lawn mower from an Alder Street residence in May. Whe Garrett County sheriff's deputies executed a search of his home in July, he was allegedly found to be in possession of various spoons with heroin, cocaine, and suboxone residue on them. He was not prosecuted on three counts of possession of not marijuana and three counts of possession of paraphernalia.

In other court news, Clinton Edward Meese, 46, Salisbury, Pa., was found guilty on a failure to register as a sex offender charge and sentenced to 90 days. He was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in September. He reportedly moved his residence without notifying the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Michael Lynn Park III, 23, Oakland, was found guilty on a possession of marijuana charge and sentenced to 30 days. His vehicle was stopped by GC sheriff's deputies in August, at which time a K-9 scan resulted in a positive alert. Deputies reportedly found a quantity of marijuana in the vehicle.

Joseph Paul Otto, 29, Friendsville, was found guilty on a possession of not marijuana charge and sentenced to six months with five months suspended. He was also placed on two years of supervised probation, to be monitored by the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation. Charges stem from a traffic stop on Bear Creek Road by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force in June. A K-9 scan of the vehicle resulted in a positive alert, and a search was done of the vehicle. Otto and a passenger were reportedly found to be in possession of three hypodermic needles, two spoons, and several stamp packages of a powder substance. He was not prosecuted on possession of paraphernalia and possession of equipment with intent to administer charges.

Adam James Beitzel, 19, Grantsville, was found guilty on a destruction of property less than $500 charge and sentenced to 30 days suspended. He was also placed on one year of unsupervised probation and ordered to pay restitution of $150 to the town of Grantsville. Beitzel was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in October after he reportedly vandalized the Grantsville Town Park bathroom. Damage was done to the sink and paper towel dispenser, and a fire was reportedly set on the floor of the bathroom using paper towels. He was not prosecuted on a second-degree malicious burning charge.

Timothy Allen Floyd, 19, Brandywine, was given a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict on a fourth-degree burglary charge and sentenced to 30 days suspended. He was also placed on one year of unsupervised probation. Maryland State Police arrested Floyd in October after he reportedly broke into and robbed a Mountainside Drive, McHenry, home with several other adult males. He was not prosecuted on first-degree burglary, conspiracy to commit first-degree burglary, and theft less than $100 charges.

Robin Renee Myers, 46, Swanton, was given a PBJ on a possession of paraphernalia charge and sentenced to one day of unsupervised probation and fined $100. She was arrested in July by GC sheriff's deputies after a search was done at a Bittinger Road residence. The search resulted in the discovery of a smoking pipe containing marijuana residue. She was not prosecuted on a possession of marijuana charge.

Amy Lynn Russo, 41, Bayard, W.Va., was given a stet verdict for fourth-degree burglary, reckless endangerment, trespassing on private property, malicious destruction of property less than $500, and disturbing the peace. She was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in October following a domestic dispute at a Bayard Road residence. The conditions of her stet are that she not have contact with the victim and obey all laws.

Christopher Blake Kanipe, 20, Richmond, Va., was given a stet verdict on possession of marijuana and possession of paraphernalia charges that stemmed from a traffic stop by Maryland State Police in July. Kanipe was in a vehicle with one other adult male reportedly coming home from a weekend of camping at the All Good Festival. A search of the vehicle revealed one smoking pipe, two marijuana grinders, and a quantity of marijuana.

Robert Brian Winner, 26, Frostburg, was given a stet verdict on a theft of $1,000 to $10,000 charge that stemmed from an investigation concerning stolen copper wire from NewPage Corporation. He was arrested by MSP in August after he allegedly stole a quantity of wire from the business's scrap yard. He was ordered to stay off NewPage property, as well as testify in a pending case.

Sara Beth Thomas, 30, Arlington, Va., was not prosecuted on possession of marijuana, possession of not marijuana, and possession of paraphernalia. She was arrested in July by Maryland State Police after she and three additional adults were stopped in a vehicle on I-68. During a search of the vehicle, a glass bong, a bag of marijuana, two smoking pipes, one "dug-out," methadone pills, and a quantity of psilocybin mushrooms were recovered.

Eric Carlton Sines, 41, Oakland, was not prosecuted on possession of CDS production equipment, attempt to manufacture CDS, possession of marijuana, and possession of paraphernalia charges that stemmed from a search of his Loch Lynn home by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force in October. A search of the residence revealed several growing lamps, marijuana cultivation books, and two marijuana smoking pipes.

Evan Rawleigh Humphrey, 21, Oakland, was not prosecuted on possession of marijuana and possession of paraphernalia charges that stemmed from a traffic stop in October by Maryland State Police, during which a smoking pipe and a quantity of marijuana were recovered.

Terry Lee DeWitt Jr., 36, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a second-degree assault charge that stemmed from a September domestic dispute on Ashby Ellis Road, investigated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Doesn't Get Much Better...

This is Newspapers in Education Week, and we are pleased that a significant number of Garrett County teachers have requested free copies of this week's issue of The Republican to use as a learning tool in their classrooms. Give Them the Keys – Promoting Adolescent Literacy Through Newspapers is the title of an online, 126-page publication produced by the Newspaper Association of America Foundation that is chock full of newspaper-involved lessons that can be utilized in middle school and high school, and the Newspapers in Education web site offers similar lessons for children from kindergarten through high school. A story in today's issue provides the links to access these and other resources.

Newspapers can be used in numerous subject areas, the most obvious ones being reading and writing/composition and their various components (sentence structure, vocabulary, spelling, grammar, punctuation, etc.), but they can also be utilized for a number of other subjects. Certainly history and current events come to mind, but there are also a number of lessons available that involve math, the sciences, political science, technology, and even the arts.

Education is always more interesting and exciting when students are able to relate personally to the material in front of them. Certainly every Garrett County student can relate to dozens of stories, photographs, and advertisements in The Republican every single week. We who work here want our readers, particularly those who live within the boundaries of Garrett County, to consider our newspaper to be their newspaper.

We conduct many student tours here at our Oakland office/printing facility, and one of the questions always asked of the visiting students is, "How many of you have had your picture appear in The Republican at least once?" It pleases us that, invariably, 95% of the children, whether they are from Oakland, Finzel, Kitzmiller, or Friendsville, raise their hands. Undoubtedly, refrigerator doors throughout the county are adorned with some of the aforementioned photos and articles, carefully clipped out of our local newspaper.

So besides gaining the satisfaction of providing Garrett County's news and advertising of the week, and giving credit where credit is due to local residents of all ages, it is truly gratifying to know that our product can also be utilized as a valuable learning tool to enhance the education of our young people. It just doesn't get much better than that.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would personally like to thank Rob Speicher for all the hard work he did for us at the Oakland Golf Club, because I am not sure anyone else did. I am pretty sure it will not be long before we all realize how much work he did in cleaning up and beautifying our golf course.

Good luck, Rob, at Nemacolin-Woodlands in Pennsylvania. We can only hope that your replacement here has a small percent of your work ethic, credentials, and drive.

It is hoped that someone wrote down Rob's ideas and future plans for the Oakland course.

To the Editor:

Santa Fe Grille and the American Cancer Society Relay For Life of Garrett County are again teaming up this year to "fight back" against cancer.

Tomorrow night, March 9, Santa Fe Grille will donate 10% of all food sales made between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. to the American Cancer Society Relay For Life of Garrett County. You can dine in or carry out.

Relay For Life funds many patient services, awareness programs, and research. Research is key in finding a cure, in addition to finding better detection testing and treatments. The American Cancer Society's mission is to help everyone "Stay Well, Get Well, Find Cures, and Fight Back." So please help us "fight back" by gathering with family and friends for a relaxing evening at Santa Fe this Friday, March 9.

The 2012 Relay for Life of Garrett County will be held at the Southern High School track from 7 p.m. on Friday, June 8, to 7 a.m. on Saturday, June 9.

More information about Relay For Life is available online at www.relayforlife.org/garrett or by calling Brittany Friend at 301-722-2145.

To the Editor:

March is Red Cross Month. It is a time to recognize the work done by the American Red Cross here at home and in communities across the country and around the globe – and to remember how we depend on public support to help people in need.

Thanks to support from individuals, organizations, and businesses in Allegany, Garrett, and Mineral counties, the American Red Cross is able to respond to disasters both large and small; help members of the military, veterans and their families; provide blood for those in need; and teach lifesaving skills. Just over the past seven months, the Red Cross has helped 26 families from western Maryland and Mineral County who were the victims of area disasters – mostly home fires.

Each September we have co-chaired the region's largest fundraiser for the Red Cross – the Deep Creek Lake Art and Wine Festival. Every year the proceeds go directly to help victims locally and in response to the rest of the nation's nearly 70,000 disasters a year by providing shelter, food, emotional support, and other necessities to those affected.

The 8th annual Art and Wine Festival will be in September, but we believe in the Red Cross every day of the year. Red Cross Month is the perfect time for you to become a part of our mission and help people in need by making a financial donation, volunteering, giving blood, or taking a class. Volunteers are also needed to help at the festival on September 8.

Disaster can strike anyone at any time. Please help.

Sincerely,
Paula Yudelevit

On February 28 and 29, the HART Spay/Neuter Clinic neutered 49 male cats for $15 each, and vaccinated most of them against rabies. We did this as part of our commitment to the animals, synthesized in our tag line "We are here for the animals."

We would like to thank Dr. Linda Blakeley, who provided her services pro bono, as well as the HART staff, Caroline Robison, Holly Stanton, and James Lynch, and volunteers Cathy Grimes, Betsy Herpel, Norman Conway, Guy and Hazel Hinebaugh, and Charlie Lefebure – all of whom worked indefatigably to make sure that there would be fewer homeless animals in our region.

As a point of reference, in 2010 there were 45,197 cats and dogs euthanized in the state of Maryland alone, based on the reports from the state's county shelters and two major non-county shelters.

HART is ready to re-start construction of the HART Animal Adoption Center earlier than expected, thanks to the unseasonably mild weather. We are raising a substantial amount of money to change the condition of animals in our county and our region because we – those who work in animal welfare – feel that we can do no less. By turning our mission into reality, HART is also benefiting our county by creating jobs, attracting non-seasonal visitors to the county, and becoming a role model for other communities in other states.

We are here thanks to the help of many, many people. As we seek funding, we will continue to need the support of the various elements that make up our community: residents, visitors, businesses, local government, and organizations. Together, we can change the heartbreaking statistics of pet euthanasia in ways that will make our county outstanding.

"The kindness one does for an animal may not change the world, but it will change the world for that one animal" – and, might we add, it will also change forever those who bestow the kindness.

With our gratitude,
Mike Pellet, President

To the Editor:

One step at a time...

Last week regarding hydraulic fracturing, we focused on the minerals making up the Marcellus shale, and one of the minerals is uranium, the source rock of radon, a radioactive gas and an indoor air pollutant.

This week, we focus on the beginning of the drilling process. A site is selected and usually involves the use of three to five acres of ground. If the site is woodland, the trees will naturally have to be removed. The site is referred to as a pad, and is the site where drilling will take place and will house the necessary equipment and machinery.

The area of the pad must be relatively large because so much heavy equipment must be brought in for the drilling process to begin. The pad construction itself usually takes one to four weeks to complete.

The tower, which is sometimes called a derrick or rig, is erected over the point where drilling is to commence. Other equipment is brought in to house sand and chemicals to be used in drilling. Pipe must be brought in for the well itself.

In order to give some idea as to the amount of pipe to be used, I did a simple calculation. If our well is 7,700 feet deep, the length of the pipe would have to be more than six times the height of the Empire State building stacked end to end. That's a lot of pipe, and it has to be trucked in with all the other equipment and machinery.

In order to transport this heavy equipment, pipe, and machinery to the pad, hundreds of trips will be involved. These trips do not include the hundreds of trips necessary to deposit contaminated liquid from the wellhead to the disposal site, as detailed in an earlier letter.

In conclusion, after discussing for weeks the usage of our roads under the heavy loads of many trucks making many trips, it is my hope that our roads are extremely well constructed and capable of handling the job ahead.

Respectfully,
Jim Zimmerman

Dear Editor,

The faculty and staff of Southern Garrett High School wish to take a moment to extend our sincere thanks to the "sea of fans" from the greater Oakland community for its show of support to our student athletes during the recent playoff season.

Anyone familiar with the African proverb "It takes a village to raise a child" would have to agree that our whole village showed up last week, prompting sellout crowds and traveling caravans of enthusiastic fans to support the athletic talents of our teams.

It is indeed inspiring to see young people cheer loud and proud for their school and classmates, and no one in the area does it better than the Southern Garrett 6th Man Club and the Southern High cheerleaders!

We are proud to call ourselves faculty members and staff of students who show class both on the court and in the stands. Congratulations to state champion Austin Shaffer and to senior Mikey Skipper for representing our school so well at the state wrestling tourney last weekend. And to the Ram family at large, we say thanks for being there to support the kids.

Now...on to the spring sports season. Go Rams!

To the Editor:

I attended the first day's event of Oakland's recent Winter Fest, which was a progressive dinner, by accepting an invitation to join Ron Little (Democratic candidate for U.S. Congress/District #6) to join both him and his party.

Bob Boal, president of the Garrett County Historical Society, met us at our new museum with his jovial smile and invited everyone to view the many historical treasures housed within.

And then, all of a sudden, we heard hoof beats and the jingling of bells. Looking outside, we saw horse-driven sleighs awaiting our entry. Ray Miller, owner of Pleasant Valley Dream Rides, provided three sleighs (on wheels, as there was no snow), each being pulled by a beautiful horse. After we boarded the sleighs, we were tucked in with heavy blankets and proceeded to the home of Rob and Barbara Michael, where we were met with hospitality and were served appetizers and beverages.

Then it was on to Cornish Manor, where we were greeted at the door by Chef Jacques and seated to partake of a delicious dinner. At the conclusion, one of the waitresses gave an interesting account of the history of Cornish Manor.

To conclude the evening's event, we arrived at Oak & Apple Bed and Breakfast along Second Street, where we were met by the friendly owners to indulge in an assortment of homemade desserts and coffee/tea.

Before departing for the evening, we were taken on a short tour around town to view the artistic ice sculptures created by Bill Sandusky, a professional artist and owner of Frozen Assets Inc. They were truly works of art.

This is one of the most enjoyable ventures I have ever taken. We were greeted with a smile everywhere we went. Kudos to Jim Johnson, owner of Electronic Diagnostic Center in Oakland and chair of Oakland Main Street Promotions.

I heartily recommend to anyone to plan to attend the Winter Fest progressive dinner next year.

To the Editor:

I would like to address Mr. Paul Weiler's letter of last week. Mr. Weiler obviously wants deeper water in Deep Creek Lake coves. A very tall and questionable order indeed. I ask, for what cost and benefit? There are two ways to substantially effect this end: dramatically reduce dam releases, or dredge. Personally, I would take a third approach.

Brookfield Energy, which runs Deep Creek dam, describes the Deep Creek operation as one of its smaller facilities. If you take its profitability away and add more permit restrictions, what's its incentive to stay? Who, then, to run the dam? Good questions considered by state officials. The town of Friendsville is on the receiving end of the dam releases. Its economic future is wrapped around the whitewater resource and has been for decades.

Dredging is well beyond very expensive, not to mention detrimental to the aquatic health of the lake. Lake property owners have already persuaded state and county officials to invest hundreds of thousands of dollars for necessary studies prior to dredging. The DNR appears to be very much against dredging, citing concerns about a major step backward in the aquatic health of the lake.

It doesn't take a rocket scientist to understand why these cove property owners want deeper water in the coves – motor boating.

Why would a motor boater purchase very expensive, shallow-cove property? All lakes accumulate sediment; didn't these shallow-cove property owners check water depths before they bought their property? Why should Maryland and Garrett County citizens spend our hard-earned tax dollars on helping motorboat access to property when a canoeist, photographer, or nature lover should be the property owner?

Instead of helping motor boaters slightly increase personal property value with big tax dollars, we should use that super expensive lake sediment study to accurately regulate who gets a dock and what kind of use it can have, and mandate property sales to include explicit water-depth records for the potential cove property buyer. I know the DNR has some water-depth requirements for issuing dock permits, but they are obviously unrealistic and might be the root cause to this whole issue. Furthermore, I think that Garrett County should stop reducing real estate taxes based on cove water depth.

We're all trying to weather the economic storm. Everyone needs to try to get along.

To the Editor:

I read with interest the letter submitted by Mr. Weiler asking if Deep Creek Lake holds value to Garrett County. While it is indisputable that the value of the lake is important with regard to tax revenue, business revenue, property values, etc., we should be careful not to allow the lake to be seen as the only thing of value in the county.

The rhetoric contained in this letter suggests that the value of the lake is at risk and will cost the county millions in tax revenues unless something is done quickly. My question is, what is this "something"? The use of taxpayer status to demand special consideration is the thing that bothers me about his argument.

Last year, I became interested in a meeting/debate between the Deep Creek Lake Planning Board and a group representing the whitewater rafting industry in Friendsville, as reported in this paper. It became apparent at this meeting that a number of lake property owners felt that planning decisions should be based on who pays the most taxes. The issues discussed were lake levels and sediment accumulation in coves. These individuals felt that maintaining lake levels for boat access in back coves should supersede any consideration for the downstream rafting and fishing economy. They also stated that the exorbitant cost of removing sediment from the coves should be borne by someone other than themselves.

Notwithstanding the environmental impact of doing such, the evidence for rates of sediment accumulation and historic lake-level data clearly indicate that these are not acute problems and represent conditions that were present well before many of the homes were built on the "affected" properties. To build a home on a back cove lot and then expect someone else to remove sediment and relinquish their business so that the lake level is conducive to maintaining one's property value seems a bit shortsighted to me.

While DCL is a valuable resource to Garrett County, the message that should be clear is that all property owners in the county pay property taxes and deserve equal representation in the interests of county governance. The lake property values will fluctuate with the economy, just like they do elsewhere. The conditions at the lake are predictable and stable, as evidenced by substantial data. Most importantly, all property owners in the county should be represented at the table. That is the ideal of democracy.

Sincerely,
Eric Henrickson

Hwy. Resolution

lution notes that the highway is a critical infrastructure project intended to increase mobility and regional economic development throughout the Appalachian regions of Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Virginia.

"The lack of progress on the highway has seriously hindered the region's growth," the resolution states. "U.S. Route 220 South from I-68 to Corridor H and U.S. Route 219 North from I-68 to I-76 Pennsylvania Turnpike would provide the greatest potential for benefiting our Appalachian region and rejuvenating the economy with commercial activity. Improvements in the north-south travel would serve to link the area's two most east-west transportation facilities, I-68 and Corridor H."

Moe noted that the Allegany County commissioners have signed a similar resolution, as well as officials in Mineral County, W.Va., and Somerset and Cambria counties, Pa.

Bridge Access

The bridge served as an important transportation link until 1933, when a new steel bridge was built nearby. The bridge was closed to vehicles in 1953, and the area became established as a state park in 1957.

The bridge was restored in the 1950s, and additional maintenance occurred in 1979, 1996, and 2002. Today, the Casselman River Bridge is listed as a National Historic Landmark and serves as a picturesque relic of Maryland's early transportation history.

DUTCH'S MAKES DONATION – Jan Finkel, Dove Center board chair, and Heather Hanline, Dove Center executive director, are shown receiving a donation from a recent Dove Center Night at Dutch's at Silver Tree from Meagan Till, manager at Dutch's. The event was held last Friday, with Dutch's donating part of its proceeds from the evening. Several local businesses also supported the event by making prize donations for the festivities at the Inner Harbor Bar at Dutch's. The Dove Center was also the recipient of funds raised by a recent event at JG's Pub.

BROAD FORD ELEMENTARY RAISES FUNDS FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH – Through its participation in the St. Jude Math-A-Thon program, Broad Ford Elementary recently raised $4,090 to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, which aims to find cures and treatments for childhood cancer and other deadly diseases. The Oakland community sponsored students by pledging an amount-per-problem solved in the Math-A-Thon event, or through a one-time donation. More than 40 students participated. The photo above is of Broad Ford's top fundraisers. Pictured, from left to right, are Julie DuVall, school coordinator, Jaysdon Miller ($320), Quintin Utterback ($355), and Kerri Kordyban ($755). Seiferts Mark 50 Years Of Marriage

Hank and Margie Seifert, formerly of Oakland, recently celebrated 50 years of marriage. They were married on February 9, 1962, in District Heights, just outside Washington, D.C., where they both worked for the federal government.

The couple came to Oakland in 1978 and later operated a construction company, building commercial and residential buildings and homes in Garrett and Preston counties. They had one son, Brandon Seifert, who graduated from Southern High, Garrett Community College, and Frostburg State University. Brandon now lives in Clarksburg, W.Va., where he has worked for the FBI for 15 years.

The Seiferts now live near Terra Alta, W.Va., where they "enjoy good health and retirement and are frequent visitors to Oakland."

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Four couples recently applied for their marriage licenses, according to Sondra R. Buckel, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court. One couple requested that their names not be published.

Craig Patrick Umbel, 40, Friendsville, and Roxanna Mary Murry, 36, McHenry.

Durrel Vaugh Eby, 32, Clearville, Pa., and Lori Donell Yoder, 32, Grantsville.

Neil Philip Buckel, 21, Grantsville, and Jaime Elizabeth Medcraft, 19, Louisville, Ky.

March Is Nat'l Colorectal Cancer Month: Screenings Encouraged

by Judy Sines, RN, Garrett County Health Department

Next to lung cancer, colorectal cancer claims the lives of more Maryland residents than any other form of cancer, according to statistics. The American Cancer Society estimates 2,420 new cases and 940 deaths will occur in Maryland in 2012 as a result of colorectal cancer.

March is National Colorectal Cancer Month, and the Garrett County Health Department (GCHD) is encouraging older persons to obtain screenings for the illness.

"It is important to remind the public that early screening is the most valuable form of protection against colorectal cancer," said Dr. William Pope, deputy health officer for GCHD. "Despite the benefits of early screening, many people who should be screened for colorectal cancer never get the test or tests that can identify colon cancer in its early and curable stages. The public should know that colorectal cancer rates are going down because of early screening."

Health care providers, particularly primary care providers, play an important role in reducing colorectal cancer, Pope said. According to the Maryland Cancer Survey, of the people who reported that their providers recommended colorectal cancer screening, 85% of them got screened.

One method of screening is the colonoscopy. During this procedure, the doctor can remove polyps, also called adenomas, before they can turn into cancer in the large intestines. Before the test, the colon must be clean so the doctor can see inside of the entire colon. To do this, patients are asked to take a laxative and go on a clear liquid diet in preparation for the test.

Just before the test, the doctor gives medicine to relax the patient. After the test, the patient will need someone to drive him or her home. Although this procedure is relatively safe, all medical procedures involve some risk, a GCHD spokesperson noted.

The American Cancer Society recommends screening beginning at age 50. People with a personal or family history of colorectal cancer or adenomatous polyps, individuals with history of inflammatory bowel disease (ulcerative colitis, Crohn's colitis), and women with cancer of the ovary or endometrium should start screening before they are 50 years of age.

For more information about colorectal cancer and the availability of colorectal cancer screening for qualifying individuals, persons may contact the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7770 or 301-895-3111.

LINDA S. GIBSON

Linda Sue Gibson, 67, beloved wife, mother, grandmother, sister and aunt, passed away peacefully in the presence of many loving family members on Friday, March 2, 2012, at Montgomery Hospice Casey House in Rockville, after a long illness with pancreatic cancer.

Born June 15, 1944, in Avondale, W.Va., she was a daughter of Frank A. and Bertha M. Bowles.

She graduated from Iaeger High School, Iaeger, W.Va., in 1962, and from the Little French Beauty Academy, Bluefield, W.Va., in 1964. She was a resident of both Deep Creek Lake and Germantown.

She worked as a beautician, a secretary at the Smithsonian Natural History Museum in Washington, D.C., an administrative director of Creative Gardens Nursery School in Crofton, and an executive secretary to the city manager of the city of Bowie.

She was also actively involved in the Bowie Boys and Girls Club and served as its president and an officer for many years. She later volunteered her time at senior centers at several locations in suburban Maryland.

She loved being with family and friends to provide them with caring, simple acts of kindness and compassionate ways, as well as attending church, faithfully rejoicing in serving her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

She is survived by her husband of 45 years, John Gibson; two sons, Jonce and Christopher; four grandchildren, Samantha, Christopher, Zachary, and Brendan; two sisters, Mildred Perdew and Alice Rodriquez; two brothers-in-law, Dexter Perdew and Joe Rodriquez; and two nephews, Terry Collins and Kevin Rodriquez.

Friends were received at Trinity United Methodist Church, Germantown, and Hoyes United Methodist Church near McHenry, where a funeral service was conducted on Wednesday, March 7.

Donations may be made in her memory to Hoyes United Methodist Church, 43 Hoyes Rd., Friendsville, MD 21531.

Newman Funeral Home, Oakland, was in charge of arrangements.

Condolences may be sent to the family at www.newmanfuneralhomes.com.

ROGER M. McKENZIE

Roger Michael McKenzie, 61, Frostburg, succumbed to his recent illness at his home surrounded by his family and many friends on Monday, March 5, 2012.

Born March 20, 1950, in Frostburg, he was a son of the late Thomas and Nellie (Garlitz) McKenzie. He was also preceded in death by four brothers, Patrick, Ralph, Joseph, and Lafe McKenzie; and two brothers-in-law, James Iser and James Fadeley.

Roger was self-employed as a half owner and business partner in McKenzie Brothers Farming, Logging and Lumber with his brother Olin for 44 years. He was a lifelong beef cattle farmer, whose beef has been sold at Wayne's Meats in Keyser, W.Va., and Fort Ashby, W.Va., for many years. His heart was always in farming, and he cherished his many friends and large family.

He was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church, Frostburg, and the Garrett County Farm Bureau.

Roger was known for being a person who would do anything for anyone who asked. He will be greatly missed by so many.

He is survived by his wife of 42 years, Brenda Lee (Lancaster) McKenzie, whom he married on Feb. 7, 1970; one son, Darren McKenzie, Frostburg; one daughter, Christine McKenzie and husband Bill Swauger, Frostburg; one daughter-in-law, Elly McKenzie, Frostburg; three brothers, David McKenzie and wife Doris, Regis McKenzie and wife Bonnie, and Olin McKenzie and wife Judy, all of Frostburg; four sisters, Thelma Iser, McCoole, Martha Fadeley, LaVale, Helen Resh and husband Blaine "Pete" Resh, Grantsville, and Ora Keister and husband Rae, Frostburg; one granddaughter, Kayla McKenzie; two sisters-in-law, Carlene McKenzie, Zihlman, and Geneva McKenzie, Frostburg; and many nieces, nephews, friends, and business acquaintances.

Friends will be received today from 7 to 9 p.m. and Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, where a Christian Wake will be held on Friday at 3:45 p.m.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held on Saturday, March 10, at 11 a.m. at St. Ann's Catholic Church, Grantsville, with Fr. Eric Gauchat officiating.

Interment will be held in St. Ann's Cemetery, Avilton. Pallbearers will be Ronnie Keister, John Keister, Charlie Keister, Regis McKenzie, Jeff McKenzie, and Jason Smith.

Expressions of sympathy may be directed to Relay for Life Farmers Daughters Team; St. Ann's Cemetery; or Hospice of Garrett County.

Expressions of sympathy may be sent to the family at www.newmanfuneralhomes.com.
